Students take New York tour

The Petite Debs, Y-Teen Club of School 139 and the To We Po's Camp Fire Girls of Lafayette-Douglass Homes, toured New York Saturday.

The trip was the first train ride for many of the girls. The Bowery, Times Square, Central Park and a ride on the Staten Island Ferry were a few of the places seen.

A guided tour of the United Nations Building was the highlight of the trip.

Y-Teens making the trip were Yolanda Holmes, Joyce Dent, Devar k Maddox, Shirley Stoner;

Also Beverly and Deborah Rhyne, Deborah Lonier, Angela Powell, Janey Albritton, Mary Kirby, Rhonda Elsey, and Jackie Rose.

Advisors for the Y-Teens are Mrs. Mildred Armstead and Mrs. Lula Maddox. Camp Fire Girls were Barbara Brooks, Johanna James, Cynthia Witts, Marie Stevens.

Sheila Debman, Althea and Helen Price and Maria Peterson. The Camp Fire leader is Mrs. Mary Lanier, her assistants are Mrs. Dorothy Price, Mrs. Louis Reeves and Mrs. Mildred Armstead.

Chaperones were Mrs. Hattie Hopkins, Mrs. Marlene Hinnant and Mrs. Annie Porter. Their children enjoyed the trip, too. They were Andre, Yvette, Dorene and Brian Armstead, Sharon and Harold Maddox, Jackie and Timothy Lanier, Reginald and Elsie Porter and Lawrence Browny.

Judy Garland divorces Luft

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Judy Garland Thursday divorced her husband and longtime legal adversary, Sid Luft, testifying he struck her "many times" during an often stormy 15-year marriage.

Luft, 49, also did a "lot of drinking" and used "profane language before both me and the children," Miss Garland testified in a low, calm voice in the chambers of Superior Judge Edward Bland.

'Fuehrer' wants to know how

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Attorneys for the arrested "Fuehrer" of an alleged armed secret Neo - Nazi organization asked police to investigate how two newspaper reporters exposed the ring last week.

The Reporters, Eric Sjoqvist and K. G. Michanek of the newspaper Expressen, notified security police after finding an arsenal of automatic weapons and explosives in addition to "Nazi documents" in the group's hideout.

Bjoern Lundahl, 30 is standing trial as the organization's leader.

Teachers pay tribute to 4

Four persons who have made outstanding contributions to education during the year were honored by The Teachers' Association of Baltimore County last week at the Association's annual dinner.

For the first time, one of the Recognition Awards was bestowed upon a civic leader, while the other three awards were presented to educators.

The coveted awards were given to Eugene C. Hess for his service to PTAs in the County; Mrs. Ruth Seabold, a department chairman at a Franklin Senior High School for her guidance and help to students; Miss Lucy Burton, who is retiring after devoting 47 years to her pupils and Cornelius Gisriel, principal at Woodlawn Junior High School, for his unstinting efforts in advancing the education profession.

Miss Oliver in pageant finals

Saundra Rounette Oliver is one of the ten finalists in this year's Prince Georges Pageant given by the Prince Georges Junior Chamber of Commerce. This pageant is one of the preliminaries to the Miss America contest.

The final contest will be held on Saturday, May 29 at the Northwestern High School on Adelphi Rd.

Miss Oliver is the daughter of Mrs. W. Vell Redmond and Lawrence E. Oliver, who is a chief petty officer stationed in Norfolk, Va. She is a graduate of Western High School.

Du Bois circle marks 59th year; hears Dr. Favor

"Barriers keeping colored Americans out of the lily - white suburbs of America's 1/2 largest metropolitan areas are just as formidable, impenetrable and effective as the infamous Berlin wall," Dr. Homer Favor declared, here, Tuesday evening.

Speaking at the closing meeting of the DuBois Circle attendeed by more than 200 guest, Dr. Favor said:

"And what is more, because of our policy declarations supporting the dignity of the individual and the maintenance of human rights the damage is even more reprehensible and irreparable.

"You may find it difficult to believe, but it is true, that suburban areas surrounding these cities still maintain the pre — depression era white population ratios of 93 to 99 percent."

• • •

POINTING OUT that colored Americans pay a greater proportion of his income for rent than his white counterpart, Dr. Favor noted that he also receives less in the way of housing amenities. "This has not only been verified for Baltimore," said he, "but for Charlotte, N.C. and Chicago, as well."

Hitting the educational program afforded the inner city citizen, Dr. Favors aid that probably the word "dropout" is a misnomer. "Pushout" might be a more appropriate word.

• • •

"THE LITTL WAIF you badly in need of attention see baly in need of attention see there in the inner city may be one of America's nine million youngsters, under 12 ye of age, whose mothers cannot minister to must either earn or supplement the family income.

