Q—What if local officials still refused to register colored citizens?

A—The bill would authorize, upon complaint by 20 or more persons or upon the attorney general's own initiative, appointment of federal "examiners" through the Civil Service Commission to carry out the registration process. These registrations would be turned over to the regular local voting officials.

Q—WHAT IF the officials then refused to let the federally registered persons cast ballots?

A — Federal examiners would be authorized to accept the disputed voters' ballots and take steps to make sure the ballots are counted in the election.

Q—Are there any penalties against persons, who by force or intimidation seek to block persons from voting?

A—Yes; the bill would provide criminal penalties — in terms — for such attempts to coerce, intimidate or otherwise interfere with voters. Present law provides misdemeanor penalties.

Q — DOESN'T the U. S. Constitution give the states sole control over their own elections and the qualifications for voting in them?

A—This is true under the First Amendment. But the President's bill is based on the 15th Amendment which says simply: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. The Constitution also gives Congress power to implement this by "appropriate legislation."

"secretary and girl Friday." He said she was in the Daniels apartment because the singer was feeling blue.

A GOOD deal of violence has been mixed with the singing in Daniels' career.

In 1956, he was arrested after allegedly firing a pistol in a Harlem bottle Club and wounding one fight trainer James R. Jackson. He was given a suspended sentence and fined $200 in connection with the incident. Jackson was not seriously wounded.

IN 1959, a Hollywood actress named Ronnie Quillan inflicted a 10-inch gash in Daniels' face with a butcher knife in her Hollywood apartment. He refused to press charges against her.

The present Mrs. Daniels is the singer's third wife. They were married in Juarez, Mexico, in 1958.

THE TOP ten leaders can change rapidly from week to week.

To place your school's favorite teacher among the "top ten," simply clip the coupon from Page Two of today's paper and mail or bring it to the AFRO, 628 N. Eutaw St.

The deadline for casting each voting coupon is usually dated 14 days from the date of publication. This gives the students or persons casting votes more than a week to gather Votes and send them to the AFRO.

In the Tuesday AFRO of March 9, the deadline date was stated March 13, instead of March 19. All votes for this issue cast after the March 15 deadline have been accepted and counted to the teachers' credit.

THE "My Favorite Teacher" contest received an unexpected far-flung response this week. One nomination was entered for teacher William M. Birche of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Another nomination was sent in for a teacher in Goldsboro, N.C.

Remember in filling out your Votes that the school with the winning teacher when the contest closes March 30 will receive a plaque for the AFRO, and teacher will be feted to a the homeroom of the top theatre party.

For the runner-up teachers there are 12 prizes including $150 for third place, $100 for fourth and 10 prizes of $10.

Cortez Sweethearts down Morgan, 30-25

The Cortez Peters Sweethearts defeated a stubborn Morgan State girls team Saturday at Morgan, 30-25.

The victors led all the way by quarter scores of 8-6, 15-11, and 24-19.

A fine Cortez defense held the losers to only five points during the second period which drenched the final hopes the hosts had of pulling the victory out of the winners' grasp.

Mabel Summerford paced the victors attack with 12 points and was trailed by Bessy Stockard, the coach, with 11 points.

Fewer dropouts

problems have consistently pointed out the need for at least a high school education, or its equivalent, as a prerequisite to being hired on a police force.

Locally, the Maryland Crime Investigating Committee in its recent report of the Baltimore Metropolitan Police Study Committee made the same recommendation.

Thomas Miller, police department personnel director, currently is making recruitment efforts in local high schools.

Asked by the AFRO if he has made any recruiting attempts at any colleges, Mr. Miller replied that he had not—he felt it might be wasted effort.

Some officials think colleges should be tried.

Said one: "Certainly there must be college students, and even graduates, who would have an interest in a career of law enforcement.

"Besides, even a college drop-out would certainly be much better police material than a high-school drop-out."

Comment from within the department from one who ranks well above the patrolman level was: "There have to be high school graduates and better who would be interested in a secure job with starting pay better than $100 a week. So what do they expect to get from the mining areas?

"More trouble, that's all. Besides, a fellow from such a territory or even a farm territory is not conditioned to cope with big city problems. The minute he gets a badge he becomes a big shot.

"I know because we got some of them here. Most of them know nothing about people and problems."

In keeping with the criticisms coming from within the department itself, the Crime Investigating Committee has also recommended an extension in the training period given to recruits.

The Commission favors a six-month training period to replace the 12-week period now used by the Baltimore City police. Also stressed is the need for more emphasis on the mental attitudes and character traits in selecting prospective policemen.

Suggested is broad use of a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a sociologist to review and work with applicants.

A sergeant, long in the service, remarked: "I have seen many a new man come in who was physically fit and passed by the M.D. But oh, brother, they would never have gotten by a brain prowler (psychologist) with the attitudes they had and still have."

Meanwhile, the department is seeking men and invites any and all qualified applicants to come in.

Candidates should apply in person at Room 120, City Hall. Tests are held every Friday at 1:30 p.m. Starting salary is $5,340 with annual increases to a $6,468 maximum.

