CTED—Charles E. Brown was among 35 persons in the Baltimore Archdiocese to receive honors at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen on Sunday. He was made a Knight of St. Gregory for 'distinguished service'. Lawrence Cardinal Shehan is shown in photo at left as he presented an award to one of the group which included priests and laymen, three of them non-Catholics. In right panel, Mr. Brown greets friends at reception in his honor given by fellow members of St. Peter Claver Church. Left to right, Mrs. Brown, Father Henry Offer, St. Peter's pastor; Mrs. Ruby Taylor and Mrs. Norma Brisco.

Dr. Jackson leading Maryland delegation at Denver meeting

DENVER, Colo.—Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, veteran NAACP leader and president of the Baltimore branch is leading a 40-member Maryland delegation to the 56th annual convention in session here this week.

Attending her 30th annual convention, Dr. Jackson told the 2,000 delegates and observers at the Denver Hilton Hotel that, "The freedom and equality the NAACP has been seeking is just over the hill."

The fiery NAACP warrior lauded pioneers of the organization which, she said, is the chief defender of the rights of America's 20,000,000 colored citizens—the late Walter White and Charles H. Houston—for their contribution to the organization's remarkable growth.

Among other Baltimore delegates are

Mesdames Sara F. Diggs, Ida Russell, Susie Murphy, Dora Caldwell, Edith Allen, and Dr. John L. Tilley, all of Baltimore.

Also Michael Mitchell, and Michael Brooks representing the Jackie Robinson Youth Council and Mrs. Juanita J. Mitchell, president, Maryland NAACP State Conferences, and member of the national Legal Defense Committee.

Mrs. Mitchell spoke Tuesday at the Political Action session and Dr. Tilley spoke at the Wednesday workshop, explaining the operation of Baltimore's branch nationally-recognized voter-registration program.

OTHER Marylanders in attendance include:

J. Franklin Bourne, attorney, president, Prince Georges County branch; and Miss Carol Gross and Mrs. Jean Hunton.

Miss Edith Throckmorton, president, and Alfronso Lee and Augustus Bell, Montgomery County Branch.

Silar H. Craft, president and Mrs. Virginia Craft, Howard County branch; DuPree Monk, president, and Mrs. Salome Howard and Miss Marlene Randall, Charles County; the Rev. Leon White, president; Glen Burnie; Samuel Gilmer, president, Anne Arundel; Leroy Whitmore, president, Sparrows Point;

Also Mesdames Mary J. Short, Mary E. Queen, Diane Scrogins, Elaine Smith, Shirley Jackson, Valorie McPherson, Louise Brooks, Barbara Jackson, and Charles Jamieson, Charles County.

Members of the Maryland delegation are active in all phases of the convention and are serving on many of the key committees.

One of the early developments here is the struggle in the Time and Place Committee where an effort is being made to have the 1966 convention site switched from Los Angeles to Birmingham, Ala.
