their history.

Bond was refused a seat in the Georgia House for the second time Monday when he repeated his opposition to the Viet Nam war before a House Committee. He said he plans to run again for the seat in the September general elections but expected the legislators to vote him out again.

He indicated that his hope rests in the Supreme Court, which is scheduled to review his case during its fall term.

"It is the American way," he said. "They merely want to elect their friends and neighbors — people they know will work for them — to public office, no matter what anybody says anywhere else."

Bond said that his generation is not following the earlier banner of "Saving the world for Democracy. We are going to save Democracy for the world."

Medicare has May 31 date for coverage

Marshall H. Barney, Social Security district manager in Baltimore, announced this week that 19,000 persons over 65 have four days left to register for Medicare.

The voluntary medical insurance plan calls for a $3 monthly premium with basic hospital protection beginning July 1.

For persons who miss the May 31 Medicare deadline will have to wait until October, 1967, to sign up.

Men and women who will be 65 in the next three months may sign up now to have their medical insurance begin when they reach 65.

Mr. Barney feels that many of those persons who have not registered are still working. "Medicare benefits are payable for persons 65 or over whether or not they have ever worked under social security and whether retired or still working," Mr. Barney said.

The three Baltimore social security offices are open 8 a.m. and on Saturdays from 9 daily from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. to noon.

brutal ever witnessed.

The St. James Catholic School pupil on the way to school with her 8-year-old sister, according to testimony, was stopped at gunpoint and forced to a vacant house on Aisquith St. The younger child testified she observed the attack.

Mr. Jones seemed to utter a gasp when he heard his fate.

The supreme penalty was imposed formally for rape, statutory rape and attempted robbery with a deadly weapon.

Jones had been identified by another St. James School girl as the same man who approached her on Jan. 5.

She said he was scared off by friends who came along at the time.

The disposition of the case on Thursday was in the presence of a Catholic School allgirl 8th grade class.

Accompanied by two nuns, and a priest they filled the jury box and rows of seats of one-third of the courtroom.

Mental health group to meet here June 9

Dr. Alan M. Kraft, Director of the Fort Logan Mental Health Center, Denver, Colo., will be keynote speaker at the June 9 annual meeting of the Maryland Association for Mental Health according to Carlyle Barton Jr., MAMH president.

The theme of the day-long annual meeting, to be held at the Holiday Inn in Towson, is "Community Programs for Mental Health". The meeting is open to the public, but reservations are required for the luncheon, during which Dr. Kraft will give his keynote address on "The Organization and Function of a Community Mental Health Center".

"Dr. Kraft's keynote speech should be of particular interest to Maryland residents at this time," Mr. Barton said, "as recent state legislation and federal grants make it certain that we will see mental health centers similar to Denver's in our state.

The passage this year of Senate Bill12, also known ad the Maryland Community Mental Health Services Act, has provided the state with enabling legislation to work towards theestablishment of mental health centers. In addition, over the next three years, Maryland is in line for some $2,369,218 in federal funds to match State funds for the construction of mental health centers."
