Onions, oranges to spark spring menus

One of the inexpensive but useful vegetables the economy - minded homemaker can rely on for appealing and flavorful dishes is onions which are exceptionally plentiful in the Northeast these days.

New York State especially, one of the nation's major onion growing States, has outstandingly large supplies, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

IF YOU'RE planning to take advantage of the abundance remember this is a flavoring agent that can be equally suitable as a vegetable. While onions may be useful for seasoning stews, omelets, and any number of other dishes, it rates high in its own right, too.

Onion soups are easy on the budget, yet appeal even to a gourmet. Creamed onions, onion rolls and bread, and onion pies are but a few good preparations to serve with a main dish feature.

WHEN BUYING onions, keep in mind that long-keeping "Globe" onions, the winter storage crop onions, are stronger flavored than the Spanish or Bermuda types.

No matter which variety you prefer, look for bright, clean, hard, well - shaped onions with dry skins. Take care of them properly and they'll taste their best. Room temperature or slightly cooler is most satisfactory for storing onions.

Here's a menu for a day's good eating making use of foods that are reasonably priced and in plentiful supply.

This recipe for Onion and Cheese Soup can be a specialty for a luncheon meal:

Use one cup chopped onions, two tblsps. butter or margarine, two tblsps. flour, one and one - half quarts milk, scalded, two cups sharp Cheddar cheese, salt and pepper, paprika and minced chives.

To Prepare: Saute onion in butter until soft. Add flour and mix; add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Heat to just below boiling point. Stir in cheese and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve with sprinkle of paprika and chives. Makes 2 quarts.

THIS IS also a wonderful Fine quality, reasonable year for oranges, prices and plentiful supplies have prompted many homemakers to use the juicy, vitamin - C rich citrus to good advantage.

HERE ARE two delectable orange dishes the family and friends will enjoy:

Orange Shortcake. Bake biscuit dough in 2 cake layers: Split and butter while hot. Between layers and on top arrange sweetened fresh orange segments.

Time saving biscuit mix is made with six cups all - purpose flour, one and one - half tsps. baking soda, one and one - half tsps. salt and three - fourths cup shortening.

Sift flour; measure; add soda and salt. Sift 3 times. Cut in shortening until it is like coarse cornmeal. Store tightly covered, in refrigerator.

For 1 dozen biscuits, add three - fourths cup lemon milk to two and one - fourth cups biscuit mix — just enough liquid to make soft dough. Knead slightly. Pat out and cut biscuits. Bake hot oven, 475 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes.

The Lemon - Milk is made by placing one tablespoon lemon juice in measuring cup and adding sweet or diluted evaporated milk to fill three - fourths full. Use like natural sour milk or buttermilk in any baking soda recipe.

ORANGE HONEY BREAD requires two tblsps. shortening, one cup honey, one egg, well - beaten, two and one - half cups sifted all - purpose flour, two and one - half tsps. baking powder, one - half tsp. soda, one-half tsp. salt, three - fourths cup orange juice and three - fourths cup chopped honeyed orange peel or chopped nuts.

To Prepare: Cream fat and honey. Add egg. Sift dry ingredients. Add alternately with orange juice to creamed mixture. Add peel or nuts. Bake in grease pan in moderate oven, 325 degrees for 70 minutes. Makes a 5 x 9 inch loaf.

Honeyed Orange Peel: Remove peel from 3 oranges. Cover this peel with water. Add ½ teaspoon salt. Boil ½ hour. Drain. Cover again with water. Boil until tender. Drain. Cut peel in strips. Bring ½ cup sugar, ½ cup honey and ¼ cup water to boil.

Cook peel in this gently until clear. Cool in syrup several hours. Reheat. Drain. Spread out to dry. Roll in granulated sugar, if desired. Use to flavor and decorate cakes, puddings, breads, etc., as a confection.

Miss Baltimore Pageant opens

The Baltimore Junior Association of Commerce today announced their plans for the 1966 Miss Baltimore Pageant — a competition which has not been held locally for 13 years.

In commenting on the event which is to be staged at Northern High School, McLean Boulevard and Pinewood Avenue, 8 p.m., April 30, Archibald T. Ford, President of the Baltimore Jaycees, has announced:

Fort also stressed that full details and entry forms were available through the Jaycee office, 22 Light Street, Plaza 2-1325.

The Miss Baltimore Pageant is open to all single girls between 18 and 28 who have resided in the city for at least six months. In addition to receiving a $100 U.S. Savings Bond and a handsome trophy, the winner of the Baltimore pageant automatically qualifies for the Miss Maryland competition, which is a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant. Contestants will be judged on the basis of talent, personality, poise and appearance.

MARCH 27

The Baltimore Junior College will present Canadian pianist Lorraine Prieur in the fourth in the Young Concert Artist series at the college, 2901 Liberty Heights Ave. at 8 p.m.

MARCH 31

Annual Sports banquet, 7 p.m. at Recreation Center, 637 Washington Blvd. Howard Phipps, head coach at City College, guest speaker. Boys will be cited for outstanding athletic achievements. James Grant is director.

Plus 30 women told to dress their age

Southwestern fashion designers boldly suggested today that 30 should be the age of the "great divide" between the young and the more mature styling.

The Texas Fashion Creators Association, opening a three - day summer showing in Dallas for fashion writers, stressed that the young in age and body should throw out old taboos but that the more mature figures should dress their age.

IN TRYING to answer the dilemma between the daring and young or the classic and "safe," the designers ended the battle of the hem - line in a draw — setting for the mid - cap. The knee - toping shirt was shown only for the lively under - twenty set.

Offered for this set also was the bare midriff, the cut-outs, crazy prints, culottes and bell bottoms. Added to this active group was the complete jump suit with brass buttons, and the ankle pants, knee skimmers, jamaicas and short shorts.

THE WESTERN look is still around. "down on the ranch" flavor is stronger than ever, with pants and shirts laced up with "raw-hide," top stitching in dude colors of red and brown, and skirts and pants slung from hip belts. Materials run from denim and canvas to bandana prints and country patterns as well as railroad ticking.

Some designers have gone south - of - the - border with a flair for ponchos, ball fringe, strapes, Spanish lace and the hand - loomed look in fabrics. Other influences include paisley and oriental rug prints and the Hawaiian prints, granny jams and fishnets.

THE CITY cousins will still find their sporty look in the "do - it - yourself - suit - wardrobe." There is a revival of the mix and match story. This gives the fashion individualist the opportunity to coordinate her own jacket, pants and several skirt shapes for a unique look

This trend may be found now in the prestige coture lines as well as the traditional sportswear houses.

With air - conditioning, emphasis will be on the cover - up. Jackets are important for the sleeveless and short sleeve dresses and suit blouses. Here again individuality is the key, with the jacket extending anywhere from hipbone to the walking length and the tunic.

HOW THIN SHOULD SPAGHETTI BE?

That depends upon the variety.
But the thinness
of any given variety must be consistent.
Otherwise it won't cook evenly.

Would it bother you if your spaghetti varied more than six one-thousandths of an inch in thickness?

Probably not.
But it would upset the folks who make our Ann Page Spaghetti. They're such perfectionists.
They keep a micrometer eye on the 32 varieties of pasta products we make.

Perfection and care like this go into the making of all Ann Page Foods.

They're as good if not better than the famous nationally known brands...we guarantee it.

Are Ann Page Foods a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.
