Capts., aids should attend all meetings

Weekly Clean Block meetings will be held 10 a.m. each Friday in the Wilfard Allen Auditorium of the Masonic Temple, Eutaw Pl. and Lanvale St.

The meeting place is in easy reach of AFRO Clean Blockers coming from all sections of the city.

Workers riding the No. 28 Bus should get off at Lanvale St. and walk two blocks west. Those who ride No. 7 should also get off at Lanvale and walk two blocks east.

Youngsters riding the No. 19 may get off right in front of the door at Eutaw and Lanvale.

Remember the time 10 a.m. every Friday and each block must have representation at these Friday morning meetings.

* * *

Coming events and information are discussed at these meetings, movie jamborees, baseball games, and the clean block contest.

Roll calls are made and workers are marked absent or present. It's important to keep a good attendance record.

Prize Fund now at $1,200; help needed

Prize fund now stands over $1200. It is used to reward youngsters at the close of the campaign. The goal is $3,100.

Any donation will be publicly acknowledged.

A letter in from Blockers' long - time friend and supporter, the Women's Civic League, Inc., brought a $25.00 donation. It said:

"Dear Mrs. Leath:

"The Women's Civic League wishes you every success with your annual campaign. We regret the delay in getting the enclosed check to you."

(Mrs.) Norman Pritchett
President

A note from the F and M Schaefer Brewing Co., another valued friend said in part:

"Dear Mrs. Leath:

"We are enclosing our check in the amount of $37.50 for prizes to Clean Block workers.

"If it serves your pupose we would like to see this distributed as two $18.75 Savings Bonds. We extend our best wishes for a successful campaign."

JOHN H. GRINER SR., insurance executive of 2030 Northeast Ave., Halethorpe, sent this good news:

"Dear Mrs. Leath:

"Find enclosed a check in the amount of $60 for a contribution to your Clean Block Prize Fund. I hope that this will assist you in your campaign.

"If everyone realized the importance of this campaign, I'm sure there would be no question as to your reaching your goal.

"If I can be of any further service please contact me. I wish you the best of luck."

OTHER DONERS include: National Alliance of Postal Employees, $10; the Greenspring Dairy, $25;

"We congratulate the AFRO - AMERICAN for the Clean Block Campaign. Greenspring is very happy to cooperate in any effort to make our lives more beautiful by improving our surroundings," its message said.

Mrs. Margaret Peay, 4452 St. Georges Ave., $5; Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Elsie B. Gaither, hostiess, $10; Mrs. Ada K. Jenkins, 1830 Westwood Ave., $1; the Charles E. Mullenbey Co., plumbers, Heating, Roofing, 511 W. Lafayette Ave., $10; Pen Mar Restaurant, 2500 Pennsylvania Ave., $2; and W. P. Ihrie and Sons, 2 N. Smallwood St., $10.

Florists send gift, words of inspiration

Joseph Shaver of the Allied Florists Association, this week, sent in a $25 gift in behalf of the association and added a beautiful and accurate description of the AFRO Clean Block Campaign.

Quoting Theodore Wilhide, president of the florists group, Mr. Shaver said:

"Florists deal with beauty all the time and, because of the nature of our business we cannot help but want to see beauty everywhere. "That is why we are pleased to support the AFRO AMERICAN'S endeavors through its annual Clean Block Campaign.

"Let us demonstrate that we love beauty and cleanliness and are interested in making life more livable for those around us. We can have green cities, clean and fine cities, if all of us work together to achieve the goal.

* * *

"WE FLORISTS doff our hats to the men and women, boys and girls, who dedicate themselves to making our Baltimore the finest and cleanest city in the land."

MR. AND MRS. TEACKLE W. LANSEY, left, with their daughter, Miss Sheryl Lansey, shared the honors at a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Jones, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Lansey celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Miss Lansey is a current debutante. Next to the Lanseys, above are Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and the Debutante's great grandfather, Charles Adams.

Deb reception also anniversary fete

Mr. and Mrs. Teackle Lansey, parents of Miss Sheryl Anita Lansey, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Jones, her uncle and aunt, entertained at a reception at the latters' Rosedale Road home, Saturday ago.

The reception specifically honored Miss Lansey ,a current debutante, but the Joneses added a surprise, and also celebrated the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lansey. The surprise was in the form of a dinner party which followed the afternoon reception.

