Mesdames Emanuel Butler, Alice Howard, Mary James, Ellen Stroters, Albert Hall, J. Kenneth Allen, Preston Wallace, Noalie Westbrook, Samuel Newton, William C. Brown.

MATERNAL HEALTH

The kind of medical care a mother receives before her baby is born is important for baby and— mother, too. In Maryland, local health departments provide services for those who cannot afford to pay for this care.

T B CARE

As a protection to all Marylanders, the Health Department provides free hospitalization and care to patients with tuberculosis. New drugs and methods of treatment for tuberculosis have shortened the average length of hospitalization that is necessary.

LAWN PARTY was given by Chi Eta Phi sorors in honor of Miss Powell, their protege at Girl Friend's recent cotillion.

Guardsmen Gave Guests Red Carpet Treatment

By LILLIAN WIGGINS

WASHINGTON

The Golden Triangle in Norfolk was the scene of mass activity as guests from Washington, Baltimore, New Jersey, New York, Georgia, and North Carolina literally swamped into that city to attend the Norfolk Guardsmen week-end.

The journey began early Friday for most of the Washington guests as they headed out Shirley Highway for Richmond to avoid the heavy traffic crossing that strip of land on the highway which is under construction.

It was a balmy day even without much sun and after three and one half hours of driving we turned into the entrance of the hotel only to be stalled by the Cadallacs and Lincolns that lined the pathway up the ramp.

* * *

AFTER DETOURING to Tom River, N.J., to pick up their son from Camp Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Genus arrived in the late afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Booker arrived early enough for their children Tina and Cliffee Jr., to take a nice dip in the pool which was heated.

Having a bite to eat before getting dressed for the night's activities were Aileen and Mike Speller of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Avrey of the Washington Police Board, Mildred Avrey who drove down in her new Mustang and George and Natali Scurlock.

Friday night's affair was a formal spring dance and served as a get - acquainted party for most of the guests.

In between dances, I spotted Walter and Helena Edmonds, Roger and Annie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Junky Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Weaver and Dr. and Mrs. Babe Swiff of Baltimore.

* * *

ON AN occasion such as this, most of the guests had not seen each other since the last affair, which was two years ago. It was good to see Steve and Thelma Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Young of Baltimore.

With the presence of Cornelius Powell who was elegently dressed, Dr. and Mrs. William Green, (Stud and Gladys) Dr. and Mrs. James Reid, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cannaday, Dr. Sam Bullock and Attorney and Mrs. Richard Plenty who co-hosted a party with Cubby Gill of Norfolk, Washington was well represented.

After the dance on Friday, which lasted until 2:30 a.m., the guests of Walter (Crow) Riddick, went to breakfast at his invitation. The party which included Robnett and Joseph Sewell of Washingon, James E. (Chum) Reid of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Young, publishers of the local newspaper in Norfolk, consisted of approximately 16 smartly dressed ladies and gents.

Because of rain Saturday, which washed away the planned beach party, the host chapter chartered 3 buses and took the guests to a private country club — Club Said in Portsmouth.

Once there the guests were wined and dined and entertained. Feasting on the delicious repast were Mattie Davis, local business woman, Fannie Girdy (my mother) Judge Ed Dudley of New York, who was a former Burrough president, Frank Irving, Calvin Johnsonof N.Y., Leon Holly of Brooklyn and Dr. Jack White.

In the evening the hospitality room was swinging; also the rooms of the individual guests. Record players were blasting and the ice machine, located on each floor, couldn't make ice fast enough to accommodate the ones going to and from the machine.

On Saturday night, the buffet dinner party was a grand affair and the menu consisted of hot and cold food.

Among the delicious dishes were seafood supreme, hot roast beef, string beans, carrots, kidney bean salad, baked ham and fruit salad.

Because everyone was in a easy mood, the affair which was to have been over at 1 a.m., didn't end until 3 a.m.

Having a lively conversation before the evening terminated were Dr. and Mrs. C. Mason Quick of Fayetteville, N.C., Attorney Colston Lewis of Richmond who had to solo it this time; Billy Chandler and wife, Col. and Mrs. Ed Wimp of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Faulkner of Wilmington, N.C. and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Reveri from Durham, N.C. Fay Reveri brought her son along and he was guest of the Riddick children.

As the hands of the clock seemed to race around Sunday, making the guests aware of check-out time — 3 p.m., there was only enough time left to take a quick swim and bid goodby to many friends.

Attorney and Mrs. Victor Riddick prepared a lavish spread of food for their guests at their respective homes, before departing for points North, South, East and West.

In Richmond, we stopped by Sam Owens place to greet him since this was the first time he had missed one of the Norfolk affairs. Vacation time and help had put him in a strain for the want of help so, he decided to man the fort.

Talked with Mrs. Glennis Lewis and she informed me that her son had house guests and he thought it best to remain at home.

ROBERT FREEMAN APPOINTED

Leonard H. Marks director of the U. S. Information Agency, has announced the appointment of Robert T. Freeman Jr., businessman and former associate director of management for the Peace Corps, as a consultant to USIA.

