Prayer Of The Week

"Grant, Lord, that we, who cannot do anything that is good without thee, may be enabled to live according to thy will." — Psalm 91.

Here Is The NEW 4th District Map

Here is a new map of the Fourth Legislative District with boundaries set by the recent legislature. It has 91 Precincts — 25 more than in the old Fourth.

The 13th and 17th Ward lines are unchanged.

However, Precincts 1, 2, and 12 of the old 14th Ward have been transferred to the Second District. This is the triangular area of Linden Ave., Park Ave. and Bolton St., between North and Lafayette Aves.

TWENTY - EIGHT precincts, formerly in the Fifth District, become a part of the new Fourth District.

They include the 15th Ward: Precincts 4, 4A, 4B, 4C and 10 in the Dorchester Rd., Gwynns Falls Pkwy., Sequoia Ave. and Hilton Rd. area.

Also in the 15th Ward: Precincts 17, 18, 19, 20, which lie between Gwynns Falls Pkwy., Baker St., Elamont St. and the Western Maryland Railroad.

16th Ward: — Precincts 1 to 7 and south of Baker and Laurens Sts., from Pennsylvania Ave. to Poplar Grove and 18th Ward: — Precincts 18 to 25, which lie between Edmondson and Lafayette Aves. from Whitmore to Pennsylvania Ave.

ALSO TRANSFERRED from the 5th District to the new Fourth are Precincts 95, 96, 97 and 99. These are north of the old city line between Belvedere and Greenspring Ave. This is the rooster's beak in the extreme northeast corner of your map.

IF ALL of this is confusing —

First find out in what ward and precinct you live.

Second, remember only the old 13th and 17th Wards complete are still in the 4th District.

Then note the new precinct line-up:

14th Ward, Precincts 3 to 11 inclusive.

15th Ward, Precincts, 4, 4A, 4B, 4C, 10, and 17 to 42 inclusive.

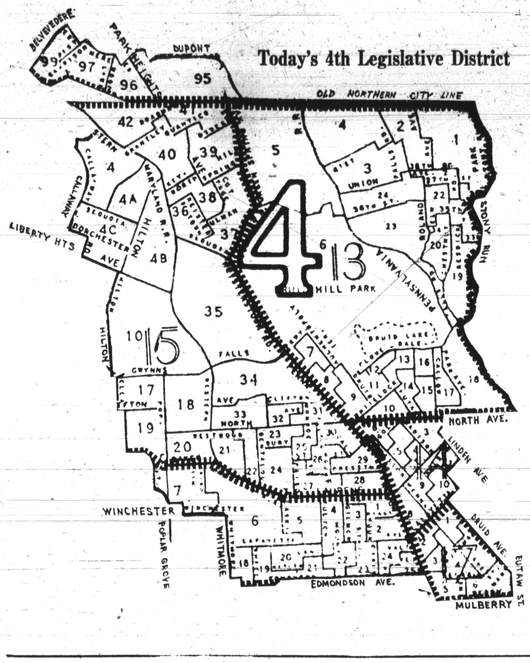
16th Ward, Precincts 1 to 7 inclusive and 18 to 25 inclusive.

27th Ward, Precincts 95, 96, 97 and 99.

This legislative district has more colored voters than any other with more than 50,000 on the books. Democrats number 37,262.

Republicans 11,556 as of Jan. 20, 1966.

Current registration figures soon will be available.



NAACP In Politics

The question was raised this week as to whether officers of the NAACP should engage in politics.

A brave minister, the Rev. Olin Moyd, is challenging Maryland state law which forbids a clergyman from running for or holding membership in the General Assembly.

There are 50 clergymen elected to Congress and Maryland is one of the few states barring ministers from legislative office.

Both of these cases represent efforts of politicians to fence off certain areas in which they can operate exclusively.

We think courts will rule that the clergy can hold office if they want to.

We think the NAACP officers and members should, like labor unions, register voters, educate them in the use of the ballot, recommend those who are most worthy to hold office and get the voters out to the polls.

Politicians have made a sorry showing in the past. They have tried to keep the vote from the common people.

This is the first year in Maryland one citizen will have one vote.

Once the Eastern Shore had 9 state senators. Today all nine Eastern Shore counties will have only one senator.

