Rodman School parents open reading experience project

Parents of the lucky pupils of the Rodman Elementary School No. 204, have banded together to see that the youngsters find beauty and joy in reading.

On their own, they began their project by helping school librarians catalogue volumes and get the books the children call for down from the shelves. They also serve as consultants when the tots ask, "What is a good book to read today" . . . . . .

As one mother expressed it, "We do everything we can to see that the learning-to-read-process will reamin with each child as a lasting invitation to enjoyment."

The result is the school is a beehive of activity three afternoons a week. Between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the pupils go to the library, hopping, skipping and jumping, as they anticipate an adventure through reading.

As they increase in ability to interpret the words on the printed page, they capture the theme of the story. In a short time, each child becomes enraptured as he journeys with the characters of the book to fantasy land. Though they enjoy it, they are enhancing their futures. Reading is a must for the successful student.

* * *

THE MOTHERS have also thoughtfully provided story-telling periods and reading-aloud sessions, so that youngsters who enjoy this method of learning books, will be entirely pleased with the program.

Research becomes a pleasant task as the mothers show the pupils how to gather further knowledge from encyclopedias and other resource materials in the library.

These are the parents who follow the words of Paul Hazzard, "Give us books, give us wings" as they guide the children through the reading doorway to adventure.

Mrs. Marie Vaughn and Mrs. Ethel Gordon, co-chairmen; committee members, Mesdames Vera Nicholson, Annie Williams, Rosa Dingle, Christine Brown, Virginia Zimmerman, Annie Porter, Viola Jordon and Miss Sandra Jordon, her teenage daughter.

Mrs. Lillian H. Dantley is school principal. Miss Fannie Chadakowsky is vice-principal.

Property sold part of estate

Two pieces of real estate which her husband, Leo Wood, listed as the estate of Mrs. Geneva R. Wood, were inventoried in the Orphans Court of this city.

Mrs. Wood, a city school teacher, died suddenly on Sept. 4, 1963. She was survived by Mr. Wood and their two daughters, Mrs. Patricia A. W. Hamilton of Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Leonora J. Wood, a student in the University of California.

* * *

HER ESTATE, according to Mr. Wood, consisted of properties at 1712 Mulberry St. and 2023 Etting St. In a petition in which he said the properties were deteriating, the husband asked permission of the court to sell.

The request being granted, the properties have been sold, with Etting Street going to Ralph A. Fisher for $1,825, and the McCulloh St., to A. H. Garrett for $1,050.

* * *

AN INVENTORY filled in the estate of Mrs. Myrtle C. Burns, this week, lists her holdings at $1,082.37.

This consist of a 1961 automobile valued at $425 and cash in a bank, $657.37. The estate is being administered by the husband of the deceased, Charles T. Burns.

Mrs. Burns was also survived by her mother, Mrs. Alice D. Clark, to whom a half interest in the car has been transferred.

* * *

MRS. J. HOWARD Payne Sr., formerly of this city, who died in New York, Sept. 21 1964, left her entire estate to her son, J. Howard Payne Jr., of New York.

She also named him executor. He posted $2,000 bond. Mrs. Payne's late husband, J. Howard Payne Sr., was a long time and well-known attorney of Baltimore.

* * *

GEORGE L. RUSSELL Jr., attorney, will serve as administrator for the estate of Harrison L. Young, who died Jan. 17.

Mr. Young's survivors are his wife, Mrs. Edna S. Young; and daughters: Mrs. Floretta Dean of Wilmington, Del., Mrs. Arabella Jackson, of this city, and Miss Selena Young of Cambridge, Md.

The estate is estimated at $6,000.

Jerry L. Rigby of 1819 Presstman St., and Mrs. Patricia Rigby were divorced in Circuit Court, this week.

The decree went to the husband, who testified that she deserted him, leaving while he was at work. The divorce action was the second for the Rigbys. She had formerly sought a divorce, but they were reconciled before the case was completed.

Married in 1962, the union band testified.

They have parents to a daughter whose custody is with the mother. Mr. Rigby will provide $18 per week for the child's support.

'Clean Block' mass meeting is set for Mar. 14

Disturbed by the litter and filth in Northwest areas surrounding some of the city's largest churches, the Commission on Christian Social Concern has scheduled a 5 o'clock mass meeting for Sunday, March 14 at Sharp St. Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ruhye C. Gill, who is chairman of the commission, said representatives from the Bureau of Sanitation, the Health, Fire and Police departments have been invited to attend the meeting.

Complaints have been received, she said, that the city's sanitation units do not give these inner city blocks the same service that is routine in outlying areas.

THE MEETING in addition to voicing protests to city officials, will also serve as a rallying point to encourage residents of these blocks to maintain a year-round "Clean Block Program" similar to that conducted by the AFRO in the summer months.

Mrs. Pauline V. Johnson serves as chairman of the Temperance and General Welfare Committee. The Rev. Kelly L. Jackson is pastor of Sharp St. Church.

Board okays addition for Guilford School

The School Board Thursday approved the awarding of a contract to the Henry J. Knott Construction Co. for an addition to Guilford Ave. Elementary School. Knott's bid of $862,600 was the lowest of four received.

In other action, the board appointed Mrs. Miriam Clark now senior school social worker, as acting specialist in School Social Work in the Division of Special Services.

She replaces Dr. Dollie R. Walker, who recently received a temporary leave of absence to accept a post with the U.S. Office of Education to work on one of the special projects in the Equal Economic Opportunity Program.

Dr. Walker's leave will extend until Feb. 28, 1966.

THE BOARD, presided over by Dr. William D. McElroy in the absence of President Emil Frank Jr., also approved 36 other personnel items.

Wendell Wright, a school social worker, was granted a leave of absence to accept a temporary position with the National Committee for Children and Youth from March 16, 1965 to June 30, 1966.

Other leaves were granted to teachers Mrs. Doris S. Kuehnle, Carroll Elementary; Ronald A. Ritter, Forest Park High; Mrs. Alice W. Sykes, Henderson Elementary; Mrs. Shirley Hasty, Govans Elementary and William Taylor, Carrollton Elementary.

Resignations were accepted from the following elementary teachers: Mesdames Lois C. Buckler, Vivian M. Cann, Alice H. Garland, Eileen B. Goldberg, Margery S. Heyman, Esther E. Jeffries, Karen J. Labovitz, and Irene Taylor and Alfred T. Pilgrim.

Also from these secondary school teachers: Mesdames Vivian B. Bland, Catherine D. Drayton and Beverly Kasper and Richard A. Hiteshew.

New teachers granted tenure were Mesdames Carole Coleman, Theresa A. Fedoco, Mary E. Foreman, Viola E. Hill, Betty Limstrom, Lynda R. Sherman and Judith C. Stein, elementary teachers.
