
Ugly is only skin-deep.

It may not be much to look at. But beneath that humble exterior beats an air-cooled engine. It won't boil over and ruin your piston rings. It won't freeze over and ruin your life. It's in the back of the car for better traction in snow and sand. And it will give you about 29 miles to a gallon of gas.

After a while you get to like so much about the VW, you even get to like what it looks like.

You find that there's enough legroom for almost anybody's legs. Enough headroom for almost anybody's head. With a hat on it. Snug-fitting bucket seats. Doors that close so well you can hardly close them. (They're so airtight, it's better to open the window a crack first.)

Those plain, unglamorous wheels are each suspended independently. So when a bump makes one wheel bounce, the bounce doesn't make the other wheel bump. It's things like that you pay the $1,585* for, when you buy a VW. The ugliness doesn't add a thing to the cost of the car.

That's the beauty of it.

Dugout salute for Hank Aaron
19th and 20th homers produced 6 RBI

Hank Aaron's torrid bat enters classic company

NEW YORK — Hank Aaron, the newest entry in baseball's home run derby, is running in some pretty fast company. With the race one third over, he is head-and-head with Roger Maris and four lengths ahead of Hack Wilson.

The 31-year-old Aaron, who entered the season with the highest batting average among active National League players, never has been regarded as a slugger in the tradition of Ruth, Foxx and Williams, etc. That is, until this year.

Aaron, a slim 176 pounds, has slammed 20 home runs in his first 55 games, an average that puts him dead even with Maris, whose 61 homers in 1961 is the all-time major league mark, and four games ahead of Wilson who set the National League standard of 56 in 1930.

* * *

IT'S NOT that Aaron has ignored the home-run ball in past years. His 418 career blows is the 10th best in baseball annals and he twice led the N.L. in that department with personal highs of 44.

But the Braves' right-fielder never had chased the ghost of Ruth through the summer prior to this year. Aaron ripped two home runs, including the 10th grand slam of his career, Wednesday night and drove in six runs to lead Atlanta to a 7-6 victory over the New York Mets.

* * *

HIS PACE sets him far in front of the pack in both N.L. and majors.

His nearest pursuers are teammate, Joe Torre, and Jim Ray Hart of the San Francisco Giants, with 14 apiece. Maris, who got little more than an asterisk for his trouble, also rapped his 20th homer in his team's 35th game in 1961, and Wilson required 59 games to reach that figure.

Hank's six RBI's also boosted Aaron's total to 48, tops in the majors, and the four hits he collected off three New York pitchers boosted his once woeful batting average to a healthy .296.

Oriole slugger takes lead on 'foul' homer

Baltimore Oriole slugger, Frank Robinson, took the American League lead in home runs, Monday night, on a shot to left that the Washington Senators thought he should not have had.

Not that the Nats suspected foul play, but they thought it was a foul ball. It was Robinson's fourteenth of the year and, his second in the game at D.C. Stadium.

When third base umpire Bill Kinnamon ruled the ball, which hugged the left field line, was not foul, it sparked boos from the partisan crowd.

Robinson hesitated and was headed back to the plate, obviously thinking he had no more than a long foul, when Kinnamon signalled that the ball was fair.

The acquisition from the Cincinnati Reds batted in all three of the Birds' runs, sending the first tally home on a sharp ground-out.

There was no question about his shot in the fourth. It went an estimated 465 feet in centerfield. Nats centerfielder, Fred Valentine, could do no more than run to the fence and look up.

Then came the disputed blast in the ninth, which sent Hodges, catcher Paul Casanova, winning pitcher Phil Ortega, and third baseman Ken McMullen out to third for the tete-a-tete with the official.

Though Robinson rocked Ortega's pitching, all went well for the Senators, who ended a four-game losing streak by taking their sixth straight from the Orioles at D.C. Stadium, 5-3.

He was not available after the game, because the Orioles locker room was closed to the press.

BASEBALLS — The batting averages of both Casanova and Valentine have dipped considerably. . . Castle left the stadium Monday night batting only .200. . . Valentine had fizzled to .282. . . Neither got a hit in seven trips, Monday.

Fans can be fickle. . . Minutes after Willie Kirkland, one of the most unpopular players, was introduced as a pinch-runner Monday and booed, he was cheered wildly for stealing second.

Oscar Robertson leads NBA revolt

By SAM LACY
BALTIMORE

With Oscar Robertson sounding the warning, pro basketball players let it be known here this week that they do not like their serf-liked existence and plan to do something about it.

Robertson, serving as spokesman for the NBA Players' Association, told a meeting of owners that it may be to the best interest of everyone if the league's reserve clause is discarded.

He said the athletes are in a mood to urge the immediate end to a situation that limits a player's earning potential.

OSCAR ROBERTSON

The "Big O" posted his unexpected bombshell at the Wednesday session of the 3-day conference at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel.

* * *

ROBERTSON SAID he thought the players' rights were being restricted by the reserve clause. Once they are chosen in college they must either sign with the team that picks them or forget basketball as a career.

Also, Robertson said, once he signs he is forever committed to the clause.

* * *

"WE FEEL that eventually the reserve clause will be stricken down in the courts," said the players' lawyer, Larry Fleischer, in support of Oscar. "And if nothing is done there will be an open war if an agreement is not reached before then."

The owners said they would consider the request and report back.

The playes asked also for more money from television for the retirement fund and at least $10 a day as meal money on road trips.

HOW TO PRACTICE HITTING

Baseball players take batting practice for just one reason. They want to get their rhythm and timing down for the game coming up. They don't really try to hit the ball out of the park and the pitcher doesn't try to fool them. It's a matter of just stepping up to the plate, swinging the bat, and trying to feel comfortable as you swing.

The same thing should apply to all youngsters playing baseball. In all the back yard and pick up games you play and at all the times you get a chance to have batting practice just get up there and try to meet the ball. Don't try to hit it out of the park.

Use three safeguards and you'll find hitting improving. First of all practice hitting by finding a spot at the plate where you are comfortable. Secondly concentrate only on meeting the ball, just try to hit a single into the outfield. And, finally never take your eye off the ball as you practice.

I have to do the same things when I get into a slump and fortunately I was able to start hitting the ball again recently.

See the spirit of '66!
See Frank Robinson and the Orioles' other big bats at the stadium!

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Soft Whiskey: Whiskey with the tiger taken out.

As you know, tigers are "in" these days. But not in Soft Whiskey.

No, sir.

Soft Whiskey goes down the chutch as soft as...as...Soft Whiskey.

So how do we do it?

It's simple once you know how.

First of all, we do some of our distilling in small batches. Instead of big ones. And second of all, that's all we're going to tell you.

But hold on.

Before you send out for a bottle, there's one other thing you better know. Soft Whiskey is 86 proof. Got it? Soft Whiskey is 86 proof.

Remember it.

Because Soft Whiskey does anything any other whiskey can do. It just does it softer.

Sure we took the tiger out. But not the tiger's strength.
