Painters Mill to host Head Start children

Painters Mill Music Fair in suburban Owings Mills will play host to 2,200 youngsters on Monday, July 19 at 10 a.m., at a special performance of "Alice In Wonderland" to give impetus to "Operation Head Start," the pre-school education program supported by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Mrs. Hale Boggs, wife of Representative Hale Boggs, Democratic Majority Whip, will be the hostess for the occasion.

The Baltimore Actors' Theatre will perform.

Painters Mill Music Fair is a large, 2,200-seat theatre-in-the round housed under a yellow and orange circus tent.

The 2,200 Baltimoreans area children will be treated to the Lewis Carrol children's classic by Music Fair producers, Lee Guber, Frank Ford and Shelly Gross.

Baltimore sailor, 28 drowns at S.C. picnic

'They notified us about 4:30 Wednesday. They had finally fished his body from the water . . . he had drowned on the Fourth of July . . .' Mrs. Madge Cannon was telling the AFRO about the holiday drowning of her nephew, Melvin Rice, 28, 2015 W. Mulberry St.

The Navy career man was on an outing with his wife near his Charleston, S.C. base.

'His wife tried to save him, but she couldn't,' Mrs. Cannon said.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS for the sailor are pending return of the body to Baltimore. The family attends Seventh - day Adventist.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Rice is survived by a four-year - old daughter, Michelle; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Rice of the W. Mulberry St. address, and three sisters and a brother. They are Mrs. Johnnie Roy and Mrs. Mamie Richards, both of Baltimore; Mrs. Margarena McCloyd, Boston; and James C. Rice, Baltimore.

Mr. Rice had been in service for four years. He was a graduate of Douglass High, and attended Morgan State College before enlisting the Navy.