With the clergy and the NAACP taking a more vigorous part in political campaigns, more people will vote and we shall get better candidates for office.

239,000 In Armed Services

U. S. colored population is 21,700,000 or 11 percent, according to 1966 estimate of the Census Bureau.

9.5 percent of all men in the armed forces are colored. (Army, 13.9 percent).

12.5 percent of all servicemen in Viet Nam are colored. (14.8 percent in Army).

14.6 percent of combat deaths, 1964-65, in Viet Nam were colored. (Army, 18.3 percent).

Since 1965, 13.4 percent of all drafted men have been colored (30,730).

10.1 percent of all volunteers are colored (38,870).

46 percent of colored me in service have reenlisted as against 17.1 percent white.

1.7 percent of all officers in the armed forces are colored. In the Army alone, the figure is 3.5 percent.

We can be proud of all these statistics except the last one.

If right now colored in the services sumber 239,827 of which Army, 117,421, Navy, 35,833, Marines, 14,800 Air Force, 71,773, there should be more than 5,865 colored officers.

Urban League director Whitney Young, after a visit to Viet Nam, reports segregation in after duty bars and clubs.

Under General Eisenhower in World War II segregation was enforced by army regulations both in fighting units and in USO clubs.

After 25 years great progress has been made under Presidents Truman, Kennedy and Johnson.

But all discrimination now should be eliminated without delay on duty and off duty, by regulation or by choice.

The armed forces cannot permit any kind of part-time integration or dragging of their feet in officer promotions.

Men who fight and die in a foreign land together must be required to live together and promotions should come solely as a result of merit.

Distorted Textbooks

Congressman Powell's Ad Hoc Subcommittee on the Treatment of Minority Groups in Texts and Library Books already has cleared the air on some important issues though it has barely begun.

The first point is that minority groups no longer are willing to tolerate the perpetuation of the white supremacy myth that the nation has been fostering by the use of history books, and others, which are not representative of the past or present.

A second major consideration is that we are heading sooner or later for a clash in this area because school systems are not yet willing to take full advantage of the books available that do treat minority groups in a fairer manner.

There is no way to escape the fact that the white power structure, including the school systems, has gone out of its way to foster upon American students, colored and white, books which left them largely ignorant about the history of minorities.

School books in most places today continue to be racially distorted. But there is no great outcry in the land against this poisonous education.

If federal funds are not supposed to be used to support the old practices of segregation in education, there are questions which need answers in this area.

If by no other way than by calculated omission, the use of most of the books in classrooms today adds up to teaching and supporting racial superiority.

Something needs to be done about it.

Up To Senate Now

To Constance Baker Motley
U.S. District Court

Dear CONSTANCE:

The Senate Judiciary Committee kept you waiting since January 24 before it approved your nomination as U.S. District Judge in New York.

Senator Eastland of Mississippi was chairman of the committee, which had 12 votes in his pocket for Mrs. Motley's confirmation and only 4 against her.

He would not take them out and permit the committee to vote until this week.

Maybe Eastland hoped you would get tired of waiting or President Johnson would withdraw your name.

Both of you outwaited him.

The Senate should confirm you this week.

Cheers to you and to President Johnson.

But no praise to our political parties which have taken 191 years to put a colored woman on the Federal bench.

AFRO Credo

A newspaper succeeds because its management believes in itself, in God and in the present generation. It must always ask itself—

Whether it has kept the faith with the common people;

Whether it has no other goal except to see that their liberties are preserved and their future assured;

Whether it is fighting to get rid of slums to provide jobs for everybody;

Whether it stays out of politics ...except to expose corruption and condone injustices and prejudice, or compromise.

Our Readers Say: Supports Presidency

Readers are invited to submit letters for publication. All letters must be signed but signatures will be omitted if requested. Letters should be no more than 300 words in length. Address them to "Our Readers Say," Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St.

Dear AFRO:

It is my opinion that the Presidency of the United States is fast becoming a position of ridicule more than prestige.

I think that this situation is shameful to the standards of the most important position in this country.

It seems that not a day passes without anyone placing the blame for almost every social and political evil on our President. Perhaps these hypocrites would like to assume the post of President for just a day and see how it is. I don't think so.

Most would rather criticize and point an accusing finger at our Chief Executive who is trying day and night, not only to protect the American people, but, preserve as well, the ideals of freedom and democracy set up years ago.