* * *

MISS LANSEY, who graduated from Forest Park High School, will be a sophomore at Morgan State College, next term. This summer she is engaged in the "Head Start" program in this city.

She made her debut at the Christmas Cotillion of the Baltimore chapter of Girl Friends.

* * *

FOR THE reception, Miss Lansey was lovely in a frock of pink linen and lace, with which she wore white accessories. Mrs. Lansey chose an ensemble in pink and white knit and black accessories, and Mrs. Jones wore pink silk.

Also receiving with the ladies were Mr. Lansey, Mr. Jones, the debutante's great grandfather, Charles Adams; Mrs. Marion Carroll, in pink lace; and Mrs. Irma Roy, president of the local chapter of Girl Friends, who wore a print in white and red.

* * *

AMONG THE GUESTS who called during the afternoon were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Charles J. Ring, Samuel Jackson, John H. White, Clinton P. Whole, Ben Freeman, M. Chatman, Milton B. Allen, Vernon Karen Kosai
Teackle W. Lansey, Jaimes Hawkins, C. Leroy Carroll, Charles Duggal, John Hudgins, George X. Reed Jr., Leroy J. Young Jr., Ernest E. Reed Jr., Warner H. Brown Jr., Marvin W. Caldwell, William F. King, D. and Mrs. J. D. Sheppard.

Frost, E. Gaines Lansey, Howard Harles, O. Robert Campher; Dr. and Mrs. William Lockwood, Ambassador and Mrs. Clinton E. Knox, Dubotey; Arthur.

Mesdames Irma K. Roy, Jessie Hudgins, Shirley Watkins, Nina W. Jett, Hermione Weaver, Myrle M. Johnson, Mesdames Gwendolyn Lewis, Florence Wright, Olga Parker, Consuelia Jackson, Iveta Evans, Elizabeth Henderson, Emily Wharton, John Chionsi, Mary N. Brooks, Laura Fair, Curtian Carroll.

Misses Beverly Ann Johnson, Constance Blacke, Yvonne Lansey, Jessie Hawkins, Edith Dennis, Edna Jackson, Cynthia March, Valentine Davis, Josephine Lansey, Anna Lansey, Velma Branch, Marian Carroll.

Hattie Russell (she's the sister of this town's Dr. Saunders Russell), auditor.

The Baltimore group attending included Bertha Foster, Helen Queen, Dr. and Mrs. Edward (Bernice) McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Blanche) Beckham, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley (Carolyn) Stobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin (Lou) Lockerman, Mr. and Mrs. Marsden (Annabel) Hawkins, and Mr. and Mrs. David (Bea) Wright.

AND MABEL HAWKINS and Lucy Edwards took the posts of regional director and historian, respectively, when Eta Chi Phi Sorority (this is the nurses group) held a national boule in Pittsburgh, Pa., last week.

Also at the session were Lillian Mills, who heads the local chapter; Earline Ford, Hazel Bailey, Eleanor Willis and Emily Hardy. Sarah Lightfoot had to remain at home to keep a date with the stork, which arrived with a baby girl on Saturday. And as you know, Phyllis Shamwell and Lillyan Slater were in Germany attending the International Council of Nurses.

* * *

THE NAYLOR - HUGHES Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Sharp Street Methodist Church recessed for the summer months with a cookout in the lovely yard of Mr. and Mrs. William Proctor on Lynhurst Avenue.

Martha Bradley is president and with her were Charlotte Harper, Frances Pennington, Geraldine Blackwell, Dorothy Briscoe, Drewey Cunningham, Viola Jackson and Delores Kerr.

Their project for the fall is to provide the church with the newly revised Methodist Hymnal.

* * *

LAST FRIDAY evening Elsie Scott and Margaret Driver hosted the Northwest Child Study Club with a delicious dinner party at the Wilson's Restaurant.

The newly installed president, Vyna Skinner, presided and presented the 1965 66 club program which included many cultural as well as social experiences for the parents and children. There will be travel talks as

Gadabouting In Baltimore

Douglass grads take note after 20 years

By Lula Jones Garrett

"Twas Friday evening. The setting was the Emerald Gardens.

More than a hundred guests had renewed friendships, confided down on the past decade and reminisced on years gre trat, as they sipped champagne and recalled incidents. There were those who had no checking to do . . for they had retained close contacts through the years.

