WHEN THE car glanced off the first parked truck, a fruit produce truck, police said it was being driven east on Camden St. which is one-way westbound at that point.

It then continued across the intersection of Hanover St. and slammed head - on into another truck slowed for a stop, injuring the driver and jamming it backwards into a small parked panel truck, according to accident investigators.

The injured driver was listed as David E. Bonham, a resident of Rose Hill, N.C.

Police said the 1959 sedan was reported stolen earlier in the evening in the Cherry Hill section of Baltimore.

MRS. JULIE E. DUPREE said her son had left the house shortly before she returned home from work about 6 p.m.

He had been signed up for the Youth Opportunity Center on Charles St. and was excited about that, his mother said.

He had also been enrolled in a Manpower Development and Training program, but could not complete the training.

His sister Casandra, 15, was the last member of the family to see him alive — in the Cherry Hill Shopping Center about 5 p.m.

Dupree is also survived by Casandra's twin brother, Allen, and a younger brother, Curtis, nine.

Show of Stars set for May 22

The Provident Hospital Auxiliary's annual tea and fashion show—an 18-year tradition in Baltimore will have a different look this year as the Auxiliary tackles a new and exciting project.

For its spring fund raising project this year, the Auxiliary will sponsor the Schaefer Show of Stars in its premiere performance in this city.

The Schaefer Show of Stars is a fashion who extravaganza sponsored by the Schaefer Brewing Company of New York, currently in its first tour of the Eastern Seaboard. The fashion show is under the direction of Schaefer's Golden Girl, Miss Gloria Thomas, who is widely known in fashion show circles as a brilliant fashion show director, having an extensive background in modeling and fashion show coordination.

* * *

ORIGINAL fashions by such internationally known fashion designers will be featured in the show. An assemblage of twelve of New York's models will show the styles, along with the sensational Jimmy Abu, the current darling of the fashion world.

Clothes in the fashion show will run the whole fashion gamut, including the current "Mod" styles, the very "in" little girl look, brilliant resort wear, the sophisticated "in town" look, lounge attire and splashy after six and after wear.

Coordinated accessories will be included.

The show will benefit a large variety of Auxiliary sponsored projects.

The show will be at the Civic Center on May 22nd from 3 - 5 p.m. Tickets will cost $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00, and are available at the Mondawmin office of the C and P Telephone Company, the Provident Hospital Development Office, 1011 Mondawmin Concourse, Pauline Brooks Fashion Salon, 2137 W. North Avenue, Gladyce House of Beauty, 906 Poplar Grove Street.

Co-chairmen for the fashion show are Mesdames Muriel Cousin and Lorraine King. Working with them as chairmen in other areas are Mesdames Pinnie Ross, Madie Mitchell, Beatrice Avery, Willia Bland, Ida Swanson, Virginia Brown, Irene Cheatham.

Summer jobs now taking applicants

Maryland youth interested in summer jobs and who show financial need may be eligible for the 180 openings with the Social Security complex at Woodlawn.

Application for the jobs must be made directly to the Baltimore Youth Center, located at 1727 N. Charles St. Applicants must first register with the Youth Center then be tested and interviewed for placement.

Pay will be $1.35 per hour for a 40-hour week. The work is primarily filing and clerical.

Three orientation programs will be held. The first group of applicants will be considered from students who have already dropped out from school and will begin work June 6.

* * *

THOSE STUDENTS now in school will be eligible for the program as of June 20.

A last group of students, those not able to return to school, will join the program July 5 and work through September 30.

William Clark, of the Youth Center, has stated the aim of the employment is to encourage students to remain in school, and to counsel those students who have dropped out to return to their studies.

The Youth Center will be open for inquiries from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Stan Baiser, of Social Security's Information Service, has announced that the program will seek to employ 1,000 youth between 18 and 21 nationwide.
