Adults fighting, center for youth being delayed

Five neighborhood associations in the Alameda section of Baltimore may or may not get together over the weekend to decide whether or not to have the Winston Elementary School Recreation Center open April 1.

The deadline has been set for "no later than April 15" for the area's approximately 1,000 children to have a program under the City Department of Recreation.

Marshall Jones Jr., Park Board member, said, "I'd like to see the folks agree so we can have the program the children need."

* * *

ON WEDNESDAY, Harold S. Callowhill, head of the Recreation Department, told the neighborhood groups he would like to see them accomplish the following points and then return to his office for another meeting quickly "so as not to hold the project up beyond April 1."

1. Form a volunteer vigilante group of adults to patrol outside the center to help the short - handed police force "keep the neighborhood from being torn apart by bad boys."

2. Form any and all other plans to see that "what the neighbors fear won't happen"

3. To sit down at a round table and "bat it out together" to come up with solutions that will lead to better relationships among neighbors of the community.

* * *

MR. CALLOWHILL was serving in the role of peacemaker when he made the above suggestions.

Assembled in his offices at 1129 N. Calvert St. Wednesday were 50 - some persons, members of the associations who want the Center to be located at Winston Elementary School as of April 1 and those who had placed "thumbs down" on the project.

Viewing the situation as "tragic" was City Councilman J. Joseph Curran, (D. 3rd), who helped leaders literally perform an over - night miracle to get $12,000 city money laid aside for salaries, the Winston School as the site and the April 1 opening date.

Mr. Curran said he has mixed emotions on any chance of the neighbors getting together "with a meeting of the minds" since the ones who had been "kicking up all the dust" were trying to smooth it over.

He firmly underlined, however, "Anything short of the Winston Elementary School Recreation Center as planned will be decidedly deplorable and distressing."

* * *

WILLIAM CANNON, president of the Wren - Lane Civic Association, said the opposers were persons quibbling over "a blade of grass" when the question concerns hundreds of children having or not having recreation.

According to Mrs. Bertha C. Campbell, who spearheaded the project, the feud seems to come from neighbors who want to x-out the center lest youngsters trample their lawns.

Mrs. Campbell quoted Baltimore City Anti - Poverty Plans, LBJ's State of the Union Message noting all communities, schools and churches are pledged to provide recreation to off set crime and delinquency.

She was present with a shopping bag of letters and endorsements and statements from: Mayor Theodore McKeldin, Dr. Robert L. Jackson, school commissioner who gave positive okey for the April 1 opening and all plans; Comptroller Hyman Pressman; principals of Woodbourne Jr. High, Guilford and Winston Elementary Schools; the PTA president of Woodbourne Junior High and a signed petition from 200 home owners of the area.

SPOKESMEN for the opposers who said they were for "Recreation as a whole," but not the Winston Center "as is," included Mrs. P. H. Baker, Alphonso A. Bell, and Albert W. Sherard of the Kentworth Park Neighborhood Association.

Mrs. Baker explained "we are poor but proud neighbors who want nothing whatsoever to destroy the beauty of the property. She said a 1957 Recreation Project in the vicinity witnessed juke boxes, dancing and destruction of property.

Mr. Bell said his association was left out of the planning of the present project and wanted details as to supervision and type of program before its approval could be obtained.

Mr. Sherard said no one had complained of their grass and all in the group were for recreation, "as such."

Supporting the Center are the Wren - Lane Civic Asso. Mr. Cannon, president, and Mrs. Campbell, chairman of the Center project; the Kimberleigh Improvement Association, Robert Pettigrew, president; Wilson Park Improvement Association, Charles McDaniels, president the Radnor Improvement Association, Ralph J. Hester, Everett B. Johnson, George W. Quickley, steering committee.

Opposing are:

The Kenilworth Improvement Association, as represented by Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Vernell L. Bullock, A.L. Bullock, George Myers, Percy H. Baker, Mr. Bell, Mrs. Catherine C. Fernandez, Mrs. Mary E. Hoyt; Dr. Edward McDaniels.

It was reported that the president, Brady Golden, not present at the meeting, had "endorsed" the project.

Mr. Jones, as member of the park board, called the meeting. Also present were Daniel C. Haldeman, chief of complaints and investigations division, Baltimore Human Relations Commission; and Recreation Department officials, Theodore Brown, George Faulkner and A. L. Cottrill.

Members of the Winston Elementary Recreation Council are Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Pettigrew, co - chairmen; William Lowery, Mrs. Vivian Lowery, Mrs. Ernestine Tetteh, Mrs. Theresa Winston, William Cannon, Mr. Caldwell.