"Do not be misguided if the average family income for the census tract of your concern is less than $3000.

"Before you opine that the men standing on the corners are ne'r do wells, check the unemployment rate for that census tract. It might be almost 29 percent."

Dr. Favor said the same applies to crime and other social problems.

• • •

THE DUBOIS CIRCLE organized in 1906, this year celebrated its 59th anniversary. The closing meetings have been held each year at the club's existence. The oldest of literary groups in the city, there is only one surviving member of the charter group. She is Mrs. Mason Hawkins, who was unable to attend.

The retiring president, Mrs. Charles C. Key, received flowers from the club. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Kelly Jackson. Mrs. Key, who presided on Tuesday evening has served five years as president.

• • •

PARTICIPANTS on the program also included Mrs. Abdella J. Campbell, who gave the invocation; Mrs. Lena K. Lee, who gave the tribute to Mrs. Key, Miss Edna H. Quint decides

MONTREAL (UPI) — Yvonne Dionne, one of the four surviving Dionne Quintuplets, has decided not to become a nun.

Miss Dionne had been at a convent in Moncton, N.B. for about 30 months, but did not take her final vows.

She has been living with her married sister, Annette, at St. Bruno, Ave., for almost three weeks.

The sisters celebrate their 31st birthday, May 28.

'I do, and I did,' says bride of 1915

'Do you promise to love, honor and obey?'

"I do, and I did,' whispered Mrs. Charles Evans as she and her husband of 50 years renewed their wedding vows on Sunday evening.

They gathered in Union Hall, Dundalk, for the event which was witnessed by their 13 children — seven sons and six daughters — and 400 other relatives and friends from the Turner Station community where they have lived all their lives.

Also there, relatives and friends from Virginia, District of Columbia, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

MRS. EVANS, 66, is the former Miss Della Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Brown. She and Mr. Evans, a retired Bethelhem Steel worker, were married in Sparrows Point in 1915.

Mrs. Waters wed to Louis E. Weaver

By Lula Jones Garrett

There are times, in this ole town, when life is simply joyous and happiness effervescences like bubbles on champagne.

This has been that kind of week.

There was Saturday, for instance, with Theresa Fennell Waters becoming the bride of Louis Eugene Weaver and so radiant that one needed dark glasses to look upon her.

• • •

Lovely in a deep pink and gold suit and matching shoes, and wearing a little hat, bedecked with strawberries, she was attended by her sister, Eliza Robinson. Mrs. Robinson wore an ensemble in beige raw silk. Lester Norris, Sr. was best man for Mrs. Weaver. The Rev. Frank Williams officiated.

Only members of the families attended the ceremony which took place in the Gwynns Falls Parkway home of the bride.

Against the soft pink decor of the living room, a magnificent arrangement of flowers picked up the pink and mingled with white flowers and the pink sprayed leaves for the mantle decor. Pink buds centered the lace draped and silver and crystal tables at which a wedding luncheon was served.

Present were:

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weaver and daughter, Miriam; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Weaver, Mrs. Mary Fernandis and sons, Benjamin and Patrick; Mrs. Ethel Hodges, Mrs. Vera Hudnell, Mrs. Frank Williams, Mrs. T. Henry Waters (Theresa as the widow of the late Randolph Waters) and Mrs. Lester Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are at home on Gwynns Falls Parkway. He is a retired postal supervisor, and Mrs. Weaver on the staff of Provident Hospital.

• • •

'TWAS Saturday, too, that the Baltimore members of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa hosted their sisters from Washington and Annapolis at the annual Tri Founders' Day Celebration at a luncheon in Emerald Gardens.

Here, too, a rose-colored background set the tone for about the sveltest group fathered under one roof in many a day.

They had the talented Lillie Griselda Patterson as speaker. She was charming in white wool suit, a white headpiece and the corsage the sorors pinned on her.

They had their first antibasileus, Ruth Dillard of Washington, chic in black and white silk and a turned off-face hat to match, to add to the smartness of the affair. They had the basileus of Alpha Mu chapter, Electa Holland of Annapolis to up the fashion note, in yellow and white wool.

They had Rosalie J Mc. Guire, this town, her white ensemble toned with black and white ascot and hat, to preside . . . and petit Lucille Johnson, in soft blue ensemble, including shantung suit and hat, to introduce her.

Their national executive advisor, Helen W. Maxell came from New York State to be with them, and a lush turban of printed silk in multi-colors and tulle in spring green, to pay tribute to.

