Bob Foster moves close to title shot

NEW ORLEANS, (UPI) — Fifth ranked light heavyweight Bob Foster moved another step closer to a title shot at Champion Jose Torres Monday night with an easy 12 - round decision win over sixth ranked Henry Hank.

Foster, a 178 - pounder from Washington, D.C., closed Hank's left eye in the opening round and by the time the fight was over both of the veteran's eyes were closed.

Hank, 178, of Detroit, fought fanatically at times but the best the judges gave him was a one round and one round even.

THE MUNICIPAL Auditorium was jammed for the battle and oldtimers said it was the best fight crown in the Crescent City in years..

Foster met Hank once before. He won the first bout with a knockout.

Sugar Ray Robinson beats Walcott again

By ERNEST SHAW

RICHMOND, Va. — Sugar Ray Robinson is still sweet, maybe not as sweet as he used to be. He pounded out a unanimous decision over young Jersey Walcott in the Richmond Arena Tuesday night.

Robinson, 44-year old five-time middleweight champion looked remarkably well for a man of his age, one of the few fighters who has beaten father time. He completely outclassed his foe from start to finish.

He scored heavily with stinging lefts to the head throughout the fight. Walcott, 29, could not land the big punch.

This was Robinson's second win of the year over Walcott. He beat Walcott exchanged punches and received a cut over his left eye.

Robinson has appeared in 186 bouts winning 125; 104 by knockouts, 60 by decision, drawing nine, losing 13, and one no contest.

Robinson before turning pro won the golden gloves and the lightweight title in 1940 in New York in inter - city competition. He engaged in 85 amateur bouts: had 60 KO's, 40 in the first round. Fighting under the name of Walker, Robinson won the Golden Gloves title in 1939.

THE OFFICIALS scored the fight as follows: Martin Janice scored 100 - 97 with two rounds even; Joe O'Farrell showed Robinson ahead 100 - 99, with one round even, and Milton Brown showed his card had Walcott with one round the first. His card had Robinson 99 - 97.

Robinson who wants to fight Joey Giardello and retire as champion told some of the writers that his favorite baseball team used to be the Brooklyn Dodgers but now he likes the New York Mets. This marked his second appearance in Virginia. He fought in Norfolk several months ago.

He also was asked about Cassius Clay. Robinson replied that he has about as much potential ability as any fighter around. He also said that his non-boxing antics are no good for boxing. "I really don't like to talk about it too much," he said.

OTHER BOUT credits:

Oscar Freeman of Norfolk decisioned Willie Gray, of Washington, D. C. in six rounds; Herbert Dolloson, of Washington, TKO; Johnny Howard of Richmond, 1:55 of the fourth round; Jimmy McClain, of Virginia Beach, Va., won a hard fought contest from Dave Sugar Wyatt in 6 rounds; Calvin Mickens

HALTED — The Pimlico Little League All - Stars, who had their eyes set on championship honors, were halted abruptly Friday by the Forest Park Little League All - Stars a lopsided score of 15 to 2, after beating the Hamilton All-Stars 5 to 0 earlier in the elimination tournament. L.I. rights groups plan vigil at tan couple's home

MASSAPEQUA, N. Y. (UPI) — Two Long Island civil rights groups plan to station round the-clock guards at the home of a couple listed as a previously all - white neighborhood here.

The action followed an incident last Monday night in which police said Stephen J. Baumann, 18, of West Babylon, L. I., threw a garbage can through the couple's front window.

Although Baumann maintained after his arrest Friday night that the incident was merely the climax of a drinking spree and that he did not know the couple was colored, the civil rights groups said they did not believe his story.

A SPOKESMAN for CORE and the Massapequa Committee on Intergroup Relations said the unarmed volunteer guards would remain at the home of Elbert and Daisy Ford indefinitely.

The incident came less than a month after the arrest of five white youths in cross - burning and window - breaking incidents at the home of a racially-mixed couple in a predominantly white neighborhood in East Meadow, L. I.

