THE LOCATION of the area where Errol Arnold Wynn, 21-year-old swimmer, went down is marked by an X and is a mile and a half off Greenberry Point on the shore side opposite Carr's Beach. The distant background shows the Bay Bridge and the buoy near where the youth drowned in 24 feet of water, the deepest part of the main ship channel. Center by the pier is the Wynn family cabin cruiser. The youth, his wife and 11-month-old baby and older brother, Chandler, had rented a sail boat for the Monday afternoon jaunt.

the Chesapeake Bay Tuesday shortly after 12 noon, 25 feet down from the approximate spot where he was last seen.

THE TRAGEDY shocked scores of friends of the family widely known on the Eastern Seaboard.

Their popular Carr's Beach night club, the Tahitian Port Lounge, was managed by the dead youth and his brother, Chandler Wynn Jr.

The Wynn Elktonia Beach summer home was frequented by nationally known personalities including Joe Louis during his heavyweight championship reign.

ACCORDING to Maryland Marine Police Assistant Commander Lt. Howard C. Shenton, the young man, a strong swimmer, dived off the sailboat into the Bay without realizing that the spot, just off Greenberry Point, is the deepest portion of the ship channel and the most dangerous part of the Chesapeake Bay.

Maryland waterland folklore terms this location where the Severn River meets the Bay as "Devil Waters."

Lt. Shenton told the AFRO, "I have never seen anyone so distraught and pathetic as Chandler who almost lost his mind because he could not save his brother. I felt so sorry for him and the father, the elder Chandler Wynn."

THE AFRO talked with the grieving brother Tuesday afternoon shortly after the body was taken to the Anne Arundel General Hospital in Annapolis for autopsy.

He and his father were at the Elktonia Beach summer home.

Chandler Jr. sobbed as he said, "I wasn't able to get back to him to give him an assistance.

"He yelled for help a few minutes after he went into the water and said he was tired but I could not get the boat there soon enough.

"I got within 25 yards of him when his head went down and did not come up anymore. He disappeared.

Chandler stated the sailing party left Carr's Beach shortly about 3:30 p.m. and went out into the Bay for a short sail, intending to tie the boat up at the marina later.

He said the tragedy occurred at a point about a mile and a half off his parents' home at Elktonia Beach and in full view of Carrs Beach where their club attracts patrons from all areas of the East Coast.

Continuing, he said he, his father, the Coast Guard, Marine Police and Naval Academy midshipmen gave up the search for his brother's body when dark came Monday.

Tuesday at dawn they hired professional skin divers and took the family boat out to rejoin the Marine drag crew and Coast Guard.

The Wynn brothers had managed the Carr's Beach club two years.

THE DEAD youth was born in Baltimore, June 30, 1944 and would have celebrated his 22nd birthday next week.

He was educated in Baltimore elementary schools and was graduated from Tilton (New Hampshire) Prep School. He completed one year at American University, was married three years ago, and substituted last year in the public schools.

He was a lifelong member of the St. James Church where he served as an altar boy.

His mother is Mrs. Vernice Wynn, widely known in social, church, civic and community circles in Baltimore as a charter member and past national officer of Jack and Jill of America, she is also well-known in the East and Middle West.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Wynn told the AFRO, Arnold had planned to return from the beach Monday afternoon to register for Morgan State College Summer School.

He told her on the telephone from his home that morning he wanted to check the club first.

In addition to his parents, his wife, children and brother, Arnold is survived by a nephew, Chandler Wynn III; two nieces, Allison and Cara Wynn of Washington; five aunts, Mesdames Eloia Edmonds, Ivory Saber of Washington; Mary C'Davis, Boston, Mass.; Gloria Tolentin, Norfolk, Va.; Annie Pridgen, Raeford, N.C.

Also, four uncles, Lee Wynn, Baltimore, Edward Hagans, Washington; Harold and Robert Hagans, Norfolk.

This is terrible. He was such a promising boy. I just can't believe it. They haven't recovered his body yet."

Mrs. Chandler Wynn, 1004 N. Lafayette Ave., was telling the AFRO this morning (Tuesday) about the drowning of her son, Arnold, 21, a Johns Hopkins student, and graduate of the exclusive Tilton School.

