4 graduates in the family

"It's wonderful!", commented Edward Dutton Sr., a post office clerk, of 2128 Druid Hill Ave.

The reason? Four members of his family graduate this week.

His wife, Mrs. Ellen Dutton, who has previously substituted and wanted to become a full time teacher, received her degree from Coppin State Teachers on Thursday. She is a teacher at Gwynns Falls Elementary School No. 60.

Other grads in the family: Edward Jr., who is 17, will graduate Tuesday from City College. He plans to enter the University of Maryland to begin pre - med studies.

Fourteen - year - old Diane, a 9th grade Garrison Junior High student was graduated Wednesday. She'll go to Western High.

Errol, an 11 - year - old 6th grader at the Frances L. Murphy Laboratory School, will be promoted on Friday, plans to attend Garrison Junior High in the fall.

The family belongs to St. Peter Claver Catholic Church.

Graduation this and that

Mayor McKeldin led the standing ovation after the 280 Carver High graduates sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic," at closing exercises on Friday evening at Poly.

There was sustained applause a tribute to the school's organist and choral director, Clarence Henderson.

In addition to the Battle Hymn, a song which is featured at most public high school graduations.

Carver students also raised our musical sights with two classics, Bach's From III Do Thou Defend Me," and Hanson's Beat! Beat! Drums!, both beautifully done.

The brass ensemble, directed by Thomas DeLaine, and the piano accompaniment by Miss Sylvia Thompson were outstanding.

Grads looked good in white robes (girls), and blue robes (boys.)

Seen in audince, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Mason, grandparents of James E. Roberts. His brother finishes Forest Park.

Names: Eight Carver grads were named Smith; seven were named Green.

There were five Davises, four Browns, four Harrises, four Johnsons and Washingtons, and six Whites.

Longest name: Thomas Theodore Roosevelt Gaskins.

Prettiest name: Deborah Nadine Satterfield.

More graduation notes—

Scarlet and white were the color of robes worn by Edmondson High grads whose exercises were held Tuesday evening at the Civic Center.

Here again, the singing of 'Battle Hymn' was superb. Director: Mrs. Georgeanna Chester.

Organist, John E. Nichols also provided soft music during awarding of diplomas. the Band director was Harry Ruder.

How did all of the 887 grads get their diplomas?

They were seated in rows of 20.

The grad on the end of the row walked to the platform and was handed a stack of certificates by City Council President Thomas D'Alesandro.

The exercises were over at 9:32, just one hour and a half!

This is a tribute to the school's administration headed by Carroll S. Rankin, principal.

Graduate with unusual name: Mohandas Gandhi Davis. With his smooth brown skin and sharp features he might well pass for a relative of the famed world leader.

Look alike: Graduate Raymond Victor Hayshert Jr., is a spitting image of his father, H. Jones (class of 1923).

He responded: "I appreciate this more than I'm able to express. This is a complete surprise to me.'

President Joseph S. Rook's challenge to the grads: serve, act with courage in a fast - moving world of change . . . stand fast for your convictions . . . enjoy good books, travel, music, art, think and see the other fellow's point of view. . .

Among trustees seated on the platform: Henry G. Parks, president of the business firm which bears his name.

There was no choral singing by graduates.

Instead: Dr. Johann H Eltermann entertained on the organ. Memorable: His rendition of 'Vision,' by Bibl.

People, places, things

Belated, but happy, happy birthday hellos to P. D. G. Pennington, 1518 McCulloh.

For years, he was the beloved Douglass High biology teacher. Remember?

On June 4, he was 81 years young.

Birthday hellos to these good neighbors, Earl Koger, 3605 Cedardale, on June 13; and J. Arnett Frisby, 3306 Barrington Rd.

Wedding anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Russell (Thelma), of Pleasantview Ave. in Bare Hill. It's their fourteenth on June 14.

Orchids to Mrs. Louise Kyler, 2530 Ellamont. She is the friendly nurse at Montebello Hospital who received a 10 - year service pin last week.

Thinking - of - you cards to Mrs. Grace Hunt, the Madison Ave. YWCA executive, at 3304 Dorchester Rd. of her father, James G.

She accompanied the body Booker, to Columbus, Ohio, for burial today (Friday).

Mr. Booker, 84, died unexpectedly on Tuesday. He had made his home here in Baltimore with Mr. and Mrs. Hunt since 1961, shortly after his wife died.

Oddity: Mr. Booker's younger brother, John, 82, died in January. He is survived by two older brothers, Harry, 88, Plain City, Iowa; and Henry, 91, Columbus.

PREDICTION: — The newest member of the National Urban League Board, soon to be announced, will be a Baltimore educator.

Get - well cards to Hopkins Hospital for Charles Covington, the businessman (Covington's poultry). He had a heart attack on Friday. Doctor's prescription: Rest.

