The suggestion is that the proper petition be addressed to the Vatican in order to go through channels.

The question is whether or not the same request should be made to the heads of other denominations as well. All churches recognize the sainthood of the apostles and the martyrs of the earth church.

Is it inconceivable that they recognize persons of our own day who exhibit the supreme act of love, and the supreme act of faith?

We agree with the Free Press that a change would come over America if all of us would be willing to follow Reeb's heroic example.

We thought the March - On - Washington, a one day affair, was the most significant event in 1963, and nearly all the walking was done from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial.

But this 5-day trek, a vigorous thing for those no longer young, may equal it in impact upon the South.

When words of mouth fail to get the right to vote in the Ku Klux Klan areas, how are you going to ignore these people who have begun talking with their feet?

The answer is they can't be ignored because the marchers were willing to die for what they believed.

There are millions of Americans who, in spirit, are marching with Dr. King the five days this week.

If the long arm of President Johnson can protect them while they march, he can keep open there path to the ballot box.

Unlike the Israelites, Dr. King does not need to lead his people on a forty-year march in an American wilderness.

President Johnson correctly observes that the time is now.

From where we stand, the fast and slow travel experiments are of equal importance.

Both represent important scientific or political breakthroughs.

We welcome the changes no matter at what speed they are accomplished.

By order of the Supreme Court, from now on, the principle of equal size for congressional districts is established.

Some congressmen can not be elected from their newly enlarged districts. They will be out of their jobs.

The Supreme Court will have interferred with their bread and butter. Their hostility to the High Court is, therefore, understandable.

But we have nothing but praise for the U. S. Supreme Court.

Equalization of congressional districts has long been overdue. Neither the President nor the Congress had the courage to do it.

But the Supreme Court did. Thank the Lord.

Our Readers Say:

We Shall Overcome

Readers are invited to submit letters for publication. All letters must be signed but signature will be omitted if requested. Letters should be no more than 300 words in length. Address them to "Our Readers Say," Baltimore AFRO AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St.

Dear AFRO:

The President got a letter that Dr. King wrote,

Please send federal help, so my people can vote.

This is a dangerous situation, violence is beginning to spread.

The marchers are being hospitalized and some are already dead.

The Rev. Reeb from Boston, who took part in the drive

Was beaten by four white men, today he's not alive.

Gov. George C. Wallace, is big dollar of the state,

It is because of his control, my people demonstrate.

You can read it in the papers, hear it on radio,

See it on TV, that old conflict, "Jim Crow."

The search for freedom is the American goal,

The President warns Wallace, war can be cold.

The federal government protects the American democracy,

I'm sure Wallace's protest, will be in civil history.

A change is going to come, and this we all know,

May we all progress with time and say goodby to Jim Crow.

So come Americans, let's get the job done,

With God's help, "We Shall Overcome."

BILL (WILD BILL) ROBINSON

Homework Unfinished

Dear AFRO:

The terrible events in Selma in the past few weeks have brought new awareness to us that we share each others' guilt.

None of us can disown responsibility for the violence which has accompanied the struggle of colored people to secure their fundamental constitutional rights.

But as we watch with pity the unfolding of Alabama's tragedy, let us not forget that we in Maryland have our own problem to solve.

Three civil rights bills being considered this week by the House of Delegates and Senate. These bills will bring Maryland Law into agreement with Federal legislation.

The Baltimore Quarterly Meeting of Friends, Stony Run, heartily endorses Gov. Tawes's support of such legislation.

We likewise urge concerned citizens to write to their representatives in the legislature requesting their favorable consideration of this pending legislation.

(MRS.) MARY SATERLIE

I Have No Gun

Dear AFRO:

To the people of Woodberry — This is a free country. Why is it so that people can't live around you? Colored people have worked around you.

There is a home in back of you; colored people work there every day. I have two white people living in the back of my house. One lady I talked with said she lived around colored people for 35 years and she will never move.

No one stoned her away, so why do you have to do what you did to one family. This is a free country.

The home I am talking about is a white home for old people. Your grandmothers and grandfathers are getting cared for by colored people.

Why don't you take care of your own white people if we can't live around you? Maybe our hands are too black to work for your white grandmothers and grandfathers.

Look out your back yard one morning and see the young lady going to work.

I am a house wife and I don't have a gun for the white people in back of me.

A MAD CITIZEN

Mrs. Santa's Little Helpers

Dear AFRO:

You are probably very puzzled about this very late donation ($10) to your very worthy charity organizations.