Sure, I realize that this nation isn't perfect, far from it, and I know from personal experience. But I can't blame President Johnson for this.

Many so - called "leaders" of the colored people make it a habit of trying to lower the image of the President to the people, and it is taking a shameful effect on the nation's youth.

Both white and black men of "stature" deflate the character of President Johnson without fully realizing that it is terribly difficult for one man to satisfy the needs and desires of 190 million people, in addition to contending with world policy and diplomacy. Perhaps if they would reflect on this point, they might re-evaluate their words and readvise them.

I would hazard to make this prediction. If the current trend continues, there may come a time when our Chief Executive will tire of such ridicule and resign from his position. What a dark day it would be for all Americans, past and present.

Witnesses Send Thanks

Dear AFRO:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your help and cooperation in giving the best coverage possible to our "God's Sons of Berty" District Assembly.

We appreciated very much your helpfulness in securing accommodations for the thousands of delegates to our convention and your acquainting the public with the scope of our work and activity.

Our convention has enjoyed very fine success and the program, we feel, was beneficial to all.

Again our thanks for your helpfulness and cooperation. We look forward to working with you at some future date.

Candidates Are All Small Men

Dear AFRO:

As the battle for governor swings into high gear in our state, the interest that citizens are taking is gratifying. It is nice enough that the voters will be brought up to date on important issues, it also stimulates new trends in planning and gives everyone a chance to speculate on the integrity of the candidates.

In my opinion none of the candidates are of the stuff, of which good governors are made. Maryland is too large for the small men that seek the position. Maryland is too enormous an enigma to be solved by amateur political sleuths.

MARYLAND IS too prosperous with industries for there to be so much indigence. Maryland has mammoth problems that demand professional articulation, and more than a thin coating of versatility.

None of the programs seem to have any appeal. None of them are aimed to produce more pride; more talent more stability in labor; race relations; city and state affairs.

Colored people have never been encouraged to participate in county fairs, in beauty contests, or any phase of representing Maryland, when a white substitute could be found.

Our people have grown weary, wondering why they have always been left out of so many things. Colored youth with a world of potential are so misunderstood, that they wither away in scorn, and die in spiritual hopelessness.

An oyster bed in the Chesapeake Bay is not as low as the wail of the ghetto blues. Everyone needs a good governor — doctor, lawyer, indian chief, no just us, who are of the slums. I am not impressed with any of these gents to fill the roll of governor.

If I am apprehensive in my narrow way of appraisal, it is just a matter of one man's opinion. I hope all of my friends will get out and vote just the same.

And after voting, not let your civic consciousness die away until other elections. We must read more, and follow closely what is going on, and make our suggestions made known or else nothing comes of our vote.

I hope to see you all at the polls.

Alley Paving

Dear AFRO:

A few days ago I contacted the Department of Public Works concerning the repaving of an alley in the rear of my property.

I was told that because of Ordinance 599, it was necessary to get the signatures of the various owners since we would have to pay the cost of repaving. This was done and I requested that we be given some idea of the estimated cost to complete thiz job.

I was startled to learn that we as property owners would have to pay about $5,000 to have an alley 200 feet long and 15 feet wide repaved. This means that each owner will have to pay about $400 to repave an alley that is used by the general public and the city.

When one considers that property owners must pay propetly taxes, water taxes, sewer taxes, and ground rent it seems most unfair that they should be held responsible for alleys which are used by all.

I was not aware of this ordinance and feel that property owners in general are unaware of it.

It is hoped that they will become concerned and petition the City Council to repeal this ordinance.

I am urging that all property owners contact their public representatives regarding this matter.

POETS' NOOK

Man On The 26th Floor

Not the Tower of London — where headless dukes
Sit with tea and crumpets, recounting the past:
And minstrels sing their sosgs of notoriety.
Of England, and what might have been.
Not the Eiffel Tower, overlooking the Seine —
Looking down on Montmartre or Rue-De-Lafayette.
And Napoleon is seen, every now and then,
Galloping beneath the Arc-De-Triumphe.
Not only the tower of Pisa — whose only claim to fame
Is its ability to lean — and maybe stiffs.
It could someday become a tragic site.
Toppling down on some unwary tourist.
No not in Europe — but in America:
Within the confines of a respectable old school,
A young student on his way up in the world;
Never got past the 26th floor.
He was just a youth with a problem—
No one seemed to understand,
But now his troubles are at an end,
And we'll never know the cause of so much fury.
We know where it ends — but where does it start.

