program to train r-city teachers

. acting super- Baltimore City , in conjunction rd Foundation e T. Hawkins, rson State Col- tin D. Jenkins, r. Parlett L. rgan State Col- ident, Coppin : announced to ding of a $1,080,- onal program Mission.

ated that of the cost the Ford ntributed $431,- tainder of the roject Mission n the four par- itutions — Bal- Department of ppin State Col- State College State College. stated that as - fifth of the Baltimore City s may be con- dvantaged in cial, cultural, criteria.

hat like many Baltimore has ears difficulties in recruiting trained teachers to teach in inner - city schools located in depressed or slum neighborhoods.

Mr. Stein said that Project Mission is also designed to attract able new teachers to teach in these inner - city schools through a special two-year college training program. This program focuses on prospective teachers understanding the learning barriers disadvantaged children must face and the teaching skills and methods teachers need to help the children overcome these learning barriers...

Project Mission calls for the four cooperating institutions —Baltimore City, Coppin State College, Morgan State College, and Towson State College —to train 100 prospective teachers for inner - city schools over the next three years.

out wash nden

s in the five- of car washers aden Street car tment moved tement which ted a large sign omises Monday We pay accord- Baltimore City he Act."

tti, owner of Car Wash, 330 Street, told the Course I will or, I am paying ners the mini- n hired these pace the work- ted out on st full-time work- eit on strike, it what the em- pletered to put fback to work in illiams, five- y and spokes- striking work- eAFRO he felt d old workers n back or else return.

only some of d teach our workers? Once come skilled — anything could nserved.

family man e four children. of us might as n the picket lifting more and r This is our igh as it is, we nether."

s the pick- ethe AFRO re- rs pulled up to r wash place, after noticing to Williams, the usual prac- build-be patrons kout last Sat-

of the Indust- of the Seafarers Union attempt te car washers fore Metropoli- tin in doubt as t Wage Act et in Baltimore McKeldin's veto ed "car wash

Street estab- s only one that ck through the izing attempt. ckets continue eside the place cials are keep- it future plans attempts at ex- ties in the car w

k AV-126-TR
16mm-Sound Projector
Fidelity Control For Optimum Sound Quality
Free Demonstration
TAL 16 MM- UND PICTURES
SORIES O SUPPLY CO., INC.
OUR NEW STORE N. CHARLES ST. TIMORE, MD. 21201 PL. 2-4475

132,687

Are you registered to vote in Baltimore. Are you?

38 per cent of the Negro persons eligible to vote in Baltimore were not registered for the past November general election.

Here is how you can register:

Where — Supervisors of Elections, ground floor, People's Court Building, Fayette and Gay Sts.

When — Mondays through Wednesdays and on Fridays, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

A good citizen is registered as an eligible voter.

Next election is the gubernatorial primary in the spring of 1966.

Easter parade is slated for 2 p.m.

The mammoth annual Easter Promenade on Pennsylvania Ave., conducted under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Avenue - Lafayette Market Association, is expected to draw thousands of people, according to Walter Hendin, promotion committee chairman for PALMA.

Scheduled to start at 2 p.m. this annual event will take place as it has in the past, at Pennsylvania Ave. and Laurens St.

Plans for the 1965 Promenade have been somewhat expanded and will be the best of the annual Easter ventures ever presented.

Working in conjunction with Mrs. Pauline Wells, church worker and radio personality, the PALMA committee has arranged to have the Sanctuary Choir of the Shiloh Christian Community Church, under the direction of Kenneth Dean, present several Easter numbers and to lead in community song.

Judges for the best dressed category will be Mrs. Anne Drayton, designer of women's hats and dresses, and Billy Fox, noted radio personality.

Prizes to the best dressed man, woman and child will be awarded in cash. Duplicate cash awards will be given to the winners' churches.

THREE PRIZES will be awarded in the categories for the best dressed man, woman and child. The cash awards will be: for the best dressed woman, $25; second, $15; and third, $10. For the best dressed man and child, first prizes will be $15, second $10, and $5 for third. In the best dressed couple contest only one prize will be awarded and that will be $15 in cash.

Consolation prizes of PALMA World Green Stamps, redeemable for nationally advertised merchandise will also be awarded.

