The 20th annual homecoming of the Homing Pigeons of Magothy began Sunday, March 21, at Mt. Zion Methodist Church, Magothy.

The anniversary ended Thursday evening with the Pigeons annual victory dinner at the Garrison Lounge.

Attending the dinner were Mesdames Bertha Hall, Elizabeth Spicer, Rosalie Fields, Gloria Franklyn, Vera Smith, Elsie Lawrence, Helen Keene, Leothia Harris, Ruth Hall, Ilean Henson, Louise Thomas, Emma Byrd, Emma Clemmens, Viola Stewart, Laura Benson and Ilean Jennins.

4 Md. students win scholarships

Four Maryland area students were among the 225 scholarship winners in the first National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding colored students, announced John M. Stalnaker, president, National Merit Scholarship Corp.

The winning students were selected in nationwide competition which started last autumn with 4,200 candidates.

• • •

SELECTED FROM the Maryland area were:

N. Alan Harris Jr., 331 Walbrook Ave., Forest Park High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Alan Harris Sr.

Miss Angela A. Moore, 3402 Duvall Ave., Western High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred V. Moore.

And twins, Earl D. Jr., and Charles J. Kidwell, 19 Dunbar Ave., Catonsville, Catonsville Senior High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Kidwell.

The Kidwell twins were one of four sets of twin who were recipients of the scholarship award.

The Kidwell twins were one of four sets of twins who were recipients of the scholarship award.

Hugh W. Land, director of the National Achievement program, said the program is designed to "... Honor and encourage the most able colored students in the nation."

Winners were chosen by a selection committee made up of experienced college admissions officers and high school counselors.

They will receive a four-year scholarship to the college of their choice, with stipends ranging from $250 to $1500 per year depending on their needs.

LBJ aide will face pickets

An estimated 100 persons are expected to picket in protest against the war in South Vietnam outside Shriver Hall on the Johns Hopkins University Homewood campus where special presidential advisor McGeorge Bundy is scheduled to speak.

The demonstration, which is sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and will include members of other local groups, will begin at 3:30 p.m.

An SDS spokesman said Bundy was "on record as being one of the primary advisors to the president supporting the Vietnam war policy."

Another object of the demonstration will be to focus attention on the mass march on Washington April 17 protesting the war, the spokesman said. Sponsors predict more than 10,000 people from groups throughout the country will participate in the march.

Bundy, whose major function is to advise the president on foreign affairs and defense policy, is expected to discuss aspects of the Vietnam situation in his address Monday.

APRIL 2

M.D.S. Charity and Social Club will give a cabaret for the benefit of Provident Hospital and the Maryland League for Crippled Children at Emerald Gardens, 4210 Primrose Ave., from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Las Doces Civic Guild

Iota Phi Lambdas, 400 strong, to mark era at Baltimore Regional Convention

ELIZABETH M. OLIVER substituting for Mrs. Garrett who is on vacation.

The Kappa Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., is footnoting the era as its women serve as hostesses to the 28th Eastern Regional Conference here April 10-11.

The theme of the event to be held at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel is "Our Next Step In Changing Times." The dynamic program that extends through Palm Sunday, includes such eminent women as Mrs. Katie Everett Johnson, the Eastern Regional Director, from Pittsburgh, Pa., who will preside; Soror Ossie Ware Mitchell, Birmingham Ala., the national president, who will speak the Saturday luncheon.

The Educational Luncheon that comes at 1 p.m. is invitational, and honors the national officers.

• • •

THE LADIES will begin to arrive here from all areas of the Eastern Seaboard on April 9, and the Baltimore gals have reserved the Executive Suite at the Belvedere for an "Early Bird Party," to welcome visitors and delegates.

Their Saturday program, preceding the luncheon, opens with coffee during registration, 8:30 to 1 a.m. and then comes the business section which will end at 12:30 p.m.

After the luncheon, slated, by the way, to be one beautiful affair, comes the Workshop where the conference theme, "Iota Meets The Challenge of the '60s" will be followed through. Specifically, the dicussion will deal with "Iota's Responsibility to School Dropouts" and Soror Mildred Keys, member of Beta Omicron Chapter, Philadelphia, will be the keynoter.

Discussants include sorors from Washington, Norfolk, Pittsburgh, Montclair.

• • •

THE SPRING Dance, 10 on Saturday night, will be the Blue Crest North, another fabulous affair.

While the ladies crowd in a wonderful day, husbands and children will be on a tour of Baltimore's historic points.

Palm Sunday morning, to be sure the visitors won't miss a thing, a local minister will distribute palms at the hotel. However, out of towners who so desire, will be escorted to churches of their choice.

After the girls elect regional officers, the Baltimore sorors are holding a Fellowship Luncheon at 1 p.m. before the visitors depart from our shores.

