Catonsville News

By SAMUEL TORSELL

Funeral services were held Saturday for Dr. C. E. Malone at Grace Church with the Rev. Oscar Christmas officiating. Assisting the Rev. Christmas were Bishop Harrison Bryant, the Rev. Donald Allen, the Rev. Alphonzo Thomson and the Rev. Mr. Smith.

Dr. Maloney is survived by one sister and four brothers.

The Past Exalted Rulers Council No. 27 of Baltimore met Sunday at Crescent Lodge Elks Home and honored Samuel Torsell with life membership.

* * *

Three members of the Crescent Lodge, Russell Bacon, Leon Dorsey and James Fletcher joined the Council.

Sunday, August 1 at 2 p.m., the Crescent Lodge Elks parade will have 46 marching units represented.

IN THE past two weeks, Catonsville had five deaths. The families have the sympathy of the community.

The pastor, choir and congregation of Morning Star Baptist Church worshipped last Sunday at Union Memorial Church and at Westminster Methodist Church.

Send get-well cards to Mrs. Millie Torsell, a patient at St. Agnes Hospital and to Lemuel Johnson, a patient at Fort Howard.

The Rev. C. E. Johnson, pastor of Grace Church, has improved much after a week in bed with a cold.

MR. AND MRS. RICARDO WEEKS

Miss Hugee wed to N.Y. playwright

Miss Hattie Hugee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Liston Hugee and Ricardo Weeks were married in the Southern Baptist Church, here Saturday afternoon at three.

The bridegroom, a native of Puerto Rico, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Weeks, a successful writer of poetry and short stories, has recently turned to song writing and play writing.

He wrote the lyrics for "I Wonder Why," a million seller. His poems were among those in this year's Harlem, U.S.A., and he has recently completed a three-act play "Lullaby of the Innocents", which is expected to go into production in the near future. He is a member of ASCAP.

* * *

THE CEREMONY, on Saturday, was performed by the Rev. Robby Robinson. A program of nuptial music was by Mrs. Mary E. Bells and Melvin Boston, organists; and Miss Jacqueline Barton, soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Benjamin Bostick and had as her maid of honor, Miss Harriet Purvis. Albin DeRamus was best man for Mr. Weeks.

* * *

MISS HUGEE wore a gown of champagne blue chiffon with a bodice of lace.

The gown was designed with long sleeves, a Sabrina neckline and featured a chapel train. Her shoulder length veil was held by a seed pearl medallion, and she carried white carnations.

Miss Purvis' gown was of yellow chiffon, and the bridesmaids wore chiffon and lace gowns in pastel shades. They carried red roses.

* * *

THE BRIDESMAIDS included Misses Kayberthe Hugee, Gloriadene DeRamus, Virginia Motley and Pearl Clendenia. Bernadette DeRamus was flower girl.

Ushers were James Davis, Jr., James Davis, Sr., Gregory DeRamus, and Austin Weeks.

* * *

A RECEPTION followed the ceremony. This was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Algin DeRamus of N. Kenhill Ave.

A second reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's brother, Joseph Weeks, in New York.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks will live in New York.

Anecdote for a happy life

The Ninth Commandment: Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbors. Is it true, then according to Samuel Dodge, People Will Talk: — Here's what he says!

"You may get through the world, but 'twill be very slow if you listen to all that is said as you go; you'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew for meddlesome tongues will have something to do. For people will talk.

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed that your humble position is only assumed; you're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a fool, but don't get excited, keep perfectly cool for people will talk.

* * *

If you're generous and noble, they'll vent out their spleen. You'll hear some loud hints that you're selfish and mean; if upright and honest and fair as the day, they'll call you a rogue in a sly, sneaking way! But people will talk.

And then if you show any boldness of heart, or a slight inclination to take your own part, they will call you an upstart, conceited and vain; but keep straight ahead, don't stop and explain. For people will talk.

If threadbare your dress, or old - fashioned your hat, some one will surely take notice of that, and hint rather strongly that you can't pay your way; but don't get excited whatever they say. For people will talk.

* * *

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape, for they criticize then in a different shape; you're ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid but mind your own business, don't mind what is said; For people will talk.

Now, the best way to do is to do as you please, for never mind, if you have one, will then be at ease.

Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse, but don't think to stop it, it is of no use. For people will talk.

People, places, and things

Well, well, well, it's birthday time again, and July 30 belongs to Alonzo Lancaster, 2307 Ivy Ave.; to Miss Juanita Miller, 3616 Pernhill Ave.; and to Mrs. Vivian Burnett, 2502 Riggs Ave.

After 21, the years just fly by; or soon Miss Dora Mc Coy, the Copley Realty secretary will find out. She marks her 21st on August 2.

Remember, too, on August 2, the Rev. Reginald Daniels 2102 Madison Ave., minister of Madison Avenue Presbyterian.

* * *

Belated best wished to Randolph Tate, 5117 Kenbrook Ave. His birthday was July 26.

Mr. Tate, a butcher for the Liberty Heights Big Value Store, was honored with a dinner prepared by his daughter, Mrs. Louis Wright, Baltimore; and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gloria Jiggetts, San Francisco.

Among others who attended were his son, Wilbur Jiggetts, San Francisco; son-in-law, Wendell Wright, Baltimore; two granddaughters and two grandsons.

Recuperating: Mrs. Lavania Brent, is now out of Franklin Square Hospital and resting at her home, 901 W. Saratoga St. She suffered a stroke two weeks ago.

* * *

The newly wed Oscar M. Freemans Jr., are now at home at their S. Calverton St. apartment.