She explained that the drowned youth, his wife Patricia, and their 11-month-old child and his brother, Chandler, Jr. were boating on the Chesapeake.

She said that Arnold decided to go swimming and was swimming around the sailboat when he became tired and asked for a rope.

The brother threw the rope but the wind forced the sailboat away and the youth disappeared.

Contest

Her far-flung contest campaign enlisted the help of relatives and friends in Cherry Hill, Forest Park and East Baltimore.

The best of all graduation presents, she said, was also made possible by well wishers whom she did not even know.

Coupons came in the mail from people all over town and one envelope contained votes from a woman who was simply "a 1957 graduate of Douglass."

Her four brothers also provided a "task force" of vote getters. Our proud winner is presently working as a clerk for the Department of Education.

IN SECOND place, and just as ecstatic, is the winner of $300, Mis Francine Bailey 16 - year - old Eastern High school junior who lives at 104 Central Ave.

She trailed the leader by less than 50,000 votes in the contest which saw a total of nearly ten million turned in before it ended.

Miss Bailey, who "felt great," characterized the contest as "a lot of hustle and bustle" and said that "I didn't know I had so many friends."

In contrast to the soft - spokn first place winner, Miss Bailey had a statement to read thanking her friends and saying she was "truly thrilled."

The vivacious and excited junior said she entered "mainly to see my name in the newspaper," but afterwards the support expanded.

MISS BAILEY, who at one point had the whole Lafayette Square Community Center working for her, thanked the tenants of Lafayette Court, workers in the Northwood Shopping Center, Eastern High School and classes of several school teaching relatives."

She gave her "heartfelt thanks especially to all the little kids who handed me one coupon at a time."

Her mother, who is a substitute teacher at School 139, was able to offer no interest in all the different classes she taught.

The second place winner said part of the money would be given to the family, part for clothes and part would be set aside for college and her ambition to become a business teacher or secretary.

THIRD PLACE winner and richer by $200 is Miss Beverly Norris, 734 Roundwood Rd., who attends Cherry Hill Junior High School.

Rounding out the big money winner was Larry Hinton, the only male to break into the winners' circle, who earned $100. An Edmondson High School student, he lives at 847 N. Bentalou St.

The fifth and sixth place winners, gaining $50 each, were Miss Elmira Gee, 2603 F. Mura St., Jane Adams Junior - Senior High and Albert Benson, 1023 N. Stricker St., Joseph C Briscoe Junior High.

Sharing the rest of the $1,500 in prize money were these 12 runnerup winners of $25, listed with their schools in the order of their finish:

7. Tyrone Reid, 221 N. Fremont Ave., Harlem Park.
8. Miss Brenda Pretlow, 2141 Penrose Ave., Gwynns Falls.
9. Miss Gail Williams, 1207 Oakhurst Pl., Calverton.
10. Lynell Brown, 918 Appleton St., City College.
11. Miss Wanda Kelly, 2936 Winchester St., Lemmel.
12. Miss Paulette Middleton, 2237 Orem Ave., Granville T. Woods.
13 Miss Michele K. Elsey, 1817 N. Bentalou St., Calverton.
14. Robin Leonard, 1504 Presser Ct., Charles Hanston
15. Miss Shelley Ashe, 3516 Round Rd., Western.
16. Miss Carmen Marshall, 34 N. Ellamont St., Lemmel.
17. Miss Bettie Sessoms, 2332 Lauretta Ave., Calverton.
18. Miss La Vern Thomas, 28 N. Bentalou St., Gwynns Falls.

Total vote count in the second annual contest reached 9,329,300.

Summer Theatre tryouts slated

The Homewood Summer Theater will hold tryouts for its first production of this season — "In White America".

The tryouts will be held Saturday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Monday, 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. in Levering Hall on the Homewood campus of Johns Hopkins University.

They will be open to all students in the Baltimore area. Further information may be obtained from Wessler at 243-7381.

rejected by a 13 to 8 vote a motion by Councilman Henry G. Parks Jr. (4th D.) to bring to the floor from the Judiciary Committee his public accommodations bill to open all alcoholic beverage dispensing establishments.

Councilman Parks, in the vote on the controversial redistricting plan, termed the measure "an out and out gerrymandering." Another foe, Councilman Thomas Ward (2nd D.) charged it "dilutes the colored population to where it has no effect."

