Veronica Tyler concert free at Morgan Sunday

Veronica Tyler, Baltimore soprani who has gained international renown as a soloist, will be the featured performer at a free Palm Sunday concert in the auditorium of the Murphy Fine Arts Center at Morgan State College.

The concert on April 3 will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the Murphy Center at E. Coldspring La. and Hillen Rd. and will be followed by a reception honoring Miss Tyler. Both the concert and the reception are being sponsored by the college through a grant by the Carling Brewing Company.

According to Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan State president, the concert is designed both to provide a recital by an outstanding artist and to introduce the Murphy Fine Arts Center to members of the community. The concert is open to the public.

* * *

"A GRANT by the Carling Company," Dr. Jenkins said, "has made this affair possible primarily to enable a number of outstanding citizens to share a cultural experience in the beautiful Carl Murphy Auditorium - Fine Arts Center.

"It is surprising, incidentally, how many otherwise knowledgeable citizens are unaware of Morgan State as an important cultural resource of our community."

A member of the Metropolitan Opera Company and a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Miss Tyler made her debut with the New York City Opera in the fall of 1964 appearing as Susanna in Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro."

Her first New York appearance came in 1961 with the American Opera Society's presentation of Monteverdi's "The Coronation of Poppea." Since then, she has become one of the most sought after young artists on the musical scene.

Miss Tyler was named first-prize winner in the vocal division of the Munich International Competition in the fall of 1963 and immediately upon her return to the United States, she appeared as a soprano soloist at the Lincoln Center First Anniversary Gala in Philhamonic Hall.

* * *

SHE HOLDS the distinction of being the only soloist to have been reengaged by the Philharmonic Young People's Concerts and the New York Philharmonic Proms. She opened her 1964-65 season as a soloist with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic in the first concert of the season's Young People's Series.

Her appearance in the summer of 1965 at the New York Philharmonic Proms marked her third annual engagement with the series.

Miss Tyler's grandmother, Mrs. Goldie Green, was an organist and music and voice teacher in Baltimore and the widow of the founder of the New Metropolitan Baptist Church. Mrs. Green taught her granddaughter in the church choir and began her instruction in piano.

Later, at Frederick Douglass High School, Miss Tyler studied voice under Miss Marian Smith. Recognizing her student's talent, Miss Smith arranged for her to study on a Daitches scholarship with Miss Olga Grether.

Following her twelfth grade term at Douglass, she became a full-time student at the Peabody Conservatory on an AFRO-AMERICAN scholarship.

Miss Tyler is married to Barry Hawkins, a marine architect wro attended Morgan and Coppin State College. The Hawkinses reside in New York in an apartment near Lincoln Center and are the parents of a daughter, Adrienne, 4.

MODEL DOROTHY McCLAINE wears a stunning white pique, three tiered polka dot sleeveless dress with white floral hat, red straw pocket-book and white long length gloves from Goldenberg's, 213 N. Eutaw St.

BEVERLY BROWN wears a high waisted look, featuring a baby bib collar. Stripes are in yellow, gold and grey. From Montgomery Ward.

Singing Band at home for blind

Residents of the Anna Mae Hunter Home For the Blind were entertained last week by the Singing Band of the Sharon Seventh Day Adventist Church's Home Missionary Department.

Mrs. Geneva Hitch, head of the department, was mistress of ceremonies and the program included musical and literary selections.

Robert Ball and Mrs. Jessie Ruffin were soloists and quartet singing was provided by William Vinson, James Washington, Charlie Jenkins, and Thomas Tucker.

George Hall delivered the inspiration message and Mrs. Johnson was pianist while Mrs. Thelma Hall read. Mrs. Hunter, home founder, responded.

CATHERINE WILLIAMS in textured cotton two-piece dress in beige and brown tones. Overblouse features the low-waisted look, pleated skirt. From Montgomery. Ward.

Morehouse choir

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The celebrated Morehouse College Glee Club, of Atlanta, Ga., will begin its 56th concert season with a performance at the New Pilgrim Baptist Church, 908 Sixth Ave. So. Birmingham, on Friday, April 8, 8 p.m. The concert is in support of the United Negro College Fund, (UNCF).

* * *

THE CONCERT will precede the annual spring tour in April to various cities in the midwest, when the 40 strong male - voice choir will feature items rendered at the recent Founder's Day concert held at the college, Atlanta, on February 20.

The singing collegians are presented in Birmingham through the auspices of the Birmingham Morehouse Club of which Clyde S. Kirby is president.

THE GLEE CLUB, famous for its musical renditions from the Renaissance to the present will include in its repertoire: double choir motets from Handel and Sweenlinck; excerpts from Carl Orff's famous "aunt laorimae rerum," with English translations on the program; settings from the scriptures; folk songs of many lands and Ernest Tech's "Geographical Fugue."

The Morehouse Glee Club Quartet directed by Wendell Whalum and accompanied by Benjamin Ward Jr. of Montgomery will be supported by the Morehouse College Quartet at their April 8 performance.

President of the Glee Club is James Williams of Montgomery with James Reed of Jacksonville, Fla., secretary and Charles Brown of Detroit, student director.

St. Pete youth to Fla. State

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (UPI) — Leonard Hall became the first colored prospect to receive an athletic scholarship ti Florida State University Friday.

Hall, of St. Petersburg, will major in physical education. He led the St. Petersburg Junior College basketball team to a 22-5 season's record with an average of 18 points and 12 rebounds a game.
