Orange juice is for more than drinking

Orange juice is for more than drinking . . though there are few drinks that quench a thirst better on a sultry summer's day.

Frozen orange juice concentrate rates as a top buy at the markets now, because processors' stock recently climbed to the highest point since 1962. Food shoppers will do well to take advantage of the reduced prices.

* * *

FOR A DESSERT or snack preparation try adding ice cream to your orange juice, with or without a dash of milk. Or fill some ice cube trays with the juice and when just about frozen, insert a lollipop stick and continue to freeze until firm. That's a delicious and nutritious treat for all ages.

The family will enjoy orange - glazed ham loaves, orange hot breads, orange sauce for chicken and turkey entrees, orange puddings, and other orange flavored appetizers, entrees and desserts.

* * *

IN FRUIT salads and pie fillings, orange juice will help preserve the color of fruits that tend to darken when cut — especially in cut peaches, pears, apples, and bananas, especially.

Orange juice will add delicate flavor when used in basting poultry, spareribs, or other roasted meats. It makes a good liquid for the batters for pancakes, coffee cakes, sweet rolls, orange biscuits, and other prepared favorites, and for many pastries, cakes and pies.