Baumann was arraigned on a misdemeanor charge of malicious mischief in Mineola District Court Friday before Judge Beatrice Burstein. Also there were the Fords and the Youth's father, who apologized to the couple and said he was ashamed of his son.

Judge Burstein set bail at $500 but suggested to the boy's father that he not post his bail "for awhile" to give his son a taste of jail. The father indicated that he agreed.

Chick Webb Concert Band plays for culturally deprived class

By ADAH K. JENKINS

ter Concert Band presented at the Wednesday assembly of Dunbar High School Summer Enrichment and Remedial Program.

Under the direction of Robert A. Smith, a Dunbar faculty member, the intercultural ensemble of 40 musicians, performed with zeal and efficiency.

An audience of several 100 students, who are participating in the enrichment project, lent appreciative attention to the swell planned concert. Programmed were modern works of especial appeal to the present generation.

Schlentine's "Miracle" and "Pennsylvania Sketches" were picturesque and descriptive. A decidedly worthwhile innovation was the use of five students who read program notes. They were Darlene Days, Veronica Blackwell, Ava Kemp, Franklin McDaniel and Dorothy Pickette.

Members of the orchestra, who appeared as soloists with the ensemble were Barbara Smith, trumpetist and Edward Jeffers, saxophonist.

The audience joined two vocalists from the student body — Carolyn Talbot and Viola Woods — in the final number "My America".

Playing in the four-year-old band were instrumentalists from various sections of the city including:

Charles Strother, clarinetist and Isaac Morehead, oboist, both of whom are participating in the Youth Ensemble at the Peabody Summer session. Strothers is a June graduate of Dunbar High School.

RALPH SMITH, vice principal, introduced the program and Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, principal, spoke on the objectives of the Enrichment and Remedial project. A number of adults from the community were present.

It is quite evident that the project is bringing the long-needed "wider horizons" to many of our young people. It reminds one of a Biblical passage from Handel's oratorio "Messiah" —", the people who sat in darkness have seen a great light".

REV. ROBERT L. SMITH, a clergyman whose career embraces theology and concert singing, was guest soloist at St. Martin's Church of Christ.

The baritone, who studied at Wilberforce, is associated with the National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress. His program and his concert tours have taken him to 40 states and to South America.

For the Baltimore concert, the Rev. Smith elected a program of religious works, including arias from two well known oratorios and spirituals.

He was accompanied by W. Sherman Smith, of Washington, formerly of this city. Sharing the program was Richard G. Richardson, Jr., among whose talents is that of composing.

He has written an oratorio "Christus", two cantatas, "A Child Is Born" and "Calvary" and a musical play, "Fantasia Americana". These have been done locally by the Baltimore Youth Guild, the Passion Singers and Singing Cadets, all of which he directs.

At the Friday evening concert, Mr. Richardson presented his piano versions of his ballet suite "Episode", which was featured at the 1955 Fine Arts Festival at Morgan State College, "Loving You", the ballet music from his musical play, "Another SVPRING," "Valse Passione".

The musical was sponsored by The Men's Day Committee of St. Martin's Church of Christ, 405 Orchard St.

MAIL BOX: From Buffalo, N.Y., a growing account of a week end spent there by the Piano Teachers Activity Group, as guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Willard A. Williams (formerly of Baltimore).. Mrs. Williams (Annie Laurie) was an Parker.

"These misnamed laws impair the rights of all workers to collectively bargain with management, but they especially hurt the colored American worker since he so often has the job with the lowest pay and most oppressing working conditions — and so particularly needs effective union representation."

CURRENT FEDERAL law "inconsistently" requires the union to bargain for all employees — even those who are not members of the union," the Michigan Democrat added.

He contended that this situation puts the union in a weak position of "fighting for someone's benefits without having someone's support."

