VOL. LXXXI.-NO. 63. BALTIMORE, SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1877.

A Proclamation by the Governor. A PROCLAMATION.

During the past week travel and commerce upon certain lines of railway in this State, and in other States, have been interrupted by force. The magnitude of the outbreak, which resulted in the interruption of the travel and trade of the country, and the local disorders which attended it, imposed primarily upon the authorities of every State the duty of preserving the peace of the communities in which disturbances existed.

That duty has been thoroughly performed in Maryland, and now the obligation is imposed upon the authorities of the State to insist that all lines of communication upon which the people of the State must depend for intercourse, trade and subsistence even, and which are now interrupted, shall be opened and maintained in operation.

trade and subsistence even, and which are now interrupted, shall be opened and maintained in operation.

In order that this duty may be completely performed I call upon the Sherins of Baltimore city, Baltimore county, Howard county, Montgomery county, Carroll county, Frederick county, Washington county, Allegany county, Garrett county, Anne Arundel county and Prince George's county to summon forthwith to their aid all order-loving citizens in their respective jurisdictions and counties and to proceed in person, attended by the bosse so summoned, to the places in their respective counties where they best can, by their personal presence and authority, enforce peace and good order in their respective jurisdictions, provide for the safety of property, and secure free passage to trains conveying passengers or merchandise on any railroad within the limits of each jurisdiction by the arrest of all wrong-doers.

And I do also call upon all justices of the peace and constables of said respective jurisdictions to be present with and the limits of each property.

And I do also call upon all justices of the peace and constables of said respective jurisdictions to be present with and give all aid in their power to the said respective sheriffs, and to command others, in their said respective jurisdictions, to assist them in so doing.

While I most earnestly hope and believe that the civil power thus invoked will suffice to restore order wherever it has been disturbed, it is my duty to give assurance and warning that the civil power, now summoned to enforce the laws of this State, will be sustained by all the means which the constitution and laws of the land enable and require me to use in order to insure the complete preservation of the peace of this State, the enforcement of its laws, and especially the right of its citizens to use the railways of this State for the ordinary purposes of intercourse and trade without hindrance or molestation.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SETTLEMENT .- The Nev York World shows clearly in what chaotic condition we should now be had not wise counsels adjusted the presidential discussion counsels adjusted the presidential discussion peaceably. It says;
"In the light of these troubles we may also see what the position of the country would have been if we had been dealing at this time with the question of a disputed succession to the presidency. However that dispute might have been carried on, whether with two claimants contending in the courts or eisewhere, or with one claimant lineagurated by force at the capital and left seated because the supporters of the other were unwilling to plunge the country into civil war to unscat him, the results would have been equally disastrous."

THE SPEECHES at the mass meeting of workingmen at Hollins Hall, a mixed assemblage of railroad men and others in sympathy with tnem, were couched in good part in moderate language, and the arguments used by the of the strike wer and to the point, and so far as they went wer such as few persons in the community will dissent from. The refusal to give the meeting political complexion was perfectly proper, and showed that the men were not disposed to give countenance and support to demagogues of Mr. Anthony, an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, repudiated for himself and his associates any sympathy for the men who engaged in the destruction of property and the spilling of blood and with the spirit of com-munism generally. Neither would he vindicate, he said, firemen in any attempt "to chock the wheels of business transportation." At the same time he indirectly encouraged "chocking the wheels" by declaring that "the man who would get another man's engine under the circumstances was no better than a Chinaman. There was nothing other than this in the tem perate statement of Mr. Anthony or in that of Mr. Thompson, a blacksmith, who followed him, to which any exception could be taken But both evaded the two things done by the strikers which their best friends will not under-take to justify. One was that they took measures to prevent the trains from running, the other that they would not allow other men to work who were willing to do so on the terms offered by the company. They thus interfered with the personal liberty of those men—robbed them of their liberties, indeed—and violated law. It is in this that the men who, exercising their high prerogative and right of declining to work for the wages offered, committed the first wrong. It is greatly to be regretted that they | you now propose: did so.

time for good men to unite. AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER of President Washington to Major General Pinckney has been presented to the Historical and Philosophical ociety of Ohio by a great grandson of

W. A. Washington, A FABLE FOR STRIKERS .- When the Roman citizens were once at loggerheads with their Senate, and had moved out of Rome on a strike, Menenius Agrippa, "an eloquent man and favorite with the people, because he derived his origin from them," went out to their camp and clated to them a fable, which we recommend to the strikers and the working men generally just the strikers and the working men generally just now:

"At a time," said he, "when all the parts of the human body did not as now agree together, but the several members had each its own scheme and its own language, the other parts became indignant that everything was procured for the belly by their care, labor and service, and that the belly, remaining quiet in the centre, did nothing but enjoy the pleasures afforded it. They conspired accordingly that the hands should not convey food to the mouth, nor the mouth receive it when presented, nor the teeth chew it. But while they expected thus to subdue the belly by famine, the members themselves and the entire body were reduced to the last degree of emaciation. Thence it became apparent to them by a disagreeable experience that the belly did no more receive nourishment than supply it, sending to all parts of the body and to all the members the blood by which we live and possess vigor."

and to all the members the blood by which we live and possess vigor."

It is an ancient fable, but it applies just as well in these days. The strikers now, as in the old times, complain that the belly enjoys undue privileges, but when they attempt to isolate it they see that famine overtakes the members, and that a wholesome co-operation of all the parts is the only possible course by which any or either can prosper.—N. Y. Aerald.

DEATH OF VANDEGRIFF.—Wm. P. Vandegriff, the young man who was shot by the soldiers in the melee at the Baltimore and Ohio ratiroad on Tuesday morning, 10th instant, died from his wounds on last Thursday night. Deceased came here from Pitteburg, and lived in this town about four years. He was twenty-eight years of age.—Martineburg (W. Va.) Independent.

ber of the leading railroads of the country, here tofore disturbed by strikes and mob violence, was the burthen of the news from all quarters telegraphed yesterday. Resumption was announced on all the railroads of New York except the Canada Southern; on the Pennsylvania railroad and its branches, including the Northern Central, though at Pittsburg the blockade still existed; on the principal roads running out of Chicago, except the Baltimore and Ohio; on several of the roads running out of St. Louis. Indianapolis and other Western cities. The news is very encouraging for a speedy abatement of the troubles, the citizens in all cases manifesting a determination to overcome every obstacle and hasten the resumption of business Resumption everywhere else will naturally has ten resumption on the extended line of the Bal more and Ohio railroad, where freight traffic yet remains suspended. Dispatches from Key-ser and Piedmont report the strikers weakening, and some of them have expressed a willing-ness to go to work In Baltimore the strikers still hold out, but it was definitely determined late last night that all the freight trains shall be late last night that all the freight trains shall be moved on the road to-day, backed by the civil and the military power. Yesterday was consumed in nerotiations between the men and officers of the company, with no satisfactory result as regards the wages question, though it is pretty well understood there will be no further attempt to interfere with the trains should the company undertake to run them. There is also still some prospect that arrangements for working under any stipulated wages will be soon adjusted, though they are intricate and troublesome.

