Mrs. Young, teacher 47 years, looks forward to travel, rest

"My plans call for rest and travel. I took a trip around the world last year, and I was fascinated with Israel and Jordan. I'd like to visit there again and then just go anywhere that strikes my fancy."

Mrs. Leonia E. Young, 1810 Presstman St., thus described her plans upon retiring this year after 47 years of teaching in the public schools.

She was one of 103 city employees of whom 81 were teachers, who received retirement certificates from Mayor McKeldin yesterday (Thursday) in City Hall.

The awards praised the retirees as "outstanding and distinguished citizens."

MRS. YOUNG told the AFRO that she taught all grades, mainly second, in Schools, 112, 135 and 101, and found it "very enjoyable work."

"I enjoyed the young faces. They were quite revealing. Each child had a different expression. It was just a joy to impart knowledge to them."

It was wonderful, she said, when the kids would come back through the years and say "You're the nicest teacher I've ever had."

Also retiring after 47 years of teaching is Mrs. Louise G. Jones, 3707 Dennis Rd. Miss Anna Shaw, 4412 Ethland Ave. and Mrs. Gertrude Hughes, 4606 Liberty Heights Ave. have chalked up 44 years, and Mrs. Lucille Monroe of 1808 Presstman St. has 42 years of teaching to her credit.

Also retiring as teachers are:

Mrs. Ines Johnson, 842 N. Carey St., Mrs. Bennie Roey, 2705 Dennlyn Rd., Mrs. Ruth Doering, 3604 Hillsdale Rd., Isaac Miller, 2225 Pulaski St., Mrs. Velma Dunn, 1909 Division St., Bernard Blake, 2007 McCulloh St., all with 39 years service;

Mrs. Blanche McRae, 1126 Druid Hill Ave., Mrs. Gladys Hughes, 1235 Bentalou St., Mrs. Helen Lewis, 2441 Druid Hill Ave., and Newman Reavis, 1621 Division St., all with 38 years of service;

Mrs. Kathleen Newsome, 1531 Sanford Place, 36 years; Mrs. Josephine French, 3707 Yosemite Ave., librarian, 39 years, and Mrs. Catherine Adams, 2506 Overland Avenue, 30 years, guidance counselor.

Last-minute rush floods Camp Mohawk with girls

Girls of both races, ages 7 to 16, have filled the YMCA's Camp Mohawk in Huntingtown, Md. to capacity.

A. P. Moss, director, said this week's enrollment of 96 girls is the largest in the camp's history. He attributed this, in part, to improved facilities including the $60,000 swimming pool opened last month.

Campers and counselors are of both races.

Coordinator of girls' activities is Mrs. Pam Jones Mullen.

Outdoor cooking

Learn the skills of outdoor cooking while young and you'll enjoy it all your life is sound advice from U.S. Agriculture Department specialists.

4-H girls and boys enrolled in food projects make fine preteen and teen chefs.

They learn cooking and practice leadership as they get several family members to join in the act.

This gives mother a break and makes cooking a family affair enjoyed by all.

* * *

DAD OR a brother can be persuaded to build the fire and assist in preparing the meat or main dish. Another brother or sister can serve as salad chef.

Inexpensive meats such as frankfurters and hamburgers taste extra good grilled over the coals. When selecting meat for outdoor cooking choose tender cuts of beef, lamb or veal. USDA grade is another guide when making meat selections.

Tender beef steaks such as sirloin, T-bone or porterhouse can be broiled over the coals or barbecued. Chicken and fish are good cooked over the coals too.

* * *

FOR A family or guest meal it is best to select a thick steak and carve it into serving pieces rather than use individual thin steaks.

A steak 2 inches thick placed 5 or 6 inches from the coals takes 35 to 40 minutes to cook medium well done.

Turn steaks with tongs, a fork pierces the meat and causes loss of juices.

Summer beverage so easy to fix

Summer days are here again — warm, bright, and full of fun. Somehow summer seems to have a magic of its own. At the drop of a hat summer days easily turn into festive days.

One sure way you can keep your family in step with this festive mood is to bring a bit of your magic to the table... noon or night.

Iced Coffee with a Continental flair will turn an ordinary meal into a very gay occasion. The coffee is instant decaffeinated coffee, so you can drink all you want.

Even the teen-agers will welcome this sophisticated beverage. A rich scoop of ice cream not only adds glamour, but extra nourishment as well.

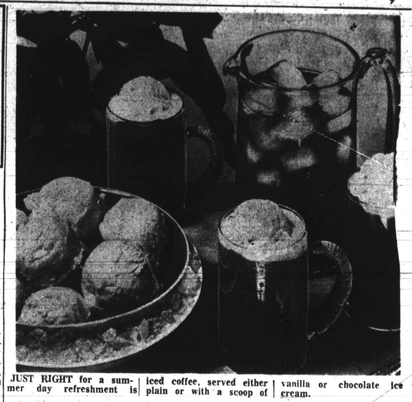
It's so easy to fix, and will be so well received by your family. You'll want to serve it again and again.

How to make:

ICED COFFEE

1/3 to ½ cup instant decaffeinated coffee
4 cups water
Ice cubes
Cream and sugar (optional)

Place instant coffee in a pitcher. Add a small amount of water and mix well. Gradually add the remaining water, stirring well. (This helps prevent excessive foaming.) Pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve iced coffee, served either plain or with a scoop of vanilla or chocolate ice cream.



JUST RIGHT for a summer day refreshment is with cream and sugar. Makes 1 quart or 5 servings.

FROSTED COFFEE

Prepare Iced Coffee as directed; then top each glass with a scoop of vanilla or chocolate ice cream. General Foods product used: Instant Sanka Coffee.