In addition to the cash awards, ten transistor radios and one hundred thousand PALMA World Green Stamps will be awarded.

Finalists in the best dressed category will be chosen by a group of young ladies. The pre-selectors, Miss Lucy Adams, Mrs. Essie Savage, Mrs. Esabelle Taylor, Miss Almetta Conaway and Miss Marian Cooke will mingle with the crowd. When they feel they have spotted a potential winner they will present that person with a card entitling them to appear for final judging at 3 p.m.

The Easter outfits worn by the contestants will be described by Mrs. Pauline Wells and the entire proceedings broadcast over WSID radio

The Easter Promenade, which PALMA started some twelve years ago, has in the past attracted people from all over the city of Baltimore. According to plans announced by Walter Hendin, the Promenade will start at 2 p.m. Judging of the outfits worn by finalists will take place between 3 and 4 p.m.

Mr. Hendin urged that participants attend church in the forenoon and the promenade in the afternoon. "For all realize the religious significance of Easter", Mr. Hendin said, "and I urge all people of good faith to attend the church of his choice."

The Pennsylvania Ave. Lafayette Market Association, sponsors of the annual Easter Promenade is comprised of a group of merchants in the 1500 to 1800 blocks Pennsylvania Ave.

Serving with Mr. Hendin on the Promenade committee are Irving Friedman, Stanly Samuelson, Seymour Sussman and Manny Kline.

Small Business Institute starts Tuesday at Morgan

Registrations are still being accepted for the 6th annual Small Business Institute to be held at Morgan State College April 20 to May 11.

The institute for owners and managers of small retail and service trade businesses will be held six Tuesdays from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. in Room 206, Holmes Hall. It is co - sponored by Morgan and the Affiliated Merchants Association and the U. S. Small Business Administration.

To date some 21 businessmen have applied, according to B. N. Deaton, director. Theme for the institute is "Management for greater Profit." Discussions will center around ways to ower operating costs, advertising techniques, sales promotion and financial management.

Discussion leaders at the Tuesday sessions will be J. D. Englar, manager of business research, Baltimore Chamber of Commerce; W. C. Flack, vice president, Maryland National Bank; M. R. Hoffmaster, regional director, Small Business Administration;

Benjamin L. King, King - Reynolds CPA; Kenneth O. Wilson, vice president of advertising, AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers; and J. E. Thompson, head, personnel training department, Western Electric Co.

DES holiday

All offices of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, with the exception of the Ocean City office, will be closed on Friday, April 16, (Good Friday).

SCHOOL
ALBERT LARICHIUTA
representing the Metropolitan Life
INSURANCE COMPANY
NEW YORK, N. Y.
Life and Personal Accident and Health Insurance
1101 Maiden Choice Lane 484-3452

Remember In '65
lot the Cough That Carries You Off, le Coffin They Carry You Off—In"
WHY COUGH AT ALL? USE
RR'S KELL-A-KOUGH
For A Cough Due To Colds
d Coughs' Worst Enemy Since 1929
DRUG STORES EVERYWHERE
50c 89c $1.29

DeCosta Jr. appointed prosecutor

Frank A. DeCosta, 30-year - old lawyer, and bailiff to Court of Appeals Court Judge Reuben Oppenheimer, was appointed Thursday assistant state's attorney for Baltimore City, Charles E. Moylan Jr., chief prosecutor, announced.

Mr. DeCosta, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank A. DeCosta Sr., becomes the third member of his race assigned to the office under Mr. Moylan's administration.

Others are James W. McAllister and Joseph P. Howard Jr. both of whom were there when Mr. Moylan succeeded new Supreme Bench Judge William J. O'Donnell.

This marks the first time in the history of the city that three colored prosecutors have been assigned to the office at the same time. There are a total of 33, including Mr. Moylan and his deputy.

The new prosecutor is an honor graduate of Howard University Law School and was the subject of another 'first' last summer when he was named as the first colored bailiff in the state's highest tribunal.

* * *

AFTER recommending Mr. DeCosta to Supreme Bench judges, who approved the appointment at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, Mr. Moylan said:

"His impressive background gives me reason to believe that he will be a valuable asset in my effort to build a highly competent staff."

Mr. DeCosta's educational background is dotted with honors all the way from Wilkinson High School in Orangeburg to Howard University Law School where he was second in his class graduating with honors Cum Laude.

