Tips on poverty chief, other events, win $50

The tipster who first notified the AFRO of the resignation of Proverty Chief Dr. Melvin Humphrey is $10 richer this week.

Because the tipster called this newspaper city desk promptly, the AFRO was FIRST on the street with this news story.

Other tipsters who first reported on a variety of news incidents, including the tip events in the city — fires, accidents, a train running over a man, share the $50 newstip jackpot.

You, too, can win $$$$ for your news tips. Simply call AFRO City Desk, MU. 5-0015, and say, 'I've got an news tip.'

YOU might be a winner. Names of tipsters are held in strict confidence.

And, a brother, Joseph Allen, Newport News; four nieces Mrs. Irene Shavers, Mrs. Ivonne Powell, Mrs. Dorothy Coles, Mrs. Bertha Eure and Mrs. Marcell Shavers, all of Baltimore. Four step - grandchildren, also survive.

3 in family die in crash; on way to visit kin here

"All we can get from it is that they ran under a truck. It was parked halfway on the road and part of the way in front of a restaurant."

Mrs. Lucille B. McCall, a daughter - in - law of 431 Montello Ave., Washington, was recalling the holiday auto crash which claimed the lives of three members of her family.

Dead in a freak collison on Route 130 near Penns Grove, N. J., are:

Willie O. McCall, 62 - year old cab driver. A native of Clarkton, N. C., he was the son of Mrs. Lummie McCall, of Clarkton; and the late Dave McCall.

His wife, Mrs. Flora McCall, 53, a native of Maxton, N. C., and daughter of the late Delia and Frank McEachin; and,

Their grandson, Charles Dorsey, 16, a June graduate of the East Orange, N. J. High School. He was a native of Baltimore, and the son of Charles and Delorce Dorsey, of 1617 Oldview Ave., Baltimore.

ALL LIVED in East Orange at 21 S. 17th St.

Another grandchild, two-year old Carthage Derrick McCall, suffered cuts of the head and is still in Underwood Hospital, Woodbury, N.J.

Relatives told the AFRO today he is still semi-conscious, but much improved.

The McCalls and the Dorsey youth were en route to Baltimore to visit his parents.

The family had planned to travel to Clarkton to visit Mr. McCall's mother for the holiday.

• • •

NEW JERSEY police reported that the accident occurred about 4 p.m. July 2, when the McCalls' car left the road and crashed into a trailer truck parked in front of a diner. The truck driver, Edward L. Orres of Taylorville, N. C., was inside the diner.

Funeral services for the victims were held Wednesday at First Apostolic Faith Church in Baltimore. The March Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

IN ADDITION to his parents, the Dorsey youth is survived by two sisters, Shirley A.; and Mrs. Cynthia Blue, both of Baltimore.

In addition to their daughter, Mrs. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. McCall are survived by another daughter, Mrs. Louise Cooper, Houston, Del.; and three sons, William F. McCall, Denver, Colo.; Henry B. McCall, Washington; and Carthage McCall, of Baltimore.

Valuable player to be cited at Eagles' affair

The main attraction of the Eagles Athletic and Social Club Inc., cabaret Saturday, July 10, will be the honoring of the Most Valuable Basketball Player of the Cloverdale Summer Basketball League. It will be held at Cherry Hill Union Hall.

Five players have been nominated for the award. They are Edward Buttler of the Maryland State Penitentiary All - Stars; Boyzie Hux of Red's #44, Joe Lynch of Baker's Dons, Lonnie Mayzak, Turner's Stars, and Joe Mollett of the Mid - west Athletic Club.

The players were selected by the Eagles ASC Inc., because of their outstanding contributions to their team through hustle, offensive and defensive ability, and competitive spirit to help lead their respective teams to victory.

The winner will receive a tall, handsome trophy.

For five years, the Cloverdale Summer League has been in existence. Many renowned players have participated. Among this year's crew were: Gus Johnson, Charlie Hardnett, Si Green, Walt Bellamy and Wally Jones of the Baltimore Bullets.

In addition to the professional players, top local amateurs are in the league.

• • •

ALTHOUGH the Eagles have a team in the league, they felt that choosing a MVP from the other teams would help the morale and statue of the league in the community.

The League roarhes participate on a lommittee as overseers. Donald Payne acts in an advisory capacity.

• • •

THUMBNAIL sketches of the nominees follow:

Butler, 6'5", 220 lbs., is the outstanding leader of the Maryland Pen Stars. He was twice the leading scorer and leader of two championship clubs.

One hundred seventy -five pounder Hux standing 6'3", is a former Douglass High player with all - around ability. Lynrh 6'7" tall, weighting 190 lbs., is a former Catonsville Star. A top - flight leader he paced them to two consecutive in - door titles with the Bureau of Recreation league.

Formerly, a Dunbar High great and an all - around scorer and rebounder for his team, Mayzak is 6'3" and weighs 190 lbs. Another former Douglass sensation, Mollett is an outstanding handler and an aggressive team leader. He is 6' 1" and weighs 180 lbs.

Long disagrees with LBJ's overtime plan

Maryland's Rep. Clarence D. Long announced this week he opposes double pay for overtime, as a means of providing jobs, and said he would urge his fellow congressmen to vote against the Jonnson Administration - backed proposal.

He charged "robbing Peter won't give Paul a job." and based his opposition on these three contentions:

1. Penalty overtime would not open jobs for the unemployed, for this has never been the case in history.

2. Penalty overtime would impair business flexibility.

3. Penalty overtime would take away overtime income workers need to send children to school, pay for houses and meet installment payments.

"The fact that there is no fixed limit to employment," he said in support of his contention that taking a job from Peter will not provide one for Paul, "was proved by the increase of over 10,000,000 jobs between 1950 and 1964, while unemployment remained the same."
