Open free

The next session of the Job Clinics will begin the week of June 13. Unemployed persons can obtain expert guidance about employment or training opportunities through this professional service which is free.

This service, open to all Baltimoreans, is financed by the U.S. Department of Labor. Nearly 2,500 persons have participated in the program to date; nearly half are resently at work or in training.

All interested jobless individuals may register by calling: PL. 2-4146 for jobs.

Edmond Briggs

A constructing company employee for 35 years, Edmond Briggs, 66, 725 George St., was buried Thursday in Baltimore National Cemetery.

Funeral services were held at Payne AME Church, where he was a member of the usher board.

The World War I veteran died Saturday at University Hospital, after a short illness.

Mr. Briggs was born in Murkirk County, Md. His parents were Charles and Mamie Biggs.

—Paquin school plan

and Mrs. Maree Farring registered firm "No's" when the vote was taken after extended discussion.

Other members present and voting for the far-reaching proposal were: J. Percy Bond, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy Moss, Philip Macht, Tom J. Sweeney Jr., Dr. William McElroy, Eli Frank Jr., president of the board presided. Sidney Tindley, another member, was absent.

Mrs. Moss, while approving the plan, asked to be recorded as opposed to "temporary" use of the old Polytechnic High for relief of over - crowding in secondary schools.

SHE SAID: "We in the inner city have had some experience with what "temporary" means. Sometimes it's anywhere from one to 50 years.

"In this year of 1966, this board would be making a mistake because we know this would be another segregated high school."

Mrs. Moss's motion to eliminate this provision was defeated four to three. Voting with her were Mr. Bond and Mr. Macht.

THE BOARD split five to two on two amendments, with Dr. Stone and Mrs. Farring giving the sole nayes.

One amendment would have changed the 75 percent enrollment for college preparatory program.

The other amendment offered by Mr. Sweeney strengthened the resolution which would direct the newly established Central Admissions office and Board of Admissions to be sensitive to student to the need for having an integrated population of qualified students in all the programs."

In approving the Paquin proposals, the Board noted its Thursday action was "the first step" in its five - year program to improve the instructional program in the senior high schools and it is has sought to discharge its assignment with integrity and care.

The statement added:

"Though there are differences of opinion, the Board feels that it is essential that there be a continued effort to improve the high school educational program in Baltimore City for all pupils.

"In this effort, the Board will continue to welcome constructive criticism and advice."

CIVIL RIGHTS leaders and interested citizens filled the school Board Room for the precedent-setting session. They listened attentively to the discussions which took over an hour.

Superintendent Laurence G. Paquin noted there had been an increase in colored and white principals assigned to integrated schools.

He expressed great regret that only a few teachers had volunteered to accept assignments in formerly all - colored schools.

AMONG SCHOLARSHIPS and awards approved by the Board were three $50 awards to Douglass High School graduates by Alpha Kappa Delta, and the 1941 class.

Also approved was a plaque to be given annually to a Dunbar High graduate for school loyalty.

This award is given by Vernon E. Johnson Sr., a school employee in memory of his son, Lt. Vernon E. Johnson, who was killed in action recently.

HERE IS what the Paquin Plan does:

The following schools are to be developed as coeducational comprehensive high schools; Douglass, Dunbar, Edmondson, Forest Park, Northwestern, Patterson, Southern, Southwestern, Walbrook.

Eastern and Western remain girls' high schools and will have instructional programs to include college preparatory, business and general academic.

Polytechnic and City College remaining all - boys schools will have both non-college and college preparatory. Polys instruction will include technical courses while City College will have business and general academic courses.

Carver and Mergenthaler are to continue as vocational-technical schools.

In all schools, the college preparatory program will not exceed 75 percent of the total program capacity of the school.

The Honors Program is to be expanded into all coeducational comprehensive high schools where there are enough talented and academically interested students.

Included may be the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board; independent study; cooperative programs with colleges and universities.

The Central Admissions Office and Board of Admissions will be responsible for determining the students to be admitted to college preparatory programs; Honors Programs; specialized vocational - technical programs; Carver, Mergenthaler and co - educational comprehensive senior high schools.

Deferred pending further study are proposals that concern Dunbar, Polytechnic and Western building programs; the relocation of the central administration offices; in-town facilities for Baltimore Junior College, City College and Eastern High.

JOEL CARRINGTON Miss P. CARRINGTON Mrs. JOEL CARRINGTON

MISS CARRINGTON, recently presented at Me-De - So Cotillion, was feted by her parents, in Baltimore, Sunday.