Same prescription is extended for J. Percy Bond, the Morgan State exec and school board member, also in Hopkins.

Plenty of sunshine to Joseph (Joe) Lee, the Druid Hill YMCA executive. He has been moved to University.

Please continue cheer to Delegate Irma George Dixon, still - a - bed at Montebello Hospital.

Even though she's ill, she had her nurse call to tell us about a good neighbor. That's the way she's always been, thinking of others!

Here for a checkup at Hopkins: Mrs. Lena Work of Los Angeles. She came here after Howard University graduation on Friday, guested with the Jim Murphys.

Her son, Lon Buford Work was among medical school grads at Howard.

Been in the Sunday evening confirmation audience at St. James Episcopal Church: Dr. and Mrs. Aubrey Marshall of New York.

New Citizen: Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stanislous Stokes, Sr. (Betty M.), 4000 block of Edgewood Rd.

Leslie, Jr., weighed in at 7 pounds, 9½ ounces on May 27. Mrs. Stokes is a teacher at School No. 126. Dad is a specialist at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

There are two other Stokes' children, Lois, 7, and Lisa 5.

Congratulations due to James E. Deakins, the real estate broker, 2951 N. Bentalou. He's the new manager-broker for the Federal Housing Administration as of June 1.

SMILE OF THE week: Dr. Whitney Young, Morgan honoree degree winner speaking in Baltimore Monday evening, told how his wife threw him a kiss while he was speaking.

He explained, she was warning him not to talk too long. The kiss, he said, stood for Keep It Short, Stupid.

TRUISM OF THE WEEK.

Everything's old fashioned about OLD TAYLOR 86

except the people who drink it

They know that "old-fashioned" doesn't mean out of fashion. Good taste never goes out of style. Like the smooth, rich, mellow taste of Old Taylor 86. Traditional? Yes! But so very modern. Try it. Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey, 86 Proof, The Old Taylor Distillery Co., Frankfort and Louisville, Ky.

Coffee klatch for hospitality on a budget

Young married people these days have a hard time of it, making budgets meet while continuing schooling, setting up larger quarters for an expected family increase and just generally getting along on high costs of living.

During these important years, entertaining has to take a back seat — or else be kept to the smallest possible dent in the budget.

INVITING friends or neighbors for coffee is one of the most hospitable, yet economical ways of having guest. There are just two essentials — good coffee and an appetizing accompaniment to suit the hour of the day.

Good coffee is easy with instant quality coffee on hand to make by the pot(f). Somehow this method brings out the flavor in the coffee and gives it a "brewed" taste. For a fancier way of serving coffee, try the recipe for Spiced Viennese Coffee.

THIRTY - FIVE CENTS A WISE homemaker finds herself an interesting bread or cake recipe and sticks to this for many occasions, so that it becomes her bread or cake.

Here's a delicious one to start with, a recipe for Apricot Bread. It's better if stored overnight, so it's perfect for a morning coffee gathering.

APRICOT BREAD is made with two - thirds cup dried apricots, one and one-third cups milk, scalded, two - thirds cup malted cereal granules, one egg, well beaten, three tablespoons shortening, melted and cooled, two cups sifted all - purpose flour, two and one - half teaspoons double - acting baking powder, one teaspoon salt and two - thirds cup firmly packed light brown sugar.

Prepare apricots as directed on package, cooking only half as long as indicated. (This will prevent apricots from being too soft in bread). Drain and cool. Then cut into pieces.

Pour scalded milk over cereal in mixing bowl; stir in drained cooked apricots. Let stand to cool. Then add egg and shortening; mix well. Mix flour with baking power, salt and sugar. Add to cereal mixture and mix only enough to dampen all flour.

Pour into an 8 x 4 - inch loaf pan that has been greased and lined on bottom with wax paper. Bake at 350 degrees about 1 hour, or until cake tester comes out clean. Cool about 10 minutes.

Remove from pan; finish cooling on rack. When bread is cool, wrap in wax paper, transparent saran, or aluminum foil. For mellowing of flavors, store bread overnight. Chilled bread slices best.

Makes 1 loaf.

For Instant Coffee by the potful, measure coffee into suitably large container. Stir in part of the water; blend. Then add remaining water. Bring just to a boil. (Do not boil). Serve piping hot.

6 Servings: Use one - fourth cup instant quality coffee and 1 quart water. Makes 1 quart or 6 servings.

HOSPITALITY ON A BUDGET — Apricot Bread spread with cream cheese makes a welcome accompaniment to serve with steaming mugs of coffee.

Senate votes on widow's benefits

Washington, (UPI) — A Senate committee voted to day to let a widow who has been married several times draw social security benefits based on the earnings of her "most favored husband"

The decision was made in approving an amendment to a $6-billion, house-approved health and welfare bill under consideration by the Senate finance committee.