Constance P. Ewell, and Mr. Freeman, were married two months ago.

Mrs. Freeman, the former He is a Montgomery Ward clerk.

She is the bookkeeper who attended Douglass High and Cortez Peters.

* * *

'So Solly! In last week's issue we reported that Mrs. Margaret Gassaway of Arundel - on - the - Bay sent postcards from Pittsburgh. Should have been Mrs. Margaret Gassaway, 1039 N. Fulton Ave.

* * *

Speaking of cards, Dr. and Mrs Donald G. Brandon (Bernice) are touring 13 countries in Europe.

She writes: 'We are anxious to get back before the stork arrives with our first grandchild in August.

* * *

Within our gates: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson and daughter, Charlene, of Maury, Ohio, here with the John Etiennes (Louise), of Elderon Ave.

Mrs. Williamson, is the former Ollie Patterson, a Baltimorean.

She notes she and her husband mark their 26th wedding anniversary this month.

More about people, things

In The Mailbag: Mrs. Gladys E. Mapp, 735 Home St., New York 56, writes about the sudden death of Mrs. Anita Hawkins. (Remember she suffered a fatal heart attack while attending Edmondson High graduation at Civic Center on June 7?

She says;

"I am a cousin of Anita Hawkins. Anita lived with us nearly three years, and her death is certainly a blow. I am still in a daze.

* * *

"We all appreciate the nice write - up at the time of her death. I purchased several copies of the AFRO while in Baltimore on the day of her funeral.

* * *

"We should all feel that things happen for the best but it is difficult to accept the passing of one you love and know so well. My mother died December of 1961 and I can't seem to accept it so well.

"I know Daze and Ida (her daughters) are bewildered and I pray to God that they will be able to realize that it is for the best.

"Anita was very devoted to her family. She took pride in her qualities. She was friendly and kind.

* * *

"I had always thought of writing you to let you know how I enjoyed reading the column.

"There is one which stands out in my mind in which you emphasize in saying nice things about people.

"This is beautiful. If everyone had that philosophy the world would be better. Keep up the good work."

About this and that

All the way from Dublin, Ireland, Miss Fay Hershaw, the retired teacher took time out to remember us and let us know, "this is a great world and I find that Erie constitutes a great part of it. Her scenery and poetry will live forever. The customs are unchanged."

More in the mailbag: It happened in the good old hospitable town of Baltimore a week back.

A Nigerian physician on duty at Hopkins took his visiting cousin and wife visiting her from D.C., out to dinner at a local restaurant.

She was in Nigerian dress the bottom of which was pants, not slacks, which were not allowed in the restaurant.

The waitress refused to serve them and called the manager and they had to leave.

The lady who reports this incident noticed that it was embarrassing for visitors from a foreign country. Good old hospitable Baltimore!

* * *

People being kind to other people: Josette Blackwell, a Douglass High School eleventh grader and a classmate of Yvonne Love, was inspired to write a promising verse when Yvonne's grandmother, Mrs. Genesta Gilbert died.

Here is an excerpt:—"For hert, died last week.

Life as a flame gasth out and darkness doth appear; her parting leaves us with a mournful heart and painful dropping tear.

"We shall miss her pleasant smile and her kind word, her ever thoughtfulness, her will to do her best for love of others did she live.

"For friend and family, children and grandchildren, her strength, her all, she did so willingly give."

* * *

Sign of the times: A white friend reports he was in Washington the other day seeking a job.

The employer told him, 'If you were colored, we could hire you right away.'

My friend replied: 'Well, I'm Jewish, will that help?'

The employer laughed and said, 'naw, everybody's Jewish these days!'

Postcard greetings from Dr. Lillie M. Jackson in Los Angeles which she calls 'the most beautiful city'...

Cuff note: Sign on auto loaded with boxes of shoes: 'Of no value, all right shoes.' That's one way to discourage thieves.

Best wishes to Mrs. John Lane (Genesta). She enters Lutheran Hospital for surgery on Saturday. Remember she buried her mother, Mrs. Genesta Gilbert last week.

In from a vacation in the Poconos: Mattie and Bill Mumby, Charles and Priscilla Marshall and Clarence and Odessa Dyson.

People coming & going

Alexander A. Hall, assistant professor of science - education also at Morgan, is off to Union, N. J. He'll teach at Newark State College.

People and going ... Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Rocha, (he's assistant professor of economics and business at Morgan) are off to Indiana. He will teach at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind.

Mrs. Louise G. Robinson and daughter, Sharon, leave next week for a vacation in Mexico.

The Sam Danielses, Armstead Jenkinses and John Earl Stokeses are back from two weeks in Europe.

Members of the Rensey family — and close frineds — nearly 100 of them — held their annual picnic on Wednesday at the Arundel - on - the - Bay home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hunt (Deloires). Miss Josephine Lansey arranged the outing.

By the way Wednesday was also the birthday of Mrs. Hunt, who is the city school principal who is known professionally as Dr. Hunt.

Say cookies alter behavior

CHICAGO (UPI) — Cookies are symbols of reward, an industry survey shows, and mothers buy them as an expression of love of their children.

The survey, sponsored by American Viscose, a major manufacturer of cellophane, was - nation - wide sampling of 2,000 families.

THE FAMILIES annual income was $7,000 plus yearly, and 31 per cent of the wives were employed full or part time. National Analysts of Philadelphia were the researchers.

The report found that when the housewife bought a special treat, such as a cookie or cracker, she was acting out her own affection rather than making such a purchase because of nutritional or economic considerations.
