MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP E. B. BYRD, JR. were married in the Brown Memorial Baptist Church, Baltimore, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Byrd is the former Miss Paula Lucille Lewis.

Ritual in Brown Memorial for Miss Paula Lewis, Phillip Byrd

Miss Paula Lucille Lewis Phillip E. Byrd Jr., exchange marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony in the Brown Memorial Baptist Church, Monday afternoon at one.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul J. Harris, grandfather of the bride.

* * *

THE BRIDE, daughter of Mrs. James C. Adams, was given in marriage by her father, Tazewell Lewis. She was a vision of loveliness in a gown of silk organza dramatized by applique and sequin designs around the neckline and bottom of the skirt. The gown was set off by long sleeves and the Princess line effect accentuated by a chapel train.

Her shoulder - length veil of illusion was attached to a matching crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a family prayer book topped with a white orchid and stephanotis and holly.

The blue floor - length gowns of her attendants were strikingly contrasted by their bouquets of red carnations, holly and gold ribbons.

Mesdames Adams and Byrd wore jacket dresses of pink and blue brocade, respectively, with accessories matching each. Their corsages were white orchids.

* * *

SHE WAS attended by Miss Sondra Banfield, maid of honor: and Misses Marguerita Adams, Quinlaine Hawkins, Ethelda Hawkins and Yovonda Hawkins, bridesmaids. The latter three are the cousins of the bride. The honor attendant was gowned in coral and the bridesmaids in blue, each carrying a bouquet which accentuated the holiday theme, red.

Tanya Lewis, wearing a white nylon t - tied frock, was in the role of flower girl.

* * *

WESLEY E. CARTER of Richmond, Va., a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were: John W. Foster of Petersburg, Va.; Garland Lipscomb of Harrisburg, Va.; a cousin of the bridegroom, William A. L. Lewis Jr. of this city, and Gene Brown of Gordonsville, Va.

A program of nuptial music was provided by Rudolph Wilson, organist; and Mrs. Delores Jones of Omaha, Neb. and this city.

* * *

THE NEW Mrs. Byrd, a graduate of Bennett College, is a teacher in this city's school system. Mr. Byrd, who did his undergraduate work at Virginia State College, is a student in the Medical College of Virginia University.

Following their return from northern wedding trip they will be at home in this city.

Miss Patricia Greene weds Thomas Brown

Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church was the setting, Monday afternoon, for the wedding of Miss Patricia Greene of this city and Thomas Brown of Norfolk, Va.

The Rev. Robert T. Newbold, pastor of the bride's church, Grace United Presbyterian, performed the ceremony. Organ music was by Eugene Belt of Brown Memorial.

* * *

MISS GREENE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Greene, will graduate from Bennett College in Greensboro, N.C. in June. She is majoring in English and creative writing.

She is a member of the Honor Society and is listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." She spent her junior year as an exchange student from Bennett to Syracuse University.

Her father, an attorney, is in the Legislative Division of the Post Office Department. Mrs. Greene is an elementary school counselor in Baltimore.

* * *

MR. BROWN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Brown of Norfolk. Mr. Brown is a business carrier for the Post Office. Mrs. Brown is a retired kindergarten school principal.

The bridegroom is a graduate of A and T College in Greensboro, and is a resident engineer with Veterans Administration, stationed in New York City, where the couple will live. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

* * *

FOR HER WEDDING, the bride wore a gown of heavy champagne satin, the princess line emphasized by a self yoke. Her veil of imported illusion with wide cuff of Alencon lace was held by a white poinsettia, of satin, and fell from the crown to form the full chapel - length train.

She carried a cascade of white poinsettias, holly and stephanotis.

* * *

MISS LINDA WYATT of Hastings - on - the - Hudson, N.Y., cousin of the bride and a sophomore at Hood College in Frederick, Md., was maid of honor. Her ensemble was a floor - length gown of pink velvet, matching bow hat and shoes. She carried a cascade of red poinsettias and holly.

Bridesmaids were Misses Carole Turner of Hollis, N.Y., Patricia Boggs of Washington, Ernestine Mitchell of Washington, Marion Hart of Rensselaer N.Y., and Sondra Banfield of this city.

Their gowns were in red velvet, worn with the bow hats, and they carried cascades of pink poinsettias and holly.

Antoinette Brown of Portsmouth, Va., niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and the ring bearer was Kevin Ray of this city, cousin of the bride.

* * *

WILFORD BROWN JR., of Portsmouth, Va. was best man for his brother. Ushers were John Edwards 3rd, of Norfolk; Johnny Hayes of Norfolk, Jerry Fite of this city, Orris Walker Jr. of this city and William Young of Washington.

* * *

MRS. GREENE wore a three - piece floor - length jacket gown of aqua silk with jeweled shell, matching flower hat and shoes. Mrs. Brown selected an emerald - green brocade floor - length jacket dress with matching flower hat and shoes. Both wore orchid corsages tinted to match their gowns.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

Friends of the bride who assisted with greetings and registering the guests were Misses Granville Williams, ReEdda Williams, Judith Jones, Ellen Lowenberg and Barbara Lewis.

* * *

THE REHEARSAL supper at the bride's home was hosted by Mesdames William Gosnell, Ivan Higgins, Alfred Moore and Orris Walker Jr.

