10 policemen are promoted

Making his selections "strictly from the top of the list," Police Commissioner George M. Gelston Tuesday promoted three men to lieutenant and seven to sergeant.

Gen. Gelston stated that "these vacancies have existed a long time," and for that reason he picked the men best qualified under the present system, through grades on the civil service test.

Promotions, which became effective Thursday, were:

To lieutenant — Sgts. Frank A. Aconora, Southern District; Gardner J. Stanke, Northern District, and James A. Kelly, Northwestern District.

To sergeant — Patrolmen John C. Leitz, Police Academy; August B. Loetz, Chief Inspector's Office; Michael M. Borrell, Traffic Division, Samuel A. Alvey, Northern District; Paul F. Reinsfelder, Southwestern District and Vincent S. Cusimano, Eastern District.

Gelston said that he hoped the future selection process would include training programs and a series of tests, but for the present he picked the best qualified men available.

"These men took the test in good faith" under the system, he explained.

Man ordered to give $365 to 1 of his 2 girl friends

A Criminal Court decree Tuesday demands that Earl D. Chatman, a 42 - year-old construction man who works in Washington, pay a sum of $365.84 to one of his two girl friends within four months.

Married and earning in excess of $100 a week, Mr. Chatman was found guilty of charging $90.81 worth of clothing to the department store account of one of the women taking a sum of $275 cash from her personal funds and making off with her new coats when he became "cross with her" earlier this winter.

Judge Gilbert Prendergast, in demanding that the girl friend be reimbursed stated, "If he fails to make regular monthly payments and misses one single payment, he goes directly to jail for six months."

According to Judge Prendergast, Mr. Chatman who resides in the 2300 block W. Lafayette Ave., is "quite a versatile man."

Under direct questioning from the bench, Mr. Chatman admitted he has a wife, two children and two girl friends with whom he has been "very close".

He has now abandoned Mrs. Sallie Durham, 400 block Walton Ct., the girl friend who had him arrested for taking her belongings.

He testified he wants "nothing more to do with her". He revealed on the stand that he has moved in with another girl friend since his arrest.

• • •

*FOR HER court room appearance, Mrs. Durham was smartly dressed in a white fur coat and matching fur hat.

She testified the clothing Mr. Chatman purchased for himself on her charge account is still at her home. The garments he removed from her wardrobe include a suede coat, a red wool coat and a beige wold coat, she stated.

The first time the couple appeared in court was before Judge Basil Thomas on Jan. 21 in Western Police District.

However, Chatman appealed the 90 - day sentence he received there to the higher Court claiming he was not guilty.

When Judge Prendergast in Criminal Court changed the sentence to six months in the House of Correction and suspendd it providing restitution is made, he stated:

"A man with a wife, two children and two girl friends has quite an overhead, but he should make restitution.

"I have the distinct impression Mrs. Durham would not have preferred charges if he were not guilty."

He finally ordere Mrs. Durham to let Chatman have the clothes at her home "so there will be no further connection between you."

Chatman told the court he will make at least $100 a month payments through the probation department.

Neighborhoods Inc. grant withheld after protest

A previously favorable considered grant of $5,000 to the Baltimore Neighborhoods Inc. by the Board of Estimates from the city's contingent fund was withheld by that body Wednesday, pending clarification on the legality of the move.

This action was taken by the board, after a group of citizens appeared to protest the grant.

They included such persons as Samuel J. Setta, head of the Maryland Petition Committee, a well known segregationist organization George Washington Williams, a veteran outspoken opponent of race mixing; some citizens, and Leo V. Miller, attorney.

Baltimore neighborhoods have been in the forefront for civil rights legislation, including fair housing. However, it is not a city agency.

"Did you have the authority," Mr. Miller asked the board, "to take or to give to a private organization

The city solicitors opinion is his opinion, and not the law."

• • •

THIS ARGUMENT, among the many raised including those against Baltimore Neighborhoods, was the basis on which th board decided to further clarify its legal rights.

Among other action Wednesday, the board approved rental space for a field office in the Gay St. area for the Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency.

Also approved was leasing the first and second floors of the building at 1370 W. North Ave. as a center for adult classes under auspices of the Manpower Development Training Act program.