Mr. Marks indicated that Mr. Freeman will advise the Agency on recruiting personnel for its programs, with emphasis on the selection of outstanding persons from across the country.

Mr. Freedman is the husband of Mrs. Mary Freeman who is active with the Washington Women's Council which is part of the Afro-American Institute.

The Freemans are busy preparing for their daughter's wedding which is to take place at Andrew Rankin Chapel on campus of Howard University August 13.

Mr. Freeman was active in insurance and related fields in Ghana from 1956 to 1965. He founded, organized and directed three insurance companies there, merging them in 1962 into the State Insurance Corporation, of which he was managing director.

SNCC BENEFIT

Harry Belafonte, who was appearing last week in the Carter Barron, gave a heart-warning benefit performance on behalf of the Student Non - Violent Coordinating Committee, Sunday at Murphy's Supper Club.

More than 200 patrons and friends of SNCC crowded into the club, which was put at the disposal of the group by the courtesy of Ed Murphy, owner, and heard Mr. Belafonte at his best.

Last week, Mr. Belafonte was honored by Congressman John Conyers at a luncheon on Capitol Hill Wednesday afternoon.

The ladies were very much present as one man remarked "I have never seen so many pretty girls on Capitol Hill."

DECORATED

Sterling Tucker, executive director of the Washington Urban League, was decorated by the Government of Liberia "for his outstanding services in the promotion of understanding and cooperation in human relations and for his leadership in community affairs."

The decoration, a Commander Star of Africa, was awarded Mr. Tucker by Liberian President William S. Tubman on July 26, Liberian Independence Day.

MR. AND MRS. Wilford Griffin are honeymooning at Birchwood in the Poconos, of Pennsylvania, following their marriage

Mrs. Griffin is a Baltimore County teacher. Mrs. Griffin is the former Vesta Copeland of Baltimore.

Miss Wynola Woody, Mr. Cunningham wed

A double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert M. Williams in Zion Baptist Church, united Miss Wynola Woody and Sterling Cunningham, Sunday.

Miss Woody is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaither H. Woody, and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cunningham.

Soloist at the ceremony was Miss Brenda Gaskins. Donal Carey was organist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, Miss Woody wore a gown of Alencon lace styled with princess lines. A sleeveless coat of peau de soie worn over the dress, formed the chapel train.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of peau de soie rosettes with Alencon and pearl trim.

She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Woody was her sister's maid of honor. The matron of honor, also a sister of the bride, was Mrs. Elnora Barber. Bridesmaids were Miss Frechetter Cunningham, Gloria Dean, Shirley Paige, Frances Palmer, Leoda Taylor and Marilyn Williams.

* * *

THE ATTENDANTS wore gowns of chiffon over taffeta, with sleeveless coats of peau de soie. Honor attendants were in Nile green, and bridesmaids in cherry pink.

They wore matching hats of pouf veils of illusion, shoes to match and carried fan bouquets decorated with pink and green sweethearts.

The flower girl, Monica Brown, wore a Nile green linen gown, made with an empire bodice and A-line skirt. The back had white chiffon panels, with chiffon rosettes at the neckline. Her headpiece was a flower wreath.

* * *

CURTISS CRAWLEY, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were Leon Brooks, Raymond Massey, Herbert Rogers, Joseph Stokes, Thomas White, Samuel Ware and Melvin Watkins.

Roderick Barber was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Woody wore a street-length dress of aqua lace over taffeta with chiffon panel extending in the back from the left shoulder. Her hat was of aqua net overlaid with floral design. Mrs. Cunningham chose a street length dress of aqua crepe with ribbon lace bodice.

A RECEPTION followed in the Forest Manor. The Emanons provided the music, and assisting hostesses included Miss Zenobia Cornish, Mrs. Janice Page, Miss Alice Brailey and Mrs. Odar-Lee Coleman.

Guests were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Aretha Mayo. All hostesses are co-workers of the bride, a member of the faculty of School No. 78.

Also assisting were Albert Dunbar, Freddie Ferguson, Ronald Johnson and Stanley Robinson, pupils of the bride.

* * *

FOLLOWING THE reception, the parents of the bride entertained at dinner for relatives and close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were also hosts to the members of the bridal party and close friends at a lawn party at their home on Springdale Ave.

* * *

THE BRIDE was honoree at a lingerie shower given by her co-workers, Mesdames Aretha Mayo, Leoda Taylor and Gladys Brown.

Bridesmaids Shirley Paige and Frances Palmer were also hostesses at a household shower at the home of Miss Paige.

Following their wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will be at home at 3719 Dolfield Ave.

A hint...

A GOOD shopping list is needed and it should be flexible. Use of basic food guide to plan meals, and know what foods can be substituted for each other then you can just alter your shopping list to take advantage of bargains.

If you have meals planned ahead it does away with the chore of figuring what to have for dinner from what ever is in the refrigerator. A good shopping list also helps to cut down on impluse buying.