There was quite a bit of commotion over this small donation, because it was, at first, to be used in another way.

Since that time, we have agreed that you would be able to use it in your (Christmas) operation next year.

We are a 3 - 4 age group of the Jack and Jills of America, Baltimore Chapter.

Maybe you will be able to use it as a springboard to your campaign to help the needy this year.

(MRS.) SONJA C. BROWN
(Director)

Yankees, Come Home To Ala.

Dear AFRO:

When Sheriff James Clark bullwhipped and cow-prodded 150 children of American citizens I was shocked.

When troopers of Alabama gassed and clubbed hundreds of peaceful demonstrators, I was mortified.

And the slaying of Rev. Reeb left me sick with grief.

I cannot see how this country can afford to spend millions of dollars and sacrifice hundreds of lives in Vietnam and still be unable to protect American citizens in Alabama.

The Achilles' heel of this nation is the defiant South, and the venom that may topple this so-called "Great Society" is hate.

It is men like Sheriff Clark, the baby-beater, Gov. Wallace and his state troopers; and the redneck murderers of the Rev. James Reeb who are destroying the image of America abroad.

The cry around the world is "Yankee, go home."

To that cry I will add, "Yankee, Come home —Selma needs you!"

LBJ Moves Wisely

By MAX JOHNSON

Quite consistently, Maryland's past General Assembly sessions have seen the introduction of silly, mean bills —and this current session now drawing to a close is no exception.

Proposals to legalize sterilization have been high in this category in recent session—including this one.

Not too long ago, Sen. John L. Sanford (D. Worcester) tried unsuccessfully to push through his bill to sterilize mothers receiving public welfare assistance — when they bore illegitimate children.

• • •

THERE HAVE been many others similarly as ridiculous in nature — including proposals from representatives of areas which need its services most to curb the Interracial Commission.

All of these silly, mean bills have had one thing in common — roadblocks for the colored citizen.

New—Sen. Robert P. Dean (D. Queen Anne's) has come up with a little ol' bill that tops them all in silliness and meanness.

And besides—the thing is a dangerous bill.

It, too, carries serious racial connotations.

• • •

ON THE FACE of it—Sen. Dean's S. B. 666 proposes a state constitutional amendment to guarantee a property owner the right to use his property, or dispose of it, as he sees fit.

He was asked at a hearing on the measure Monday before the Senate's Judicial Proceedings Committee to explain the purpose of the bill in more detail.

"The bill is self-explanatory," he answered.

"What will it do to zoning?" he was asked.

"I don't know," the Senator replied.

As a matter of fact—Sen. Dean said he didn't know how else to explain his bill than what was stated in it.

He wasn't even clear on the intent of the bill.

• • •

HERE IS what the bill states:

"All men are equal before the law, and have certain inalienable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, owning, controlling and protecting property and pursuing happiness and obtaining safety.

"The right of the people to own, control, buy, sell, lease or rent private real property (subject always to the right of eminent domain) shall not be violated.

"The state shall guarantee to each owner of private real property the absolute right to own, buy, sell, lease or rent such property to whomsoever he chooses;

"And shall protect each owner's right and discretion to prohibit the use by any individual, partnership, corporation or other legal entity, including agents and representatives thereof."

• • •

I REPEAT, this is a silly, mean bill—but not one with clear prohibitive, racial advancement intent.

The bill has the ardent support of the Maryland Petition Committee—an outspoken segregationist outfit.

Though Sen. Dean may have been hesitant to say so—Samuel J. Setta, MPC chairman, readily gave the Judicial Proceedings Committee this explanation;

"This bill prevents forced integration of housing."

Mr. Setta might have carried the thing further.

• • •

AS A constitutional amendment — the state would find it difficult indeed to pass any open housing laws to abridge such a statute.

Besides — such a thing on the books could tie up in court litigation for years state laws governing a person's property, public or private.

All sorts of constitutional questions would be raised — and would have to be answered.

It's another of those silly, mean bills—just the kind the Maryland Petition Committee jumps to back.

You've got to watch that segregationist group all the time—they, seemingly, never give up.

Pin-Point

Quota System Losing Appeal

By GEORGE COLLINS

At our last meeting we dealt with the sudden lack of popularity of the quota system in connection with politically-tinted appointments.

A breakdown of statistics from the various offices staffed by persons of one political persuasion or another revealed an incredible lack of non-white appointees, regardless of political leanings.