"Twas a reunion of the Classes of February and June of 1945, and members had come from all parts of the Eastern Seaboard to mark their 20th anniversary of their graduation from Douglass High School.

Seated now at tables, done in a beautiful decoration of red and white, with soft pink and deep red flowers centering the tables, they were awaiting dinner. The 20 years sat very lightly on the shoulders of the . . beautiful women in beautiful gowns . . handsome men in classic white dinner jackets, black ties, etc.

And of the assembled one of the loveliest was one of their honorees, a teacher they called their "Beloved", and to whom almost every one paid tribute for a special guidance incident that had aided them toward that day.

She was Miss Essie Hughes, now vice principal of Western High School, but in 1945, I believe, their homeroom teacher.

Miss Hughes sighed with satisfaction. "They were exceptional pupils then. They are all solid citizens now," she told me as she looked over the crowd and spoke of individuals by name.

"Oh, there's Delores", she said. She was speaking of Delores Duke, Washington pharmacist, who was looking especially charming in two shades of green chiffon on the occasion.

"Is Jack (John) Gloster coming?". Someone said that Mr. Gloster is now holding down a post in Addis Ababa.

Dr. Thomas J. Joynes stopped to greet her. He's a practicing psychiatrist in Shaker Heights, Ohio. And there was Joyce Arnold from Queen's, N. Y. Ida W. Rodgers had come from Annapolis; Charles Scribner from Orange, New Jersey; Freeman Smith and Christine Young from New York were also there as was Dorothy Williams, chic in stark black. Minna Ann West came over from Washington. William Graham from Fort Slocum, N. Y.: Mary Jackson from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Malinda Lordan from the same city.

"Truman Smith came from Washington, Dorothy and Delores Duke Williams from St. Albans, N. Y., Vera Young from the nation's capital.

Of course it has been a Baltimore group which had spearheaded the reunion. William Ames and Samuel Tomkins had served as chairmen. Edward Lansey had garnered the moneys. George Johnson had come up with the programs. . duplicates of the commencement program on 1945, with the frontispiece correct weight down to the late Harry T. Pratt, principal. . the Minna Anne Williams (now West) Valedictorian. . the now concert artist Goldie T. Green, soloist.

The committee included Gloria Jenkins Barnes, Margaret Wallace Campbell, Caroline Washington Carter, Edith Howard Davidson, Lucy Thrower Dorgan, Iretta Winder Gross, Evelyn David Jordan, Evelyn Creek Grant, Vera Campbell Young, Earl Coleman, Marshall Dawson, Stanley Scott, Jackson and Theodore Press and Joseph Wilkins.

Maizie Barbour Rea was mistress of ceremonies. She was listed as an honor student on the original program . . . . to were 47 others including Dr. Archie Robinson Jr., town physician; Serelha Gaskins-Greene, now a Coppin State College professor.

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin had been mayor that year, too, and had conferred the diplomas. Out of the country that night, he had sent a message recalling the incident.

Dinner over, they turned to dancing.

"Twas really a gala evening.

LEAVE IT to Baltimore women. They do it every time. I mean capture national offices in national organizations. When the Moles went to Louisville, Ky., recently, Bernice McDaniels returned with the post of treasurer. Baltimore already had one national officer, Florence Bailey, who held a secretaryship until this year. when, of course, she is a "Lady in Waiting" has an August date for an addition.

Eight of the Moles and six of their husbands were in Louisville for some high and fancy festivities. They along with members of the Washington chapter chartered a plane for the journey.

Moles named three other officers to national offices. They included Roslyn Dixon of D.C., who is the new president; Pennie Perry of Charlotte, N.C., secretary; and Hattie Russell, secretary.

Another 'Head Start' Center Visited

By ROGER J. NISSLY

"I like crayoning best," says five-year-old Renia Sweets.

Her new-found friend Wanda McCleary, age four, adds that she likes "playing with the doll baby and the choo-choo train."

Because of the Head Start project sponsored by St. James Episcopal Church, Lafayette and Arlington Ave., these two young girls, along with 73 other children, will be assured of making a successful transition when they attend school for the first time in September.

Proud of the new knowledge gained after only three days of the Head Start program at Harlem Park Elementary School, Wanda discusses her day's work with her teacher, Mrs. Dolores Parker.

