Circus is full of dazzling thrills

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus, in its 96th season and its opening evening in Baltimore Thursday, proved that it really has something for everyone.

It opens with a bang of horsemanship, then a story-book fantasy of "Prince Charming."

Although there are many top-flight displays in the middle, such as the Royal Bengal Tigers trained by Charly Baumann and daredevils on the wires, the acrobatics steal the show.

There are clowns all over the place. One instance has a standard Volkswagen bus circle the arena, then all sizes, shapes and conglomerations of clowns climb out, at least a dozen of them.

All three rings are going at once with Harold Ronk as ring-master soloist calling the acts, just two seconds before the audience gives out those frequent awe-struck sighs.

THE SHOW is more than your admission price admits because it is a chance for all ages in the audience to pretend and enjoy the clowns, the animals, the music and the sense of perennial youth the Ringling Bros. Circus always revives.

The elephant chorus line and the gold and green-sequined girls in the "Pussycat Parade" are show-stoppers.

The elephants line up, one with front legs on the back of the one ahead, and the sight is tremendous.

The Circus Owner's Dream come true, three championship four-man-high teerboard acts come true this season with the Eight Halasis, Vrady Troupe and Six Forays, who keep the audience panting while they seem to try to out-do one another.

SAVING THE best for last, the Flying Waynes and Flying Gaonas swing from high wires, cross one over another in mid - air, and catch two-on-a-bar for a fantastic finale.

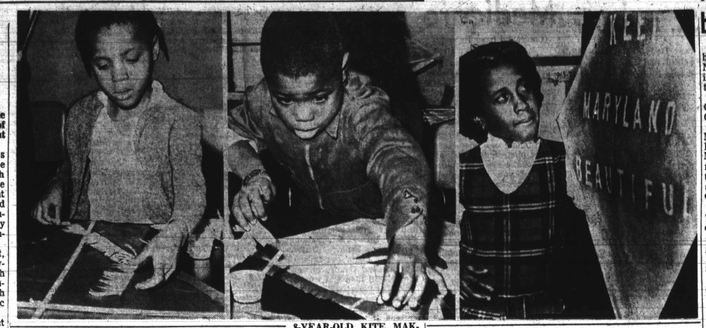
Harold Jennifer, assistant director of the Civic Center told the AFRO that all animals, equipment and costumes would be housed in ring-master soloist calling the OC throughout the 11-day show.

Hank Herrmann, general manager in charge of food and novelty sales told the AFRO the following approximate statistics would be reached before the Circus left:

40,000 boxes of popcorn, 50,000 bags of peanuts, 8,000 cokes and 5,000 hot dogs would be sold.

Cotton candy sales will total 15,000 pieces and 20,000 programs will be bought by audiences.

William Trageser is superintendent of operations.



8-YEAR-OLD KITE MAKERS—Over the city busy youngsters like this trio at the South Baltimore Recreation Center at Sharp and Hamburg are making kites to be entered in March competitions. At work here are Gertrude Price and Pearly Blue, young man center, while Carolyn Saunders admires her Keep Maryland Beautiful design. At stake in March are certificates for first kite up, highest flyer, largest and smallest flyers and for workmanship.

Tinley may join CAC

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin has nominated Sidney H. Tinley Jr., senior vice president of Weaver Brothers, Inc. as the school board member on the Community Action Commission. (CAC)

Mr. Tinley will replace J. Percy Bond, whose term expired Jan. 31. Mr. Bond is currently before the City Council for confirmation for re-appointment to the school board, but has asked that he not be reappointed to the CAC.

The Mayor will submit Mr. Tinley's name to the Council on Monday for confirmation to a term ending next Jan. 31.

Mr. Tinley was appointed to a six - year term to the school board in 1964.

Morgan group issues report on cheating

An Ad Hoc Committee composed of students, faculty and members of the administration of Morgan State College said this week in a position paper that "cheating at Morgan is not a pervasive phenomenon."

The position followed a study on charges of classroom dishonesty.

The issue raised controversy last fall when a white coed at the predominately colored school wrote a letter to the campus newspaper and administration saying that cheating which she observed in several of her classes had gone unpunished.

The complaining student was a member of the Ad Hoc Committee.

Dr. J. Haywood Harrison, assistant professor of education at Morgan, headed the subcommittee which drafted the report on the cheating study.

THE THRUST of the report lists environmental "conditions conducive to cheating" such as: poor preparation on the part of the teacher, unimaginative presentation of courses, reliance on one text source, and failure to encourage classroom discussion.

Also, the report states examinations should be changed each year and only open dishonesty should not go unpunished.

The Administration can help end cheating the report says, "by assuming an end to impossibly overcrowded classrooms and excessive teaching loads."

Revising the final exam as J. Wilcox, schedule and providing "for an adequately expanding and capable faculty" are other remedies.

THE COMMITTEE Report says the student must recognize: 1) that cheating is "unethical and unfair" to others, 2) it has "demoralizing and often devastating consequences" on his later ability to function in "academic, civic and employment situations".