Interview with the Governor.

An interview took place at the city hall between Governor Carroll, Mayor Latrobe, First Vice-President King and Second Vice-President Kyng and Second Vice-President Keyser, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, in reference to the present railroad complications, and more especially with a view to adopting vigorous measures for the reopening of the road, the resumption of traffic and the unmolested and safe moving of freight on the railroad lines in this State. It is understood the railroad authorities were firm in resisting the ultimatum of the strikers. The main points on which the company's representatives refused to yield an inch were, it is stated, the demand of $350 and $3 per day for engineers and the division of engineers on the road into two classes instead of four, as formerly. Mr. King graphically portrayed the state of affairs on his road, the suspension of freighting, &c., and asked all the aid the Governor could give.

In view of the state of public affairs in Maryland there seems to be a determination to reopen the transportation routes by railroad which have been shut up for twelve days since the lifth instant. As an important step to that end the Governor has issued a proclamation calling upon the sheriffs of the city of Baltimore and several counties to summon the posse comitatus for the protection of the lines of traffic as reopend, and the civil authority will be backed by federal troops stationed at various supporting points. This part of the programme, it is understood, is being vigorously carried out, while there is no reiaxation of State militia. The proclamation of the Governor is given elsewhere.

THE SHERIFF OF BALTIMORE CITY.

Sheriff S. S. Mills, of Baltimore city, on being apprised of the proclamation, placed himself in Interview with the Governor.

Sheriff S. S. Mills, of Baltimore city, on being apprised of the proclamation, placed himself in communication with the police commissioners. He stated that the law give them the control of any posse he might summon, and he was geady to carry out their directions, but as the police board had full power to sewear in extra policemen, besides the large military array, he did not think there would be much need of a posse comitatus in the city. In the counties, where there was little or no military power arrayed, the services of the sheriffs will be useful and available. The police board will mature whatever action is necessary in support of the Govever action is necessary in support of the Gov ever action is necessary in support of the Gov-ernor's proclamation through the posse comi-tatus if necessary. It is hoped, however, from the spirit displayed by the strikers and the as-surances that many of them have given that there will be no necessity for picketing and uparding the entire line of the road. guarding the entire line of the road. The Workingmen's Demands Refused

The demands of the train men were published in The Sun yesterday. Vice-President King in The Sun yesterday. Vice-President King yesterday sent a reply to these demands, refusing to accede to them, as follows:

July 26, 1877.—Miessrs. J. H. Elder, president, C. Sheckles, Samuel Molesworth, J. D. Price—Gentiemen: I am in receipt of your communication enclosing resolutions adopted at a meeting of engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, proposing the following rates of wages: Engineers, first-class, $3 50; second-class, $3; conductors, $2 50; firemen and brakemen, $2 per day.

neers, first-class, $5 ou; second-class, $0; conductors, $2 50; firemen and brakemen, $2 per day.

In declining this proposition it is but proper and right that the reasons which have led to this conclusion should be explained.

The great depression in business, which commenced in the autumn of 1873, has continued, growing from bud to worse. The effect upon the Battimore and Ohio company has shown continued large decreases of revenue. The other trink lines had reduced wages 10 per cent, one of them on let of June and two of them on let of July, and at that date a cimilar reduction had been made on many of the leading lines in the country. It will be observed that the Bultimore and Ohio company was the last company which competes for the great trade of the West which made the reduction of 10 per cent.

That the whole question may be understood I present a table of rate of wages paid trainmen in 1861, in 1877 after the reduction, and the rates you now propose:

TABLE OF RATES OF PAY. ٦ Tonnage Conductors... $1 66 $2 25 $2 50 1 50 2 08 as a minimum. Fonnage Brakemen.. . $1 33 $1 58 | $2 00 mum. 2 70 2 48 2 25 Tonnage Firemen.... | $1 75 | $1 58 | $2 00 | 1 35 | as a mini 1 50 1 33 1 11 mum.

*Premium 25 cents not included. As compared with 1861 the rates you name will exceed those in operation at that period to the extent of about 35 per cent. The rates o through freight in 1861 were double those of 1877, and for coal the rate was $2.31, whilst if June, 1877, it was but $1.37 per ton from Cumberland to Raitingre. perland to Baltimore.
The officers of the company are sure that it is only necessary to submit these facts and figures to satisfy every reasonable man in the service that the wages you propose cannot be paid. Since the panic of 1878 not only have the rates since the panic of 1878 not only have the rates of through freight and other traffic been reduced by severe and active competition, but the quantity in the aggregate has diminished. Especiality is this true in regard to the coal trade, which for many years has been the leading article transported over the company's lines. The consideration of this branch of the subjet brings me to call to your attention the motives which governed the commany in employing a greater. me to call to your attention the motives which governed the company in employing a greater number of men than were required in the handling of its trains. Only a limited amount of business could be secured. It would have been quite as satisfactory to the company to have kept in the service only the number of men needed for the work, but it was regarded as more humane, in view of the great scarcity of work generally, to distribute the limited amount of business amongst the greatest practicable number. Whilst it is a subject of regret that these ber. Whilst it is a subject of regret that these motives have been misunderstood and in a great degree produced the present trouble am degree produced the present trouble amongst our trainmen, it is satisfactory to know that these difficulties can be readily adjusted in such a manner as to protect materially the interest of the company and of those it employs. Fully impressed with this belief, I hope there will be no difficulty in the way of your returning to work, so that the running of freight trains may be at once resumed. word, so that the fulling of freight trains may be at once resumed.

The experience of the last ten days must satisfy every one that if freight trains are stopped on the Baltimore and Ohfo railroad the city of Baltimore is not only deprived of the great commercial advantages which she has heretofore enjoyed, but the entire community is made to feel that all husiness must be extinuely cropled. that all business must be seriously crippled the price of all kinds of family supplies greatly increased.

