Gadabouting

William F. Laukaitis was speaker.

In the family group were Mrs. Catherine Robinson, a librarian in the U.S. Army Post at Camp Meade; Mrs. Helen Quarles, head of the mathematics department in a city junior high school; Mrs. Celeste Gibson, a postal clerk in the main Post Office Building; Miss Elaine Russell, a dental technician in public schools; Mrs. Phyllis Brown, a city school teacher; George L. Russell, attorney; and Louis H. Russell, a letter carrier.

After the ceremony a dinner party with the family took place in the Emerson Hotel.

THE A.G.N.N.'s were on such a fun-packed trail, Saturday evening, that at one time there it looked as if they just might decide to make it perpetual.

Their hostess, Mrs. Laura Robinson, held forth first with cocktails and dinner at the Play Boy Club . . . then took the group to her home for more fun. Then the notion took them to perk over to Lennie Moore's place for other drinks.

By that time they were hungry again . . . so off they went to North Avenue for more food. Heaven knows at what time their energy ran low . . . but Sunday morning there wasn't an A.G.N.N. perking.

This club includes Mesdames Alice Pinderhughes, Thelma Moore, Gwendolyn Seaborne, Anne Johnson, Ruth Robinson, Hermoine Weaver, Mary Smalley, Pauline Blackwell, Maxine Higginbotham, Hellena Edmonds, Millie Hall, Bertha Forte, Ruth Brown and Elise Clark.

OTHER DATE DATA for your calandar includes the presentation of the Hochstein Sinfonia, of Rochester, N.Y. which will be conducted by Paul Freeman on the 27th Piano soloist will be Jane Sharp, 13-year-old child prodigy.

The concert is being sponsored by the St. Cecelia's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, and will take place in the Carl Murphy Auditorium at Morgan State College. Mrs. Goldia Ford is guild warden, and Mrs. Mabel Frisby is chairman for the concert.

In the same auditorium, on April 3, Morgan State College and the Carling Company will present a concert featuring and a reception honoring Veronica Tyler, Baltimore born soprano.

As Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan president, explains, the Palm Sunday affair goes beyond the usual purpose of a recital by an outstanding artist.

A grant by the Carling Company has made this affair possible primarily to enable citizens to share a cultural experience in the beautiful Carl Murphy Auditorium — Fine Arts Center.

Miss Tyler is one of America's outstanding young artists and a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The Cardigans are hosting a party on March 19th in the Catonsville Armory, which they promise to be fun-filled . . . and which they have themed an "Oriental Garden."

GAMMA BETA Chapter of Chi Eta Phi Sorority, inducted six new members into its chapter, last week. This is a national sorority of professional registered nurses and student nurses from accredited schools of nursing.

Gamma Beta Chapter was organized at the Provident Hospital School in 1953 and was re-activated at the Helen Fuld School of Nursing of Provident Hospital recently.

The six students who pledged for the sorority were Misses Jessie White, Barbara Dean, Cecil Waldes, Sandra Oliver, Patricia Haltiwanger and Barbara Mitchell. They completed successfully a two week probationary period. They were formerly members of the Lampion Club which is the pledge of Chi Eta Phi Sorority, for undergraduate members.

The sorority has organized 40 chapters throughout the country and has over 600 members. It is an organization devoted to establishing a closer union among nurses, promoting higher educational levels and elevating the standards of nursing.

It's Northeast Regional Conference will be held in Philadelphia, Pa., on March 19.

TALK ABOUT "stout hearted men" . . . take those who had the courage to take a Saturday afternoon out to play cards with a whole gang of gals . . . And the nerve to walk off with some of the prizes.

Maybe it was the pure good will of the thing that boulstered them.

The cocktail bridge was at the Dorchester Road home of Dr. and Mrs. George Pendleton, and was one of the affairs being held by the Women's Auxiliary to the Monumental Medical Society to benefit the Teen-A-Rama being sponsored to aid the Provident Building Fund.

The hostesses included:

Mesdames Mary Robinson, Geneva Freeman, Bernice McDaniel, Lillian Dantley, Elmira Collins, Bertie West, Antionette Perkins, Harriet Jones, Elise Hunt.

Mesdames Carolyn Peck, Ernestine Mitchner, Phoebe Goff, Helen Burwell, Linda White, Ruth Jennifer, Gaye Costa, Ethel Payne, Ann Payne, Philathea Hall, Florence Bailey and Susan Smith; and Misses Carrie Johnson and Aurelia Parker.

Robert Lee and Robert Bailey are the guys I referred to, taking prizes. Mr. Lee won a table prize and Mr. Bailey took home a silver plated gift, a door prize.

Other winners of table prizes at cards were:

Mesdames Grace Walker, Audrey Hetherington, Beatrice Hawkins, Margaret Proctor, Norma Hungerford, Inez Bowyer, Bertie West, Cheery Armstead, Harriett Jones and Jessie Valentine.

Eggs helpful in Lenten menus

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE

During the Lenten season may we interest you in fish and eggs as meat alternates that are priced attractively? There are many other food selections to round out menus with economy.

This is the season of the year when flocks of hens are laying heavily and there is more than an ample supply of top quality eggs. March is Egg Month. You will find eggs helpful in planning nutritious, as well as satisfying meals. When you buy eggs look for the statement of Grade and Size on the top of the carton.

THE GRADE of the egg has been determined by interior quality which is judged by candling. When you purchase eggs, you buy on a pound basis since size is determined by weight per dozen. At current prices large size eggs are an economy because they are costing around 44 cents per pound.

Compared to other protein foods eggs are a bargain. Two large size eggs provide the equivalent of a three ounce cooked serving of all lean meat. Servings of meat you can buy for eleven cents are few and far between. Make full use of the economy of eggs.

THERE IS a wide selection of fish available. You may select from fresh water or salt water fish, fresh, frozen, canned or cured. There is also a choice of style in which fish is prepared for market. You may buy a whole fish, dressed; fillets or steaks.

Suggested whole fish are butterfish, yellow perch, Boston Mackerel and Rockfish. Frozen swordfish steaks are in good supply and there is no waste to this type of fish steak. In shellfish, shrimp are in generous supply and sale priced in many retail stores. Canned red salmon is in liberal supply and prices are expected to be lower on this canned fish.

GRAPEFRUIT IS in a period of abundance. The white seedless fruit is about 80 percent of the remaining fruit to be marketed. While prices may advance slightly this citrus is one of the best buys. Look for fruit with a thin skin and heavy for its size. If there is any rust like spots on the rind, remember this does not affect interior quality.

The tart flavor of grapefruit awakes the appetite when it is served as a first should be attractive. Apples the four pound film bags are the most economical on a per pound basis. Look for sales of canned fruit for more advantageous buys.

EGGS FLORENTINE is made as follows:

Butter individual ramekins or casseroles and arrange ½ cup freshly - cooked, finely-chopped, well - seasoned spinach in each. Sprinkle the spinach with a teaspoon of grated cheese, make a slight hollow in the center and drop one or two eggs into each hollow. Dust with salt and pepper, bake in a moderately hot oven (370 F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until the eggs are set and the cheese delicately browned.

course for breakfast, lunch or supper. Bananas are another good fruit buy. Imports are expected to be large in March than they were in February and prices are from storage supplies but

Workshop set on family planning