He attended undergraduate school at Howard on a $4,000 National Competitive Scholarship. He is a member of numerous honor and legal fraternities and holds a certificate for fluency as an interpreter - translator in the Mandarin dialect of Chinese.

He served in the Army as a second lieutenant in 1958 and was discharged in 1961 as first lieutenant.

The young lawyer is a native of Orangeburg, S.C., and married to the former Miss Senora L. Reckling, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Reckling, 3301 Powhatan Ave.

He is the father of a son, Frank A. 3rd, 2, and a former U.S. Air Force Counter - Intelligence agent. They live at 3605 Carlisle Ave.

Dr. DeCosta Sr., his father, is dean of the Graduate School of Morgan State College and his mother, Mrs. Beautine H. DeCosta is a counselor in public schools.

The prosecutor will assume his duties as soon as he completes current assignments at the Court of Appeals.

HIGH WINDS, TREES DOWN — This is scene in the 1200 block of Eutaw Place Monday evening as all traffic was detoured after a tall tree took a nose-dive during high winds. The AFRO received numerous calls about wind damages in various neighborhoods. Winds blew in store windows, wrecked signs, wreaked havoc with homes, and pushed pedestrians at a jaunty pace. (AFRO Staff Photo By Paige)

Ford grant to train 100 teachers

The Ford Foundation has announced a grant of $431,000 to the Department of Education for three area colleges — Morgan State, Coppin State and Towson State to train teachers especially equipped to meet the needs of disadvantaged children.

The grant will train teachers for the one-fifth of Baltimore pupils in elementary and junior high schools who are handicapped socially, culturally and economically, tahe foundation states.

The project is designed to attract able new teachers to these schools through a special two - year college training and internship program.

* * *

ABOUT 100 prospective teachers will be trained over the next three years. They will receive academic training and observe programs in disadvantaged neighborhoods and social and welfare agencies for one year.

The second year will consist of full - time, paid interns teaching service in the schools, beginning with two junior high and four elementary schools.

In addition to recruiting and training new teachers, the project includes in-service training for at least 200 regular teachers.

Stamp plan starts in August

The State Department of City and Dorchester County officials are beginning negotiations to set up the Food Stamp Plan provided under the Anti - Poverty Program.

Raleigh Hobson, director of the State Department of Public Welfare told the AFRO Thursday that the target dates are Dorchester County, July 1 and Baltimore City, August 1.

Food stamps will go to persons now eligible for Donable Foods and others considered eligible, and will permit recipients to go the the store for foods instead of receiving supplies already packaged.

AFRO Honor Roll presentations set

Three persons who won places on the AFRO 1964 Honor Roll will receive their awards at public ceremonies scheduled next week.

A fourth person, Troy Bralley, the labor leader, was presented his handsome, engraved plaque before a capacity audience at Leadenhall Baptist Church last Sunday.

AFRO City Editor George Collins did the honors.

Awards scheduled this coming week are as follows:

April 19, Lord Baltimore Hotel, 1 p.m., for Dr. W. O. Bryson, president of Advance Savings and Loan.

This presentation will be witnessed by the 600 persons attending the annual Easter Monday luncheon sponsored by the Ministers' Wives Committee of the United Baptist Missionary Convention.

* * *

APRIL 22, 7:30 p.m., Christian Community Church, 2701 W. Baltimore St., Mrs. Helen McCray, an ideal mother, will be guest of honor at a dinner.

APRIL 23, 6:30 p.m., Elegante Room, 3808 W. Forest Park Ave., the Rev. Samuel B. Redd, pastor of Mt. Ararat Baptist Church, will be guest of honor at dinner.

Other persons who won places on the AFRO 1964 Honor Roll, which was published on March 16, 1965, will also receive their plaques at a time and place to be announced.

Altogether, nine individuals and one organization, Baltimore Neighborhood Inc. were cited for 'superior public service without thought of personal gain,' during the year 1964.

MRS. LETITIA B. ASHE

Mrs. Ashe rites Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Letitia Brown Ashe will be held at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Lanvale St. and Carrollton Ave., 11 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Ashe died in Johns Hopkins Hospital Thursday noon, following an illness of more than a year.