An informal survey of such jobs—assistant state's attorneys, deputy sheriffs, constables, U.S. assistant attorneys, and U.S. marshals — produced some interesting statistics.

Of a total of 119 politically - created positions in these offices, eight are filled by colored appointees.

This breaks down to a meager six percent of the total. A recent check of Baltimore's population puts the non-white segment at 40 per cent of the total.

Therefore before we are able to accept the "no quota system" philosophy, somebody must do something about narrowing the wide gap which divides the current state of affairs from true representation.

THE RECOMMENDATION here is that before we adopt the no quota system — which has merit if based on sound premises — let's institute a "catch-up system" whereby that often neglected and ignored segment of the population can be assured of equal representation.

Otherwise, a no quota system doctrine now will only perpetuate a wrong that has already been allowed to exist too long.

• • •

WHILE WE are at it, there are two developments involving two of the above offices deserving of notice.

In fairness to Charles E. Moylan Jr., chief prosecutor, he has had an unofficial third assistant of color since the first of the year. He is Frank De'Costa, currently filling another 'first' post as bailiff to Maryland Court of Appeals Judge Reuben Oppenheimer.

Although the Howard U. law grad will remain with Judge Oppenheimer until a replacement is found, he has been actively attending classes and orientation sessions for new assistant prosecutors. He will become permanent soon.

DEVELOPMENTS IN U.S. Marshal Frank Udoff's office, however, are far less encouraging. Here's why.

A deputy marshal of color was let out of the office the latter part of last year, leaving veteran William (Box) Harris as the only 'brother' there.

At least three colored applicants—two of whom completely qualified — have applied for the post. Nine has made it.

Alonzo Rogers, assigned to the Washington office of Marshal Luke Moore is for it. It was supposed to be all set. But something happened.

• • •

ROBB JOHNS, one of the most competent and articulate policemen on the local force, has been a leading candidate.

It was only recently that he learned that at 38 he was "rather old for the job," but if a younger man could not be found with comparable qualifications, he would get it. He hasn't gotten it.

Another late comer and front-running candidate (a non brother) who chauffered Sen. Joe Tydings around during the campaign. He had the newly-elected senator's vote, too.

He was dropped from consideration only last week. Cause: Didn't clear FBI check. He was already working as a "fill-in."

That's how it works.

Labor and Business

By STERLING A. PAIGE

The Eastern Shore — De-Mar-Va area is another area in which the effects of automated machinery has dealt a hard blow to residents formerly employed there. For years hundreds of people have been employed there in the chicken-raising and packing industry.

According to a labor official, the industry is now largely automated. With the use of machinery, the chickens are killed, le-feathered, cleaned cut up, packaged, weighed and stamped.

All this is accomplished without the touch of human hands. The unemployment problem therefore has become more acute in an area which, at best, was economically depressed.

• • •

ANOTHER labor organization tells of a bakery recently opened near Chicago—a huge automated plant filled with machinery and computers but no bakers.

Mixing, baking, frosting, wrapping and boxing are done by machines controlled by computers rather than men. There are no people at all, except for the office workers and truck drivers who make deliveries.

This plant has completely eliminated problems of unions, wages, strikes and personnel difficulties. Small reason labor is deeply concerned about the future. This is only one example.

There are hundreds of others that are costing jobs of thousands who have been employed in special fields for years.

ABOUT BUSINESS

Annual Meeting of the Better Business Bureau will be held March 29, 12:15 p.m. in the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

THE BUSINESS survey being conducted in the Baltimore area by Morgan College students under the direction of Dr. W. O. Bryson Jr., is well under way. To date more than 450 business firms have been completed.

• • •

THE SCHAEFER Brewing Co. is attracting much attention in this area with promotional activities geared to the bread market here. Charming Carolyn Dotson, Schaefer model, made appearance Saturday at the Pauline Brooks Fashion Show at the Emerald Gardens. Phil Dixon, Schaefer promoter, and Carolyn teamed together to put over the beer-y message.

AFRO Credo

A newspaper succeeds because its management believes in itself, in God and in the present generation. It must always ask itself—

Whether it has kept the faith with the common people;

Whether it has no other goal except to see that their liberties are preserved and their future assured;

Whether it is fighting to get rid of slums to provide jobs for everybody;

Whether it stays out of politics except to expose corruption and condemn injustices regardless of prejudice or compromise.
