Mrs. Swindell is 'Woman of Year'

Mrs. Rebecca Swindel was honored recently as the 1966 "Woman of The Year" at the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, pastored by Dr. Clinton R. Coleman.

The honor is awarded the woman who makes the largest individual contribution toward the success of Women's Day.

• • •

Mrs. Swindell, a cosmetologist, reported $426 as an individual contribution toward the $9,099 total raised.

A loving - cup was presented to the honoree by Mrs. Mary E. Pharr, retiring illist, at the morning worship service Sunday.

Mrs. Swindell, a diligent worker, holds membership in numerous church organizations as well as local civic, social, and business groups.

Rites today for Mrs. M. G. Bevans

Mrs. Minerva Gaskins Bevans, wife of the late George H. Bevans, owner of the Bevans Fuel Company for over 40 years, died on Monday at University Hospital where she had been a patient for five weeks.

• • •

The eulogy will be delivered at the Macedonia Baptist Church today, Friday, at 1 p.m., by the pastor, Rev. Willard Clayton and Rev. John Barnes, pastor of Bethel Temple.

Mrs. Bevans came to Baltimore in 1906. She worked at the Young Girls Christian Home and attended evening school at the Old Colored High School at Pennsylvania Ave. and Dolphin St.

• • •

In 1913 she married the late Mr. Bevans, a native of her home, Accomac, Va.

She was regarded as the "Good Samaritan" to all of her neighbors and friends.

• • •

The surviving members of her family are five children: Harold Bevans, George C. Bevans, Golden Burke, Fannie B. Poulson and Ruby B. Lee; five grandchildren, Carla, Louise, Alan, Stanford and Bret, three great - grandchildren, one sister, one brother, many nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Death of 2 Oblate sisters makes four in past two months

Requiem high mass was sung Wednesday for two of the oldest nuns of the Oblate Sisters of Providence.

Sister M. Mildred Howard, 93; and Sister M. Gertrude Curry, 82, were buried beside each other in the new Cathedral Cemetery, following mass in the chapel of Our Lady of Mt. Providence Motherhouse in Catonsville.

Their deaths followed by seven weeks those of two other nuns, Sister M. Elias Saavadra, 84; and Sister M. Aloysius Wheeler, 81, both of whom died in February. The Elliott Funeral Home handled arrangements.

• • •

IN 1962, Sisters M. Mildred Howard and M. Gertrude Curry observed the sixtieth anniversary of their religious profession and renewed their vows of poverty, chastity and obedience.

Sister M. Mildred was born in Sykesville, Md., the daughter of Alfred and Sarah Howard who gave her the name Catherine, which she abandoned when she entered the convent in 1896.

Most of her service was spent in the Missouri Oblate School, where she was both nurse, and teacher.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews.

SISTER M. GERTRUDE was born in Charleston, S.C., daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John Curry who gave her the name Frances Marie.

She was a teacher, nurse and handleader in the Order during her active years.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bernadette Frazier and Mrs. Emma Cole, both of New York.

• • •

SISTER M. ELIAS, who died in February, was born Zola Saavedra in Cuba. Sister Aloysious, the other nun who died in February was born Henrietta Wheeler in Washington.

Mrs. Sallie Ward

Mrs. Sallie Clark Ward, 73, 1713 Thomas Ave., active fraternal and church worker, died Tuesday at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, after a short illness.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at New Shiloh Baptist Church. The Rev. Harold A. Carter will officiate.

Mrs. Ward was born in Washington, N.C. Her parents were John and Frances Clark.

Her husband, Claude Ward died in 1953.

• • •

MRS. WARD was a member of New Shiloh Baptist Church for 47 years, where she belonged to the senior choir, the King's Daughters, the Wilson's Club, the Missionary Society, the Sunday school and the Baptist Evening Fellowship.

She also was a member of the Dorcas Court No. 11, Grand United Order of Nazarite and the Golding Star Perseverance Court, No. 49, Order of Columbus, Nights of Pythians.

Mrs. Ward is survived by a sister, Miss Rose Clark; and a brother, Arthur Clark.

St. John Methodist Men hear Daniels and choir

Over 300 residents in the Patapasco Park area attended the benefit banquet of the Methodist Men of St. John Methodist Church held last Sunday at Pumphrey Elementary School.

Speaker was grand master Samuel T. Daniels, of Prince Hall Masons, who told how everyone can work for equal rights.

Julius Little presided and the Rev. James E. Adams gave the invocation. Millard C. Strickland was soloist.

• • •

THE AUDIENCE gave a tremendous ovation to the Sanctuary Choir of Emmanuel Community Christian Church, when they sang "Peace Be Still."

They made an impressive figure in their black and yellow robes.

The committee included: Messrs. Albert Bowie, co-chairman; Samuel Galloway; Thomas Edward, Eugene Carter, Alton Coates, treasurer; Bernard Proctor, Arthur Oliver and Herbert Nelson.

Hostesses of the Wesleyan Service Guild included: Mesdames Yolanda Jackson, Grace Williams, Carolyn Gaither and Dolores Young and Misses Sylvia Taylor, Annette Bates, Stacey Gaither, Raynecia Cooper, Susan Thomas and Patricia Alston.

Methodist Men officers are: Messrs. John T. Rose, president (who is now in the hospital); George Carter, vice president; Samuel Galloway, secretary; and Clifton Jones, Jr., treasurer.

Edward Lloyd

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the George G. Kelson Funeral Home for Edward Gray Lloyd, 55, 1928 Fulton Ave.

Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mr. Lloyd, who was employed as a butler for many years, died Saturday, after a short illness.

He was confirmed at St. James Episcopal Church in 1915, and served as an altar boy there.

Mr. Lloyd was born in Baltimore. His parents were Charles and Emma Lloyd. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, died in January of this year.

Surviving are a son, Edward Lloyd, Baltimore; a brother, William J. Lloyd, New York City; and a sister, Mrs. Emma Major, Philadelphia.

Carlinn Rivers

Carrlinn Rivers, 20, 708 N. Fulton Ave., Korean War veteran, died Saturday at Bon Secours Hospital.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Morton and Dyett Funeral Home.

Burial was in Baltimore National Cemetery.

Mrs. Rivers at the time of his death was a social security clerk.

Born in Baltimore, his parents are Troy and Adline Payne Rivers, who survive.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Rivers is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Rivers; a son, Carrlinn Lamont Rivers; 8, two half brothers, Gordon and Sherman Payne, both of Baltimore; and three sisters, Mrs. Doris Smith and Mrs. Mazie Smith, both of Baltimore; and Mrs. Eloise Morgan, New York City.

FIRST BABY to be blessed in Baltimore's new $400,000 Maryland Baptist Church on Sunday was three-month-old Bonnie Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brodnax (Sallie). Both parents are members of the church. The minister, the Rev. W. W. Payne, holds the infant as Mrs. Brodnax looks on. There are two other Brodnax children, Michael, 9; and Frances, 5. Father is a postal employee. The family lives at 2411 W. Mosher St.