THE AMENDMENT would allow a widow of several marriages to draw benefits based on the earnings of the husband who had the highest income.

In the form approved by the house, the bill provided for a complex system of determining whether a woman who was married at least twice could draw widow's benefits based on the earnings of her first husband.

THE HOUSE bill provided that she would be cut off from her first husband's benefits if her subsequent marriage ended in the death of the husband after one year or in divorce after more than twenty years.

Light House keeping

BY LULU PATTERSON

Right now is the time to get on the right track for the arrived season if yours is a barbecue-minded family. Here are three safety "keepers" for the chief chef: Keep water or sand handy to douse flare-up fires. Keep the kids, especially little ones, at a distance . . . and keep an eye on the hamburgers.

And if you are getting ambitious and enthusiastic about a do-it-yourself patio or sun porch, or even if you are making the plan which you will have someone else build, here are some things to think about:

Install some overhang to provide a small area of sun-protection on hot days. Extend gutters, where necessary, on existing roofs, to hasten drying after rains. Lay tile or flag-stones to expedite water run-off. Locate electrical sockets conveniently, requiring a minimum of extension cord.

FOOD BIT: One of the most popular out-door menu items at this time is the popular cantaloup. But can you pick a good cantaloup?

Experts in the Consumer and Marketing Service, USDA, say there are five points to look for: Netting, slip, color, firmness and aroma.

Netting is the raised, grey brown pattern over the surface that stands out above the green or yellow color of the skin. A good-eating melon has high, raised netting over some part of its surface. Though the side that rests on the ground may have "slick" areas, the melon should not have large areas of this smoothness.

Look for a "full slip." This is the circular scar where the stem was—detached when the melon was picked. A stem scar that retains part of the stem or is not gouged out of the melon indicates that the melon was not ripe when picked from the vine.

Skin color of a cantaloup is usually yellow. Yellow skin color usually indicates good flavor and mellow, ready-to-eat flesh. But yellow color without good netting and full slip may be an immature melon that has colored up.

Now for firmness. Squeeze the cantaloup gently . . . with both hands to avoid bruising it. Check the blossom end . . . opposite the stem scar. If it yields a little, it's ripe.

If, in addition to this, the fruit has the characteristic aroma in combination with the other four points, it's a pretty sure bet you're in for some good eating.

WHAT'S NEW? For girdle dodgers and garter haters there's a roll-on liquid that holds up your stockings without the help of garters, garter belts or girdles.

Called Liquid Garter, it is a non-toxic liquid which washes off, both legs and stockings, with plain water. To use it, you roll down the top of your hose about three inches and roll on the liquid in a two-inch wide band around the upper leg. Then pull the stocking smoothly over the adhesive.

STYLE NOTE. If you are planning your fall wardrobe now (and present leisurely planned can save you a lot of headaches when the busy fall season arrives) you can choose your colors from the spice rack, Paprika, curry, mustard, sage, cinnamon, nutmeg (as well as forest green and wine) are the names of the colors which will predominate this fall.

Other news coming out of the New York designers' showings is that suit jackets will be hip length; that hems are the wearer's choice, that the boot and textured hose will be around for the young, or the young at heart, and that fabrics are on the plush side.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK: The handiest recipe I have run across this week is that for Peter Pancrumb Cake.

Not only is this a delicious item to serve at breakfast as coffee cake, but when covered with a fancy topping makes a glamorous end of meal dessert.

The cake is made with two cups prepared biscuit mix, three-fourth cup sugar, a half cup crunchy peanut butter two tablespoons butter, three-fourth cup milk, one egg, slightly beaten, a half teaspoon of cinnamon and confectioners sugar.

Texas carrots on budget list

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE
Food Economist
Baltimore Office Department of Markets, University of Maryland.

We are celebrating the 29th Annual June is Dairy Month. This is the time of the year when peak production of milk and dairy products, butter, American cheese, and non-fat dry milk were greater than last year. Approximately one-half of the nation's milk supply is used as fresh milk and cream and the other half goes into manufactured dairy products.

EVERYONE, child, teenager and adult, needs the nutrients found in milk. The recommended daily allowances of milk are a quart for children, teenagers and expectant and nursing mothers and a pint for adults. The calcium, phosphorus and protein in milk are important food elements.

It is practically impossible to eat sufficient quantities of other calcium rich foods to insure adequate calcium in the diet. To supply the same amount of calcium four glasses of milk contains, one would have to eat one of the following quantities of other foods; seven and a quarter pounds of carrots, twenty-eight oranges, thirty-nine eggs, twenty-seven pounds of potatoes or seven and one-half pounds of cabbage.