A teacher of English in Douglass High School, she retired on disability in April, 1964.

SHE HAD been an ardent church and civic worker, having served as a member of the board of the Baltimore Urban League and president of the Urban League Guild.

A longtime member of the Baltimore chapter of the NAACP, she had, as recently as three weeks ago paid for a life membership.

Mrs. Ashe was a graduate of Morgan State College with a master's degree from Howard University, and post graduate work at Columbia University and the University of California.

SHE IS survived by her husband, Calvin R. Ashe of 2801 Mohawk Ave., and three cousins, Richard J. Brown and Miss Evelyn L. Brown of this city; and Mrs. Flossie Miller of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Real estate men to meet

Some 300 members and delegates from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia are expected to converge on Baltimore next week for the Fourth Regional Convention of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, Inc.

Problems of Urban Renewal, Low-Income Family Housing, Housing of Senior Citizens, and Financing are among the many to be considered during the three-day conference to be held April 22-24 at the Castle Motor Inn Franklin and Paca Sts.

Local and national real estate figures and representatives from many Federal agencies will speak and participate in panel discussions.

President of the host group, Real Estate Brokers of Baltimore, Inc, is Daniel Spaulding.

NAREB, Inc, organized 17 years ago, and its member "realtists" have played a large part in the push for fair housing laws in many sections of the country.

Passover is an eternal reminder

The Passover, the Jewish holiday that serves as an eternal memorial of their struggle for Freedom, begins at sundown today (Friday).

A solemn, highly significant occasion for every Jewish family, the celebration extends eight days to end at sundown April 24.

According to the Jewish ecclesiastical calendar, this is the year 5726. Passover begins the 14th of Nisan (today) as recorded in the Old Tesiament.

Highlight of the celebration is the Seder service.

Each home is cleansed of all yeast bread, replaced by Matzoh, unleaven bread and eaten to remind this generation of the suffering of the Hebrews in slavery in Egypt, over 5,000 years ago.

'PLEASE TAKE ME HOME' — Eighteen-month-old Robert's big brown eyes are appealing to an AFRO reader to take him home. He is available now for adoption at the Family and Children's Society, 204 W. Lanvale St. For more about Robert, call NOrth 9-9000.

NOTICE!
JAMES DAUGHTERY wishes to announce that he is no longer associated with Mr. Ulysses Dickens as partner, but still maintains Forest Manor Hall, 3803 Forest Park Ave. For information call
Mr. Daughtery
WI. 7-2690
or 367-9431

C. O. D. OIL CO.
OR. 5-1818
PAY CASH AND SAVE
WE OFFER PREMIUM QUALITY
FUEL OIL AT TREMENDOUS SAVINGS
$14.42 Per 100 Gal.
INCLUDING TAX
Call Now Your Delivery
THE SAME DAY
FUEL OIL OR. 5-1818
WE NOW HAVE BURNER SERVICE

TERMITES
PIED PIPER
LE. 9-3900
Easy Terms
One day service
Other Pests.

CORE to schools:- end 'basic'

The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) demanded this week that the Department of Education drop the word "basic" from all diplomas and eliminate tuition fees from the 1965 Summer Enrichment Program.

James M. Griffin, CORE chairman, in a letter to Edwin P. Stein, acting school superintendent, said the $32 tuition fee for enrollment in the enrichment program "discriminates against students of poor families."

He contended that these students need the program most, and added:

"Surely our educators must know that parents who happen to be on welfare roles and others who earn poverty wages, cannot afford to pay tuition for enrichment courses.

"If our educators are concerned to raise our youth above the levels of poverty, how can they discriminate against the disadvantaged by placing such a prohibitive cost upon their shoulders — when these youths are attempting to grasp some of the fruits of our public educational system?"

* * *

MR. GRIFFIN, who led a 26-hour sit-in at the Department of Education last week, charged earlier that that word "basic" renders diplomas worthless when high school graduates attempt to find jobs.

A new Dunbar High School, — CORE has described the old one as "obsolete" — and dropping the "basic" classification from diplomas and courses form the crux of protest demonstrations which Mr. Griffin has vowed to continue until their demands are met.

* * *

THE DEPARTMENT of Education released earlier a schedule of Summer Enrichment Program courses available at eight schools.

