School 452 awards 147 graduates

General Vocational Junior-Senior High School No. 452 held its sixteenth annual commencement at the Carver Vocational - Technical High School on Tuesday, June 15 at 8 p.m. It was a combined exercise with both senior and junior high graduates participating.

Dr. Benjamin Whitten, principal, presented William J. Hucksoll, director of vocational education, to the audience, who in turn gave diplomas to the seniors and certificates to the juniors.

Numerous awards and citations were bestowed upon the graduates to honor their outstanding work and contributions to the various trades, subjects and school activities.

The Faculty Award, a $50 U.S. savings bond, went to Cecelia Everett, the outstanding senior. The Awards $25 US. saving bonds, were given to Murrice Matthews and Henry Kiley as the outstanding shop and academic students, respectively.

Two science awards of $5 each were won by Brenda Shannonhouse and Franklin Phillips. John Wayne Pitts received the Counselor's Award of $10 as the Outstanding Safety Patrolman of the year.

A special principal's award of $10 to the student in the school who had contributed the most to the welfare and progress of the school was given to Margaret Jones, an 11th grader.

The senior boys wore summer tuxedoes and the girls were attired in evening gowns. The junior boys were dressed in dark suits and the girls in pastel colored party dresses.