You will thus see that the resumption of the running of freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is a matter in which all our citizens, of every calling, are vitally interested.

Respectfully yours,

John King, Jr.,

Vice-President.

The company on the lifth of July last saw fit to issue an order providing for a general reduction of ten per cent. in the pay of its employees. That order reached the president in its effects, as well as the humblest subordinate on the road whose pay exceeded one dollar per day. Ninetenths of all those affected, recognizing the necessity for this reduction, accepted it and agreed loyally to abide by the company. You, however, a minority of less than ten per cent of the employees, have seen fit to assume the attitude that you will actite accept the reduction nor allow others to fill your places. The position is wholly untenable, and one which for a moment could not be conceded. If it were, all discipline, all law, and all order would be sapped at their very foundations, and the principle would be established that a small minority of men, discontented with their real or imaginary grievances, could assume the position that the great mass of their colleagues should be forced into compulsory idleness on their account.

account,
Is it reasonable for one moment to suppose that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in the face of the threats of less than one tenth of its employees, provided your whole class disaffected, which is far from being the car disanceted, which is far from being the case, shall be forced into the position of practically suspending its operations? Let us for one moment look at the consequences. In the first place your colleagues, men employed in the machinery department, in the road department, in the freight department, in all the various department which go to make up a great stillifed. partments which go to make up a great railroad must necessarily be thrown out of emplo must necessarily be thrown out of employment until your grievances are redressed. The community along the line through which the road passes must submit to have their business completely overthrown and made subject to your caprice. This great city, with its commerce and its manufactories, must submit to see ail paralyzed, the wheels of trade stopped, vessels lying at the wharves awaiting cargoes, stevedores and draymen and all the minor employments idle, bewharves awaiting cargoes, stevedores and dray-men and all the minor employments idle, be-cause business has ceased to flow in its usual men and an accessed to flow in its usual channels; large manufacturing establishments closed because fuel cannot be had, and because the products cannot be shipped; the agricultural interests prostrated here at a time when large them.

Workingmen's Meeting at Cross Street Hall.

[Reported for the Baltimore Sun.]
A meeting of the strikers was called in Cross with Vice-President King the committee of the strikers suggested that the result be reduced to writing. To this Mr. King agreed, and the ultimatum of the company was embodied in the letter signed by himself and Second Vice-President Keyser given below. It was also suggested that one of the officers of the company would address the meeting of train hands if they desired it.

The committee of strikers reported to a meeting held at Cross Street institute, at 3 o'clock P. M., and the questions at issue were discussed for several hours without coming to any definite action. A messenger was dispatched from the company to ascertain whether the men wished an officer of the company to address them, and the committee said that they did and would put it to the meeting. It was decided by the meeting that one of the officers of the company should, be requested to attend. Second Vice-President Keyser then went to the hall and was introduced to the meeting.

SPEECH OF VICE-PRESIDENT KEYSER.

Mr. Keyser said: Gentlemen—A committee of VICE-President King and obtain a full average month's work, so that they and you can earn more wages than you now receive; and we are the more confident of being able to do this because we believe that owing to the abundant crops and other causes the freight business of the road will soon be largely increased.

reciting the grievances suffered by the men and the insufficiency of their pay for the support of their families. He closed by urging them to vote down the terms offered by the company.

Mr. J. H. Elder, chairman of the committee, spoke briefly to the same purpose, and offered resolutions relating to the subject. A vote was taken and the proposition of the company was rejected unautmously. Mr. Keyser then withdrew from the meeting.

WHAT THE STRIKERS SAY.

A large number of the men remained in consultation for some time before an adjournment was reached. The meeting, which was exclusively of strikers, was a very full one, about 250 of the trainmen being present. Their behavior If you agree to these terms and return to work immediately all the minor causes of grievance of which you have complained shall be fully and fairly investigated by us, and you shall receive prompt redress when you are entitled to it. In short, you may rest assured that it will be our pleasure, as it is our duty, so to arrange the details of the service as best to promote the efficient working of the road, and at the same time secure the cheerful and hearty co-operation of its employees. was reached. The meeting, which was exciusively of strikers, was a very full one, about 250 of the trainmen being present. Their behavior was generally quiet and orderly, though the cheering and expressions of approbation were loud during the addresses of Messre. Sheckles and Elder.

After the meeting the strikers expressed themselves as firm as ever in their action and confident of success, but it is claimed that some of them are not so fixed in their resolve not to go to work as is claimed. The men say that they will abstain from any violent interference with the trains of the company, but assert that the company cannot obtain men to run the trains at the wages offered.

WHAT THE CONPANY WILL DO.

Officers of the railroad company are, on the the other hand, sure that they can easily get more men than they need whenever they are ready to start freight trains. The time for such action is not definitely stated at first, but at a late hour it was understood the movement would be begun te-day all along the line, backed by civil and military authority. Gov. Carroll and General Barry were at Camden Station in consultation with Vice-President King until a late hour last night. It is currently believed that the subject under discussion was the best manner and proper time to move the trains.

We have submitted the foregoing terms in a frank spirit, and actuated by an carnest desire to do do all we consistently can to put an end to a state of affairs which not only destroys for the time being all the freight business of the roads but is calculated to injure seriously every business interest of the city and State, and the en-tire regions through which the road and its pranches pass. and which must, if continued bring want and suffering upon all; suffering from which you and your families cannot hope to be exempt.

We trust that you and those whom you represent will see the wisdom and justice of accepting promptly the company's terms, and thus the strike will end and work will be resumed.

Revival of the Military Spirit of Main a critical juncture, not only of the railroad company's affairs, but of the affairs of the city of Baltimore and the nation.

The great highways of the country between the seaboard and the West have been stopped to traffic for several days; business has been paralyzed; large communities have been driven to a condition of anxiety and almost frenzy, and the whole foundation of the social fabric has been shaken. You men whom I see before me have been the cause of this great disturbance, and will be held rigidly accountable for it. You have seen it not only to desert your posts, but to assume the ground that being dissatisfied yourselves no others should take your places. You occupy this position before this community and this whole country to-night, and I come here to state to you, frankly and fearlessly, the counsequences which you have entailed upon the country by your actions.

