Hagerstown, July 17th, 77. Messrs. Editors: Sir, I am stated to your issue of the 16th, that the sheriff, magistrates, and constables presented their bills for two and a half months which amounted to $420.

This is incorrect in regard to the statement of time covered by the bills, none of the constable's bills were for a less period than three months, and at least one of the magistrate's covered more than that length of time.

Yours respectfully, GEO. F. OHRISSENGER. We beg leave to say to the above gentlemen and all others whom it may concern that we did not make an "incorrect" statement. When we visit the council it is for the purpose of recording the proceedings for the benefit of our patrons, and we are very careful to publish only what is said and transacted. The Council said the bills were very large for the short space of time, two and a half months. By permission we examined the bills last evening in company with a gentleman and find that the Council and the News are not far from right, the most of the accounts are just three months standing. One of the accounts runs from Feb. 20th to July 14th, whilst another who was very particular about dates has no other wherefore we cannot tell how long it has been running.

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER.—It is an old saying, "as idle hands are the devil's workshop," and in these times of idleness we are free to imagine that the devil has many workshops, even in our midst, which should, be vigilantly broken up, and the way to do it is to be up and doing. Let every young man find for himself something to do and if he is not capable of finding that something, then let others more experienced in the affairs of life find it for him. An exchange truly says:

"The stargard will not plow, by reason of the cold, and when it gets warm he can't stand it, so he does not plow at all. Now it is my try to see, how so many people can live and do nothing as they do. They must eat or starve. They must either work, bag, or steal or sponge, and in a large majority of cases they are the people who bring about nearly all the trouble. The man or woman who has business to attend to, or labor to perform does not find time to quarrel, fight, battle nor gossip. Then it is these idlers we see on the streets and about the various lounging places who do the mischief, and cause the trouble in courts of justice. We believe that the time will come when a vagrant law will be a necessity, and those who have nothing to do, or will do nothing for themselves will have to be made do for others. No man should be encouraged to do nothing, and public sentiment is fast drifting towards a law to compel idlers to look for something to do, and in default of this, to do something chosen for them by some one else. All men should be employed. Idleness is a great curse, and he who indulges in it one year as a pastime, will engage in wickedness the next year from the inclination of a wicked heart. So, beware of the idle of to-day, they will be the wicked tomorrow. Parents of idle children should make a note of this, as they will find it more than realized."

From William Van Geeser, Esq., of Lewisburg, Union County, Pa. — This certifies that my wife has been afflicted with consumption for the last four years, and had become so reduced that she was unable, at times, to walk across the room, and a good part of the time unable to get out of bed. She would be seized with violent attacks of coughing until she would be almost exhausted and helpless. She received the attendance of a good physician as could be found in Philadelphia and the country, but to no effect. She was at last induced to try Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and the effect for the better was truly astonishing. Before she had taken two bottles she felt and appeared almost as well as ever; so much so that it is seldom necessary for her to use any other medicine. Occasionally, from having caught cold from exposure, or from sudden and unfavorable change of weather, I have always been obliged to resort to patent medicines and pronounced them humbugs, but I must say that Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which I have used and strongly recommend it to the public as decidedly the best and most efficacious remedy in cases of consumption.

WILSON'S BAZEL. Caution!—Beware of preparations bearing similar names. Examine the bottom of the wrapper of Newcomb & Shafter's, and be sure you get Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, having the signature of "O'Berry" on the wrapper. 50 cents and 1 1/2 bottles. July 10th.

COOLEY'S CORK CORSET. A REVOLUTION IN CORSETS. Cork in lieu of Bone. Elegant, easy, durable and delightful to the wearer. No more bones breaking! No cutting of fabric! The public may rely upon Cooley's Cork Corset, as being the very best and most comfortable corset made. It gives a plumpness to the figure, which no other corset can approach. It has been long and favorably known in Europe as the cork and cellulose corset. The inventor, under the best medical directions, was to produce a corset free from pressure on the lower part of the body, thus preventing physical deformity, which so often paralyzes and restrains the vital organs. The pressure and burden of dresses, as now worn, render it absolutely necessary for ladies, who pay any regard to health, to wear such a kind of a corset to relieve their members. Ladies will find it to their satisfaction and comfort that Cooley's cork corset is the best adapted for this purpose.
