Beauty, reverence accent reception

Elaborate floral arrangements lent beauty to the setting, and a special blessing by the Rev. Robert Newbold added reverence to a reception which honored Miss Stephanie Woolridge, Sunday.

Miss Woolridge, who made her debut at the Me-De-So Cotillion the past Spring, was feted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Woolridge, at their Edgewood Road home.

A PINK and green color scheme was carried out in the ensembles worn by the members of the receiving line.

Heading the line was Mrs. Grace Burkett, godmother of the Debutante, who wore a two - piece silk sheath in green. Mrs. Woolridge, mother of the honoree, wore a green chiffon sheath with a ruffled neckline and cuffs. The honoree wore a baby pink silk "A" line organza sheath with demure off - white, lace capped sleeves. She carried a nosegay of small rose buds presented to her by Mrs. A. Paul Moss. Mrs. Vernie Clash, grandmother, wore a blue - green chiffon sheath with a matching jeweled top.

Mrs. Edith Rohobolt, aunt, was smart in shocking pink raw silk sheath which glowed under her green carnation corsage. Mrs. Bruce Alleyne, wife of Miss Woolridge's Me - De - So sponsor, wore an exquisite green tunic sheath of Italian silk with matching shoes.

THE HOSTESSES carried out the theme with a wide variety of ultra chic designs. Mrs. Bernice McDaniels wore an original pink linen sheath with matching shoes. Mrs. Lucille Venture was chic in a green silk sheath with an exotic draped back effect that gave the illusion of a descending cape. Mrs. Mattie Gardner was in an original Jamaician two - piece of muted green which she designed and made. The dress was a sleeveless sheath with embroidered bottom and a three - quarter jacket of the same material.

Mrs. Ann Newbold wore a two - piece rose pink covered with pink lace roses. Mrs. Hermoine Weaver was smart in a pink tunic silk sheath, nipped snugly at the waist where the tunic draped around to fall straight in the back. Mrs. Mary Sprow was in blue - green silk sheath with a jeweled top with matching shoes. Mrs. Pauline Blackwell was especially charmin soft biege raw silk sheath with soft green overlones, made even more impressive by her unusual pink accessories.

Mrs. Vera Carrington was a breath of spring in flowing yellow chiffon which was softly draped at the neck and discreetly low at back.

Mrs. Ambia Neal, another aunt of the Deb, wore a floral silk sheath of deep pink and green roses on a black background with matching floral shoes. Miss Patricia Carington, junior hostess, and also a debutante, was radiant in a pink linen sheath touched gently at the neckline with soft white lace and matching accessories.

THE JUNIOR hostesses included Misses Amy L. Woolridge, sister of the deb, a refreshing delight in a pink dress of chiffon with an embossed floral top; Myra Rohobolt, cousin, in rose - bud pink linen with a white cotton lace top; and Wanda Rawlings, chiffon tipped with appliqued roses. The three greeted guests and assisted in collecting and registering gifts. Each young lady completed her outfit with dainty short white gloves.

Along the stairway leading into the house were four young men, who escorted the ladies up and down the steps. They were Rene Patterson, cousing of the debutante, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson; Franklin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Jones; Michael Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders; Robert Burkett Jr., son of Mrs. Grace Brukett and the late Robert Burkett.

Who Finds All The Lost Mothers At A&P?

Don't believe we have lost mothers at A&P?
You would if you saw
a teary-cheeked tyke look up at a checker or clerk and say,
"My Mommy's lost."
Funny thing, children are never lost
– just their mommies are.
It happens every day.

We've had 106 years experience
finding "lost Mommies."
And we have a whole group of friendly people working at your A&P
who'll wipe away those tears
and round up that missing Mother.

That's the way we are at A&P
because we care about you... and yours.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?
It's one of many.