Councilman Walter T. Dixon (4th D.) joined a coalition of Pollack - Reed forces in voting for the plan.

As matters turned out, it was Mr. Dixon's vote that brought the 11 to 9 count. His vote against the plan could have killed it with a 10 to 10 vote.

AMONG OTHER things, the tentatively approved plan extends the 1st District west in the 4th District to Edmondson Ave. and Payson St. and north to Laurens St.

It puts all of the 17th Ward, the almost totally colored populated west end of the 16th Ward and the southern end of the 14th Ward in the first district.

At the same time, it extends the 4th District east from the 13th Ward boundary between North Ave. and roughly 30th St. over to Greenmount Ave. in a heavily white populated sector.

Also, it extends the District north above the old city line to Belvedere Ave., between Gren Spring Ave. and Reisterstown Rd. into another almost totally white area.

Still a further annihilation to the majority colored populated 4th District is that the plan cuts the 13th Ward's western boundary by bringing it eastward from the Western Maryland Railroad to Reisterstown Rd.

This means the colored citizens are barely — if at all — a majority in the 4th District councilmanic district wise.

THE MEASURE, called the "Best Plan" because it was introduced by Councilman Larry Best (3rd D.), was bitterly fought by the 1st District contingent, Councilmen Ward and Parks and Council President Thomas D'Alesandro 3rd.

Only other councilman who voted against it were J. Joseph Curran (3rd); William D. Schaefer (5th), and John J. Hines (6th). Councilman Clement J. Prucha (2nd) passed.

Much name - calling went into passage of the plan, mostly from the 1st District councilmen and Councilman Ward.

They charged that James H. (Jack) Pollack fostered the plan to gain control of the 4th and 5th Districts.

Councilman Parks warned that forces would be at work to petition another plea, probably the rejected Bard plan, to referendum.

Mr. DAlesandro said afterwards he would send the Best Plan to federal court for a ruling on constitutionality.

In the defeat of his move to bring his public accommodations ordinance to the floor, Councilman Parks reminded that 40 percent of the city's population is colored and then told the councilmen:

"Over 60 percent of your schools are populated by colored students. Our young people are aware and on the move."

Union Memorial state's 1st for medicare plaque

Union Memorial Hospital on Thursday became the first hospital in Maryland to receive a plaque citing its certification to participate in Medicare.

It was presented by Social Security Administration officials who said that the 420-bed community hospital is the second institution in the United States to display the mounted certificate.

Walter C. Statham, assistant regional representative of the Bureau of Health Insurance, Charlottesville, Va., presented the plaque to Mrs. C. Meredith Boyce, president of Union Memorial's Board of Managers.

Marriage facts

The 47,345 marriages performed in Maryland during 1965 marked the fourth consecutive year of increase of 4 percent over the previous year, according to Dr. Bettie Rogerson, acting chief of the State Department's Division of Research and Records.

Approximately 78 percent of all brides and 77 percent of all bridegrooms married in the state last year were married for the first time.

Fifty - one percent of the brides who married for the first time were teenagers; 72 percent of the first-married bridegrooms were under 25 years of age.

ical Contest was held. Trophies were presented along with cash money to the following winners; first pace, Miss Deloris Johnson, a Western High School graduate of '66, trophy, second, Miss Patricia Elaine Swindell, Dundalk senior, $100 and a trophy; third, Richard Grant, who also won a trophy and $50.

Eugene L. King Sr. presided over the program. He is state director of education. members which includes individual community residents as well as the representatives from institutions such as Hopkins, Church Home and Hospital, the Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency and all the public schools in the area.

The past year has been mostly taken up with organization and "getting acquainted", Mr. Butler said.

He added that the group, which meets once a month, had no immediate plans for other projects but had recently persuaded the Department of Recreation to open the swimming pool at Chick Webb Recreation Center Saturdays. It had previously been closed the entire weekend.

"This is the type of situation in which we feel we can be useful as a group," Mr. Butler said.

He continued that he hoped the organization, in which the institutions now predominate, could eventually develop local leadership to take it over.

He also emphasized that the CONCN was private and had nothing to do with the poverty program, even though Community Action Centers were consenting to serve as home base and provide managers for the softball teams.