Campus awareness of these, the report states, "would discourage cheating" and individual or organized student effort to stop cheating is welcomed.

THE RESPONSIBILITY to stop cheating at Morgan is placed on the individual student and the teacher who should "challenge a student intellectually."

Faculty and administrative members of the committee included: Walter M. Ryan, chairman, Earl C. Banks, Thomas R. Cripps, Melville Pugh, Clifford D. Dulland, Mrs. Frances B. Hill, and Dr. Ruth Brett, Janice Goldberg, J. Haywood Harrison, Theodore W. Maull, Otto H. Olsen, and Broadus E. Sawyer.

Student members included student body president, Robert M. Bell, Joan C. Bruner, Doris E. Fleming, Anna R. Forbes, Allie T. Harper, Linda M. Hunt, Arnold M. Jolivet, Claire E. Loder, Vashti M. Smith, and Thomas Davis.

M-Sgt. Creigler buried Friday

PALMA award goes to Miss Mae Gintling

Miss Mae Gintling, director of the "Joseph House," was awarded the PALMA Award of the Year at the 14th annual dinner meeting Wednesday night.

The 22 merchants and their employees of the Pennsylvania Avenue — Lafayette Market Association Meeting at the One West Restaurant also awarded an honorary membership to Capt. Dennis P. Mello, commander of the meeting.

Miss Gintling was honored for effective community service. On October 1, 1965 she established the "Joseph House" last Oct. 1. in the Rectory of Immaculate Conception at Mosher and Division Sts.

She works with families from Lanman St. to North Ave. without salary. She has been a registered nurse for 25 years and a Catholic nun for 21 years. She lives with friends in the neighborhood and gets her meals at the rectory.

At the end of her response in which she asked the merchants to help find a building to continue her work, Arnold Kurland of J.J. Brill offered Miss Gintling a free home on McCulloh St.

Leon Allen of Lee's Surplus was master of ceremonies.

Other head table guests were Father Henry J. Offer, St. Peter Clavers; Mrs. Leon Allen, Captain and Mrs. Dennis P. Mello, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Katkow, he is president of PALMA; comptroller Hyman A. Pesstman, Thomas D'Alesandro III, Stanley Samuelson chairman of entertainment committee.

Special guests included Sen. Verda F. Welcome, Del. Clarence M. Mitchell, councilmen Walter Dixon, Maurice Scrogher, both of the Fourth District.

Also Councilman William D. Schaefer (5th D.) S. Edward Smith of the State Office of Economic Opportunity; and Mrs. Ida M. Smith of the AFRO; Reuben Caplan of the Mayor's Committee for Small Business also attended.

Councilman Herman Katkow in his president's report announced a donation of $100 had been made to PALMA for redelvelopment of the business slums in the Pennsylvania Ave. area and long range planning to build up neighborhood shopping area.

Provident Hospital picks Perdue again

Dr. Saul M. Perdue, Baltimore educator, has been elected to his fifth consecutive one-year term as president of the Provident Hospital Board of Trustees.

The Board, meeting Monday night at the Holiday Inn, also re-elected George L. Russell Jr., lawyer and co-chairman of the campaign for a new hospital, as vice-president.

Cordlandt L. Brown was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Caroline Ramsey, prominent in community affairs and a member of the Maryland Interracial Commission, joined the board as secretary.

Dr. Mark Gann, attending surgeon at Sinai Hospital and assistant professor of surgery at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, was appointed to the board along with Mrs. Lena K. Lee, attorney and civic leader.

In the annual report to the board, Dr. Perdue emphasized the continual growth of the hospital. "This has forced the need for a new facility which will be constructed on a tract of land already purchased in Northwest Baltimore.

He said that during 1965 more than 6,000 patients were admitted to the outmoded facility at 1034 Division St. This amounted to more than 43,000 days of patient care.

Dr. Perdue said Provident's Accident Room proved to be the sixth busiest in the city with more than 20,000 visits.

There were more than 26,000 visits to the out-patient clinic during the year, Dr. Perdue said.

IN DISCUSSING hospital improvements during the year, the Board president pointed out the upgrading of salaries, the modernizing of the accounting system, new controls on medical and surgical supplies, a simplified admitting system, a completed recovery room, the establishment of an intensive care unit and a new food service system.

Henry J. Whyte, hospital administrator, said the program will be enlarge during the current year to train technical personnel.

The hospital will actively seek increased membership on the medical staff to effect continual improvement of the educational program and professional care of the patient.

Mr. Russell and Samuel Hecht, co-chairman of the campaign for a New Provident said the drive to date has been a complete success, with the colored community itself having contributed more than $1,000,000.

Mr. Russell said the public will have its first look at the architect's drawings on the building along with a model apartment March 1.

At that time an announcement is expected of a new effort to secure additional funds for the building.

