Mrs. Frances Ridout is the highest scholar at Coppin

Mrs. Frances Ridout, mother of two small daughters and wife of the Methodist Peninsula District superintendent, the Rev. Daniel Ridout, was the highest ranking graduate in Coppin State College's class of 1965.

The AFRO erroneously reported on Friday that this coveted honor went to Miss Lavinia Hammond.

Mrs. Ridout's average of "A," throughout the four years she studied to become an elementary school teacher won her the Phi Delta Kappa Sorority cash award.

Mrs. Ridout, her husband and family will reside in Wilmington, Delaware this winter.

MISS HAMMOND won three fellowships. She selected one for $10,000 fo study for a doctorate at the University of California at Berkley.

Another fellowship was also for study through the doctorate degree.

The third was to study for a master's degree with the guarantee of a job afterwards.

Other Coppin awards went to:

Misses Sarah Parker and Janice Smith, both with an average of 94, the Alumni Association Medal with citations for the highest rating in supervised teaching;

Edward Norris, the student who had the greatest service to the school community during the year, the Circulus Scholarum Award;

Miss Margaret Dunlap, the Faculty Award for presenting the best pattern of conduct for other students;

Miss Ruth Brice, the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Award for setting the example in fine scholarship; excellence of character and leadership;

Miss Lucille Matthews, the Lillian R. Webb Award, for greatest achievement in creative art and sense of responsibility her Senior year;

Miss Washington Connor Memorial Fund Award, to attend Kutztown, Pa. State College to study Human Relations this summer;

Winners of the Fannie Jackson Coppin Memorial Foreign Language Awards: French — Thomas Michael Peay; Spanish — Karl Johnson.

Citation for achievement in the field of Education and leadership in Education, Dr. Elaine Davis, member of the Board of Trustees, Morgan State College.

'Domestic Peace Corps' team needed in Virginia

Mrs. Peggy Noble, local representative of the Council of the Southern Mountain, a private anti - poverty agency, is looking for two colored college juniors or seniors, male or female.

They are needed, she reported, to organize whatever community development programs are necessary to aid residents of the Gladespring, Va., area.

The need arose, it was learned, following allegations that current anti - poverty programs in the area are by passing colored residents.

Purpose of the long range project, Mrs. Noble said, is to make available to residents information concerning assistance and programs offered by the Federal government in the war on poverty.

Transportation and living expenses will be provided for the prospective "domestic Peace Corps" team, which will be permitted to draw up and submit its plans for community projects and qualify for federal funds.

Interested applicants are urged to contact Mrs. Noble at LL 2-4179 after 8 p.m. daily.