• • •

And then there was a flock of other smartly attired sorors: Catherine Adams in an ensemble (coat, frock and dress) in purples and print; Sue Myers in a luscious shade of aqua, cooled with a white hat; Beatrice Rawlings in a rose jacket frock and a hat that combined rose, red and pale pink flowers; Eloise Richardson in a hugh fluff of pink tulle;

• • •

Ethel Brewington like a fresh garden petunia in pink linen suit and a little - brimmed, high-crowned hat of natural straw, and Dorothy Washington, basileus of the hostess chapter in cool beige, sparked with green trim, and a turban swarthed in the green; and Gladys Wallace, classic in black and white.

And there was Barbara Padgett to lay a frosting of melody over all of this beauty with her magnificent voice

The Phi Delta Kappas, as you probably know, are all in the teaching profession . . . and with all of their talent to draw from (including the music of Margaret Armstrong to draw from) you can be sure the affair was beautifully staged . . . from the pink-draped table to the hand made place cards, which matched the corsages worn by hostesses, to the lovely little trays that were souvenirs.

• • •

SATURDAY AFTERNOON passe all too swiftly for guests and sorors of Lambda Kappa Mu who were holding forth in the Famous Ballroom at their annual Champagne Sip.

Members of Iota chapter hosted some 800 guests at the affair. They danced to the music of the Pyramids, who, incidentally, contributed $50 of their fee towards the chapter's scholarship fun. Guests sipped pink champagne along with her d'ouvres, and also saw a floor show by Doris Rheubottom of Philadelphia.

Sorors who came over from Washington included Marie E. Sheppard, Anita S. Jackson, Alma B. Jackson, Elizabeth M. Proctor and Margaret Haywood.

Susie Myles was chairman of the committee which arranged the affair. Committee members also included Imogene Douglass, Myrtle Jones, Mary Mitchell, Margaret Yates, Betty M. Shelton, Elsie Bowser.

Also Mary Silva, Frankie Hinchen, Geneva Jones, Naomi Johnson, Gladys Baird, Melissa Fox, Anita Smith, Iona Smith and Lavinia Cox. Pearl J. Hall is basileus of the chapter.

• • •

TED SHINE, assistant professor of drama at Howard University, was the guest of the Reviewers on Thursday evening.

The Reviewers is a group of young women who come together monthly in the home of members to discuss a preselected book. They discovered two years ago that this is an excellent way for busy persons to continue to be well-read.

The range of their reading is wide . . . consisting of fiction and non-fiction and including poetry and plays. The book for this month was Eugene O'Neill's "Long Days Journey Into Night." Mr. Shine answered many of the questions the play posed and filled in on O'Neill's background.

• • •

Earlier in the year the group had read James Baldwin's 'Blue's for "Mister Charlie", which Mr. Shine also discussed; "The Collector" by John Toliver, "Company Manners" by A. J Kronenberger, "Summerhill" by A. S. Neiller, "The American Way of Death" by Jessica Milford, and "One Hundred Dollar Misunderstanding" and "Here Goes Kitten" by Robert Gover.

• • •

Dr. Ralph Reddick, author and professor at Coppin State College, and Dr. Benjamin Quarles, author and historian at Morgan State College, have also been guests of The Reviewers.

Special event each year is the attendance of the Book and Author luncheon sponsored by the Enoch Pratt Library, which gives the members opportunities to hear and meet the 20th Century authors. At the June meeting the group will discuss Ayn Rand's "Atlas Shrugged".

Members of the The Reviewers are Jean Adams, Francine Allor, Joan Cole, Myrna Cooper, Mary Fitts, Sylvia Fleming of Washington, Helena Hicks, Ruth Hunt, Patricia Press, Helen Lillard, Joan Powell, Norma Scott, Rachel Scott, Loretta Statham and Fannette Thomas. Guest at the meeting was Gwendolyn Giles Rooks.

• • •

BEATRICE WRIGHT and Helena Hairston combined their hostessing talent at the recent meeting of the Baltimore chapter of Moles.

The group 'met in Beatrice's home, and following cocktails and dinner, held a business section with Mary McPherson presiding. Chief topic for discussion was the June conclave in Louisville, Ky.

• • •

David Wright showed slides and movies of the Moles and Moles activities starting with the year 1962, and up to the present.

At the session were Mrs. McPherson, Bertha Forte, Florence Bailey, Louise Lockerman, Josephine Sloane, Mary Fitts, Celonia Walden, Harriet Trader, Anabel Rawlings, Jacqueline Spencer, Carolyn Stubbs, Blanche Beckham, Emma Dudley and Bernice McDaniels.

WHEN CLARISSA MATTHEWS entertained at luncheon the other day, she put her foot down on barring any mention of school during the afternoon.

So there was no shop talk by those schoolmarms, just