• • •

HERE ARE the Kappa Chapter members who are making the Regional one of the most unusual, delightful and benificial of all times:

General Committee: Sorors Darah F. Diggs, Naomi B. Lee, Blanche Pettiford, Marion Ransom, Fannie B. Poulson, chairman; Dance co-chairmen, Sorors Gladys L. Ball, Mary Tucker.

Program, Fellowship Luncheon, Gifts and Courtesies, Kits, Housing, Hospitality and Publicity chairmen includes Sorors Mary B. Ames, Jessie W. Nicholson, Evelyne D. Wilkey, Margaret Robinson, Helen Weatherford, Mildred Noel, Thelma B. Jiggetts, Mary Crump, Claudine Harden, Gladys L. Ball, Mary Tucker, Marie W. Lewis and Vivian W. Young.

• • •

PSI GAMMA Mu Sorority set the pace last week for modern ladies abreast of the times.

Suddenly, they cancelled all elaborate plans for Founders Celebration pooled their funds and sent the money as a contribution to "Freedom."

Prior to the change of mind, the sorors opened the Founders Week with a visit to the Gaines AME Church in Elkridge and heard the Rev. Ruth Young give an inspiring sermon as Women's Day guest speaker.

Here too, the sorority kept in tune with the hour and presented the church women with a check.

Members of the truly conscientious group include Catherine Parron, Rose Wallace, Julia Richardson, Eunice Gross, Willard King, Elizabeth Moss, Lucille Brooks, Mildred Murphy.

• • •

THE WOMEN's Auxiliary of the Monumental City Medical Society also makes Baltimore proud. Their drive for Provident Hospital's Building Fund with Thelma Bando chairman, Panjola Priest, president, a shining success, brought in $1,851.

Among those who won incentive prizes for their efforts were Levinia Hammond, R. Curry, Shirley Gordon, Majorie Gilmore, S. O. Owens, M. Alfred Halloway and Calperta Cam.

• • •

MRS. EDWARD Holt and Mrs. Phyliss Thompson were hostesses to a meeting of the Continental Society for the Underprivileged Children of Baltimore, Inc., at the latter's home.

Highlight of the meeting was a review of their accomplishments this club year.

With donations to The House of Good Shepherd, Provident Hospital Children's Ward, Y.M.C.A. Campership, and a larger contribution to their "Continental Child," they felt that it was time for a recall, especially after having received acknowledgements from recipients.

Dr. Silver, director of Med Ki Children's Diabetic Campership, was most pleased over the Continentals being among our first to support his organization.

Congratulations were in order for Sue Miles who was recently elected president of the National Continental Societies, Inc., at their New York City meeting.

The meeting was further highlighted with the approval of a new chapter to be installed in Roanoke, Va., in April. To Virginia for the installation will be: Mesdames Helen Gattis, president of the group, Charlotte Holt and Phyliss Thompson.

After the meeting a delightful repast was served and members chatted until wee hours.

Members present were Helen Gattis, president; Odessa Dyson, vice-president; Phyllis Thompson, corresponding secretary; Lillie Branch, treasurer; Mattie Mumby parliamentarian;

Also, Margaret Beamon, Frances Branch, Marie Cardwell, Serena Holmes, Edith Davidson, Charlotte Holt, Ellen Howard, Sue Miles, Helen Quarles, Emily Peck, Doreva Stanley, Mae Chamberlain, Delores Young recording secretary.

THE 57th wedding anniversary of the Joseph Spriggs of 1357 Woodyear St. was a quiet occasion last week due to the illness of their daughter Mrs. Helen Clayton of Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Spriggs have lived in the same residence 57 years and have been the every-Sunday-kind of members of Metropolitan Methodist Church 57 years.

Five generations of their family include two sons, five daughters, 23 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren and one Rhetta Gwendolyn four great-great-grandchildren. Radio, stage and screen star, the late George Stevens, was Mr. Spriggs' cousin.

• • •

INSTALLATION OF the officers of Chapter 624 of the Cootiette Club, held Sunday at the 1806 Mosher St. home of Mrs. Viola Jones, president was an auspicious occasion.

The Baltimore group's charter hangs in the Hall of Congress and the bonded membership is an affiliate of the national with headquarters in Lincoln, Calif. The February initiation of the group admitted it as our first chapter, thus integrating the organization.

Mrs. Corrine Divine, past president, PCGB, served as installation officer and was in turn installed as secretary by Mrs. Jones. The ladies' husbands were covered-dish dinner guests following the meeting.

Installed were Mesdames M. Alice Brown, L. L., vice-president; Mary Okemy, B. L. Jr., vice-president; J. L. Burroughs, P. L. chaplain; Sadie Springgs, S. K. treasurer; Ruth Chavous L. H. guard; Henrietta Jenkins, C. C., conductress.