These are some of the consequences of your action, and I come before you to-night to say to you that this condition of affairs must cease. Every citizen of this town demands that it shall cease, the government demands it, and the railroad company must enforce the demand. This trouble commenced on the Baltimore and Ohio road, and I will do you the justice to say that I exonerate you from the intention of wishing or anticipating the grievous results which have followed your action.

The question now is will you go loyally to work, or if not will you step down and out and let others peaceably take your places? The company asks no man to work if he is dissatisfied with his pay, and I say to you that if you can do better elsewhere or in any other vocation it is injustice to yourselves and to your families to remain longer in the service. You are offered the same wages as are paid to men occupying similar positions on the other trunk roads. You are not asked to accept one cent less than they receive.

Resumption of Northern Central Traffic.

Superintendent Wilkins, of the Northern Central rallway, last evening imparted the very satisfactory intelligence that all freight trains were moving regularly both north and south, and that the main line of the Pennsylvania road was reopened to Aitoona, at least. The indications were that the Pennsylvania will be opened for traffic to-day throughout its whole length, and through freights are received at Baltimore and also at the West. All the freight cars which had been blockaded at Baltimore were started north and south, and during the day and last night trains from up the road arrived at this point. They did not bring or carry away much freight, because of the light offerings this week, but now that the blockade is raised business is expected to be brisk at once, and all the employees will earn full wages.

In view of recent events, the dispatches received at intervals at Union depot were inspiriting. The first, about noon, read "Eleven freight trains have left Harrisburg for the East and West;" the next. "Four trains have left. Tyrone." "All the East bound trains have left. Tyrone." "All the East bound trains have left. Altoona," &c. A Baltimore dealer, acting on information received from Philadelphia, telegraphed that a lot of cattle which had been detained in Ohio should be shipped to him at once via Pennsylnia railroad. Pittsburg was the principal point not heard from, but the preparations made to remove the difficulties there were well known to be of a character that would soon overcome all obstacles.

The prudent determination of the trainmen of the Northern Central and Baltimore and Potomac roads to keep aloof from the disturbances which have involved so many others has brought the early reward. Their status in the company remains unchanged, and the strikers on the main line will have gained no more when the troubles are fixed up. Mr. Wilkins thought there would be no prejudice against the strikers on the part of the officials of the Pennsylvania road, but he w As this company is compelled to meet those lines in competition it has a right to demand that you should not interfere with its obtaining men to perform your duties at the same rates of pay. The New York Central and the Eric roads have resumed operations on this basis. The Pennsylvania road, I am reliably informed, follows their example to-night. Is the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which was the first to inaugurate this difficulty, to be the last to resume operations? sume operations?

I therefore appeal to you to resume your places and to take out your trains promptly when ordered. I distinctly state to you that it is the intention of the company to open its road. In no part of the United States has the strike In no part of the United States has the strike worked such disaster and nowhere are the consequences so threatening. It has been noticed that the men are very orderly. They have had everything their own way so far. They have stopped every industry and the railroad strikers have stopped everything but the mail car. This morning even the mail failed to make its regular trip, the company refusing to run it unless a passenger train was also permitted. The Lehigh and Susquehanna road is on a strike and Scranton is completely cut off from communication with New York and Philadelphia.

Passenger and Freight Trains Resumed on all Roads but One.

BUFFALO, N. No freight was started out to-day, but it is thought that trouble in that direction will be adjusted by to morrow. No passenger or freight trains are running on the Canada Southern except on the Niagara branch. The main difficulty is at St. Thomas. A deputation of strikers from that place waited on Superintenaent Tillinghast and presented a resolution.

A conference was had and a majority of strikers expresses a willingness to return to work. All the mails were sent out to-day and are being received regularly. The military companies from Batavia, Warsaw, Lockport. Westfelt, and the 49th regiment, from Auburn, N. Y., left for their homes to-day.

The police are hourly pulling in tramps and the jail is full. Several of the known ring-leaders have also heen arrested, one of whom is Jack Clary, leader of the attack on the Westfield militia Monday night. All is quiet now. All the live stock on the Erie road at Buffalo was shipped away to-day, consisting of 136 car loads for New York. Affairs on the Central Raid on the Morris and Essex.

New York, July 27.—At the offices of the Central railroad of New Jersey to-day it was stated that the Third and Fifth Reminents National Guard, together with the sheriff and one hundred and fifty special aids, were at Somerville prepared for any emergency which might arise. Trains are running between Somerville and Jersey City, but not beyond.

A lot of peacesble and orderly strikers boarded the mail train west on the Morris and Essex road at Washington, N. J., to-day, cut loose the passeager cars, and on the company declining to move without their whole train the strikers telegraphed to Postmaster General Key their auxiety for the mail to proceed, and throwing the blame for any detention upon the company. The reply of the Postmaster General is that the government's contract with the railroad company is to carry mails on passenger trains only. This takes away the strikers' excuse that they are not interfering with mails, and they are disturbed thereat. The mails have rone West from this train in a wagon. St. Lours, July 27.—A communication signed by the executive committee of the Workingmen's Union has been sent to Gov. Phelps, requesting him to convene the Legislature, and calling for the immediate passage of the eighthour law and the non-employment of all children under 14 years of age in factories and shops. They say that compliance with this their revokable demand and living wages paid by railroad companies will at once bring peace and prosperity such as we have not seen for fifteen years, but "that threats of organized armies will not turn the tollers of this nation from their honest purpose."

The same persons have addressed a letter to the mayor asking his co-operation in devising means to procure food for those actually in destitute circumstances. They say that "all offers for work during this national strike cannot be considered by them as a remedy," for they "arefully determined to hold out until the principles they are contending for are carried." In order to avoid plunder, arson and violence they singest that a convention of merchants be called to procure food for them and their families, "each member of all labor organizations, individually and collectively, to be responsible to pay for all food procured on his order." They profess to be sincere in their disposition to maintain order, but give no suggestion as to how supplies of provisions are to be kept up, or who is to furnish hore money when the available funds of the merchants are exhausted, or when the merchants are to be paid for their labor or their goods. when the merchants are to be paid for their laor or their goods.

The mayor of St. Louis has issued a proclamation commanding all classes, except such as are enrolled in the forces at his disposal, to at once assume their lawful occupations, prohibiting all persons from intimidating or otherwise interfering with employers or employees of an mills, factories or other business establish ments, and announcing that any such interference will be at the peril of the person or persons offering it. The responsibility for any collision will rest upon those who force it upon zens.