Mrs. Parker, who during the school year is a teacher at Gwynns Falls Elementary School, asks, "What did you do today, Wanda?"

Wanda answers, "Drawing."

"What did you draw?"

"A girl, a boy, a lady, a man and me."

"And what's that called, Wanda?"

"My family," answers the little girl dressed in a bright blue dress.

* * *

THE TEACHER tells her that she will hang her picture on the bulletin board the next day, and Wanda's eyes light up.

Renia, who is attending her first day of "school" and also likes crayoning best, says that she likes everything about school "just fine."

After her first full day, she carries her new red school purse like a grownup.

The program, aimed at preparing youngsters for first grade so they aren't too far behind their middle class counterparts, began on Monday and will continue for six weeks from 8:30 in the morning until 12:30.

"The children will be given new experiences and a chance to work with materials that will fit them for success in the first grade," said Miss Virginia Morris, director of the church's program.

"For many of them, this will be their first experience with crayons."

Miss Morris, who has retired as principal of Elementary School 140, Carrollton Ave. and Lexington St., after teaching for 20 years, explained that from the project the students will learn "to respond to the names of things."

* * *

SHE STRESSED the value of giving children new experiences. "They will have many of these, something to talk about. Often children don't talk, because they don't have anything to talk about," she said.

These experiences will include an activity period in which each child selects what he wants to do—play with the toys, finger paint, crayon — a play period outside, and periods for music story telling and rest

Miss Wilson said the children also will be taken on trips to places they have never seen, such as the zoo and the shopping center.

"By coming here during the summer, they will have an orientation to school," she said. "At first many of them are reluctant to leave their parents.

"In the art classes, they will become used to using these different materials."

* * *

MISS MORRIS is quick to point out that the five classes of 15 pupils each are low keyed with an absence of "formal teaching."

The purpose is to introduce them to school and have them learn from their own experiences," she said.

One of the valuable aspects of the program is the complete medical care which is given to each student. Those enrolled will receive all the shots needed for school, plus eyesight, hearing and dental checks — which will locate impairments so they do not hurt a child's chances in school.

In addition, the pupils will receive breakfast and a mid-morning snack of juice or milk and cookies.

But like many of the city's Head Start programs — which will reach 900 children this summer —the students will not receive hot lunches, as stipulated in the Federal outline for the program.

"The elementary school has no cafeteria," Miss Morris explained. "We cannot give hot meals unless they could be prepared somewhere and sent to the school."

She noted, however, that the program's meals will be supervised by a dietician to make sure the children get all the nutrition they need.

ACCORDING to Miss Morris the children were recruited from the neighborhood by the church, under the direction of the Rev. Donald Wilson, and by the Lafayette Community Center and other groups.

For the 75 children recruited, the new experiences, new friends, health care, trips, meals, crayoning and playing with the doll baby all add up to exactly what the name of the project implies —A Head Start in school and life.

WEBB to air Block meetings

Ernie Boston, news director, Radio Station WEBB, will attend all Friday Clean Block rallies at the Masonic Temple, Mr. Boston will tape interviews with workers, advisors and supporters.

He will want to know about Blockers plans, goals, and activities of the summer-long drive.

These interviews will be broadcast periodically throughout the day on WEBB's "Sound Off Show," where participants talk on any subject they choose.

This is a wonderul opportunity for Blockers to tell others about their campaign to keep the city beautiful and offer suggestions as to how citizens and city agencies can aid in the effort.

Acknowledging this valuable contribution on the part of WEBB, Mrs. Jeanette B. Leath, director, told Samuel Feldman, president of the station:

Painting tips

A repainting job does not begin with the application of paint. It starts with the proper preparation of the surfaces to be painted.

The surface should be sound, clean and free of its metal, free from rust.

A little time invested in careful preparations results in a more attractive and longer - lasting paint job.

Before you pry the lid from a paint can, be sure you read the directions on the label — particularly those on stirring.

If you wait until later, a colorful, but frustrating, blot of paint on the outside of the can may conceal the most important bit of information.

PAINTING CHAIRS is easier if you place the chair upside down on a table protected with newspaper. Paint the legs and rungs first than the underside.

When these sections have dried thoroughly, set the chair upright and finish the job.

Remember to always use a paint paddle for stirring, and never stir with a brush.

Be sure to replace the lid tightly on the paint can after you have finished. This protects against spilling and extra work.