Courses and costs are:

Mathematics — Geometry and Measurements or Numeration Recreational Mathematics, $30 tuition and $2 lab fees.

Oceanography and Man in Space, $30 tuition and $3 lab fees.

New Countries of the World, $30 tuition and $2 lab fees.

Creative Writing, $30 tuition and $1 lab fee.

Creative Writing, $30 tuition and $2 lab fees.

Creative Dramatics, $30 tuition and $2 lab fees.

Creative Dramatics for Intermediate Children, $30 tuition and $5 lab fees.

Music — Creative Techniques (one hour), $15 tuition and $1 lab fee.

* * *

TO ENTER, a student must pay half the tuition upon application and the balance before June 1.

Classes will be held in two sessions — 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 10:30 to 12:10 p.m.

Mr. Stein and other department officials were out of the office for the Easter vacation, but are expected to answer the demands when school reopens Tuesday.

ON ANOTHER front CORE's 26 - hour sit - in last week at the Board of Education building, protesting for a new Dunbar High School, elicited action from Mayor McKeldin.

The mayor has asked the city's Community Relations Commission to investigate the situation at Dunbar.

Dunbar Sit-Ins At 25th St. School Offices Again (STORY IN COLUMN 2)

KING DEFIES DEATH THREAT IN BOSTON (STORY IN COLUMN 3)

Late Sports News From All Fronts (SEE SPORTS PAGES)

Baltimore Afro-American

59 Are Wanted For Anti - Poverty Jobs (STORY ON BACK PAGE)

73rd Year, No. 80 Copyrighted 1965 by AFRO-AMERICAN CO. for all material previously printed in the current National Edition BALTIMORE, MD., APRIL 24, 1965 48 PAGES ★★★★★★ 15 CENTS

CATHEDRAL BOMB BLAST LEAVES PRAYING WOMAN AFIRE AT ALTAR

Jobless father of six sweats wait for quads

LONNIE BROOKS smoked and paced as he waited.

"How do I feel? Well, if quadruplets are born then I have problems. I am unemployed and have six children already and it is not easy. You think I don't have problems?"

Lonnie Brooks, a 27-year-old Air Force veteran of 1429 E. Federal St., was talking to the AFRO between nervous puffs on his cigarette late Wednesday.

His wife, Catherine, was in St. Joseph's Hospital awaiting what doctors there expected to be a quadruple birth.

*

Mr. Brooks, too, was at the hospital—waiting and walking and talking.

By Wednesday the expectant father was already a well-known figure at the hospital. News of the im-

—See Father of six, Page F-2

New Methodist Council prexy makes history

HOUSTON — For the first time in the history of The Methodist Church, a colored clergyman is president of its Council of Bishops.

Bishop Prince A. Taylor, Jr., of Princeton, N.J., began his one-year term as president of the 95-member Council of Bishops at the close of its four-day meeting here in the Shamrock Hilton Hotel, April 19-22. He succeeds Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke of the New York Area.

Following its custom of naming a president - designate a year in advance, the Council of Bishops at its April meeting last year in

—See Methodist, Page A-5

News Round-up

Pearson admits arguing with LBJ

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Lester Pearson said Thursday that he and U.S. President Lyndon Johnson had an argument over U.S. policies in Vietnam at their Camp David, Md., meeting several weeks ago, but denied that Johnson was "mad" after their meeting.

"Relations between our two countries are good," Pearson declared at an afternoon news conference. "We had an argument, but this is indicative of our close friendship."

Babysitter slain

LITTLE COMPTON, R.I. (UPI) — A teen-age girl from a prominent Rhode Island family was found bludgeoned to death Thursday about a half mile from the home of State Sen. Maxwell C. Hunton where she had been babysitting.

State police seized a 40 - year-old Little Compton man for questioning in connection with the slaying of Anne Brownell, 18.

A blood-stained rock, which police said apparently was the murder weapon, was found near the scene.

Klotz quits post

WASHINGTON — Herbert W. Klotz resigned as assistant U.S. Secretary of Commerce Thursday in the wake of a government complaint linking him with a stock scandal involving a rich Canadian copper spike.

The German - born Klotz, 48, was not charged with any wrong-doing. But Commerce Secretary John T. Connor had submitted his resignation and it had been accepted by President Johnson.