MARCH 30

Students of Dunbar Vocational Center of the Business Division will stage a "Graduation - What?" in the Dunbar auditorium, Caroline and McElderry Sts., at 8 p.m.

Panel members will be Mr. Vivien T. Thomas, Charles R. Law, Milton B. Allen, W. O. Bryson, moderator; Mrs. Elizabeth W. Brooks, music by Mr. William Meredith H. Birch, Jr. The program is sponsored by the office practice classes.

Gay party follows Moles' induction

By Lula Jones Garrett

For the past two weeks members of the Baltimore chapter of Moles have really been living up to their motto "Enjoy yourself - It's later than you think."

Flying out to Chicago for the installation of a new chapter there were Carolyn Stubbs, Blanche Beckham, Florence Baily, Helen Queen and Bertha Forte.

Back home, this week, they joined in plans for the induction of three new members in their own chapter and for the celebrating of the sixth anniversary of the chapter. Both were held Saturday night in the home of Bob and Florence Bailey.

Mary PePherson, chapter president, and the national president, Rosalyn Dixon of Washington, conducted the ceremonies which brought Celonia Walden, Harriett Trader and Anabel Rawlings into the club. The induction was held in the club room where the trio was toasted in champagne. Dinner followed.

In the meantime, the Moles were entertaining new Moles: Dr. Emerson Walden, Dr. Herbert Trader and Marsden Rawlings in the home of the Fortes. They joined the girls later in the evening and a real party was had.

Present were:

Jo and David Sloan, Florence and Bob Bailey, Blanche and Paul Beckham, Bertha and Alan Forte, Lou and Irving Lockerman, Carolyn and Wesley Stubbs, Mary and Nathan Pitts,

Also Mary and Thomas McPherson, Emma and Glen Dudley, Anethia and Roland Williams, Helene and Alonzo Harriston, Bernice and Edward McDaniels, Bea and David Wright and Helen Queen. Richard Dixon of Washington was also present.

The new Moles received silver bracelets and parasols and hat boxes in the club colors of green and white.

* * *

BALTIMORE LINKS, too, are adding new members, and doing what thinking members of several organizations have urged for some time... that is; bring into the groups younger women to assure the continued vitality of the chapter.

Inducted will be Stevie Harris, Mary Pitts, Frances Hill, Jimmy Laforest, and Cardrewian Ferrin Griffin. The latter is the first "Bob - O - Link" to become a member of the chapter. She is, of course, the daughter of Lou Perrin, president of the chapter.

* * *

LOCAL EPICUREANS have two new members in their chapter. They are Anabel Rawlings and Audrey Pinderhughes.

They went into the chapter in a colorful ceremony, which was followed by a gay party in the Dorchester Road home of Frances Henderson. Bernadine Harrison was co-hostess. Husbands were invited to join the welcome to the newcomers.

At this affair were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Orlando Bennett, Samuel Daniels, Robert Diggs, Randolph Edwards, Miles Harrison, Clarence Henderson, Dudley Henry, Armstead Jenkins, Arthur Murray;

Messrs. and Mesdames Cegil Johnston, William Parker, Raymond Pinderhughes, Lloyal Randolph, Marsden Rawlings, David Scott, John Stokes, Lester Wallace and Carter Wood.

HERMIONE PAIR of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., did a lovely thing a Saturday ago when the For - Win - Ash Garden Club of this town went to New York to attend the International Flower Show.

Mrs. Pair, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt of this city, and president of the Mt. Vernon Flower Club, greeted the group, pinned corsages on each visitor.

For - Win - Ashers chose the Holiday Inn in New York City for their abode while visiting the show, seeing old friends, partying in their suites and attending church on Sunday morning.

At the show they concentrated on the study of developing patios into "nature's living rooms". Coming home they brought back specimens and plants ... and between the two managed to see a few shows.

On the tour were:

Anne Wayne, Xaveria McDonald, Hilda Higgins, Olivia Dixon, Louise Pierce, Madeline Harding, Olga Rodney, Llewellyn Walker, Meribah Bell, Ines Kent, Carnelia Merva, Katherine Gross;

Carrie Johnson, Rosalee McGuire, Myrtle Lee, Louise Robinson; Ruth Russell, Margaret Gassaway, Lillian Jordan, Janice Tribble, Winifred Ashby, Ada Veney, Charlene Veney, the Douglas Campers, Francis Richardsons, Herbert Frisbys and James Crowners; and William Merchant.

