Coppin coed in weekend concert

Carla Glover, attractive sophomore at Coppin State College, will be one of the guest solists at the Sunday evening concert by Baltimore Municipal Band, to be held in Lafayette Square.

The soprano is doing "I'm falling in love With Someone" from Victor Herbert's well loved musical "Naughty Marietta" and "Yo!ll Walk Alone", one of the most popular numbers from "Carousel" (Rodgers-Hammerstein).

She will also open and conclude the concert with "Baltimore Our Baltimore" and the national anthem. Miss Glover has appeared frequently with the Coppin Choir, under the directions of Henry Freeman and also participated in musical events at Edmondson High School, of which she is an alumnus.

Her musical experience included membership on the intercultural choir at Mt. Calvary Episcopal Church, Eutaw St., and Madison Ave. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Glover, of Catonsville.

Matthew Fraling, the well know Baltimore baritone, is programmed for the "Gypsy Love Song," another Herbert household favorite and Choan's "Patriotic Fantasy".

Mr. Fraling is head of the music department at Gibbons High School and cantor at St. Gregory the Great R. C. Church.

An Alto saxophone solo "Misty" will be performed by Paul Johns of the band. Wielding the baton will be Weldon J. Irvine, teacher of instrumental music at Dunbar High School. In addition to having been solo clarinetist and trumpeter in the various city bands, Mr. Irvine is proficient on 15 other instruments.

A graduate of Virginia State College, he has attend Loyola College, the University of the Philippines, Peabody Conservatory and the University of Maryland.

* * *

UNDER HIS direction the band is playing compositions by Humperdinck, Prokofieff, Loewe and Bernstein as well as several popular numbers.

The public is invited to the concert, which is free and sponsored by the Bureau of Music, Department of Recreation and Parks, Elliott Shallin, superintendent.

LAST PICTURE — Demolished last week, the former Joseph C. Briscoe Special School N. 451 at Druid Hill and Lafayette Aves., is now a vacant lot. Pupils were moved out in June, 1965, to portables at Preston St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Before the ancient brick building was acquired by the Board of Education in 1945 for $57,000, the ancient brick building was the depression home of the WPA, the NRA and other Roosevelt era projects. In early World War II years, it housed government training classes for adults who went to work in local shipyards, radio and aircraft plants.

Summer school student leaves home; back safe

Minutes after parents of a missing 13 - year - old summer school student appealed to the AFRO for help on Thursday, they called the AFRO to advise the youngster had returned home safely.

'It's been terrible ... all night long,' said the mother who reported her daughter had never left home unannounced before.

Equally relieved was the father, who had scoured the neighborhood in the vicinity of Lemmel Junior High, where the youngster was taking a math course. Summer school ended Wednesday.

THE CHILD'S disappearance inconvenienced the Police Department which assigned special officers shortly after the child was reported missing on Wednesday.

Also inconvenienced was the Lemmel principal, Charles Curtis. He took the time to visit nearby blocks and a nearby shopping center.

The mother, still upset, told the AFRO late Thursday, she said she had been at a girlfriends house. Main thing, she is safe...

We, too, endorse Clarence Mitchell 3rd

July 11, 1966

Dear Clarence:

I certainly enjoyed our meeting during the White House Conference "To Fulfill These Rights."

Attached is a photo memento.

With it go my best wishes in our all-out effort for Democratic victory in November. Perhaps your Dad told you of my little endorsement at the NAACP Convention — a pleasure and a privilege! You are my favorite candidate for the state Senate in the state of Maryland.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,

Hubert H. Humphrey

WE THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS, endorse the candidacy of Clarence M. Mitchell, III for the State Senate from the Fourth Legislative District. During his four years in the House of Delegates, among his accomplishmnts are the following:

— Introduced the State's first Fair Employment Law, enacted in 1963.

— Helped pass state's first Public Accommodations Law, 1963-64.

— Sponsored Anti Cross Burning Law, signed by Governor, May, 1966.

— Co-sponsored new formulas for increased aid to Education.

— Co - sponsored increased medical insurance, vacation and sick leave benefits for state employees.

