Clark evaluates proposed measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Viet Cong.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said today the Department's No. 2 man testified before the Committee House Comittee on Un-American Activities was in opposition to the legislation making a mountain out of a tion. However, the Committee chairman Rankin said he appeared determined to make against Americans aiding the ever to approve the proposal.

fied" with the Finan stand rights.

He said Finan "has been more honest than anyone on open housing and civil else, including Mr. (Carlton)

Another minister, the Rev. Marion C. Bascom, chairman of the civic committee of the Sickles. He has done the best that he could under the political structure."

Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, said he did not feel anyone has yet made a complete study of the issues.

from five to 20 years.

Although Judge Cullen failed to find him guilty of rape as charged by the 15-year old girl, the jurist nevertheless declared Thomas was guilty of an assault upon her "that was wrong and should not have been committed."

Judge Cullen, also took note of Thomas's five prior convictions that included two on police officers and a suspended sentence of seven years in a Baltimore assault and robbery case.

In discussing the youth's record at length, Judge Cullen pointedly asked the principal if he knew of it before he came to court as a character witness.

Mr. Rankin replied both faculty members and coaches had affirmed faith in Thomas," particularly after the Baltimore County trouble."

Thomas' parents were present as the tall handsome youth, dressed in a dark blue suit, white shirt and tie, took the stand to deny intimacies with the girl in the back seat of a 1966 Mustang were without her permission.

He told the court he asked her to come from the front bucket seats and sit with him and she expressed no objection.

He testified although she was a stranger to him, and he to her, "She was infatuated with me."

Mr. Thomas insisted this was the relationship although the assistant states attorney asked him, "After just 25 minutes, you claim this girl, a perfect stranger, had fallen in love with you?"

POLICE OFFICERS said after Thomas fled the park they showed the teenage girl pictures of football and basketball teams in the book so that she could pick out her assailant.

Although she knew only his first name, "Floyd", they covered the names of all team members during the investigation, the court was told.

According to testimony, he escaped from the park on foot, minus a black loafer that was entered into the record.

By his own admission, Mr. Thomas said he left the shoe in the back seat of the Mustang as he saw police arriving at the scene and heard the weeping girl tell them she had been criminally attacked.

He told the court, "I was afraid. I didn't run. I stood behind a tree for awhile."

NOTEWORTHY WAS the testimony of Charles Elliott, 19, 25 S. Rosedale St., who was in the car owned and driven by Everett Burroughs, a third youth.

Mr. Elliott said he and Thomas and Burroughs were standing outside the prom about 1 a.m. looking at the tuxedos and the gowns of students coming and going when the 16-year-old girl, dressed in a long white frock, told them if they were going to any after parties she'd like to accompany them.

The young people she was going with had left, he testified.

Mr. Elliott, a friend of the teenager, said she could go along and, according to his statement, they were requested to take the girl home to change clothes.

However, he told the court, when she could not get into her house, she kept on her ball gown and went searching for after parties.

Discovering several affairs too crowded to get in, he said they stopped at a bar for a pint of rum and then, directed by Thomas, ended up in Leakin Park.

ELLIOTT SAID he and Burroughs got out of the car when Thomas pushed him (Elliott) and told him to leave. He also told the court he returned to the car when he saw police patrolling the park arrive and heard the teenager crying and accusing Thomas of criminal assault.

Elliott said Thomas fled the scene and he told the officers he had no idea where he went.

Asked by Judge Cullen, "Did he ever come back to the car?" Elliott replied, "No, he didn't".

Mrs. Franklin's rites Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday, August 27 for Mrs. Beatrice F. Franklin, 65, of 1645 N. Spring St.

Services will take place at the Joseph Locks Funeral Home, 1302 N. Central Ave.

The Rev. Carroll Wilson will officiate at the services.

Mrs. Franklin attended Baltimore public schools and graduated from Douglass High.

She was a member of Waters AME Church.

Surviving relatives include Leroy A. Franklin, husband; and Miss Margaret L. Jines, sister, both of Baltimore.

Also surviving are: Miss Evelyn Franklin, daughter, of Washington, D.C. and Thomas Franklin, son, of Baltimore.

Ronald Franklin, a grandson, and a host of other relatives also survive.

Methodist Men's Classic to aid inner city children

A football "triple header" sponsored by the Methodist Athletic Association, is set to begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Morgan State College

The trio of gridiron contests, labeled "Methodist Men's Classic," is being held to aid the expansion of the association's recreation program which provides organized and constructive activities for inner-city children, according to James E. Day Jr.

Mr. Day, an official of the association, said the games will feature the area's lead-ing amateur teams including the Mt. Olivet Rams, Maple Glen Tigers, Highlantown Red Shield, and Sparrows Point YMCA.

FEATURED ATTRACTION of the triangle of games will be the contest between the Baltimore Rams and Washington Saints, scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m.

Ticket and other patron information can be obtained from the Rev. Levi Miller at 233-4626.