THE DENTAL Auxiliary opine that if you declared their May Ball last year was fabulous, you'll have to invent a word for this year's affair.

They met in that "living mod" home of Dr. and Mrs. (Shirley) Gordon on Belle Ave., Monday evening, obviously to work on plans for the May 14th affair. They did that too, but specifically their aim was a birthday surprise for their hard - working member, Eula Mae Watts.

Having been there, in addition to Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Gordan, were:

Barbara Davis, Barbara Carrington, Gave Burnett, Olga Rodney, Elise Hunt, Mary Taylor, Bernice McDaniels, Joan Phillips, Jeanette Christmas, Winifred Ashby and Edith Davidson.

MRS. OTHA PINKETT was a recent hostess to Parents Without Partners, at her home on Wabash Ave.

One of the activities of the group is coffee and conversation on Sunday evenings. The group had as their speaker of William Begehart of the Motion Picture's Board of Censors of Md.

At the session were:

Morris Katkowsky, who heads the Baltimore group, Sanya Kohn, Mary Harn, Edith Barnes, Annette Sapperstein, Ruth Berrier, Peggy Willis, Miriam Racher;

Ellen Pinker, Klara Hilb, Edith Goldstein, Renee Sheinfield, Ray Lubinski, George Drumm, Albert Furr, Mae R. Gellman and Adelle R. Potash.

The hostess was assisted by her young daughter Patrice; and Peggy Willis and Raymond Lubinski.

THE LAWYERS' WIVES held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Solomon Reddick, Saturday, co-hostesses were Mrs. George Rosedom and Mrs. James Sexton.

Final plans were made for their 15th Anniversary and Founders' Day Luncheon to be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, (saturday). Judge Robert B. Watts will be speaker. Mrs. William H. Murphy, presided. Mrs. Milton B. Allen is chairman for the luncheon.

BALTIMORE SIGMAS celebrated Sigma Week with "Rush" parties and Guidance Clinics.

Beta Tau chapter held forth at the Morgan Christian Center with a real "Hawaiian Luau", the theme of their "Rush" party. The girls played "Dirty Bingo" and Soror Sheila Wyatt performed an authentic hula. Blue and gold dominated throughout the party decorations and gift wrappings.

Soror Rose Kinney who is presently studying in Hawaii on an East - West Fellowship Grant in the Teacher-Exchange Program, sent candy, illustrated maps and Hawaiian favors for the affair.

The "Luau" menu included chicken Hawaiian, assorted crackers, shiskabobs, nuts, mints, fruits and Hawaiian punch. The Table was beautifully decorated with orchids, artificial palms and water lilies.

Hostessing the "Rush" party were Sorors Jacqueline Burke, Diane Kearney, Barbara Tate and Sheila Wyatt of Beta Tau.

During the same week, the Greeks on Morgan campus entertained ..... prospective Greeks with an "All Greek Rush Party." Though only four in number, Beta Tau was well received by the story of Sigma through song group. They presented the and pantomime.

Apha Alpha Sigma, Beta Tau and Gamma Mu culminated Sligma Week with a Sunday afternoon Guidance Clinic of Charm and Beauty. The theme, "Toward A More Beautiful You," featured Mrs. Diana Kane, founder and Director of the Diana Kane School of Modeling and Mrs. Rose Wallace, Owner-Manager of Rose's Modern Beauteria.

Mrs. Kane's presentation entitled, "Charm and Visual Poise," directed attention to graceful ways of walking, sitting and shaking hands. She also pointed up accepted procedures in social protocol.

Mrs. Wallace in highlighting "Feminine Perfection," showed the art of make-up from cleansing of the face through the final application of lipstick. She further demonstrated how the use of a basic hair-set can be combed and styled for school, office or dating. She emphasized the use of wigs, and wiglets to enhance and glamorize ladies, even on short notice.

THE WOMEN'S Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society has been busily engaged in a series of lectures on sex education for teen - agers.

The lectures were under direction of the Planned Parenthood Association and were held weekly at Mt. Zion Methodist Church. Lecturers were Mrs. Frances Saunders, Dr. Claude Hill, Mrs. Vivian Washington, Father Donald O. Powell and Bruce Saunders.

POT-POURRI: Mrs. Beryl W. Williams, representing General Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Methodist Church, is among 400 persons attending the Fourth National Methodist Deaconess Convocation in Cincinnati, Ohio, this weekend.