Klotz admitted earlier this week that he bought rights to 2,000 shares of stock of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., after the firm had discovered a rich copper deposit near Timmins, Ont., but before the public knew about it.

—See Roundup, Page A-5

Pickets for new Dunbar hit 25th St.

Four hours after the protest began school officials said they would not order the sit-liners arrested.

When Department of Education officials and employees arrived at work this morning they were greeted by a CORE-sponsored protest demonstration.

Several demonstrators, including parents and students of Dunbar High School, slipped into the building to conduct a sit - in.

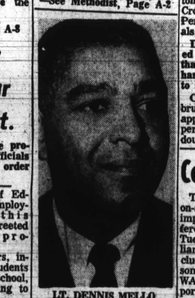
It marks a resumption of protests at the Department of Education headquarters. CORE members were escorted from the building by police April 16 after staging a 26 - hour sit - in.

The surprise, 7:30 a.m. demonstration was held, it has been learned, because CORE officials decided it provided the best opportunity to gain entrance to the building.

James M. Griffin, CORE chairman, has charged that

—See Pickets, Page F-2

Your AFRO today is printed in three sections and includes 48 pages of local and world news, features and advertising.



LT. DENNIS MELLO

Mello fourth on list for captain promotion

Det. Lt. Dennis P. Mello, veteran crack investigator of the Police Department became Wednesday, prime candidate for promotion to the rank of captain.

Test scores, posted April 20, from Feb. 11 Civil Service examination for promotion to captain, show Lt. Mello scored the fourth highest mark out a total of 24 lieutenants taking the examination.

The 52-year-old veteran racked up 94.158 out of a possible 100. He is separated by 1.105 points from the top man on the list, Lt. George D. Lauer, who scored 95.263.

Lt. Mello, who is second in command of the Investigation Bureau of the State's Attorney's office, is one of two officers of color who has reached the rank of lieutenant. The other one is Det. Lt. J. Hiram Butler.

* * *

THE TOP 10 on the eligible

—See Mello, Page A-2

DR. JOHN M. HAMILTON DR. GEORGE McK. PHILLIPS

Two appointments by Tuerk set Md., national precedent

By GEORGE W. COLLINS

The State Board of Health and Mental Hygiene is scheduled to set a nationwide precedent a week from today by approving the appointment of two colored psychiatrists as superintendents of two of the state's major mental hospitals.

At its regular meeting in the State Office Building next Friday the board is expected to put its stamp of approval on the precedent - setting action of Dr. Isadore Tuerk, Commissioner of Hygiene, who last month appointed Dr. George McKinley Phillips and Dr. John M. Hamilton acting superintendents of Crownsville and Clifton T. Perkins State Mental Hospitals, respectively.

Department officials reported that it is the first time that any state in the nation has named two men of color to such positions.

Commissioner Tuerk, who brushed aside opposition to appointment of a colored superintendent, announced the double - barrelled action following a Baltimore City Court decree upholding his ousting of Dr. Charles S. Ward as head of Crownsville.

* * *

COMMENTING on the appointments, Dr. Tuerk told the AFRO:

"Both of the doctors are extremely competent and well qualified. The appointments were based on merit."

The commissioner added that all reactions he has received to the appointments "have been favorable."

* * *

AS CHIEF administrator of Crownsville, Dr. Phillips will direct the activity of a 1,700 acre plant with a population of 1,734 patients, 300

—See Appointments, Page F-3

Coming Tuesday

The AFRO will start its on-scene coverage from the important Afro-Asian Conference in Indonesia on Tuesday. Correspondent William Worthy's dispatches include an explanation of something called "DASA-WARSA" and its future importance.

Smoke bomb, gas halt Ala. march

DEMOPOLIS, Ala. (UPI)—Police used smoke bombs and tear gas here today to break up a racial demonstration in this small town 35 miles west of racially troubled Selma.

Officers said five youngsters were arrested on charges of unlawful assembly.

Police said about 350 youngsters attempted to march from the Morning Star Church to the city hall but were stopped because they did not have a parade permit.

A spokesman for the Southern Christian Leadership Con-

—See Smoke bomb, Page F-2

Viet action escalating day by day

SAIGON, (UPI) — American bombers destroyed seven vital bridges today (Friday) in four daylight raids against North Vietnam, it was the most damaging attack yet of the air war.

