JAMES R. PENNINGTON, captain, USAR, and logistics training instructor at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, was recalled to active duty to participate in LOGEX 65.

This exercise is the army's largest annual international logistical exercise which involves more than 5,000 people from the State Department, Army, Navy, Air Force, National Guard, Army Reserves, NATO, and Army Service Schools.

Capt. Pennington was selected to represent the U. S. Army Ordinance Center and School in the ammunition logistics phase as an ammunition officer controller.

NO MYTHICAL SUBURBS appear in the first grade readers approved by the Baltimore School Board on Thursday. Beginning this fall, children in grades one through and three will be reading a new series of books derived from the new "In the City," signed by the Bank Street College of Education in N. Y. They picture life in the city as opposed to country or suburbs as in the old 'See Dick Run and 'See Spot Jump' readers. The new series is the first to show city blocks and to picture children in grades one through and adults of all races. The above reproduction is from the new "In the City," published by Macmillan. Note the children of both races at play on a city street.

Men said to be twice as suicide-prone as women

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There is no evident reason for the fact that twice as many men as women commit suicide, but a Los Angeles psychologist said Tuesday that it may be more difficult for men to ask for help.

Dr. Carl I. Wold of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center told the National League of Nursing that nurses have a unique opportunity to thwart many suicides by recognizing the symptoms early.

With a nurse's frequent contact with a patient and her general attention to his feelings, her active involvement in assessing the suicide danger may save his life, Wold said.

* * *

THE LOS ANGELES Suicide Center was started in 1958 under a grant from the U.S. Public Health Service, and Wold said it receives about 6,000 calls a year — about half from potential suicides themselves and half from friends and neighbors. Sam M. Heilig, a social worker at the center, said the reason for preventing suicide if possible, was that people "are not suicidal all their lives and often the attempted suicide is a response to a specific crisis, such as ill health, marital difficulties or death of a loved one."

The suicide rate for the United States is 10 per 100,000 population annually, said Heilig.

Plane crashes

QUONSET POINT, R. I. — A navy reserve training plane with four men aboard crashed into the Atlantic Ocean May 12. A submarine picked up only three survivors.

NAACP babies have program on May 23

The Baltimore Branch NAACP will sponsor its annual Human Dolls on Parade for Freedom on Sunday, May 23, at 2 p.m., in the Sharp Street Memorial Methodist Church, Dolphin and Etting Sts.

Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, president, says that the program will be "By the babies, for the babies and with the babies."

Dr. Jackson urges mothers who are interested in freedom and constitutional rights of their children, to enter their babies in this contest.

The Rev. Vernon L. Dobson will address the parents on "The Duties of the Parents."

Dr. John L. Tilley will speak on "The Value of the Ballot."

* * *

Founders Day luncheon given by B&P League

"You must have a change of mind if you are going to enjoy freedom.

"We are building a world everyone must be able to enjoy the good things of life."

These were the words Clarence A. Mitchell II, director of the Washington bureau of the NAACP spoke to the Business and Professional Women's League, Inc., Sunday.

Mr. Mitchell reminded the audience that the fight for human dignity, "which we are winning" he said, did not begin yesterday but began when the first slaves were brought to this country.

* * *

SPEAKING TO nearly 300 women he recalled that some years ago he had gone to Texas to speak at a NAACP rally and when he arrived much to his amazement all of the organizers and NAACP officials were jailed to prevent this meeting from being held.

Later, however, after legal proceedings, they were able to have the meeting and the judge who was responsible for the "lock ups" was present on the dais.

Mr. Mitchell said he could not help but turn to the judge and ask what prompted him to come and be among them and the judge said, "I have looked around me and saw things were changing."

Mr. Mitchell said, "these are indeed changings times."

The League, an affiliate of the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., was meeting at the 32nd annual Founders Day Luncheon.

Rosa M. Keel, member of the Founders' day committee presented the National Sojourner Truth Award to Mrs. Alice C. Hunter for meritorious service.

* * *

MISS FANNIE C. OFFUTT, president, presented Mrs. Gladys Magrder, financial secretary, the service award. Mrs. Ada Tate and Mrs. E. Pauline Myers presented the honoree with a beautiful orchid.

Mrs. Alice B. Carr was mistress of ceremonies.

Bradford, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary E. Lowe, Corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gladys L. Magruder, financial secretary; Mrs. Tina C. Carter, treasurer; Mrs. Juanita K. Morgan, parliamentarian; Miss Susie B. Green, historian, and Mrs. Ulrica Little, chaplain.

Members at large are, Mrs. Alice B. Carr, Miss Marguerite E. Harvey, Mrs. Mayme C. Mehlinger, and Mrs. Beulah J. Murphy.

The Founders' Day Committee included Mrs. Julia R. Roy, Mrs. Loretta B. Quick, Mrs. Cirtie Mae Turner, Mrs. A. B. Carr, Mrs. Beulah J. Murpry, Mrs. Mildred Lucas, Ms. Rosa M. Keel, and Mrs. Carrie E. T. Johnson.

'We Moms' hostesses at anniversary fete

Their 14th anniversary was a the inspiration for the gala ball which We Moms Club had Friday night in the Union Hall.

Sherman Lewis provided music for dancing, and hostesses were something to see.

Marion Amprey and Mae Cornish were lovely in pink the former with lace overblouse the latter a slit skirt affair with an eye catching rose at the bodice. Neonta Corbin whose stunning hair do went with her shocking pink satin. In a low - back pink sheath was Marie Coles Ann Smiths metallic gold gown was all aglitter. Thelma Thompson in blue chiffon with gold and matching gold gloves was lovely.

Elegant were Jeannette Smith in a green affair, Patricia Holtsclaw in a printed pink sheath with floating panel and Lucille Williams in a black number caught the eyes. Bernice Turner chic in an orange and gold number whose sheath went behind a swooping paneled skirt as she turned.

A graceful figure did Marguerite Wilkins make in her pale pink bouffant gowns. Charming Leana Ferrell was lovely with accents of green while petite Vanessa Porter chose a yellow sheath.
