Three story fall kills boy, 2, in North Phiadelphia

PHILADELPHIA

A two-year-old North Philadelphia boy died in St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center Monday after plunging through a locked window to the sidewalk from the third floor of his home at 1931 N. 6th St., Sunday.

The victim, Otis R. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Green Sr., was admitted to the hospital in critical condition with severe cuts and head injuries.

Otis was playing with two of his five sisters and brothers when one of the older children pushed the bed to the window.

Otis, who was bouncing on the bed, bounced through the glass and fell 25 feet to the sidewalk, according to police.

NEW Old Fitzgerald 86.8 proof mild, 8 years mellow!
Old Fitz PRIME STRAIGHT is the most flavorful Bourbon ever bottled at popular proof!
Here's why the first "new" Fitzgerald in 70 years can bring you such mellow "smoothed-out" flavor at gentle 86.8 proof:
We took time to make PRIME. Eight full years in the oak give it a rich, vintage flavor which only our kind of sour mash Bourbon can ever achieve.
Look for the handsome new gold-capped bottle with grey-green Limestone label. You can't mistake it for the familiar Bonded OLD FITZ bottle, which remains the same.
Compare it with any whiskey, American or foreign. (You'll have trouble matching its age and pedigree at anywhere near the price.) Mighty mild... mighty mellow! We think you'll want to adopt OLD FITZ PRIME, unless you're already a Bonded OLD FITZ man. In that case, carry on!

College Fund Drive 1965 goal set at $50,000 here

The 1965 United Negro College Fund drive is scheduled to open April 1. The annual event which raises funds for private colleges with predominately colored students enrollment is celebrating its 21st anniversary.

The 1965 goal has been set at $50,000 for the Baltimore district, "a modest amount," according to Mrs. Elizabeth Bolek, campaign director.

The 1964 drive raised $27,500.

As a result of the '64 campaign, 32 colleges enrolled 28,000 students with 44 per cent on part or full scholarships. Of the total, 400 were 32 foreign countries fm from 32 foreign countries, 250 coming from Africa, the director reported.

Mrs. Bolek said opportunities for employment of college graduates are opening faster than students can be prepared.

At Hampton Institute alone, 100 business, industry and government recruiters were to search for students and to search for students and 100 were turned away, she said.

THE BALTIMORE kick off tea was held at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Kaufman on Clovelly Rd., in Pikesville. It was sponsored by the Women's Committee.

Dr. Bard cites 3 Marylanders in Morgan talk

Dr. Harry Bard, president of Baltimore Junior College, described "My Favorite Marylanders" at the Maryland Day Convocation Wednesday at Morgan State College. The 81st anniversary of the founding of the State was celebrated Thursday.

The three "Marylanders with a beacon" discussed by Dr. Bard were Judge Thurgood Marshall, of the U. S. Appeals Court, NYC; David J. Lewis, former state senator from Cumberland and coal miner and Margaret Brent, first woman attorney general.

Judge Marshall, a native Baltimorean, was called by Dr. Bard a man of "courage and scholarship" who as a "social engineer" was the NAACP attorney in the Donald Murray case which opened the University of Maryland to colored.

He cited this as the beginning of the civil rights revolution and said, "We have a long road to go . . . the road has been rough. There are two important things happening today — the rocket hitting the moon and the marchers reaching Birmingham. It is hard to determine which is the most important . . ."

He predicted that Judge Marshall "might someday become a Supreme Court Judge."

Of Mr. Lewis he said that as a Western Maryland Senator, he introduced the first workmen's compensation act "anywhere in the United States" which was the forerunner of the Social Security Laws.

Margaret Brent's fight in the Maryland General Assembly to take the place of "first woman attorney general" also led later to woman suffrage.

DR. BARD, in citing these three Marylanders, told the Morgan students, "Don't run away from controversial issues . . . stand behind your beliefs but gather your evidence carefully."

Dr. Bard was introduced by Dr. Martin Jenkins, MSC president, and later held an informal talk with students around the fireplace in the Student Union.

Historical Morgan papers found in old cornerstone

Historical documents of Morgan State College were found in an 88-year-old cornerstone when the Baltimore Urban Renewal Agency made ready to raze the stone structure at Fulton and Edmondson Avenues, Tuesday, to make room for a moderately priced apartment building.

The old stone structure built at a cost of $17,500 with dimes and dollars from Baltimoreans for freedmen was the second home of the college when it was called the Centenary Biblical Institute.

On hand for the cornerstone opening were Dr. Edward N. Wilson, for 42 years registrar at Morgan and who attended two years of college in the old building and two years at its present site, purchased in 1917 at Cold Spring Lane and Hillen Road.

Also present were Frank B. Butler, 1910 graduate and former principal of high schools in Cambridge and Annapolis; Dr. Martin Jenkins, MSC president; William Proctor, MSC registrar and Urban Renewal officials James Gilliam, Edgar M. Ewing and Francis W. Kuchta.

AMONG THE crumpling papers taken from the metal box were catalogues from the Centenary Biblical Institute dating from 1871 which revealed that tuition was $1.50 per month, room rent, $3 a week, and board per week was $1.

Also included was a 10-cent certificate given to persons who had brought "one brick in the Centenary Biblical Institute." The certificate was signed by the Rev. J. Emory Round, first MSC president, and Dr. Lyttleton F. Morgan, chairman of the board of trustees in 1880.

Other items in the cornerstone were: a report of the Maryland Department of Education dated Jan. 14, 1880; 55th annual report of the Board of School Commissioners, 1880; school catalogues from the Johns Hopkins, Drew Theological Seminary, Dickerson College, Lincoln University, Wilberforce University, Wesleyan University, Storer College and Peabody Institute.

THERE WAS ALSO a report of the board of managers of the Freedmen's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church; minutes of the 63rd session of the Baltimore Conference AME Church; 17th session of the Washington Conference ME Church; 12th session, Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference ME Church; 12 session, Wilmington Conference ME Church; and minutes of the 96th session, Baltimore Annual Conference ME Church.

Inside the box was also a card bearing the name of R. Hanrahan, stonemason, 249 N. Carey St.; a commencement program of the Biblical Institute and a book of autographs of people who contributed from $1 to $100 at the cornerstone laying.

The old papers will be put through a preservation process at Soper Library on the Morgan campus.
