Student wage earners still dependents

College and high school students with vacation or parttime jobs may earn over $600 and still be claimed as dependents by the parents.

If the parent furnished more than half the total cost of the student's support, the student may be claimed by his parents as a dependent regardless of his earnings, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

A student who works full time year - round during the day and attends school at night does not meet the dependency requirement.

City County Democrats set annual rally Mon.

The City County Democratic Club is sponsoring an old - fashioned crab feast and political rally 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Pikesville Volunteer Fire Hall, Sudbrook Lane extended between Park Heights Ave. and Reisterstown Rd.

Special guests will be Senator Fred R. Harris (D. Okla.), with Maryland Senators Daniel B. Brewster and Joseph D. Tydings scheduled to appear.

This will be the club's annual dinner open to the general public, with tickets $5 per person or $15 per couple.

For ticket information call 467-1104.

J. Hardin Marion is president of this independent Democratic club, and Howard H. Murphy, AFRO business manager, is a member of the board of directors.

The club's membership includes such persons as Sen. Verda Welcome; Judge Robert L. Watts; John R. Hargrove, attorney; George L. Russell Jr., attorney; Delegate Clarence M. Mitchell 3rd, and Arthur G. Murphy, assistant U.S. attorney.

Roomers okayed at 2804 Roslyn

An appeal asking the housing of roomers at 2804 Roslyn Ave. was given conditional agreement Tuesday by the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals.

The agreement was that six roomers, rather than the requested eight, be allowed.

You Get Safety Plus Savings With Allstate at Sears

HERE'S WHY ALLSTATE XSS TIRES ARE SO TOUGH AND DEPENDABLE...

Just Check Our Amazing Test Results:

1. Proven quickest, safest-stopping on rainy roads at 60 mph — clawed into wet curves, too!

2. Proven strong - running: at normal inflation, under normal conditions, easily did 1,000 miles at 100 mph.

ONLY A GREAT TIRE GIVES THIS SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE:

It runs strong because we set specifications demanding that this tire pass the toughest tests we've ever given a tire . . . AND IT DID! It's a great highway tire . . . it finished over 1,000 miles at over 100 mph under the same conditions you would experience! It beat any major first-line tire we tested for quick stops on rain-slick pavements. Because the T-rib tread has a network of traction slots, the water is wiped right off the road. And the tread is deeper than any you'll find on new-car tires . . . features a contour safety shoulder that improves your steering control, adds bite on curves. That's why we say . . . ONLY A GREAT TIRE COULD DO IT!

3. Proven to wear: overloaded, it went 22,650 miles almost non-stop, on asphalt laced with curves.

4. We added extra nylon in body, extra ribs in tread, extra depth to tread so we could guarantee it for 30 MONTHS!

FOR A FESTIVE FOURTH —A giant firecracker "explodes" in the center of this Fourth of July picnic table setting. It is surrounded by small firecrackers as individual star placemats are made of Marvalon adhesive covering and can be adhered to the table top itself. They won't blow away and they're easily removed when the picnic is over.

Saturday wedding for Elvear Allen

With Lula Jones Garrett

"Twill be a Saturday wedding for Elvear Bessie Allen and Antione Darius Johnson. The couple will exchange vows in the Roman Catholic Basilica of the Assumption, Mulberry and Cathedral Streets.

Miss Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Allen of Copley Road, is a graduate of Howard University and currently on the faculty of Herring Run Junior High School.

Mr. Johnson, a design engineer for Diebold, Inc. is matriculating at the Johns Hopkins University.

The chic young lady who has captured the heart of combo leader Claude Grant (who plays the organ divinely) is Effie Smith. There's an August marriage in the making.

That stunner, featured in the current issue of the Washingtonian as one of the "Ten Most Beautiful Women in Washington," is Mrs. J. Douglas Sheppard of this town. She's the former Jewel Robinson of Richmond, Va. and a Goucher grad.

When the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland held their Regional Campaign Conference, it was Mrs. Ruby Gill who introduced the State President, Mrs. Ab Heermann, at the opening session.

Mrs. Gill is chairman of the Fourth Congressional District, and was co-chairman of the convention committee.

FAYE — BURNETTE coaxed her sister, Gloria McDaniel, to the home of Dorothe Booze Johnson, Saturday evening, on the pretext of picking up a bathing suit . . . and when the sisters arrived Gloria found herself greeted with a blast — "surprise."

The occasion was a pre wedding luncheon shower given by four of Gloria's friends: Roberta Crosby, Doris Embree, Louise Berry and Dorothe . . . and the setting charmingly bespoke the party theme.

A two - foot tall Hallmark paper bride dominated the living room mantle, and the fireplace was piled high with prettily wrapped gifts.

When the Honoree had recaptured her composure, she was escorted to the center table, where the packages were opened to reveal gifts ranging from lingerie to cookware and household accessories.

The group moved from there to the dining room. Centered above the table was a large white paper bell from which white streamers dotted with pale pink rose buds were taped to a floral arrangement of miniature pink roses.

About were Loretta Bryant, Edith Davidson, Myrtice Bennett, Helen Bishop, Josephine Brown, Muriel Marshall, Vivian Bruce, Annie Giltings, Eunice Robins, Ethel Covington, Maxine Richardson.

Also Norma Maiden, Roberta Briscoe, Frances Stith, Dorothy Green, Audrey Pinderhuches, Gertrude Williams, Audrey Pinkney, Faye Burnett and Audrey Harden.

Gloria is to be married to Harold Gary.

THE PORT Welcome was a gay setting for the annual cruise of Sigma Gamma Rho sorors and their friends

Pancakes with berry sauce

Pancakes have gone sophisticated. Even when they are being served for breakfast on a sunny summer morning, it isn't always with the same syrup topping. Nor is it likely to be the same pancake batter.

Try raspberry sauce spooned over stacks of tender, brown tipped cereal cakes. The quick-to-mix batter is made with apricot nectar instead of milk. High protein cereal—crisp and golden hued—is folded into the batter last, lending pleasing texture and flavor. The good grain flavors of cereals make them suitable for combining with many other foods. Be prepared to bake lots of these new griddle cakes. You may want to double the recipe.

* * *

NECTAR CEREAL pancakes with raspberry sauce requires one and one half cups pancake mix, one can (12 ounce) apricot nectar, two eggs, one-fourth cup melted shortening, one and one-half cups high protein cereal two packages (10 ounce each), frozen red raspberries, defrosted, and two tablespoons cornstarch.

Combine pancake mix, apricot nectar, eggs and melted shortening in mixing bowl; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened and batter is fairly smooth. Fold cereal into batter.

Pour one-third cup batter onto a hot griddle and spread to four and one-half-inch diameter. Bake cakes until underside is browned and top is full of bubbles. Turn and cook second side.

Drain syrup from raspberries and blend with cornstarch. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Stir in raspberries. Serve over pancakes. Yield: 12 pancakes.

Race unity celebrated

The Howard County Bahai community observed Race Unity Day recently and heard oraoiroac tetcsln oratorical contest winner Robert Nykyforcyn of events on "Optimism, Youth's Greatest Asset."

The program was directed by Mrs. Ruth James of the Howard County School Board, a first, on the Board.