— Fought move to cut welfare funds.

— Fought police brutality and was first legislator to call for removal of Police Commissioner Schmidt because he failed to act on citizens' complaints of police brutality.

— 1963 Introduced first Fair Housing Bill with 8 co-sponsors. In 1966 reintroduced the same bill with 29 co-sponsors.

He is an experienced, dedicated fighter for full civil rights.

Vote for Clarence Mitchell, State Senate, 4th Dist. in Primary Election Sept. 13th.

Published by authority of Non-Partisan Citizens Committee, Dr. A. J. Payne, chairman; Edgar A. Love, vice chairman; Dr. J. E. T. Campbell, treasurer.

James Gilreath to head 4th District Campaign

"This is the most important election in the history of the Fourth District.

"At last colored citizens are in a solid position to elect representatives to the General Assembly who will devote all their energies to protecting the interest of all the people.

"The only way we can assure their election is to prevent the splitting up of our votes by the various factions, most of whom are interested in personal gain."

That critical appraisal of the political situation in the Fourth District was offered by James J. Gilreath, newly-named campaign manager for the ticket fielded by the 4th District Democratic Organization.

David T. Mason, chairman, board of directors of the organization, said Mr. Gilreath's duties will include coordinating campaign activities of the organization's ticket.

"Never before has there been such desperate need for the voters to unite behind candidates of proven ability who can best serve the interest of all the people of the district," Mr. Mason said while explaining the need for a campaign manager.

* * *

THE ORGANIZATION'S slate of candidates is headed by Sen. Verda F. Welcome, incumbent, whose running mate for the second newly-created senate seat is Dr. Emerson R. Julian.

Candidates for the House Delegates include:

Mrs. Victorine Q. Adams, Murray Abramson, incumbent; Troy Brailey, Harvey Epstein, Sterling A. Paige and Dr. Thomas Pitts.

* * *

MR. GILREATH 31, graduate of Kansas State Teachers College, is a former public relations representative of the Baltimore Bullets.

An ex-army officer, Mr. Gilreath has wide experience in the promotional and public affairs profession.

He holds a B. S. degree in social science and has done graduate work at Butler University in Indiana.

The Wesley Dargans end their marriage

Mrs. Susan Dargan of 4017 Bonner Road, moved while he was at work, taking everything except his clothes and a cot left in the middle of one room, Wesley R. Dargan, testified.

The husband, who lives at 1161 N. Mount St., was awarded a divorce in Circuit Court, last week.

Married on Feb. 11, 1944, the couple stayed together less than two years.

Their son and daughter went with the mother, Mr. Dargan said.

LEE ANDREW BROWN of 305 N. Carey St., was divorced from Mrs. Rosa Brown in Circuit Court, this week.

Married in Emporia, Va. on July 9, 1955, the union ended on Sept. 19, 1963, the husband said.

* * *

MR. BROWN testified that he and Mrs. Brown just could not get along and agreed to separate.

The couple have five children for whom he is currently providing $21.50 per week through the Probation Department.

* * *

A DIVORCE went to Horace L. Spencer of 1809 W. Mosher St. from Mrs. Geraldine Spencer of Portsmouth, Va.

According to testimony, they were married on March 7, 1953, and separated on June 30, 1955.

Their teenage son is in custody of the father.

Demoralized Redskins irk 45,000 would-be patrons

By SAM LACY

WASHINGTON

A thoroughly disenchanted throng of 45,805 pre - season customers watched in disgust Wednesday night as the Otto Graham version of the Washington Redskins took a 35-0 pasting from the Baltimore Colts.

Considering that the sell-out crowd should have been a harbinger of good gate tidings for the 1966 team, Redskins brass can only review with regret, this year's renewal of the annual Shrine Charity affair.

* * *

IT WAS former Cleveland quarterback Graham's debut as coach of a pro team, and he had been freely quoted as being only slightly interested in the outcome.

Graham stated that his chief concern was seeing all his players — inept as well as accomplished — in action.

The decision was a slap in the face for no only the potential 1966 hometown rooter, but a black eye for the promotion as well.