Many of the large business houses remain closed to-day, but will open to-morrow. The president of the Merchants' Exchange has ised a notice that the Exchange will resume business to morrow. The streets are less crowded, and there is a general impression that the worst is over. The Missouri Pacific road commenced running freight trains this mornbany employing men to run Ireight and passenger trains.

The strikers sav their men will no longer run passenger and mail trains. If the company are unable to obtain new men willing to risk taking out trains this action of the strikers will stop all passenger travel over that road.

The movements of the military are kent a profound secret. Nothing definite is known yet as to what course will be pursued. The impression is that Gov. Hartrauft and Gen. Hancock with a strong force of regulars and State troogs are near the city, and will march in to-night or early in the morning and open the blockade under the protection of the troops.

THE SITUATION.—This day one week ago we recorded the terrible scenes of the night before in the streets of Baltimore, growing out of the railroad strike. But all outlawry was put down within twenty-four hours of the first out-break of violence by the efficient measures that were taken by the police and the military, acting under the orders of the Governor of the State. Since, a vast destruction of property, accompanied by the loss of many lives, has occurred at Pittsburg, and the strike has gone on extending East and West over the different great lines of railroad, creating alarm, disorder and damage in various cities. Wherever it has gone its course has been marked in a greater or less degree by scenes of violence and bloodshed. It has deranged many branches of business dependent upon the uninterrupted prosecution of inter-State commerce, deprived thousands of persons of employment, and disturbed the comfort and welfare of whole communities. Now the aspect of the case is changing for the better. The transportation of freight on the two great trunk lines of New York has been resumed. On the Pennsylvania railroad, except mmediately from Pittsburg, and on the Northern Central, the running of freight trains has been resumed. Military movements, State and federal, indicate that the Pennsylvania road will be wrested from the hands of the strikers at Pittsburg, and freight trains resumed under military protection. In St. Louis, where a com-paratively few strikers combined with tramps and roughs and forced the employees of all the various manufactories to stop work, the mayor has ordered all persons to return to their usual avocations, and admonished the rioters that interference will be attended with disaster. Five thousand citizens are under arms. The mob-has been driven out of the Union depot, and the headquarters of Gen. Noble established there. The authorities announce that the depot will be held, and interference with trains there will not be permitted. Later in the day a meeting of agitators was broken up and its leaders arrested. A number of lines leading out of St. Louis have recommenced operations.

At Chicago, Illinois, the spirit of the mob as been effectually broken; a number of roads leading therefrom have resumed, and on other lines and at other places the strike is steadily weakening, and hourly reports are given of still further resumption, on some few by concessions. on others because of the paramount effect of the popular determination to put down lawlessness and reopen the channels of trade.

and reopen the channels of trade.

In Maryland the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore, the Western Maryland and the Northern Central as far as Harrisburg have been running freight trains uninterruptedly.
On the Baltimore and Ohio railroad no freight trains have as yet gone out. It has been thought probable that the blockade would be broken, either through the negotiations between the strikers and the company or in consequence of the proclamation of Governor Carroll calling into exercise all the local civil power of the disturbed district, and holding in reserve the entire military force of the State and such other force as the general government may place at his disposition under the law.— The negotiators on the part of the employees are among the most intelligent and worthy of their fellows, who understand the practical details of the subject, and hence the grievances necessary to be reconciled. The whole community would prefer to see operations resumed upon the road through these agencies than any other, but it is in no condition or humor to tolerate further delay, and the determination of the company to send out its trains to-day, under civil and military protection, is simply in accordance with the general sentiment, which is averse to temporizing in a matter of such absurdly claimed by some of the advocates of a large standing army that the events which are now occurring demonstrate the truth of the observations of Gen. Sherman a few weeks ago that without a strong army the American people would become a mob. Could anything be more superficial than such a suggestion? Has the American people become a mob? Who compose the mobs which have resisted the operations of the law? Is it the American people? Is it the honest mechanics and laborers of this country, or only a small portion in comparison to the whole, who constitute the turbulent element in all communities?-The American people become a mob in-deed! The great mass of them are intelligent, independent in spirit, and opposed to despotism of all kinds, whether of the mob or the king. In this season of universal distress the proposition to have a large standing army for the alleged purpose of protecting the States from local disorder is simply an old partisan, gent. lidespondent in spirit, and opposed to deep plans of all kuits, whether of the more of the proposition to have a large standing army for the alleged purpose of protecting the State and the proposition to have a large standing army for the alleged purpose of protecting the State and the proposition to have a large standing army for the alleged purpose of protecting the State and the proposition to district the proposition to have a large standing army for the alleged purpose of protecting the State and great and the protect itself with deal militar rather than by reliance upon a great central power, and if their militia organization of pain is not time in which to urre the line condition hereafter.

THE CRY FOR A LARGE ARMY .- It has been

There is more danger in the suggestion that the federal power as the only asfegurard for he and liberty in this country than there is an all the portic to life and property now threatened all governments.—who are availing themselves of railroad strikes to come to the front, and commit robbery and murier under the guide all governments.—who are availing themselves of railroad strikes to come to the front, and commit robbery and murier under the guide and the outly and the woulded communities of the country and the woulded communities of the country and the woulded communities of the country and the woulded communities of the strikers and have all governments.—who are needs any discrimination between the industrious workingmen of the country and the woulded communities and the proposed of the strikers and have all governments.—who are needs any discrimination between the industrious workingmen of the country and the woulded communities and the strikers and have all governments. It is all keep to the strikers and have all governments are being high that the form of the state work and the strikers and the work and the strikers and have all and the strikers and the strikers and the work and the strikers and the work and the strikers and the work and the strikers and the strikers and the strikers and the strikers and

Kiss your darling child once more,

Ere I leave this world so dreary

For that bright and happy shore.

If it were not for you, mother,

And the tears I know you'll shed,

When your darling child has left you,

And is numbered with the dead.

What is life that we should prize it?

Life at most is but a day;

One short day of preparation,

Ere we're hurried hence away.

But, dear mother, kies your darling.

burned or gutted and valuables destroyed. The total amount, as shown by official figures of the comptroller's office, was not less than $1,748,456 39. A far larger sum of losses came out of business men in the injury to trade during those days of chaos, but this one loss rested upon the taxpayers alone.