The Usher Board of Mt. Winans First Baptist Church will hold anniversary services Sunday, Feb. 20. The 11 a.m. speaker will be the Rev. Mrs. Swann of Stevenson AME Church. The 8 p.m. speaker will be Mrs. Audrey Owens of South Baltimore Methodist Church.

Birthday greetings to Miss Charlotte Wing whose birthday is Feb. 18 and to Miss Mary Kyler and Mrs. Martha Watkins with birthdays on Feo. 20.

Mrs. Veneta Outler on 2600 Huron St. was hostess to th Women's Society of Christian Service of Mt. Winan's Methodist Church last Thursday. Mrs. Sadie Blocker is president of the Society.

The marriage of the former Vonita Ann Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Christian of Huron St. to Buster B. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemon Jones of Hollinsferry Rd. took place Dec. 6 at the Star of Bethlehem AME Church.

The Rev. W. K. Woods performed the double - ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. William E. Brown of Mt. Winans Methodist Church. A reception was held in the lower auditorium of the church.

Attending the annual meeting and luncheon of the United Church Women of Baltimore at the Lord Baltimore Hotel recently were the Rev. and Mrs. William E. Brown and Mesdames Sadie Blocker, Veneta Butler, Desdemonia Levi, Mary German, Elizabeth Parker, Esther Johnston, Mabel Patterson, and Gertrude Parker.

Nigeria chief arrest 11

LAGOS, Nigeria — The Military Government of Nigeria has announced the arrest and detention of 11 top politicians in the country.

They include Chief Fani - Kayode, former deputy premier (Western Nigeria); Chief Richard Akinjide, former federal minister of education; Chief C. D. Ankra, former Western Nigeria minister of finance; Chief Babatunde Olowofoyeku, former Western Nigeria justice and attorney general.

A GOVERNMENT statement issued in Lagos said that it was reasonably suspected that these politicians "have each committed certain criminal offenses and it is reasonably necessary to prevent them each from committing certain other criminal offenses."

The action of the Military Government is seen by political observers as the first practical step to rid the country of "corrupt and gangster politicians."

They were all members of the former ruling Nigerian National Democratic Party in Western Nigeria. The leader of the party, who was also Premier of Western Nigeria, Chief Samuel Lادoke Akintola, was killed in the recent Army coup in Nigeria.

Zoning favors Liberty Hghts apartments

A partial victory was won by the proposed builders of an apartment building at 3915-17 Liberty Heights Ave. before the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeal Tuesday despite strong protests from area residents.

Another Liberty Heights Ave. apartments appeal, asking construction of a three-story 22-unit building at 3908, was postponed until March 1.

The appeal Tuesday requested the construction of a four-story apartment building with 64 dwelling units.

THE BOARD ruled in favor of the proposed building, under conditions that the apartments number no more than 40, that 41 parking units be provided and there be no parking on the Liberty Heights Ave. side.

Also among the cases set for March 1, beginning at 1 p.m. in Room 221, City Hall is an appeal asking the housing of 12 families at 1717 E. Chase St.

No hearings are scheduled for the board the coming Tuesday.

Talks cancelled

Robert W. Lee, manager of the New Era Book Shop, Inc. 408 Park Ave. has announced the cancellation of previously scheduled speaking engagements of Dr. Herbert Aptheker on "Vietnam," and Dr. Philip S. Foner on "The Jew, Negro and Working Class".

Mr. Lee said cancellations were made by the Stafford Hotel where the talks were scheduled.

The first talk was to be held on Feb. 17 with Dr. Aptheker, recently returned from Prague, Moscow, Peking and Hanoi.

He is director of the American Institute for Marxist studies. Dr. Foner, once scheduled to speak Feb. 27, is a sociologist and member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Greatest Show 'ladies' require much pampering

"Until you've seen an elephant with a cold, you just don't know how colossal a runny nose can be," Hugo Schmitt said as principal elephant trainer of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

In addition to colds, elephants can be plagued by upset stomach, arthritis, aching muscles, a sore back, an attack of "nerves" and a tendency to mope around and sulk.

The "Greatest Show On Earth" will open March 3 at the Baltimore Civic Center for 11-days and its presentation of the world's largest and most spectacular elephant show, all females, is one of the main attractions.