The Shrine benefit cannot help suffering in the future, as a result of the contest and the complete demoralization of the Redskin aggregation.

ASIDE FROM the fact that the Colts ran up five touchdowns within the first 24 minutes of play, Graham's "simplified offense" as he has been wont to call it, didn't even sputter.

It couldn't sputter because it rarely got moving.

* * *

ON THE other hand, Johnny Unitas and stand-in quarterback Gary Cuozzo steered the Colt to a 35-0 half-time score to the dismay of the hometown horde, which included President Johnson, then relaxed as Baltimore coach Don Shula refused to let his bench run up a higher margin.

It was the first game for Unitas since a knee injury sidelined him late last season. He completed 10 of 12 passes, including two for touchdowns.

He climaxed a 44-yard Colt drive in the first period with a four yard toss to rookie Al Snyder and shortly after the Colts recovered a Redskin fumble on the Washington 10 yard line he hit Jimmy Orr with a nine-yard pass.

Baltimore's other scoring plays came on a one yard drive by Tony Lorick, a 34-yard pass from Cuozzo to Willie Richardson and Ron Baldwin's run before half-time.

JAMES (KID) PAYNE

Eyes of local fistic hope focussed on title

Baltimore - born James (Kid) Payne is a firm believer in the axiom, "aim at the stars, though you may only reach the treetops."

Payne is a 21 - year - old contruction worker who acts as though he is following this pursuit only because he must keep active until he becomes a part of the big money fight game.

The Kid is a light - heavyweight with but two pro bouts behind him. Yet, he holds firm in the belief that some day he may challenge for the 175 - pound title now worn by Jose Torres.

* * *

AND HIS manager, Elmo Hughes, is equally certain that Payne will achieve his goal.

"A more conscientious, dedicated athlete I've never known," declares Hughes. "He works hard and literally soaks up all the knowledge he can get from Dick Thomas."

Thomas is a veteran trainer who has handled several good boxers over the past 15 years.

* * *

AN IDEA of the seriousness with which the Kid attacks his undertaking may be gleaned from the fact that his steady job is sandwiched between daily chores in the ring.

Payne is up every morning at 5 and runs from 3 to 5 miles in Druid Hill Park before showering at 7 o'clock and reporting to work at 8.

His construction duties over in the evening, he is in the gym at the Druid Hill YMCA by 6 p.m., where he works out until 8 o'clock nightly.

A PRODUCT of the local public schools, Payne had no amateur experience before accepting his first pro bout on the card at Steelworkers Hall, two months ago.

In two bouts he has disposed of his rivals in less than three rounds of action. He knocked out Bobby Vilson of Philadelphia, in the second round of his debut, and stopped Johnny Hardwick of Bridgeeon, N.J., in one heat in the other — LACY.

MEREDITH SPEAKS HIS MIND TO WHITE AMERICANS

James Meredith walked down a long Mississippi road, almost to his death. What was he trying to prove to himself and other Negro Americans? Meredith's exclusive report, written for The Saturday Evening Post, gives the first complete answer. You'll learn why he believes Dr. King's philosophy no longer holds and the N.A.A.C.P. has lost respect ... and that non-violence is actually incompatible with American ideals. "America is a tough country," Meredith says, "and a man has to look out for his own, to be his own man ... The Negro movement is on the march and nothing is going to stop it." Floyd signs to box Cooper in comeback

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Floyd Patterson, hoping to win his second world heavyweight title for the third time, will start his new comeback campaign on Sept. 20, when he meets Henry Cooper in a 10 - round bout in London.

Al Bolin and Harold Conrad, who will co-promote the fight with Harry Levene of London, announced the signing of the flight from here, where they are staging the heavyweight title fight between champion Jose Torres and Eddie Cotton on Aug. 18.

PATTERSON, WHO has not fought since he was beaten by Cassius Clay in Las Vegas last Nov. 22, has been training at Marlboro, N.Y., for the past two months and reported that he has recovered completely from the shock injury which hampered him that fight. Clay was the victor on a 12th round technical knockout.

The bout will also mark a comeback attempt by Cooper, who was beaten by Clay in a sixth round technical knockout on May 21.