By order of BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

434 MADISON AVENUE, BALTIMORE, July 19, 1877. MESSRS. B. C. BIBB & SON: GENTS-It gives me pleasure to inform you that your "NEW SILVER PALACE HEATER," which is in my dining-room, a room twenty by twentysix feet, and heats it thoroughly, besides two rooms over, is the best Heater I ever saw or heard of. The fire requires very little attention, burns very little coal, is always bright and cheerful, and, unlike other Heaters I have tried, it satisfactorily heats the room it wets in. THIs is the greatest point of all, and as far as my knowledge goes accompliabed only by your Heater. It has now been it use for two seasons, and the grate and fire-pot are as perfect as they were when I purchased the Heater. In a word, I unbestatingly pronounce the "NEW SILVER PALACE" a PERFECT Fireplace Heater.

129-d&Wim'l 55 North Liberty st., Baltimore. TAX DEPARTMENT, CITY COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, CITY HALL, BALTIMORE, July 23, 1877. NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

The Books of this office will be OPENED ON WEDNESDAY, the first day of August ensuing, for the collection of State and city taxes for the current year.

Ten (10) per cent. discount will be allowed on city recognity of the per cent. state bills it paid on or before the 20th day of August.

Five (5) per cent. discount will be allowed on all State bills.

Taxpayers who propose to avail themselves of these rates will insure their bills being ready in season by handing in their names without delay.

As errors may have been made by the late Board of Assessors in returning property in erroneous names taxpayers will facilitate the transaction of their business with this office by first examining the ward books in charge of the Appeal Tax Court and ascertaining in whose frame the property on which they propose paying the taxes has been returned.

The city tax on shares of stock of the following incorporated institutions is payable at this office by the shareholders.

The railroad employees here propose to organize a grand army to put down the commun-iets, whose riotous acts they disavow and de-nounce. The Board of Trade resumed business at 2.30 this afternoon and withdrew their action at 2.30 this afternoon and withdrew their action of yesterday suspending the rules. It is indicated by this that they consider the labor troubles at an end, or at least under control of the lawful authorities. Not all of the people of Chicago share their confidence, but no further violent outbreak is expected at this time, (6 P. M.) About noon the police arrested M. J. Clynch, a grocery, provision and liquor dealer, and the most prominent agitator of the present lawless movement. He has been present in all the attacks on the police, and has done more than any one man to lice, and has done more than any one man to perpetrate bloodshed and incite riots. He will be severely dealt with, as the proof of his criminality is complete.

It is understood that troops to-day, if called into action, will give fair notice that when they shoot it will be with the best aim and the direst effect. It is also stated that should the mob gather and meet the police again, the latter are instructed to spare no more lives.

Special orders have been issued by command of Lieut. Gen. Sheridan placing Col. John H. King, 9th infantry, in immediate command of all the United States troops assembled in Chicago. Lieut. Col. Fred'k Grant, aide-de-camp to Lieut. Gen. Sheridan, is assigned to duty with Col. King.

Col. King. Gen. Sheridan being absent, Gen. Pope has Gen. Speridan being absent, cen. Fope has been ordered to proceed to Chicago, and he will leave fort Leavenworth immediately for that city, where he will meet Gen. Drum, General Sheridan's headquarters being there. As heretofore stated Gen. Sheridan has been notified to return from the far West, and he will be in Chicago next week.
Citizens with police powers are in every section of the city. Railroads are resuming business, both freight and passenger. They have had no trouble with the men at any time except in relation to wages, and it is believed that they have generally either compromised that question or left it to arbitration. Officials here are equally reticent on the subject.

The Illinois Central took thirty one cars of grain this morning, and are running all trains as usual. Their men, with few exceptions, appeared at the car shops this morning ready for duty. Their behavior is highly commended by the officials.

On the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific business is resumed on every branch and in every department. All trains are on time. The business is resumed on every branch and in every department. All trains are on time. The Chicago and Northwestern, although all disturbance has subsided, are only running on some branches. The Chicago, Alton and St. Louis still remain quiet, and will not move any rolling stock until it is absolutely safe to do so. The Fort Wayne road will start out a passenger train some time to-day, but freighting is stagnant with them. The Baltimore and Ohio road is sending out no freight as yet, and mails have gone out on all the roads except on the Chicago and Alton and Fort Wayne. The latter refuse to carry the mails without troops.

The orders of the policemen have been modified so that to-day they have been authorized to shoot down any man who interferes with them in the discharge of their duty, or who is belligerent as a rioter. This is on account of the unstinted denunciation on all sides which the temporizing policy has met with.

Washington, July 27.—The Central Council of the Labor League of the United States, an organization having its headquarters in this city, to-day transmitted a petition to the President of the United States urging that steps be taken immediately to end the existing labor troubles and restore traffic, law and order. They oppose any compromise with actual rioters or those countenancing riot, and declare that impending famine in the large cities, the imminent suffering of the great and law-abiding labor element, loss and rnin to the agricultural population, with the undeveloped evils which may result from the present troubles, justify the executive on behalf of the whole people in calling the prominent railroad men, who in blind and passionate stubbornness refuse to listen to either reason or the loud appealing of the people, to Washington, together with the leaders of the labor organization who have opposed violence, that the difficulties may be compromised.

The petition also sets forth that any further blind resistance of the railroads to the detriment of the business of the nation would justify the government in taking possession of the roads and running them in the interest of the people as well as that of the companies. The petitioners declare their belief that such a movement would give immediate confidence to the country and put an end to bloodshed. They declare in favor of suppressing riot and upholding the supremacy of law, and further that the league is convinced that the great law abiding element of the United States, capitalists and laborers, would hall with delight any settlement of the present deplorable condition of affairs by a just and patriotic compromise.

A Warm Reception.—Eighty-five members of the postal convention which closed its sessions at Fortress Monroe Thursday arrived in Baltimore at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by the new steamer Carolina, of the Bay line. They left Fortress Monroe the evening previous, and spent a pleasant night on the water, the freedom of the steamer having been tendered them by officers of the company. Many of the delegates, all of whom were from Southern cities, passed directly through Baltimore, taking trains for points South. About half of them stopped at Baltimore hotels during the day, and returned by the steamer Carolina in the evening. The heat of the day was so intense that few ventured beyond the wails of their hotels, and contented themselves with endeavors to keep cool in any way possible. Occasionally one would venture out and pay a visit to the city hall, postoffice, custom-house or other public building of interest and report the sights he had seen to his friends. A few visited Druid Hill Park, but the majority kept as quiet as possible. Some of the members stopped with friends in the city. All of them were men of ability and influence, leading citizens of Augusta. Mobile, Memphis, Charleston, Macon, Atlanta and other Southern cities.