A U.S. military spokesman said 190 Air Force and Navy planes rained more than 300 tons of bombs on bridges in the southern part of North Vietnam.

The raids dealt a severe blow to the Hanoi regime's efforts to infiltrate troops and weapons into South Vietnam.

Four Americans were killed in two separate clashes in S. Vietnam.

In South Vietnam today, another patrol of U.S. Marines went hunting for Communist guerrillas around the American airbase at Da Nang. An enlisted man was accidentally shot and wounded in the back by a fellow Marine.

U.S. Marine ground troops, Thursday, fought Communist guerrillas on the battlefields of Vietnam for the first time.

—See Viet action, Page F-2

Turn clock ahead at 2 a.m. Sunday

Saturday night you're going to lose some sleep — an hour's worth, to be exact.

But it won't be lost because of problems or insomnia; it's merely Daylight Saving Time again.

To make sure you're not out of synchronization when you wake up Sunday morning, set your clock ahead one hour before going to sleep Saturday night.

For the fastidious who like to do things by the book, the clocks can be set ahead an hour at exactly 2 a.m. Sunday morning — the time the change goes into effect.

Or, if this is too easy, you can turn your clocks back 23 hours.

But don't worry about that hour of lost sleep (at least, don't lose any sleep over it), because it will be returned to you when Standard Time comes back next October.

$1,500 for top student; contest on

The call to the post has just been sounded and they're off and running in the AFRO's race to find the "Student of the Year."

The first two voting coupons in the contest was printed just Tuesday but the votes already have started coming into the AFRO offices in the run for the $1,500 prizes money.

All students who are enrolled in Maryland's accredited high schools from grades nine through 12 are eligible for the contest.

To enter, any qualified student need only submit 500 or more votes before the eliminations begin the week of May 15.

* * *

TODAY'S COUPON — the second in the contest — is printed on Page two and worth 1000 votes. Each Tuesday and Friday until the end of the contest, the AFRO will publish a similar coupon.

The race is designed to provide lucky pupils with money that can be used for college or money to make their stay in high school a

—See Contest, Page F-2

'No faith' suspect arrested

NEW YORK (UPI) — A young unemployed drifter with "no faith" was arrested at a settlement house early today (Friday) and charged with tossing a fiery gasoline bomb at two women kneeling in prayer at famed St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The bomb burst in a 10-foot ball of fire, burning the women, one of them seriously. The bomb-tosser fled but was followed half a mile by a man who then called police and directed them to where the suspect's jacket and library card where found.

Detective James McDonnell said suspect David L. Malone admitted the bombing, saying: "I'm confused. Please excuse me. I'm sorry, I was never baptized. I'm of no faith."

Malone was booked on charges of arson, assault and desecrating church property. A hearing was scheduled for later today.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An unidentified man exploded a Molotov cocktail at the altar rail of famed St. Patrick's Cathedral Thursday night, sending flames 10 feet into the air and setting fire to a woman worshipper.

Witnesses said the incendiary device was placed on the altar rail pad by a tall colored man, who ran from the Roman Catholic

—See Woman, Page F-2

King defies death threat in Boston

BOSTON (UPI) —Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. defied death threats today and walked through slums. Later he told a joint session of the Massachusetts Legislature that "no section of the country can boast of clean hands in the area of brotherhood.

"I come to Massachusetts not to condemn but to encourage," the integration leader told legislators in a speech interrupted frequently by applause.

"We have come a long, long way . . . we still have a long, long way to go."

King, who came to Boston

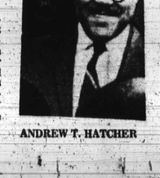
—See King defies, Page A-2

Hatcher, press aide to Kennedy, gets key post

The appointment of Andrew T. Hatcher, former Associate Press Secretary to the White House, to the position of Market Promotions Manager of P. Ballantine and Sons was announced today by company president, John E. Farrell.

Mr. Hatcher, in his new position, will be a department manager within the company's Marketing Division and will be responsible for the development of broad marketing programs throughout the company's nationwide market areas.

He will maintain his office



ANDREW T. HATCHER

—See Hatcher, Page A-2