6 Lincoln grads cited for work

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Six Lincoln University graduates have been selected for inclusion in the 1966 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America. All of the young men are under thrty - six years old and have achieved some distinction in their communities or professions. Among these selected were two alumni from St. Louis, one from Jefferson City, and three who live in Washington, D.C. They are:

John Charles Vaughn, '62, who majored in accounting, budget director for the State of Missouri, of Jefferson City.

Earl Wilson, '58, and Jack W. White, '57, both of St. Louis. Wilson is a sales representative for the International Business Machines Corporation and White, who recently returned from an assignment with the Peace Corps in Afghanistan, is working with the Neighborhood Youth Corps in St. Louis.

• • •

LIVING IN Washington are: Eddie L. Madison, '52, Shellie Bowers, '57, and Benjamin T. Lumpkin, '59. Madison, who received a bachelors degree in journalism, is now a public information specialist with the U.S. Department of Commerce. Bowers is an attorney and recently set up a partnership for the practice of law.

FRANCIS HOPKINS is suited for spring in her green and white 3-piece knit from Hendins Hollywood Fashions.

THE SEASON'S smartest ensemble, a two-piece jacket dress. The linen-look in turquoise, cruiseway. A draped straw effect in hat and gloves with woven straw purse. The accessories are white, so right to wear through the spring and summer months. Model Marie Ruff at Goldenberg's, 213 N. Eutaw St., is a representative in the Ladie's Ready to wear department.

Women Voters fete home rule friends

The League of Women Voters held a "Home Rule Day" program Tuesday morning in the Caucus Room of the Canon House Office Building and translated its usual vocal, Capitol Hill lobbying efforts for D.C. home rule into the softer language of flowers.

The members of the League presented bouquets of flowers to special friends of District suffrage.

Mrs. Anthony Schwartz, president of the District League, said, "We aren't going to give or send flowers to everyone who ever did anything for the cause of District suffrage. If we did, this room would be a veritable bower, but we have picked out some particular friends."

The League chose today as a spring focus on the need for home rule, Mrs. William H. Wood, national first vice president explained at the beginning of the short program, because it marks the fifth anniversary of the ratification of the 23rd amendment, the amendment which gave D.C. residents the right to the presidential and vice presidential vote.

• • •

THE LEAGUE, on Tuesday in support of home rule, wired a message to all members of the Senate District Committee which said, "If in your judgment a version of the Senate passed D.C. Home Rule Bill cannot succeed in the House we respectfully urge that you support an amended Chartered Board Bill. We prefer the latter to no bill at all."

The Chartered Board Bill referred to in the telegram is the Sisk Bill passed by the House.

• • •

THE LEAGUE has also recommended 6 amendments to the Charter Board Bill.

The amendments ask for a Charter Board composed of some members appointed by the President and the Congress, and some members elected by the citizens of the District; a Charter Board empowered to investigate D.C. federal relation; the Charter Board be consistent with the jurisdiction granted by the constitution to the existing D.C. Federal Courts; the President and the Congress should be empowered to amend the Charter; a referendum should be held after the Charter has been approved by the President and the Congress and the process should be completed with the fewest possible steps and the shortest possible time.

The League hopes that the ceremony and other activities which are being sponsored by their members across the country will remind Americans that although the fight for the presidential vote for D.C. residents was won five years ago, the battle for home rule is still going on.

Africans plan summit talks

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI)—Ten Heads of State and Prime Ministers from East and Central Africa will meet in a summit session here March 31, it was officially announced last week.

The countries who have agreed to the talks were: Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Malawi, Zambia, Burundi, Rwanda, Congo (Leopoldville), Ethiopia and Somalia.

A GOVERNMENT source said the agreement to hold the meeting was spontaneous and an extension of the regular East African Head of State Meetings between Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania. However, Diplomatic observers here were surprised.

Although no agenda has been set so far, it was considered certain Rhodesia would be the prime topic of discussion and the only subject on which al participants are unanimous.

It also was thought failure of the March 1965, Organization of African Unity Meeting in Addis Ababa and a possible call for the UN to take the initiative from Britain in the Rhodesia crisis would be discussed.

ALBANY, Ga. — Dr. W. E. Johnson, chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics and the Department of Biology, Albany State College, and Ernest W. Benson, instructor in biology at the College, will attend the meeting of the Academic Commission of Biological Science of the University of Georgia to be held April 1 - 2, at the Continuing Education Center on the University campus.