Primary Confusion

By MAX JOHNSON

Increasing indications point to this Sept. 13 primary as becoming one of the most confusing in Maryland history for the Democratic voter — especially in this city.

A record - shattering, lengthy ballot gives rise to much of this state of affairs.

But — things go much further than just the lengthy ballot the voter faces.

Many of the candidates themselves are adding to the early confusion with all sorts of sometimes wild, sometimes silly political moves.

The factional battling for Democratic nominations is producing far more than the usual number of voter eyebrow raisers.

HERE ARE some examples.

There was the spectre this week of Mr. Goldstein — early candidate for re-election to comptroller on the Thomas B. Finan ticket — publicly appearing and praising George Mahoney, Mr. Finan's rival gubernatorial candidate.

Up in the city's 4th District — the situation is just as paradoxical.

An established faction and a young splinter group have been feuding over support of Mr. Finan or Mr. Sickles — rather than going about the first business of giving top attention to their local tickets.

This has resulted in such confused contention in that district — at this point the voter faces a problem in making up his mind.

He could have difficulty in determining whether he is to vote in a popularity contest — or for the best interests of his district.

MOREOVER — THIS situation has resulted in bitterness among some candidates and their staunch supporters.

There are ruffled feelings very unlikely to be eased in the short period between the primary and Nov. 8 general election — regardless of the nominees.

It could present a gleeful picture for the Republicans in the general.

The high tempered, losing Democratic candidates in the primary aren't likely to give any enthusiastic support in the general to those who defeat them.

THIS DEMOCRATIC factional contention is, of course, high in varying degrees in other of the city's districts — and almost as confusing.

For example — the Finan ticket and the Sickles ticket in the 5th District are both backing the state Senate candidacy of Carl L. Friedler, young attorney.

They are, however, separate factional camps.

The "taking" by rival camps of the same local candidate is an old political fasty — a matter of some degree of expediency.

A repudiation by the taken candidate can bring discomfort to the swiping camp, though.

ALL OF this points up the confusion facing Democratic voters in this primary.

Best solution to the problem is the voter's own attention to the slates in his district — as well as city-wide and state candidates.

This means—there should be as early as possible familiarity with these candidates, the ballot in the voter's district.

And in the 4th District where a majority of the voters and citizens are colored and now have political control — top attention ought to be given to what faction is sposoring what candidates.

It's a confusing primary — but this district shouldn't lose its political independence through this confusion.

Services held here for Towson brothers

Funeral services were held Thursday for two brothers, Cornelius and Milton Towson.

Cornelius Towson, 34, of 1815 Lauretta Ave., died after an illness of a year and had been employed as a chauffeur prior to that time.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jeanette Towson, and one son, Richard Towson.

The Rev. William Payne of Wayland Baptist Church officiated at the services, held at Morton and Dyett Funeral Home.

Milton Towson, 39, had been employed as a presser at the time of death.

He resided at 1802 W. Franklin St.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Towson, and daughter, Mrs. Maxine Glover.

Cornelius and his brother Milton are the sons of Mrs. Bertha Towson and the late Mr. Raymond Towson.

The brothers were Army veterans and native Baltimoreans.

ALSO SURVIVING are three brothers, Raymond Jr., Jerome and William Towson.

Also, three sisters, Miss Loretta Towson, and Mesdames Delores Perkins of Baltimore and Mrs. Gloria Williams of Washington, D.C.

Two aunts, one uncle, fourteen nieces, and nephews, and a host of other relatives and friends also survive.

Burial took place in Baltimore National Cemetery.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS

A CANDIDATE WHO CARES ABOUT THE PEOPLE

—THIS IS CARLTON SICKLES RECORD—

FOR EIGHT YEARS AS A DELEGATE TO THE MARYLAND GENERAL ASSEMBLY, CARLTON SICKLES WAS A SPONSOR OF EVERY MAJOR PIECE OF CIVIL RIGHTS LEGISLATION:

He fought for increased workmen's compensation legislation.

He was in the vanguard of the efforts to integrate the schools and to increase state aid to education.