Parents entertain for Mrs. Carrington

Miss Patricia Annette Carrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Carrington, and a this season debutante, was honoree at—reception given by her parents, Sunday afternoon, in their home on Sequoia Avenue.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Carrington and their daughter were Mrs. Henry Welcome, wife of Mrs. Carrington's Me - De - So sponsor; Mrs. Michael Dantley, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan H. Brown of Washington, uncle and aunt of Nathan H. Brown of Washington, uncle and aunt and godparents of the Debutante.

MRS. ROLAND B. WILLIAMS introduced guests to the line, which formed in front of the magnificent fireplace in the living room. Huge arrangements of flowers were used as decorations throughout the rooms.

Guests flowed through the dining room and on to the porch and lawn, where they were served.

MISS CARRINGTON wore a pastel blue A-line chiffon dress with tiny blue appliqued flowers. A pearl necklace and earrings, short white gloves and blue shoes completed her ensemble. She carried a nosegay of white carnations, roses and baby's breath with white satin backing and streamers.

HER MOTHER was gowned in pale yellow chiffon with sequin top, and matching shoes. Senator Welcome wore an imported white linen eyelet sheath over blue, with blue accessories. Mrs. Dantley was in pink chiffon. Her shoes matched the dress, as did those of Mrs. Brown, who wore pale green chiffon.

Each wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

ASSISTING were Mrs. Robert Phillips, Maxwell Dowell Lloyd McDonald and Charles Young; and Misses Stephanie Woolridge, Jo Ann Williams, Pamela Carroll, Sharon Harper and Kim McDonald.

Assisting hosts were Joseph Campher and Dr. Franklyn Jones.

Cottage Cheese for variety of dishes

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE, food economist

As food prices continue to rise, dairy products become more of a bargain and a means of extending the family food budget.

Since June is Dairy Month the attention of shoppers should be on the milk and dairy products being marketed.

Typical of today's excellent buys in dairy products is cottage cheese. The high protein content and the low cost per pound place this dairy product on the best buy list Cottage cheese is low in fat and thus low in calories; it provides a good source of protein and of calcium which is in much demand by weight watchers.

Eleven ounces of cottage cheese will supply about the same amount of calcium as an 8 ounce glass of whole milk.

THE USDA reports that one ounce of cottage cheese furnishes about the same amount of protein as one ounce of beef, medium fat, without bone. This may account for the 50 percent increase in per capita consumption of cottage cheese in the past fifteen years.

When purchasing cottage cheese, the label tells the size of curd, large or small, the style, creamed or dry, the weight and if other foods have been added. Buy in amounts that can be used in two or three days and refrigerate it immediately. Keep the lid tightly closed while it is stored. Plan on five servings per pound as one third cup or three ounces is considered an average size serving.

COTTAGE CHEESE is extremely versatile. It can be served in many ways. Serve it as is, or combine it with other foods in main dishes, desserts, appetizers, salad or salad dressing. Check your recipe file—for new ways to serve this delicious delicately flavored cheese.

Produce production is moving northward along the Atlantic Coast. A good supply of new cabbage is coming from North Carolina and Virginia and the first of the Maryland cabbage is on the market. Cooking greens from Maryland are also good buys, and quality is above average. Boston type and Romaine lettuce from New Jersey is supplementing the western grown supply of iceberg lettuce for salads. Florida sweet corn is on the best buy list.

Coffee Cake

Just one taste of Sunburst Coffee Cake, tempting and hot from the oven, endears this breakfast specialty.

Juicy mandarin orange slices radiate atop the crunchy coconut-brown sugar topping. Beneath the sweet crown, you'll find the tender light cake.

SUNBURST COFFEE CAKE is made with ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, drained, ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar, ¼ cup chopped nuts, ,, cup flaked coconut.

Also 1 cups sifted enrich sugar, 1½ cup all-purpose flour, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup all-purpose shortening, 3/4 cup milk, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, or cool.

and 1 egg. . . .

MELT BUTTER or margarine in 9-inch round cake pan. Starting from center of pan arrange orange slices spoke-fashion on bottom. Mix brown sugar, nuts and coconut and sprinkle over oranges. Sift together flour and sugar into mixing bowl.

Blend in shortening and ½ cup milk. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Blend in remaining milk, lemon extract and egg. Beat at medium speed 2 minutes or 300 strokes more. Turn into pan, spreading evenly.

BAKE IN preheated 350 degree oven 40 to 45 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 15 minutes before inverting onto serving plate. Serve warm or cool.