Applicant must be not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall nor more than 6 feet 4 inches in bare feet; must be at least 21 yrs. of age and must not have passed the 31st birthday on the day the application is received.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Police Department, MUlberry 5-1600 and asking for Personnel.

Judge Stout gets phone threat

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A youthful caller Tuesday telephoned a threat against Juvenile Court Judge Juanita Kidd Stout, and Deputy Sheriffs were sped to the court to protect her.

The caller, who did not identify himself, told Deputy Sheriff William Dimartino that Judge Stout "Better not send any of my corner brothers up or I'll take care of her."

He said he was a member of the Black Bottoms Gang.

Judge Stout immediately ordered all members of the gang rounded up for questioning. Officers were stationed inside and outside her courtroom.

Come swing along with "The Energetics"!

There's a wonderful kind of energy that doesn't fade as you get older—electric energy. And compared with people in other countries, you and your family are already using so much of it that you could truly be called "The Energetics" of the world.

But you'll be using much more electric service in the years right ahead—for work, for fun, for everything. Our job, as we see it, is to be nimble and quick in meeting your present electric needs and your future wants.

Within the next ten years the more than 300 investor-owned electric companies throughout the country—we are one of them!—will just about double the supply of electricity now on tap. So there'll always be plenty of dependable, low-priced electric service, provided for in a way that helps keep our economy free!

COMBING THE RUINS—In the wake of a destructive fire that wiped out everything in her 1511 E. Preston St. apartment, Mrs. Elouise Austin, mother of 4 children, ages 1 to 6 years, combs through the ruins in attempt to salvage anything can to get started on the road back. Furniture, clothes, even food went up in smoke and the family, already on welfare, ended up with little more than a pile of ashes. Mrs. Austin, salvaging the family bible, told the AFRO: "Thank God, at least my children were saved."

Hawaii racial story: unity through variety

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Being a "Hawaiian" today is more a state of mind and a matter of residence than belonging to a racial category.

After two centuries of exposure to Westerners and another century of intermarriage and massive immigrations, says the Population Reference Bureau, the pure Hawaiian is on the way to becoming as rare as a whooping crane.

One of the most polyglot spots on earth, and one of the most racially harmonious, Hawaii celebrated its sixth anniversary as a State on March 11.

THE ISLAND'S people have come from every corner of the globe. The 1960 census reported that 69,000 immigrants then living in Hawaii came from about 70 countries — from nearly every nation in Europe, the Western Hemisphere, Asia and Oceania. Nearly fourfifths of the migrants hailed from Japan (25,000) and the Philippines (29,000).

Since 1865, when 63,000 people inhabited the islands and 91 per cent were pure Hawaiians, the population has grown to 701,000, while the ethnic structure has turned completely upside down.

Now, only about 1.7 per cent of the islanders are pure Hawaiian; some 15 per cent are part Hawaiian. Caucasians, or haoles, as they are called on the island, constitute about a third of the total population. About two-thirds of the state's citizens are of Asiatic origin; of these, half are Japanese.

HAWAII CONSISTS of eight major islands and numerous islets and reefs totaling 6,415 square miles of land area — slightly larger than Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

In 1959, when Hawaii became the 50th State, it added 620,000 people to the U. S. population. Its growth since then — 81,000 people — has been at an average annual rate of 2.4 per cent, far outstripping the national average of 1.6 per cent.

Of the 50 States, Hawaii has the second largest surplus of men over women. First - place honors go to Alaska, the 49th State, where the ratio is a whopping 57 per cent male and 43 per cent female. Hawaiian males total 53.4 per cent and females, 46.4 per cent.

MEMBERS OF all the major ethnic groups in Hawaii are inclined to marry their own. This tendency is strongest among the Japanese — 89 per cent of Japanese girls marry Japanese men.

Hawaiian girls choose Hawaiians in 62 per cent of the cases. Sixty - one per cent of Caucasian girls marry Caucasians, and 19 per cent marry Chinese. Of all Chinese brides, 52 per cent marry Chinese grooms.

The "out - marrying" Hawaiian girls choose Caucasian (19 per cent) and Chinese (12 per cent). Sixteen per cent of the Caucasian girls marry Hawaiians. Filipino women marry within their own ethnic group 81 per cent of the time. Their next choice is Hawaiians (26 per cent).

Pickets foil racist award

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)-Oklahoma City University called off a student convocation awarding an honorary degree to Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., at the last minute Wednesday because of picketing by civil rights groups.

"The convocation has been called off because we could not be assured by student leaders that Ellender would be given a courteous reception," Dr. John F. Olson, OCU President, said.

Ellender, who Tuesday vowed to filibuster in the Senate against passage of President Johnson's voting rights bill, was to have received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

THE DECISION to cancel the convocation was announced by Dr. Olson from the stage of the University's auditorium to some 1,500 students who had gathered for the event. Ellender was not present.

Six or seven pickets, some colored, some white, marched outside, carrying signs which said:

"Why Filibuster?" and "Remember James Reeb."

Reeb was a white minister who was killed last week by white segregationists in Selma, Ala.

TWO OF the pickets gained access to the lobby of the auditorium, despite university attempts to keep them out. Olson's announcement was greeted by applause from the student body.
