Peacemaker guilty in slaying outside bar

Lawrence McCallum, 41, 1300 N. Bond St., was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury of six women and six men Tuesday. Judge Joseph A. Carter deferred sentence until a later date.

A small, soft spoken father of three and worker at a printing firm 20 years, McCallum was involved in the March 20 fatal shooting of Robert Coleman, a 27-year-old man he had never seen before.

The incident happened near a neighborhood bar in the vicinity of Valley and Biddle Sts.

According to McCallum's statement to the court, he went for a walk early in the evening and although he is not a drinking man, turned into the bar and treated folks at his table to "shots" followed by beer.

During the stay he drank also and when an argument developed, tried to serve as peacemaker.

However, according to testimony, Coleman, at the table and sharing the free drinks, said, "What you doing getting into it?" and invited McCallum outside to "settle it."

According to the prosecutor for the state, McCallum's assailant (Coleman) "beat the heck out of the little man" (McCallum) who retaliated by firing five shots.

However, McCallum explained, "I was dizzy from the drinks and the beating and I never knew exactly what happened."

He stated he did recall the moment when Coleman came charging toward him intent to give him a second beating.

HE TOLD the court, "I think he whirled around to run after I shot one time and he caught another bullet in his back."

He stated he had no idea of killing anyone and regretted the incident ended in the death of a man who misunderstood his intentions.

Mr. McCallum told the jury, "I wanted to quiet him down to keep the bar man from putting us all out. I've never been in trouble before in my life."

Judge Carter said he wanted to look further into Mr. McCallum's situation at home where his wife is ill and needs constant care.

Mr. McCallum was released on his own recognizance on $5,000 bail.

Charge man in slaying of Lee, 22

22-year-old youth, allegedly tampering with a parked car with two other youths, was shot and killed by the owner of the car Monday night, Western District police reported.

The youth, who ran from the scene in the 500 block W. Franklin St. and fell in a gutter in the 400 block N. Green St., was dead on arrival at University Hospital at 9:55 p.m. of a bullet wound of the neck.

The victim was identified by police as John William Lee of the unit block N. Catherine St.

Charged in the killing was Lawrence Punte, 46, 400 block Millington Ave., a silversmith who reportedly left his store to find two youths sitting in his car and another standing outside, police said.

He was held without bail following arraignment in Central Municipal Court Tuesday.

MR. PUNTE told police he fired one shot as it appeared the youths were going to attack him, then fired two more shots as the three fled.

Police said his car had been forced open.

SNCC to conduct own Granada drive

GRENADA, Miss. (UPI)—The militant Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee has turned its back on Dr. Martin Luther King's local integration efforts and said it would concentrate its own campaign in surrounding rural areas.

The move came after Stokely Carmichael, head of SNCC and a leader in the "black power" movement, was passed over as a speaker at a meeting called Monday by the SCLC.

Carmichael left the meeting expressing his displeasure.

"I've had it with marching just to get your heads beaten," he declared before leaving town.

DESPITE THE apparent rift, a SNCC spokesman denied there had been any disagreement with SCLC. He said SNCC had simply decided not to participate in King's project. Similarly, the SCLC denied that any snub had been intended in not permitting Carmichael to speak.

SCLC has called for a buyers' boycott to force the "white power structure" to make good on promises that allegedly were made to the Mississippi "Freedom" marchers when they passed through town.

They claim the promises include more liberal voter registration hours, and the right to march whenever they choose.

City fathers rejected a recent set of demands, saying they would not be coerced into any decisions.

The Soft Whiskey proving ground.
In this day and age of proving products scientifically, we have an unscientific suggestion. Taste ours.
One sip and you'll know why we couldn't possibly call it anything but Soft Whiskey.
You see, Soft Whiskey is soft. It goes down just like the name says.
After that, it acts like any other 86 proof whiskey. It's just that getting there is a whole lot easier.
But how to prove that to you?
After all, Soft Whiskey looks like any other whiskey. And it acts like any other whiskey. So what's left is the way Soft Whiskey goes down.
At which point someone said: "Why not just ask people to try it?"
Our first reaction was that that was a bad idea. It wasn't scientific.
Our second reaction was that that was a good idea.