Birthday Tributes

ARMSTEAD — A tribute of love to our loved son, JAMES LEWIS, who passed away March 5, and was passed there 10, 1956:
Since we lost our dear son, our sorrow was the shock I received that night.
I still remember the night
You bade no one a last farewell.
You said goodbye to none,
Took time heart ceased to beat,
And you were suddenly gone.
I think of you often and will to the end,
I will never forget you, nor do I intend.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to my memory you will always be.
God grant you eternal rest.
MOTHER, WIFE and CHILDREN.

NEAL — In loving memory of my husband and our father, JAMES W. (BROAD), who departed this life March 5, 1960, and whose birthday I pay tribute.
God gave the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past,
His ever-patient, worn - out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
LOVING WIFE—LULA.

Gone, dear father, gone forever;
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
SONS CHILDREN.

SMALLWOOD — In loving memory of our father, JOHN W. SMALLWOOD, who departed this life March 5, 1956:

In Memoriams

BAILEY — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, ELZIE L. BAILEY, who passed away March 5, 1955:
A silent thought, a sacred tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear;
Time heals not the sight of grief,
But memory runs back every leaf.
Loving Wife, SERVICE and CHILDREN.

BROWN — In loving memory of my dear daughter, MARGARET, who passed away March 5, 1964:
Our thoughts are wandering when daylight fades,
To the land of long ago;
And memory recalls the scenes of old
In the gold of the twilight glows.
We seem to see in the soft dim light:
The faces we love the best
And think of them when the day is done
Goes down in the far-off West
Although you have been gone all these years,
You are still very much loved and remembered.
Sadly missed by his children
MRS. CLEMENTINE E. KNOX
JOHN H. BROWN, Sr.
MRS. JEANNE M. QUEENS

PETERSON — A tribute of love to the memory of our father, Bernard MORRIS E. PETERSON, who passed away three years ago, February 26, 1963:

Why did she go, when life seemed so fair,
Why the dark clouds cast over life's love,
Or must the bitter tear
Be brought out at the close of day.
Why called earth and sky,
That one so full of life and hope,
Would leave her home and family.
Mother, MAMIE LAWSON

BROWN — In loving memory of my dear husband, JOHN GOLDSON, who passed away seven years ago, March 5, 1959:
God took him home it was his wish
To rest in heaven
Loving Wife — MAGGIE ELIZABETH.

CURRY — In loving memory of my husband LAWRENCE, who departed this life March 7, 1961:
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But no, it isn't true.
For five long years have passed dear,
And my heart still aches for you.
Loving Wife — ELEANORA ELIZABETH.

DAVIS — In memory of ROBERT CLARK SR., who passed away March 7, 1962:
Dear Father, sweet and dear
On March 7th
Out of sight, but still fresh in our memory.
And will always be.
Mother-in-law — MRS. CORDINE C. CARSEY
Children — ROBERT CLARK JR. and ERA CORINNE.

DURHAM — In memory of VELMON DURHAM, who departed this life, March 7, 1956:

LOVING WIFE and SON.

GILES — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, ELZIE GILES, who passed away March 5, 1962:
Dear Father, you left us one day
Unexpectedly and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind
Beautiful memories he left behind.
MRS. ARETTA GILES and CHILDREN.

GRAY — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, CLAYTON GRAY, who passed away March 7, 1965:
Dear God and sudden was the call,
And on death took loved by all.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
We had to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And wish you back in our home.
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
We miss you and we love you still,
Oh, God grant you eternal rest.
Loving Mother, Sister, Brother and Daughter, BEVERLIE BROWN

JOHNSON — In loving memory of our dear son, ANDREW JOHNSON, who passed away March 7, 1965:
Dear to us, dear to our hearts
Sweet memories are a golden chain
Time may take all else we call to mind
Dear to us, dear to our hearts
To the greatest sorrow of one's life
The years may wipe out many a name
But never can they erase the memory of that happy day
When we first saw our son.
MURIEL LEONARD, EVERETT ANDREW JOHNSON

OWEN — In loving memory of our mother and grandmother, LENNIE MAE OWEN, who departed every March 8, 1955:
We can never know how much we miss you;
We can never know the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you.
Life has never been the same,
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweet, tender, fond and true;
There not a day, dear mother and grandmother,
That we do not think of you.
The GREEN FAMILY.

GRIFFIN — In loving memory of our dear husband and our father, WILFORD, who passed away March 5, 1961:
Five years have passed since that day,
When the one we loved was called away.
God took our home — it was His will;
Within our hearts he lives still.
LOVING WIFE and CHILDREN.

LEWIS — In loving memory of my dear husband, JOHN D., who passed away March 6, 1956:
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Though will be done is hard to bear;
When the one you loved has passed away
Sometimes perhaps we'll understand why.
When we meet in that better land.
ALVERTA E. LEACH

LEMON — In loving memory of my dear husband, REV. A. F. LEMON, who departed this life eight years ago, March 3, 1958:
The rolling years bring back memories of life rode on.
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love,
the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
Beloved Wife, BERTIE LEMON and SISTER