Trustees include Mesdames Ockemy, Brown and Burroughs, with these members, as committee chairmen: Mesdames H. James music; Chavis, hospital Spriggs, publicity; Ockemy, rehabilitation; Marie Williams, R. L.; Marian Dorsey and Carrie Lee Mattack.

• • •

MRS. EUGENIA D. Higgins, Charleston, S.C., wife of the late AME Bishop, Dr. Samuel R. Higgins and sister of Baltimore's Dr. Frank A. DeCosta, was guest of the local Gay Northeasterners last week.

Mrs. Senora Reckling was hostess at the dinner, preceded by cocktails at the Sheraton - Belvedere. Members present included Emma Bright, Grace Burkett, Edna Campbell, Jeannette Christmas, Carol Diggs, Waityie Doles, Beartine DeCosta, Constantia Jackson, Elizabeth Jenkins, Helen Lee, Ruth Lighston, Lillian Murphy, Lillian O'Daniel, Mae Peck and Elibeth Walker.

THE BARE Hills home of Miss Joan Young was the setting for a surprise bridal shower for Miss Sandra Jeanne Oliver. Miss Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Oliver, is to be wed in April to Virgil Sidney Perisee of Chicago.

Miss Young and Mrs. Rita Boseman, both childhood friends of the bride-to-be, and attendants were at her wedding, set the atmosphere in a pink and white motif with garlands of pink and white carnations and roses.

Thinking that she was to do some shopping with Miss Young that evening, Miss Oliver was quite surprised when she entered. She was greeted by all, then pinned with a lovely corsage by the hostesses.

The bride's mother was presented with an identical corsage. Oohs and ahs continued throughout the evening as an array of lovely lingerie and other personal items were opened.

Among those present were Mesdames Majorie Lee, Shirley Briscoe, Beatrice Braswell, Sylvia Gay, Anna Coplin, Gloria Paster, Thelma Mitchell, Martha Scott, and Mrs. Cordelia Oliver, mother of the bride. Also Misses Judith Sessoms, Marjorie Jennings, Sarvilla Thomas, Patsie Green, Trezeline Lyles, Selma Rozier.

SOROR Isabel H. McConnell is president of the business women who form the Kappa Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority.

After these smart ladies end their Eastern Regional Convention here on Palm Sunday evening, they will take a deep breath and then go right into another worthwhile project to observe National Business Week.

Each year, as we do know, Iota Phi Lambda supplies scores of young women with scholarships to study business anywhere they choose, and it keeps Iota sorors hopping to really get enough money.

This year, a series of contests promises to turn the trick, "although we're asked to aid many, many students almost every day," soror McConell says.

Tuesday, April 13, opens with the Typing Contest at Cortez Peters Business School, 1208 Eutaw Place.

Business education students from the public schools and Cortez Peters will compete for first, second and third place awards for each category.

The Spelling Bee will also witness public school youngsters competing for first and second place awards.

Highlight of the evening event is the crowning of Miss Iota of 1965. The event supplies funds for the Iota Phi Lambda Scholarship Fund.

Contestants include business students and young women from local high schools.

Sorors on the committees are Marie W. Lewis, Blanche Pettiford, co - chairmen; Mildred Ayers, Lois Boyette, Mary Crump, Grace Gaskins, Naomi E. Lee, Jessie W. Nicholson, Gladys E. Palmer, Helen Weatherford and Evelyn D. Wilkey.

The Azoans Social Club entertained at a luncheon recently at the home of Mrs. Nellie Patterson, 2213 Elsinore Ave. for their debutantes' family and friends.

The two debutantes are Miss Vera Abram and Miss Bernadette Counts.

Also present was Miss Linda Baskerville, Sub - deb.

On arrival, guests were introduced by Mrs. Julia Jones and other members of the club. Later, they heard a piano solo by Miss Barbara Green. Just before they entered the dining room Miss Vera Abram sang, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Chester.

Miss Abram is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Abram and a student at Morgan State College.

Miss Counts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Counts and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edger Jones.

A student at Douglas High, she will enter Howard University in the fall.

Guests were Misses Vera Abram, Bernadette Counts, Linda Baskerville, Irma Jones, Barbara Green, Marcia Counts, and, Messers., Arthur Manning, Lloyd Seay Sr., James Rose Sr., Samuel Caldwell Jr., Payton Flemming, Gregory Yorborough.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gowans, Mrs. Lauretta R. Wolden, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chester, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson McNeil, Mrs. Alice Abram, Mrs. Louise Jackson, Mrs. Alberta B. McCowly.

Club members are, Blanche Seay, president; Toy Jones Vice president; Mertha Manning, secretary; Mary Tyler, treasurer; Nettie Mathes Financial Secretary; Julia Jones, Chaplain; Mable Henderson, Nellie Patterson.