The Convocation will bring together persons from virtually every state. About 225 will be deaconesses, who are women who serve in almost every phase of the full-time work of The Methodist Church. About 175 will be guests and visitors such as presidents of annual conference Woman's Societies of Christian Service and annual conference Deaconess Boards.

The deaconesses who will attend serve in many professional capacities in The Methodist Church, including Christian education, nursing, social work, teaching, the parish ministry, work in homes for children and the aged, and rural church-and-community work.

A reception for Mrs. Ruth Joyce King and James E. Pratt, who will be married in Sharon Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. on April 11th, will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the church Hall.

The Coppin Alumni Association is sponsoring the Arena Players in the play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged" on Friday April 2 and Saturday April 3 at 8:30 p.m. The play will be presented at the Arena Players Playhouse in the 400 block of Orchard Street.

The proceeds of the play will be turned over for the Provident Hospital Building Program.

Edna and Bill Stanford played host to members of the Couples Club Sunday. Everyone was cheered by the report made by Bill, of the market upturn in their stock holdings. He's chairman of the club's stock committee.

Bea Butler, chairman of the constitution committee, reported on suggested changes in the constitution, all of which were approved.

Guests who came for dinner following the club meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Veney, Dr. and Mrs. O'Daniel and Mrs. Gertrude Urquhart. Members present were Bea and Hiram Butler, Seretha and Lonnie Greene, Mary Elizabeth and Charles Law, Delphine and Tom Warrington, Adele and Ben Foreman, Ethel Rich, Yvette and James Murphy and Cliff Mackay.

Miss Smith bride of Kenneth Blount

Miss Sandra Yvonne Smith, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith, and Kenneth Randolph Blount, were married in Gospel Tabernacle Church, Saturday at 4 p.m.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth P. Barnes, district superintendent of the West Baltimore District of the Methodist Church. He was assisted by the Rev. Spencer G. Dobson, a long - time friend of the family. Miss Cynthia Jones was soloist, and her father, the Rev. Arthur Jones was organist.

* * *

MISS SMITH given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown with minute brocade design. A chapel train enhanced the beauty of the gown. The essemble included a cropped lace jacket featuring full length sleeves.

Her tulle veil was attached to a seed - pearl headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies. The bride's jewelry was a diamond encrusted broach worn as a necklace, which had belonged to her late maternal grandmother.

* * *

MISS JAMIE SMITH was her sister's maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Misses LaReesa Smith, also a sister of the bride; Lottie Male Blount, sister of the bridegroom; Patricia Brooks and Sheila Mae Vines, cousins of the bride.

Willie Blount was his brother's best man. Ushers were Calvin Brooks, Timothy Wilton, Tyrone Kilby, David Crew, Ronald Brown and Melvin Claiborne.

Kathy Green and Lamont Johnson were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

* * *

A RECEPTION was held in the social hall of the church. Notable in the receiving line was the bride's 89 - year - old great grandmother, Mrs. Julia Johnson.

Miss Marilyn Ann Dobyns and Timothy McAlily were registrars.

Following a week - end wedding trip, the newlyweds are at home at 3038 Windsor Ave.

Que-Ettes, Lunch view hat modeling

There were exaggerated bulbs, there were colorful flower concoctions.

There were stark sailors and draped turbans.

There were be - ribboned cloches and high - riding pillboxes . . . and they weren't all in the elaborate show staged by Mrs. Elise Hunt for the Que-Ettes, Saturday.

A GOODLY NUMBER of the smart headwear were being shown by the guests, who shared the annual luncheon with the members of Pi Omega Chapter Auxiliary of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

The luncheon, held in the Castle Motor Inn, was a fine sort of party for a snowy afternoon. There was the very brief program, with Mrs. Mildred A. Williams presiding, and on which Que-ette officers and luncheon committee members were introduced.

There was delicious food, and then Mrs. Hunt set up an exhibit of her hats and members and guests modeled to their heart's delight.

MRS. WILLIAMS, chairman of the committee, had been assisted by Mesdames Gloria Stokes, Susie Mansfield, Goldie Nums, Mattie Gardner, Katherine Grant, Ponola Priest and Constance Ward.

The auxiliary is headed by Mrs. Shirley Strother, who was as chic as chic in a gold wool shift, worn with a black turtleneck dickey, and a way-out black hat.

Along those attending the luncheon were

Mesdames Mary Lewis, Mattie Lewis, Bernita Fuller, Mary H. Strider, Lorenia Whitten, Marian Scarborough, Marie Francis, Agnes Patterson.
