John Locketts off to Bermuda

By PINNIE L. ROSS

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. John Lockett Jr., are off for a Bermuda honeymoon this weekend.

They were married Saturday at Union Baptist Church in Baltimore.

The bride, a Prince George County teacher, is the former Miss Jean Smith, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Jefferson and the late Mr. Smith.

The bridegroom, son of the senior Locketts, is a machinist with a manufacturing firm.

THE BRIDE wore a street length pink dress with a lace bodice and long lace sleeves. She chose tiny pearls for her jewelry, and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Rosanna Sweetney was maid of honor and Charles Haskins was best man.

The bride's mother wore a white silk dress.

A reception was held at the bride's spacious Belview Ave. home.

Among guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Jefferson, Leroy Jefferson, Mrs. Joice Summerville, Miss Aelemta Conway, Mr. and Mrs. William Hailterman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lockett Sr., Mrs. Annie Saunders.

And, William Cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clay, Herman Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Tucker, Miss Jean Tucker.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Rosanna Sweetney and daughter Robin of Washington; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lockett of Philadelphia.

MR. AND MRS. Harry (Jennett) Rheubottom of San Bernardino, Calif., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Holland of Suter Road. The Rheubottoms are parents of two lovely children, Harry Jr. and Harlene. Mr. Rheubottom is an active civic worker in the San Bernardino area and is a member of the Inland Empire Urban League.

He was a delegate to the Urban League Convention in Philadelphia last week. He and his wife were guests of Congressman Kenneth Dial from California in Washington this week.

OVER 150 citizens of Baltimore County and Baltimore city were guests at a buffet dinner honoring Carlton R. Sickles, candidate for Governor, and his running mates, C. Meredith Boyce for comptroller, and Clint Bamberger for Attorney General.

The buffet was given by this writer and hubby at our Suter Road home. Among guests were C. Meredith Boyce and his wife Lilia; Mrs. K. Bamberger, and charming Simmy Sickles who won the heart of every one.

Other special guests were Attorney and Mrs. (Virginia) Joseph Sills, Attorney and Mrs. Charles (Gail) Yumkus, Attorney and Mrs. Leonard Freedman (Mindell), magistrate at Pikesville, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Francus (Sylvia);

Also, Attorney and Mrs. Bertram Goldstein (Evelyn), Attorney and Mrs. Arnold Fleishman (Laura) Dr. Gertrude Flashman and hubby, Charles.

* * *

MR. BOYCE spoke on the issues of the coming election including water pollution, management of state financing. The need for better schools and kindergartens in all the political subdivisions.

Mr. Sickles was late arriving because he said he felt the need to be present in Congress on the 1966 Civil Rights Bill was debated.

He spoke on many political issues and solicited support of his friends, relatives, and neighbors.

Another very special guest was handsome Ted Venetelous, Sickles administrator.

Our own Clifton Henry who is on the Sicles staff and former chairman of the Federation of Civil Rights Organizations, was also present. The food was catered by Edgar Allen.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: Many have discovered that the easiest way to get rid of a duty is to it, and do it now.

Isaac Porche retires after 37 years on docks

By MARY RICHARDSON

"I miss the work. As much torment as I had there I can't stay away. Now and then men get a kick out of seeing me come to visit." Isaac Porche, 62, of 1609 Ruxton Ave., a stevedore at Locust Point for 37 years, puffed on his cigar as he spoke.

ISAAC PORCHE
"I can't stay away now . . ."

Before he retired three weeks ago, he had been loading and unloading ships since shortly after his arrival in Baltimore in 1927.

* * *

A NATIVE of Awingdor, S.C., Mr. Porche's first job in Maryland was at Sparrows Point. He worked a ten hour day, made 28 cents an hour.

Then he became a longshoreman, and, his pay rose to 80 cents an hour.

Now Mr. Porche will receive retirement benefits and will supplement his savings by barbecue catering chores.

* * *

MARRIED TO Mrs. Lilar Porche, there are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Oliver, and Mrs. Pauline Bruce, both teachers in the city school system.

There are also seven grandchildren, Issac and Particia Oliver are at Coppin State College and Jacquelina Bruce is a student at Morgan State.

The others are: Gregory and Kearice Oliver, Ralph and Mary Bruce.

* * *

MR. PORCHE is a member of the board of trustees at Faith Baptist Church, Bond and Ashland Ave., where the Rev. Walter E. Falce is pastor.

Future plans for Mr. and Mrs. Porche include taking their second honeymoon to Florida next January.

"It will be just the beginning of our travels," Mr. Porche said.

* * *

IN ADDITION, the family hobby will occupy most of the retiree's time.

On a summer home he built himself, stocked is raised, slaughtered and served in catered barbecues under the family group's name, "The Gardiners."

Big barbecues are held three times a year at the Route 2, Box 204 D, Pasadena summer home.

At other times during the year the grounds may be rented by churches and other groups for their own outings.

* * *

"THIS SUMMER home will never be sold. It will be passed from generation to generation for use by the family," Mr. Porche stated.

When additional water is accessible to the area, the Porche's will move permanently from the city to Pasadena.

The close-knit family will hold a reunion in Jeanette, Pa. this coming week with more than 50 family members from three states expected.

Mr. Porche has been a member of Local 858 of the International Longshoreman's Union ever since he began port duty.

In 1960, Mr. Porche was the subject of an AFRO article when he raised a four-and a half pound sweet potatoe, the largest in Anne Arundel County history.

SAN JUAN in Puerto Rico was the honeymoon spot picked by Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cunningham of Baltimore. They were married recently in a double-ring ceremony at Zion Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Wynola Woody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaither H. Woody. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cunningham.

Vets get first school checks

Under the new GI Bill education program, more than 16,000 checks were mailed to summer schools throughout the nation this week.

The Veteran's Administration reminded students to mail in their certificates of attendance without delay.

Payments will be made by the 20th of the month when these certificates are received on time.

The VA estimates that nearly 300,000 veterans will be in schools and colleges this fall, receiving approximately $30-million.

Those reporting for school should have sufficient funds to support themselves during the two-month waiting period before their first VA check arrives.
