MRS. ROLAND WILLIAMS and Mrs. Charles W. Cephas were co - hostesses to the meeting of the Northwest Child Study Group, Friday evening.

The session was held in the Williamses' Hilton Rd. home, where a delightful service, games and a business session occupied the evening.

In the business category were discussion of plans for the group's first dance, to be held in the fall.

The meeting was attended by:

Mesdames Daniel Skinner, president; Robert Payne, Albert Laforest, Ronald Scott, Harold Sheffey, Howard Collins, Lawrence Waters, David Driver, James Flint, Harold Clark, Otis Sprow, Samuel Myers, Randolph Myers and George Parrish.

Absent was Mrs. Ellen Johns who is recupering at her home following surgery.

Mesdames Payne and Anita Myers Were winners at games played.

THE CLAN had a variety of parties during the past weeks. Jennie White, Myrtle Strong, Neonta Carbin, Deelear Wing, Elizabeth Young, Ann Woods and Bernice Turner make up the group.

With their spouses the girls enjoyed a theatre party at Beaver Dam Theatre at Oregon Ridge.

Following a buffet supper they saw the play "Gaslight."

A few days later the group went to Allenberry, Pa., where, following a fabulous smorgasbord at Allenberry Inn," they saw the mystery hit "Ten Little Indians." Enroute home they breakfasted in York, Pa.

And, of course, there was their party, held in the home of Bernice Turner.

In addition to the husbands: Jack Royster, Travis White, Jack Corbin, David Turner, Charles Young and James Strong, guests included:

The Robert Scotts, the James Bundys, the Jay Lees, the John Lyles and Eva Creigler.

Neonta Corbin was hostess at luncheon for the group. Extra guests at this affair were Leana Ferrell and Doris Carter.

THE CREOLES, a Sunday ago, carried out their charity projects for the year.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Willie Valentine, they went to the Anna Mae Hunter Home for the Blind, where they made a donation of $100 to aid that project.

Then they got into a couple of Red Cross station wagons and went to Henryton State Hospital in Sykesville, where they held a party for 50 inmates.

There was music for dancing, gifts for the honorees, and confections served. The visit to this institution was especially helpful, this being one of the most recently opened facilities and not many groups visit.

Incidentally, Miss Shirley Spath of the Red Cross Entertainment Service, will be happy to make arrangements for groups to visit.

The Creoles are Mesdames Rosita Uncles, Margaret Hawkins, Margaret Austin, Elizabeth Ford, Margaret Durham, Catherine Young, Willie Valentine, Romaine Taylor, Elizabeth Phillips.

PEREGRINATORS: This a sentimental journey for Elise (Mrs. Raymond) Hunt, who was off Tuesday for Columbia. Mrs. Hunt has not been to the South Carolina city in 36 years, since her father, the late Rev. E. H. Coet, was minister at Big Bethel A.M.E. Church there. Old schoolmates and classmates welcomed her with an elaborate reception on Tuesday night, and her calendar for the 10 - day visit is filled to the brim. She will be the house guest of Mrs. Betty Roache. (Another sentimental note. Their grandchildren married each other). From Columbia Mrs. Hunt will go to Orangeburg, S.C., where she will visit with Mrs. Bertha Williams of State College.

Dorothy Lee Davis is back home from San Antonio, Texas, where she went to holiday with her daughter, Mrs. Obie D. Robinson, and grandchildren, Obie, Jr. and Teresa.

Major Robinson, who formerly taught military science and tactics at Morgan State College, is with a U.S. Advisory team in Vietnam.

Mrs. Davis took her mother, Mrs. Grace Campbell of Washington, along, so that there were four generations in the Texas city for the visit. 'Twas 70 - year - old Mrs. Campbell's first air flight.

Three members of the Baltimore Chapter of the Continental Societies, Inc., journeyed to Goldsboro, N.C. last weekend to attend the business meeting of the Central Advisory Committee who meet twice annually to guide the functioning of the nine chapters which hold membership. Mattie Mumby and Helen Gattis represented the Baltimore Chapter and Sue Miles presided at the business meetings national chairman of the Central Advisory Committee.

Much of the business meeting had to do with the 1966 conclave which will be held in Bermuda with that chapter serving as hostess.