Members of the convention were registered at the Carroliton, Barnum's, Rennert's and the Maltby House, as follows: Gen. M. A. Stirall, J. C. C. Black, Wilberforce Daniels, George W. Crane, George T. Reopening of Railroad Transportation.
The opening of the Pennsylvania railroad to Altoona and beyond insures an early movement of bituminous coal to the seaboard from the Clearfield mines. Some of the trains already moving to Baltimore are freighted with this coal, and all fears of interruption to steam navigation from the want of it are now at an end. Cumberland coal should be arriving here by Monday.

The steamship Scandinavian, of the Baltimore and Liverpool line, which sails early next week, fortunately has a full freight already on the spot and 200 tons of coal on board. The steamers of the lines from Baltimore to Bremen and Liverpool have thus far not been delayed an hour by the stoppage of railroad transportation.

Mass Meetings in Times of Excitement A committee of persons who had intended to hold a workingmen's mass meeting at the Ma-ryland Institute next Monday night, called on ne police commissioners yesterday with the president of the Institute, the latter desiring president of the Institute, the latter desiring to know the views of the commissioners in the matter. The committee stated that the meeting was to include all the different trades unions, and speakers from New York and other cities were expected. The commissioners stated that of course they had no power to prevent public meetings of the character contemplated by the committee, but they advised that it would at least be imprudent to have such a gathering at this time, when the public mind is easily excited, and suggested that the movement be deferred until the present troubles are settled. The promoters of the meeting could not keep unruly elements away, however much they desired to do so. The president of the Institute coincided with the views of the commissioners, and decided not to open the Institute Hall on the evening in question. Fatal Fall Through an Elevator.—Edward Mitchell, 18 years old, son of Geo. W. Mitchell, No. 363 East Fayette street, was instantly killed at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by falling through the elevator opening at the Eutaw House. Young Mitchell was employed as an omnibus porter in the hotel, and had gone up to the third floor on the elevator with Geo. Wells, the elevator boy. Mitchell was left to guard the hoisting apparatus in the temporary absence of Weils. He took a seat in the corridor near the door to await the other young man's preturn. In Weils. He took a seat in the corridor near the door to await the other young man's return. In the meantime from some cause the cab continued its noiseless ascent to the floors above without the knowledge of the young man. Presently the bell rang below for the elevator, and Mitchell, thinking the cab was in the same place he had left it, on a level with the floor of the corridor, stepped in without looking and fell to the office floor below, a distance of thirty feet. He seemed to have struck upon his head, which was badly crushed, besides having received other injuries. Death was instantaneous, for in a few minutes he was found by some of the employees dead at the bottom of the opening. Sergeant Handy removed the body to the western station-house. Coroner Ogle after learning the facts deemed an inquest unnecessary. The father of the youth is a baker, the foreman at Beatty's cracker bakery. Mr. George C. Munnd, of Baltimore, has addressed a letter to the editor of the New York Nation touching the action of the President in regard to the Baltimore collectorship, which he declares has been "altogether be wildering," Mr. Maund says "the published letters and statements of all parties to the contest for the collectorship excite the apprehension that in appointing Thomas and suspending Wilkins the President was duped very easily indeed, or that he is less fixed in his devotion to civil service reform than his friends had boped." Mr. Thomas is characterized as one who "is cunning in running primaries and manipulating conventions by methods well understood by the 'boys,'" and his former management of the custom house is cited as a reason why he should not have aspired to it again. Mr. Maund asserts that Col. Wilkins was appointed collector by President Grant without personal solicitation, and scouts the idea that he was a party to an alleged bargain between Messer. Creswell and Falton that he should retire in Mr. Thomas's favor at the expiration of President Grant's term. Mr. Maund's letter is a vigorous production, and he makes no conceaiment of his want of faith in Messers. THE FEDERAL AID TO THE STATES.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Up to this time six Governors of States have called on the President for Federal assistance to put down domestic insurrection. Three other Governors who have not called omthe President as yet have issued proclamations commanding the rioters to disperse, and ordered out the militia of their own States to enforce the order. In another State, where there has been a great deal of trouble, Indiana, the Governor and the local authorities have taken no steps to protect the States to enforce the order. In another State, where there has been a great deal of trouble, Indiana, the Governor and the local authorities have taken no steps to protect the peace, and the criminal indifference which they have exhibited is subjecting them to the severest censure. So that the insurrection begun at the comparatively insignificant town of Martinsburg has spread until it embraces the territory of ten States. Included in these States are the four most populous States of the Union, New York, Pennsylvania. Ohio and Illinois.

The cabinet to-day held its eighth consecutive daily session. A great many dispatches received from various troubled points were laid before the meeting, and the news contained was generally of a satisfactory and reassuring character. Among the dispatches laid before the cabinet was one from Baltimore indicating the probability of an early termination of the strike on the Baltimore and Onio. Favorable accounts relative to the prospective removal of the embargo on the Pennsylvania road were also received. The government has, however, instructed the officers in command at all points to relax nothing of the vigitant watch now exercised until peace and non-interference everywhere is successfully established beyond any doubt.

The conduct of the mobat Sau Francisco is admitted by the State Department to be the grossest violation of treaty stipulations with China. If China was a formidable power this would lead to embarrassing diplomatic complications.—There is of course no fear on this score, although it is probable that some diplomatic correspondence may ensue. The President will deem it his duty to call the attention of Congress to the necessity of providing for the protection of the Chinese. He will in his annual message devote much space to a discussion of the labor revolt and of the various schemes of legislation which will be proposed from all quarters in connection with that subject.

THE EXTRA SESSION AND THE ARMY. THE EXTRA SESSION AND THE ARMY.

THE EXTRA SESSION AND THE ARMY.

Curiously enough people are now recalling the cabinet deliberations on the subject of the extra session. In order to avoid the necessity for an extra session at all at least two members of the cabinet were in favor of the proposition advanced by several prominent outside republicans to disband the army. If this idea had been carried out the imagination can well conceive the condition which the country would be in today.

THE DOORKEPPER OF THE HOUSE.

