Use processed foods when prices go up

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE, food economist

With supplies of fresh vegetables and fruits only fair and prices on the upswing, shoppers might well turn to the vast variety offered by the processed food industries.

The fresh vegetable best buys are winter items which includes white and sweet potatoes, carrots, rutabagas and turnips and yellow onions.

The choice of canned or frozen vegetables can make variety in menus at attractive cost per serving prices. Stores are featuring sales on multiple units of frozen vegetables that are quite attractive. The total pack in 1965 of frozen vegetables was moderately larger than 1964.

* * *

THE PACKS of baby lima as were up one third, ford hook lima moderately larger and the packs of corn and peas were record large. For several of the commodities the large packs were offset by small carryover holdings.

The present status is that stocks generally are in balance with trade needs and the consumer demand is strong. Prices likely will average a little higher than last year. The only commodity in need of marketing aid is green peas as the F.O.B. prices are down sharply and the lowest since 1957.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND J. JOHNSON were married in Metropolitan Methodist Church recently. The bride is the former Miss Shirley Yvonne Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Dixon, who entertained at a reception for the newlyweds, Saturday.

MISS PHYLIS HOWARD will be married to Lincoln Stokes in June. Announcement of the engagement is made this week. The bride-elect, a Morgan State College graduate, is a Delta Sigma Theta sorer and is currently teaching physical education in Baltimore County.

Crusaders plan protest rally

Crusade, U.S.A., an organization of over 80 ministers, churches and congregations, will hold a city-wide mass protest rally on Sunday, Feb. 27 at 4 p.m. at the New Antioch Baptist Church, Hoffman and Eden Sts.

The meeting and participants will demand that Gov. J. Millard Tawes remove Chief Judge T. B. Harrington from the Baltimore Municipal Court. Robert T. Markenke will discuss the dissatisfaction Crusaders have.

The Rev. Elija McDaniel heads the organization sponsoring the rally.

Success story told at Advance Federal

The Advance Federal Savings and Loan Association, which began in February 1957 as a dream in the minds of a handful of men meeting in a basement on Eutaw Place, has grown to be Baltimore's only colored owned federally chartered firm.

The number of its accounts have grown from 67 at the time it was originally chartered by the state in August, 1957 to more than 4,000.

From funds of $6,000 when the charter was issued the firm has increased its total assets to more than $3.5 million.

Its first dividend payments amounted to $209 on June 30, 1958. On Dec. 31 of las year is semi-annual dividend payments came ome $53,000.

* * *

THE MAN behind this startling rise to success is Dr. Winfred O. Bryson, who spoke of the company's history this week in the firm's offices - now in the process of being added to and remodeled - at 1611 W. North Ave.

Dr. Bryson, who was chairman of the Department of Business and Finance at Morgan State College before he took over Advance's operation, said the company was formed to give the city's colored community a chance to work in and use its own savings and loan firm.

"At that time," he said, "many financial institutions wouldn't make loans on properties to colored people, and no financial institution had colored employees working up front or in the office."

* * *

DR. BRYSON was elected treasurer of the original firm founded in the Eutaw Place basement, which was called the Advance Company, and after the state charter was granted the company operated Friday nights and Saturdays out of the Spaulding Realty Company at 1612 W. North, next door to Advance's present location.

Members of the company's board acted as tellers, as there was no staff. There was no payroll until 1959.

After doubling its size every year from 1959 to 1962, Advance reached a million dollars in assets and moved to its present location. It was chartered by the Federal Home Loan Bank on Sept. 27, 1963.

Since then, Dr. Bryson said, there has been a "steady climb" in the company's growth.

* * *

HE ATTRIBUTES the company's success to the fact that people preferred opening accounts at Advance because they were "treated more courteously" than at some institutions and because Advance was more convenient.

For the future, Dr. Bryson said, "We anticipate continued growth. We haven't really scratched the market."

His plans for getting more accounts include increased advertising and facilities. Already nearing completion is a $10,200 expansion of the physical plant with a fire-proof vault and a new president's office taking up the added space.
