tween here and Vietnam."

The records would be rushed to the Defense Department as soon as they were located, Col. Steele told the AFRO.

SPEC. 4 CHESLEY, whose home was at 1205 N. Etting St., died Feb. 5. His discharge was refused him in December by his commanding officer, before his unit was sent to Vietnam.

Chesley applied for the discharge in June after he learned his father was unable to support his family due to injuries sustained on his Department of Education job following the young soldier's re-enlistment into the Army.

In another development in the case, the AFRO learned that Chesley's commanding officer sent his hardship discharge application to the wrong agency for checking on its validity.

COL. STEELE said Army regulations state that the hardship application of an enlisted man shall be referred to the local Red Cross for checking when the commanding officer is unable to make a decision on the basis of the documents contained in the application alone.

If the applicant is a draftee, Col. Steele said, the case will be referred to the Selective Service System, and finally, the local draft board.

Even though Spec. 4 Chesley was an enlisted man and had never even registered for the draft, his commanding officer mistakenly sent his case to the State Selective System.

STATE SELECTIVE Service records show that State Director Brig. Gen. Henry C. Stanwood received a letter Nov. 17 — more than four months after the application was first made — asking that the case be checked on.

Brig. Gen. Stanwood returned a letter Nov. 19 stating that Spec. 4 Chesley had never registered for the draft and so he was unable to comment on the case.

Apparently no further checking was made locally on the case.

Mrs. Majorie Moyer, supervisor of service to the military of the Baltimore Red Cross, said she had not been asked to prepare a report on the case.

MRS. MOYER said she was often asked to prepare social histories of a soldier's family for branches of the Armed Services in the case of hardship applications.

She said the only communication she's had concerning Spec. 4 Chesley was after his death when the Army asked the Red Cross to check on his brother Timothy's application for emergency leave to come home for the funeral.

Timothy, 20, enlisted in the Army about a month ago and is now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers, is 31 years old. He was born Sept. 16, 1934.

The first colored players to compete on a professional level in basketball were members of the New York Renaissance, who performed in the twenties, and became nationally known for their tours with the Original Celtics.

On that first Rens club were George Fiall, Pappy Ricks, Harold Mayers, Eyre Saitch, Willie Sanders, Fats Jenkins and Slocum.

Dovage Minor and Don Barksdale of the Fort Wayne Pistons, were among the first to play in the Western Basketball Association, and Earl Lloyd and Harold Hunter of the Washington Capitols were pioneers in the Eastern League, the two circuits which later merged to become the National Basketball Association.

techniques that Judge Cullen would grant the new hearing next week.

FOLLOWING A call from the protestors' attorney, W. A. C. Hughes, Mrs. Sarah J. Bundy announced the "cheering news" to the 40 people in attendance that the license for the package goods store would be reviewed.

Although a State statute requires the denial of a liquor license when over 50 per cent of the property owners within 200 feet of the proposed outlet object, the rest of the meeting went on as planned, with CORE's Jim Griffin instructing the group in proper methods of picketing and demonstration.

Mrs. Bundy said later that "we still don't regard our victory as a sure thing."

According to Mrs. Bundy, president of the Cherry Hill Coordinating Council, thirty families — well over 50 per cent of those within 200 feet of the store — have signed a petition against it. Only 9 signatures appear before Judge Cullen.

Previously the residents had relied on massive protests and petitions to carry their point.

TO BE included in the picketing — which will be dropped if the group is successful in the rehearing — were the home of Mrs. Molofsky and the offices of Edward A. Myerberg and Co., owners of the shopping center.

For the first day scheduled for protest — Sunday, March 6 — Mrs. Bundy said a "busload of pickets" would leave Mrs. Molofsky "know how it feels to be invaded without the consent of the people."

The owners of the shopping center, the protestors also felt, should go along with the wishes of the people and not rent the store for package goods.

If the new hearing turns out successfully, the fighters would next press for an ordinance to prohibit liquor stores in Cherry Hill, Mrs. Bundy promised, since all except the shopping center is residential area.

As part of the basis for his decision to grant a liquor license in Cherry Hill, Judge Cullen noted a petition containing about 500 names of people who were in favor of the license.

The AFRO subsequently exposed improprieties concerning many of the names on that petition — including ghosts, underage signers, wrong addresses, duplicates of names and people who thought they were signing the petition "against" liquor.

BROWN — In loving memory of our dear mother, ELIZABETH ANN, who passed away February 21, 1946:
A picture we see of a beautiful face,
Reflecting all image of heavenly grace;
A picture which shows many traces of care,
And yet an expression of sweetness are there.
The work of an artist, the lovelliest work
A picture of "Mother" that is framed in our hearts;
And though she has crossed to her heaven of rest,
Sweet memories of Mother lie wrapped in our breasts.
The print of her footsteps again we can see,
Her voice we hear, saying "My dears, follow me;"
No artist can paint us a picture so fair;
It takes a true mother, her love, faith and prayer.
REMODES BACON, EVIN BACON JOHN BROWN, ALICE BACON DUPREE.

CHAMBERS — In loving memory of our dear brother, WAYELEY CHAMBERS, who passed away February 14, 1960:

Gone, dear father, gone forever,

But death has left a vacuum
The world can never fill.

How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a vacuum
The world can never fill.