He fought for increased workman's compensation benefits, extentions of unemployment insurance benefits, increased minimum wage, safety programs for workers, increased welfare funds.

FOR FOUR YEARS AS CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE, HE HAS FOUGHT FOR EVERY PIECE OF LEGISLATION IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS:

The Civil Rights Act of 1964.
The Voting Rights Act of 1965.
The Civil Rights Bill of 1966. His vote on the floor of Congress helped keep the Housing Title in the new bill which just passed the House.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FINAN'S FAILURES ON CIVIL RIGHTS

ATTORNEY GENERAL FINAN HAS DONE NOTHING IN FOUR YEARS TO SUPERVISE OR ENFORCE THE STATE LAWS AGAINST RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN STATE EMPLOYMENT.

Every Discrimination complaint filed by our citizens has been dismissed by his office.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FINAN REFUSED TO HALT THE VENEY RAIDS.

In December, 1964, when cordons of police with drawn guns invaded more than three hundred colored homes, without warrants, intimidating and harassing the families, in search of the Veney Brothers, Attorney General Finan ignored the protests of the Postal Alliance, the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, the Afro, the NAACP. He declared these raids constitutional and necessary.

The NAACP had to take on the job which the Attorney General should have done, and spend hundreds of dollars in the Federal Courts to halt the raids. The Federal judges declared them the most flagrant abuses ever to come before the courts.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FINAN HAS DONE NOTHING ABOUT PERSISTENT RACIAL SEGREGATION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS ON THE EASTERN SHORE AND IN SOUTHERN MARYLAND.

The U.S. Office of Education reports that Somerset County is as bad as the worst Mississippi counties. Thousands of our children in eleven counties of Maryland are being robbed of an equal education.

MR. FINAN WHITEWASHED POLICE BRUTALITY COMPLAINTS.

In the summer of 1964, after two tragic killings of colored citizens by police and numerous complaints of police brutality, Mr. Finan, with his colored assistant, David Mason, seated behind him in the State Office Building, went through the motions of a hearing and investigation of the complaints of the NAACP, the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, the Afro, the American Negro Labor Council and others. Then he claimed no case had been made.

Delegate Clarence Mitchell demanded the removal of Police Commissioner Schmidt. The Afro prodded with editorials.

Mr. Finan did nothing until a year later, when pressures generated by the International Association of Chiefs of Police survey resulted in Police Commissioner Schmidt's resignation.

MR. FINAN CHANGED HIS POSITION THREE TIMES ON THE OPEN OCCUPANCY IN HOUSING LEGISLATION.

His voice was silent when fair housing legislation was before the General Assembly in 1963, 1964, 1965 and and 1966?

THE TIME OF WHEELING AND DEALING FOR THE FEW IS OVER. WE NEED NEW, VIGOROUS LEADERSHIP TO BRING FAIRNESS IN GOVERNMENT FOR THE MANY.

OUR VOTE IS PRECIOUS! WE MUST USE IT TO INVEST IN FREEDOM NOT ONLY FOR OURSELVES, BUT FOR THE FUTURE OF OUR CHILDREN. THEN UNBORN GENERATIONS WILL RISE UP AND CALL US BLESSED. LET US MAKE AN INTELLIGENT CHOICE AFTER A THOROUGH EXAMINATION OF THE RECORDS.

NO DEAL WITH MR. POLLACK OR ANY OTHER BOSS!

The charge that I have made a deal with Pollack is totally false!

My father, my mother, my grandmother before me, and I have spent our lives helping to break the control of the Pollack machine in the Fourth District.

I do do not seek Senator Welcome's seat in the State Senate. There are two vacancies in the Fourth District. Two State Senators are to be elected.

The polls show that Mrs. Welcome and I are the leading candidates.

Through the years, the record shows the Pollack organization has sought to create division among colored candidates in order to secure support for its own man.

Today we have the votes in the Fourth District to elect two colored State Senators. I urge the voters of the Fourth District to campaign vigorously for the colored Senators without bitterness and name calling.

I do not believe the stories about a Welcome-Pollack alliance and there is no truth in rumors that there is or will be any alliance on my part with the Pollack forces or with any other candidates for the State Senate.

This is the last statement I shall make on this subject because my whole life time and that of my family has been spent in freeing the Fourth District from control of the Pollack organization.