A prominent candidate for doorkeeper of the House has loomed up in the person of Capt. E. Merrill, a practicing lawyer of Greenwood, Mississippi, and an ex-captain of the Contederate service. He is said to start with the solid support of the Mississippi and Kentucky delegations.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE. NATIONAL REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

It is intimated that the vacanies created in the national republican committee by the resignation of sundry federal officeholders will not be filled. There will be nothing of cousequeuc for the committee to do for three years to come It is argued by those interested that the President's ideas of civil service reform will be materially modified by that time, and that those who have resigned can then be reinstated in their positions without objection.

In consequence of this reverse the hones reposed in Suleiman at Constantinople are much diminished. It is feared the Russians, encouraged by this success, will again begin marching rapidly on Adrianople and Southern Roumania.

Of the 150 Bulgarian prisoners recently brought to Constantinople fifteen were immediately shot. The same correspondent telegraphs that the English fleet is not to enter the Bosphorus, berange it is supposed Russia would not be slow in seizing Gallopoil and the Dardanelies forts. Peace thus becomes daily not only more prob-able, but sensibly near. The dispatch of English troops to the Mediterranean is not inconsistent with this conclusion, although Prince Gorts-chacoff has not made a decisration that he would not treat directly with Turkey yet, public oninnot treat directly with Turkey, yet public opinion throughout the continent is agreed that a settlement must be made.

Austria and England as the powers most immediately interested must throw off their re-serve and make their voices heard when the terms of peace are under discussion. Ergland and Austria can then intervene with all the more force because they remained neutra during the struggle. England has abandoned her intention of going to Gallipoli, and Austria has hitherto abstained from entering Bosnia.

New York, July 27.—The stock market opened excited, particularly on Western Union, sales of which before the board were reported as high as 70 per cent. This was going it a little too strong, however, the quotation being 4% per cent. above the closing last evening. When the board opened the first sale was at 68%, and in a minute the price was down again to 67a66%. The heavy rise in this particular stock is due to the enormous business that has been thrown upon the line as a result of existing troubles. The press dispatches, special and otherwise, have been largely increased, while the blockade of the mails has caused letters, both short and iong, to be sent by telegraph. It was a harvest to the Western Union and Atlantic and Pacific, and makes the next quarterly dividend upon the former a sure thing.

The coal shares are firm, not only because of sympathy with the railways, but because the "strike" in some of the mines is viewed as a positive blessing to the companies, inasmuch as it stops expenses to a great extent, and, what is better, limits production, which is just what the companies have been endeavoring to accompile. TILDEN AND HAYES .- The New York World resents with some heat a declaration that Mr.

These frauds it is the duty not only of all good democrats, but, as we believe, of all good citizens, never to forget and neverto forgive. The party which first perpetrated them and then refused to submit them to investigation must be held and will be held to its responsibility for them. But to make them an exerce for questioning.

and will be held to its responsibility for them. But to make them an excuse for questioning the authority of the actual executive of the United States is such a piece of childishness and foily as no man has any right to impute to the candidate of the democratic party. In the actual condition of the country it is more than this, it is an act of bad citizenship." this, it is an act of bad citizensnip."

A SPOILED PROGRAMME.—According to the New York Herald it transpired on Thursday that but for the premature strike of the Baltimore and Onio men the railroad strike would have been successful. It had been agreed that the locomotive firemen, engineers and brakemen throughout the country were to have struck on the 10th of August. The Baltimore and Onio men, however, allowed themselves to be provoked into a strike before the appointed time, and this frustrated the whole plan. This statement was given by an old employee of the Erie ment was given by an old employee of the Erie rallway, who refused to join the former or present strike. It was confirmed by two of the dremen of the Pennsylvania railroad at Jersey

At dist there was a decline, which was quickly succeeded by an advance, and the market fluctuated throughout the day, with the tendency generally towards higher figures. Western Union Telegraph was the chief feature, opened at 69, dropped to 65% and railled to 65%, closing at 67%, a gain of 1 per cent on Thurday's closing. St. Paul advanced 2 on prefd and % on common, Northwestern 1% on prefd and % on common that short 14%, now I serve stronger also: Morris and Essex gained 1%. Delaware and Hudson and Lackawanna each 1%, and Jersey Central % per cent. The amount of sales was 105,000 shares, and the market closed strong. Gold was quiet and steady at 195%. Starling exchange was dull and about steady at 4.85 and 4.86% for actual business. Governments were a trifle higher. Money was easy at 22% for call blans, and 435% per cent for prime mercantile paper.

There is a full supply of money in the Philadelphia market, and rates for discount range from 4 to 6 per cent. The stock market was firm yesterday, though more quiet. Pennsylvania Raliroad ranged from 28% to 29%; Reading was 12 to 12%; Lebigh Coal and Navigation sold at, 17%, and Lebigh Valley was 33% bid; United Co's of New Jersey sold at 131, and Northern Central was offered at 14. City new 6s sold at 111 and 111½.

The foreign finance markets were generally firmer yesterday. On the London Exchange British Consols declined from 34% to 91%; and beligh Valley was 33% bid; United Co's of New Jersey sold at 131, and Northern Central was offered at 14. City new 6s sold at 111 and 111½

THE GREAT REPUTATION

THE GREAT REPUTATION
Which VEGETINE has attained in all parts of the country as a GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE, GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE, GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE, and the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received from persons who have been cured by its use, are conclusive proof of its great value. It is recommended by physicians and apothecaries. As a Blood-Purifier and Health-Restorer it has no equal.

VEGETINE is not prepared for a fancy drink made from poor liquors, which debilitates the system and tends to destroy health instead of restoring it.

Are not the many testimonials given for the different complaints satisfactory to any reasonable persons suffering from disease that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of these cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, as in cases of Scrofula, where, apparently, the whole body was one mass of corruption. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof. if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can be truly called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not set directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of cilmate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGRTINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impurts tone of vigor to the whole body. The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetühe Kingdom are more saie, more successful in the cure of disease, than mineral medicines. VEGETINE is composed of roots, barks and herbs. It is pleasant to take and is perfectly safe to give an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it? You will never regret it. VEGETINE VEGETINE CANNOT BE EXCELLED. can be truly called the Great Blood Purifier. The

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, February 13, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Deur Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debuilty. VEGE-TINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours, U. PETENGILL,

Firm of 8. M. Pettengill & Co.,

SOUTH BERWICK, Mr., Jan. 17, 1872, H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.— H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.—

Dear Sir. I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the Vegetine, since which time my health has steadily improved. My tood digests well, and I have gained ditteen pounds of fieth. There are several others in this place taking Vegetine, and all have obtained relief. Yours truly
