FOUR IMPORTANT projects were on the agenda when the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Northwest District of the Baltimore Conference met, Tuesday.

They included the organization of a group of girls on the junior high school level who, with their parents and Mrs. LeRay Stokes, will initiate a program of cultural enlightenment;

The Seventh Assembly to be held at Buck Hills Falls on March 19th and 20th; the Bicentennial of American Methodism to be observed April 21-24; and the annual district meeting of Wesleyan Service Guilds to be held on April 30th at John Wesley Church.

The group was entertained by Miss Lota Howard for this session. Miss Stokes, who is district secretary, presided.

District officers who attended included:

Mesdames Lillian Cornish, Valerie Brown, Louise Seymour, Bertha E. Browne, Rosa Dingle, Nina F. Bean, Mesdames Esther Jackson, Mary C. Allen, Joan V. Shaw, Lelia Cooper, Mamie Sharperson, Constance Brent; and Miss Howard.

BALTIMORE MOLES besported themselves under the gracious hostessing of Helena Hairston, Saturday, when she provided an elegant buffet dinner in her qually elegant Sequoia Avenue manse.

Jo Sloan reviewed and gave a report on the constitution. Plans were discussed for the Boule which will be held in Richmond, Va. in May. And the members planned a cheer and gift shower for Mole Helen Howard of Chicago, who is ill.

At the session were:

Anabel Rawlings, Blanche Beckram, Mary McPherson, Mary Pitts, Celonia Walden, Beatrice Wright, Bernice McDaniels, Emma Dudley, Bertha Forte.

Also Louise Lockerman, Florence Bailey, Carolyn Stubbs, Harriet Trader, Anethia Williams, Josephine Sloan, Lou Lockerman and the hostess, of course.

THE PIERIANS did some Senate snooping, Friday.

The group took a mid-day train for Washington, where they were being entertained by Dr. Jessie Colston. They had lunch in a Senate dining room, at which point they met Senator Tydings and were also briefed by members of his staff.

Later they visited the Gallery, where the Senator was presiding, and after this visited his suite. Then the group split ... some went shopping, some visiting and others, who had business back home, returned to this city.

Back with them was member, Louise Lamb, just returned from Hawaii, where she had spent a semester in study. On the jaunt also were Pearl Brackett, Jewel Moseley, Verniece Reynolds, Arnette Johnson, Celonia Walden, Hilda Higgins, Charlotte Mebane, Lula Mackay, Vivian Washington, and Catherine Wilson.

POT - POURRI: Mixing work with play in New York, last week were Schoolmarms Margaret Gassaway, Clarissa Matthews and Lula Shaw, whose main business was attending the Public School Teachers Association sessions.

The Master Beauticians are making great plans for a trade show, here, April 3, 4, and 5. Sessions will be in Holiday Inn, Downtown.

Miss Jannie Carnell and Mallis Anderson have set a wedding date for March 12th. Their marriage will take place at her home, 753 Linnard St. at 8 p.m. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ford of Blackstone, Va., and Mr. Anderson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson of this city.

C & P faces boom

The recently released annual report of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland proves 1965 to have been a year of record telephone accomplishments.

To keep pace with Maryland's phenominal growth, L. Mercer Smith, C. and P. vice president, told the AFRO that 135,000 telephones were installed in 1965, a record-breaker in the company's history.

Service was improved in 1965 two key areas: long distance charges were reduced and the number of telephones used by Marylanders has been surging to an all - time high.
