In the affair between Doctor Claude & Capt Scott the morning of the 14th Oct after exchanging a few agreed by the second Capt Peter's Bankhead, that Capt Scott should acknowledge that the impression he made use of to Doctor Claude was wash and drawn forth by a letter of that Doctor which tended to humiliate him, and that he entertained no unfriendly sentiments towards the Doctor The Doctor assured Capt Scott that he meant nothing personal at the commencement and that he was disposed to be on friendly terms, the affair here terminated
