Brewster seeks remedy to athletic controversy

Stan Musial, consultant to the President's Council on Physical Fitness, met with Senators Warren Magnuson (D - Wash.) and Joseph Tydings (D. - Md.) Wednesday at a breakfast meeting called by Senator Daniel B. Brewster (D - Md.) to discuss the continuing feud between the NCAA and AAU.

Congressman Thomas Foley (D - Wash.) and other government officials concerned with international athletics were also in attendance.

In a prepared statement, Senator Brewster said:

"We are hopeful that the hearings which will begin August 16 before the Commerce Committee will result in some settlement of the dispute.

"Stan Musial and Senator Magnuson and I are agreed that the Olympic Committee should assume more responsibility in resolving the dispute than it has in the past.

"I certainly hope that the Congress will not be forced to take action to arbitrate the dispute.

"It would be much better for the organizations themselves to settle the matter."

THE AMATEUR Athletic

Muslim menu

groups have been locked in a lengthy hassle over their respective roles in sports.

On the improved list of food for the Muslims to eat are okra, string beans, brown rice, white cabbage, whole wheat rolls, bean soup, bean pie, the root of the turnip green and all kosher meats.