CEREMONY IN Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, united Miss Patricia Diane Greene and Thomas Brown.

Miss Wilson becomes bride of Lee Brown

Miss Shirley Mae Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilson, Sr., became the bride of Lee Floyd Brown Christmas Day.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Butler.

* * *

THE WEDDING took place in the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church at four in the afternoon. The Rev. I. L. Williams officiated at the double - ring ceremony. Mrs. Hazel Williams was organist and Miss Dwyne Williams, soloist.

Miss Wilson was given in marriage by her father, and attended by Mrs. Piney Howard of Brooklyn, N.Y., matron of honor.

* * *

BRIDESMAIDS were Mrs. Mamie Reid, Mrs. Christine Wilson, Miss Rosetta Nichols, Mrs. Juanita Broddie and Miss Mae L. Seward.

Junior bridesmaids were Misses Sherlyn Reid, Sheila L. Reid, Sheron D. Malon and Jeanita Springfield.

Miss Carolyn Akins and Sheryl Lynn Reid were flower girls. Ronald Malone was ring bearer.

Ushers were Bruce Wilson, Johnnie Wilson, Joseph Boddie, Gordon Quarles and Wade Johnson.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of white satin designed with an empire waist line and a chapel train originating at the neckline. She carried a nosegay of white roses.

The attendants wore gold-colored gowns made with velveteen tops and brocaded bottoms. Their flowers were nosegays of red and white poinsettias.

The flower girls and junior bridesmaids also wore frocks made with velveteen tops and brocaded skirts. Their flowers were parasol bouquets.

A reception was held following the ceremony at 2427 E. Chase St.

Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Dunbar High School and the Comptometers School. Her husband, also a graduate of Dunbar High School, is a senior at Morgan State College, where he is majoring in biology.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Handel's oratorio 'Messiah' heard here again for Yule

It would not seem like Christmas unless we heard that magnificent treasury of music — Handel's oratorio "Messiah".

There was ample opportunity on the local scene, with performances by The Handel Choir, conducted by Saul Lilienstein; the Great Hymns Choir, at Sharp Street Methodist Church, directed by Dr. Daniel Rideout; the Douglas High School Chorus, with guest soloists and trained by Marion Smith; and the combined choirs of Douglass Memorial Community Church and the Eubanks Chorale, with J. Spencer Hammond on the podium.

It is interesting to note that the second performance of "Messiah", held in Dublin Ireland, was given by two cathedral choirs. The collaboration of the two choral groups at Douglass Memorial proved to be a most successful venture, with admirable strength-ening of the complex counterpoint in difficult choruses.

The dramatic contrasts in interpretation were well marked; as in "The Glory of the Lord" with its hushed ending of the expectant miracle. "For Unto Us a Child is Born", began with a mystic quietness, followed by the triumphant exultation of "Wonderful Counselor."

A bass of promising dimension and control was heard in William Garrett, while Joyce Jones, soprano and Prindle Hawkins, also handled their arias with confidence and vocal technic that bespoke careful training.

Although the upper range tended to be slightly strained Millard Strickland gave an effective account of the tenor assignments. Irene Spady and Florence Shipman were soprano and alto soloists also.

With Donald King at the console, both registrations and technic afforded excellent support to the dynamic conducting of Mr. Hammond and also gave musicianly reading of the difficult score, which was written originally for an orchestra.

Joseph Eubanks is director of the choral and Mack Statham, accompanist, while Juanita Hall Davis is organist for the Douglas choirs.

* * *

A YOUNG organist of considerable talent and assured technic was heard Sunday when Edward Carrington Myers was presented at Douglass Memorial Community Church, under the sponsorship of the Sanctuary Choir of Union Memorial Methodist Church.

A 1963 graduate of Douglass High School and now a senior in the School of Music and Art of Central State University, Wilberforce, Ohio, Mr. Myers studied organ at the Peabody Summer School in Baltimore.

He displayed a fluent command of the resources of the great organ and promising musicianship that will develop, no doubt, into more mature phrasing and more imaginative registrations.

The concert included an exciting "Toccata" by the early German, Pachelbel, three Bach Advent Choral Preludes; the J. S. Bach "Prelude and Fugue in E minor"; Franck's Second Chorale and three works by the contemporary French composer, Jean Langlais.

Young Myers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Myers and the grandson of Rev. and Mrs. N. B. Carrington.

Last minute shoppers who left their, many duties to attend the holiday concerts, Dec. 22nd and 23rd by the Baltimore Symphony were well repaid for their efforts.

Opening with a contemporary work by the Pennsylvania composer, Samuel Barber, the orchestra, under the direction of Elyakum Shapira, its assistant conductor, gave an elegant reading. The flowing lyrics, exciting rhythms and rich orchestration afforded a striking example of late Romanticism and modern influences.

* * *

THE SYMPHONY of the evening was Beethoven's Seventh, sometimes called the "dance" symphony, because of its varied and joyful rhythms and exuberant color. Last Tuesday the slow movement - "Allegretto" - seemed lacking in warmth and emotional quality.

In the youth Israeli pianist, Daniel Barenboim, one heard a rising star on the musical horizon - "young master at the keyboard". He surmounted the technical difficulties of the Brahms Concerto in D minor, without forfeiting eloquence of its beauty.

As his collaborator the orchestra measured up to the high standards of its guest soloist.
