Gadabouting in Baltimore

Who're Who-Zits? real fine hostesses

By Lula Jones Garrett

That was a gay and beautiful party that the Who-Zits came up with, Friday evening.

They went to the Emerald Gardens, garnered Bobby Felder to provide tre music, filled their tables with drinks and snacks and kept well provided tables of hot hors d'oevures circulating throughout the evening.

The Who-Zits are you know, Maxine Higginbotham Julia McDaniels, Alma Gray, Thelma Bell, Olivia Dixon, Mabel Byrd, Beth Patterson, Mary Pitts, Geraldine Winckler, Hermione Weaver, Anne Wayne, Laura Fair, Louise Lockerman and Helen Whittaker.

They were a likely looking bunch that evening, too. There was, for instance, Alma Gray in an attractive gold and white frock, topped by a smart jacket, and Thelma Bell wearing a soft off white satin skirt, with a sequin spangled shell. Hermione Weaver turned to aqua to be stunning in Mary Pitts, an all-over bespangled frock, and Maxine Higginbotham a white, on white on which bugle beads formed the striped, both horizontal and vertical, pattern.

And they drew a likely looking batch of guests.

That was an elegant gown worn by Marie Hicks of Frederick, also a white, patterned in bugle beads and with a deep bead fringe enhancing the skirt bottom. Catherine Adams turned all out in the new Parisian evening pants under her formal gown.

Ruby Walker chose subdued tan for a frock with an interesting cowl neckline, while Doris Wheeler was chic in stark black. To the other end of the spectrum was Dora Hutchinson in write brocade, and Helen Burwell in a long blue sheath with jeweled pockets.

Mrs. Higginbotham, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Winckler and Mrs. Hermione Weaver took a flock of folks to the Sphinx Club for bacon and eggs, coffee and what-have you.

And another party was that at which Louise Lockerman held forth in the home after the dance.

Her guests included Lt. and Ed later, Anethia and Roland Williams, Blanche and Paul Beckham, Inez and Earl Johnson, Hattie and John Bailey, Vivian and Harry Bruce, Drs. and Mrs. James Carr, Dr. and Mrs. George Pendleton, Mrs. Marjorie Cooper, Maurice Wood, Mrs. Loretta Jolley of Salisbury and William Pinkett of Denton.

Harriet Jones also had guests in for breakfast. She and her sister, Celestine Bailey of New York, had been guests of Olivia Dixon.

In addition to their husbands, the club members had as dance guests:

Messrs. and Mesdames Oliver J. Pierce, J. H. Phillips, William Pinkett, Marshall Pyles, Joel Newton, Lawrence Robinson, Douglass Roberts, Wilfred Seaborne, Clifton Sherrard.

Messrs. and Mesdames William Stanford, Robert Stewart, E. V. Stokes, Edward Slater, George Scirbook William Terry, Jerome Todd Thornton Umphrey, Frank Walker, Kenneth Wilson, Alfred Woolridge.

Messrs. and Mesdames James Barnes, Harry Bruce, Herbert Brown, Jr., Hiram Butler, Abdella Campbell, Harold Clark, Mack Chamberlain, Howard Collins, Richard Cummings, Herolin DeLoatch,

Messrs. and Mesdames John deCeellio, Robert Diggs, Walter Edmonds, Lloyd Genus, James Gilliam, Charles Gattis, Edward Hunter, Myles Harrison, Charles Hillen,

Messrs. and Mesdames Wilbert Jones, George Jude, Earl Johnson, Joseph Jackson, Roger Johnson, Marvin Davis, Lloyd Davis, William Griggs, Leroy Lindsay, Cliff Murray, Robert Payne,

Messrs. and Mesdames Vernon Sheffey, Edward Thornton, Reuben Jones, Lamont Gould, Charles Hicks, Alonza Hairston, Samuel Penn, Rudolph Wheeler,

Dr. and Mesdames Bernard Christmas, A. U. Forte, G. Alex Galvin, Lonnie Greene, Ivan Higgins, William Hall, John Hamilton, Thomas Harris, Edward McDaniel, Herbert Mosley, Drs. and Mesdames Hervert Radek, Albert Burwell, James Carr, Albert Laforest, Claude Hill, George Pendleton, Orris Walker, Simon Carter, Emerson Walden, George McDonald, Dudley Lee.

Dr. and Mesdames Ralph Reckling, Frank DeCosta, Maurice Adams, McKinley Reesby, Nathaniel Proctor, Houston Jackson; Mesdames Juliett Bragg, Lula Patterson, Ellsworth Rhetta, Lillian Ross, Irma

THE SOCIAL calendar is as full of events as are the markets of daffodils, this week. And the parties coming up promise to match interest with the beauty of the spring posies.

Tonight (Friday) Delta Sigma Theta Sorors and their sons will gather at Holiday Inn, Downtown, for a banquet . . . of course, any number of Links will have departed for Williamsburg, Va., where the Petersburg, Va. chapter is hosting the Area Conference for two days.

Saturday, you may want to catch a deep breath, but next day (Sunday) there's the Howard University Alumni Charter Day dinner at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, with Dr. Samuel L. Gandy, who is dean of the school of Religion at Howard will talk on "The Dilemna We Can Overcome"

Dr. Harold B. Delaney, who heads the Baltimore chapter, will preside, and Miss Myrtle Mack will sing. Other participants will include Dr. Herbert M. Frisby, Dr. Parlett C. Moore and the Rev. Oliver St. Clair Franklin. The Charter Day Celebration has as chairman, Mrs. Mary C. Frazier.