Conyers said few men on the job claim they do not want to share in the obligations of the union while reaping the advantages. He pointed out that the advocates of "these 'destroy - the - union' laws are the same people who fight improvements in minimum wage and maximum hours laws, social security and unemployment compensation."

ALSO ON Tuesday, Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D. - Mih.) introduced two bills to abolish the death penalty under all laws of the United States.

One of the proposals would authorize life imprisonment in lieu of the death penalty. The other proposed a Constitutional Amendment to prohibit States from imposing the death penalty.

Diggs, the senior of two colored Congressmen from Michigan, said he supports the abolition of the death penalty because he is convinced that it does not serve as a deterrent to murder and heinous crimes.

"IT IS a barbaric example of inequality of justice," Diggs added. He referred to recent studies showing that 9,270 persons were murdered in this country last year, but only 15 were executed.

Only a few of the murderers apprehended and convicted in such cases are put to death, he observed, because "they commit their crimes in the wrong States or because of capriciousness of juries, or skill of prosecuting or defense attorneys, or because they could not afford adequate counsel. Seldom does a rich man die for

African quarterly will be published

NEW YORK — A new English language African quarterly journal, the AFRICAN FORUM, will begin publication in July, it was announced by Dr. John A. Davis, president, The American Society of African Culture, who will serve as editor.

Under preparation for a year, the AFRICAN FORUM is international in scope. It will reflect the contributions to world culture of the colored American and the African as part of their development and emergence on the world scene.

"AMSAC's purpose," Dr. Davis said, "has been to educate Americans about the great contributions Africans and people of African descent have made to the world of music, dance, sculpture, and painting — in short, to the arts which man has always considered among the most enduring and significant of his efforts on earth."

active member of the group and one of our most progressive piano teachers during her residence here.

Assisting hostesses were Mesdames Malone, Ash, Holmes and Richmond, all members of the Crescendo Chapter of the National Association of Negro Musicians.

One of the outstanding events was a piano recital sponsored by the Metropolitan Music Club, N. A. N. M., presenting Franklin Clendening and Donald Hilliard.

Mr. Clendening's program consisted of the Schuman cycle "Scenes of Childhood", four Chopin "Preludes" and excerpts from "Carnaval" (Schuman).

The Beethoven "Pathetique" Sonata, Debussy's "Sunken Cathedral," "Little White Donkey" (Ibert) and a Second "Valse" by Coleridge - Taylor comprised the numbers played by Mr. Hilliard. The concert was held in Livingston Hall.

Following the affair the Baltimore visitors were guests of honor at a reception given in the home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

The week end also included a visit to Canada and dinner in the Observation Tower, which faces the Horseshoe and the American Falls.

There was a tour of six churches under the jurisdiction of the Rev. Mr. Williams, head of the Department of Education in the Methodist Church in the Buffalo area.

Group members attending were Mesdames Mildred Bryant, Lantha Clark, Gladys Davis, Gwendolyn Lassiter and Katrine White; Miss Norma Robinson and guests — Mesdames Lyrtle Lee and Nellie

NEA urals curb on teachers' firings

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — An official of the National Education Association (NEA) called today for the retention of all teachers for "at least one year" after southern white and colored schools become integrated.

According to the NEA and other organizations, some 5,500 southern colored teachers will lose their jobs when all - colored schools are closed and their pupils shifted to previously all - white schools.

Samuel B. Ethridge, assistant field secretary of the NEA Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities, told a meeting of 13 civil rights and other organizations here that there should be no "sudden arbitrary and unilateral dismissals."

"Many valuable educators have been forced to give up positions, homes and status in their chosen communities to seek a livelihood elsewhere," Ethridge said. "Thousands of young people have been crippled for life by districts which substitute tokenism for justice."

Ethridge said the retention of the teachers for a year after integration "would allow for the absorbtion of most surplus positions through normal turnover of personnel."

He said it also would permit "the teachers to make individual adjustments to the integrated situation."