THE Baltimore Chapter of Girl Friends met with Agnes Patterson, Saturday afternoon for cocktails, games, and coffee and dessert . . . a delightful party plan.

But they did stop partying long enought to wrap up plans for the dinner dance they have scheduled for May 7. This affair will be at Blue Crest Fordleigh.

At the session were Irma Roy, Olga Parker, Mae Parrott, Frances Vessells, Laura Jones, Bernice Chapman, Catherine Law, Gaynell Spaulding, Anita Wheatley, Catherine Wilson, Georgiana Chester, Elizabeth Stewart, Theda Wilson, Mae Williams, Vera Williams, Doris Wheeler, Gwendolyn Lewis and Lula Patterson.

COME the 20th of this month and the Pauline Brooks Salon will hold their Annual Champagne Luncheon and Fashion Show. For this, they are going to Emerald Gardens. Pauline talked about the affair. Sounds fabulous.

Morgan State College's Women's Week begins on March 11th . . . and there's the testimonial for Miss Beulah Davis, Morgan College librarian, on the 14th in the college refectory, at six.

And the Cardigans have picked April 10th for their "Hawaiian Shindig," which they will hold in the Catensville Armory.

Also on March 20, Carol Jean Poulson (she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood J. Poulson) and Wayne C. Busch will be married in Douglas Memorial Community Church at noon.

THE FUND raising committee of Jack and Jill met with Audrey Pinderhughes, chairman, Tuesday night.

The group will present the Children's Theatre Assoc. production of "Aladdin" at Lemmel on May 15th.

Mary Sprow, chairman of tickets, prepared packets to go out to all members. Doris Wallace is in charge of senior teens who will sell candy for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund at the activity.

Gloria Stokes is chairman of Jack and Jill Day to be held during the event.

THE PIERIANS had a delightful afternoon, Saturday, when Celonia Walden, Lydia Mussenden, Jessie Colson and Verda Welcome combined their hosting and other talents for the club's entertainment.

The group, which when it presented a showing of the photographs of Gordon Parks recently, was in the process of considering photography as art, got some first hand information of the subject, Saturday.

They had as guest speakers Fred Kraft, Jr, feature photographer for the News-American and for the American Magazine; and Frank Cronin, chief director of news photography for WMAR-TV and president of the Maryland Photographers Association.

Mr. Kraft explained the necessary of beginning a feature with one picture which tells the complete story, and augmenting the lay-out from there. He emphasized that elaborate and expensive equipment is not necessary to produce exceptional photography.

He talked of the necessity of study and added that a good photographer must be creative, talented and artistic. A prize photograph, he said, is seldom the work of one person, but the results of many persons.

Mr. Cronin said that the chief ingredient in getting a good news picture is a matter of luck . . . the luck of being on the spot when the incident occurs. He told of the many pictures it is necessary to make to get one that is worth while.

The Pierians then had refreshments from a most beautifully arranged table.

Attending the meeting, in addition to the hostesses, were Charlotte Mebane, Jewel Moseley; Vernice Reynolds, Hilda Pearl Brackett, Annete Johnson, Audrey Norris, Catherine Wilson, Vivian ate all distinctions of race

Washington and Lula Patterson.

LAMBDA Kappa Mu Sorority, Iota Chapter, held a meeting on Saturday, at the Y.W.C.A.

Basileus Pearl Hall arranged the meeting into three parts, committee reports were given during the first section. The second part of the meeting was given over to observation of Brotherhood Week.

The Rev. Henry Offer, pastor of St. Peter Claver's Rectory, emphasized the need for mankind to obliterate all barriers of superiority. He stressed the fact that divisions of people are very impractical because of shades of color, that our society calls for all people of good will working together on all problems.

His emphasis was on the phrase, "Be proud of what we are and who we are and judge each individual for what he is."

The last part of the meeting included dinner and the culmination of the group's business.

Sorors present were:

Gladys Baird, Pearl Hall, Myrtle Jones, Alma Redden, Melissa Fox, Louise Turks, Philena Shappill, Bertha Semko, Priscilla Mason, Veta Greig, Geneva Jones, Fannie Ewell, Elizabeth Day, Mary Silva;

Imogene Douglass, Helen Browne, Doris White, Frankie Hinchen, Marguerite Wilkins, Susie Myles, Naomi Johnson, Lavinia K. Cox, Della Majette, Margaret Yates, Helen DeLeaver, Anita Smith, Glynnia Hill, Patty Holloway, and Almarie Wedley.

THE CARDIGANS', combined business with pleasure a Satuday ago. Occasion was the annual "Sweetheart Party" for the men in their lives. Twas held at the lovely home of Mary Williams and the hostesses were no less lovely in their striking attire.

Prior to the festivities, the girls distributed invitations for their "Hawaiian Shindig" to be held on April 10th at the Catonsville Armory. wrapped up plans for their Evening with the Baltimore Bullets," and exchanged valentine gifts with secret

Fun was the next order of business as the members adjourned to the Williams clubroom to greet the waiting guests. There was no end to the zippables, enjoyable games, good music, and delectable food.

Swinging until the wee small hours of the morning were:

Elizabeth and George Butler, Theresa and Charles Collins, Louise and Jim Edwards, Margaret and Walker Evans, Bernice and Nathaniel Hall, Rose and Jesse Hawkins,

Mafine and Dennis Jackson, Harriet and Thomas Morton, Margaret and Edward Peck, Vera and James Taylor, Ruth and Bill Tonkins, Bernice and George