B and P-ers take St. Edwards tour

With Lula Jones Garrett

Gladys L. B. Hurt, who leaves a secretarial post at Morgan State College to become a teacher of economics at Patterson Park High School in September, was surprised at a party by co-workers, Friday. Some twenty-five friends, at the affair, showered her with gifts, extended congratulations, wished her luck. Miss Hurt had been secretary to Elmer S. Patterson, superintendent of buildings and grounds for 10 years.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Baltimore chapter of the National Business and Professional Women's Club joined the tour sponsored by St. Edwards Catholic Church.

The B and P-ers were Mesdames Laurie Parker, Marie Lassiter, Ethel J. Day, Juanita Young, Rosa Gaskins, Jeannetta Wilson and Emma H. Brown. The group cruised on the St. Lawrence River, through the Thousand Islands, visited Montreal, Canada and Quebec City, and enroute home spent a short time in Albany, N.Y.

MR. AND MRS. ROLAND HENSON (Anita) are in one of their favorite vacation spots, Kingston, Jamaica. They reached the islands in time for the Independence Celebration, the Commonwealth Games and the annual Paraplegic Sports Week. The Hensons are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Roberts, were guests of Sir Clifford Campbell and Mrs. Campbell at the Mid-Summer Ball, and of Herbert McKinney, director of athletics, at the Rotary Club luncheon, and spent a fabulous week at San San on the North Coast.

MRS. HAROLD CLARK and daughter, Veronica, took their houseguest, Miss Jackie Caeffe, of Paris, France, for a jaunt to Boston and the vacation spots in Mass.

Carrie D. (Mrs. Algenon) Jackson is at her usual summer rendezvous, Cape May, N.J., for the nonce.

Margaret Gassaway, Lelia Cooper and Catherine Beard made up a threesome for a jaunt to Atlantic City.

W. Meredith Sirchie, who was in the same shore city, has gone on to New York City and will se esomething of Philly before returning home.

MRS. CYRUS W. MARSHALL, Sr., and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Perry, Jr. and their son, William, 3rd, are just back from a jaunt to Los Angeles, Calif., where they visited Mrs. Marshall's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Granville H. Marshall.

Since Mrs. Marshall had been out twice by train and last summer by jet, they decided to do the trip by motor this time, and see the country.

They visited 20 states, seeing all the scenic high spots and the famous cities. In Los Angeles Dr. and Mrs. Marshall entertained at a party for them, gathering any number of former Baltimoreans for renewal of old friendships.

On the last day of their return trip they stopped in Cleveland, Ohio, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Spencer, who were hosts at a ... them.

Back from Oak Bluff, Mass. much earlier than they planned came Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell. Their Morgan Park home was broken into, and while the culprits took nothing they left the place in shambles.

In New York, last week, was Mrs. Carrie Parks and daughter, seven-year-old Lola. They were houseguests of her brother-in-law and sister, Lendsey Jones, attorney, and Mrs. Jones (Marian).

IN PARSONS, KANS., Sunday, Mrs. Victory Wright held open house in honor of Mrs. Rachel Sams, Baltimore teacher, and fiance of Mrs. Wright's son, James W. Wright, Jr.; and Mrs. Sams' small daughter, Karen. Mrs. Sams and Karen spent four days in the Kansas city.

More than a hundred guests attended the beautifully arranged affair, where Mesdames J. S. Brown, Ollie Hamilton, O. R. Julian and Harry Moore assisted in hostessing.

During the reception, Karen was holding court at her own social hour and service with Toni Quinzy in the role of hostess on the lawn of the home.

Captain Reed, wife to meet in Okinawa

Captain Donald J. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Reed of Miami, Fla., is being joined by his wife, Mrs. Roslyn Reed, 1400 block N. Bond St., for two weeks leave from a Viet Nam duty tour in Okinawa.

Captain Reed, a graduate of Morgan State College and the ROTC advanced corps program, is a member of the Special Forces as a "green beret."

The 26-year-old officer will be featured in the September issue of a national magazine for his combat achievements.

He has been stationed in Viet Nam since January.

Mrs. Reed, a senior at Coppin State College, will stop off in Miami on her return to Baltimore for the Reed's two-year-old daughter, Lynn, vacationing with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer.

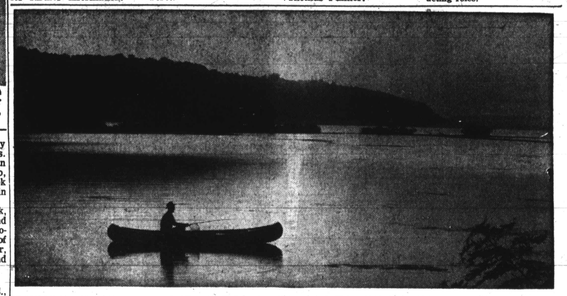
Western Maryland, ho!



Come to the land of the friendly fish. The lake and mountain country of Western Maryland.

Head west on historic U. S. 40, the old National Pike. Everything is there for you. Fishing, swimming, boating, breathtaking mountain views, hiking and cool, cool sleeping. Take your pick, or take it all.

There are a number of fine motels and hotels throughout the area. But here's a tip. Be sure to call ahead for reservations. After 8 p.m. weekdays and all day Sundays, you can make a three-minute station call to any place in Maryland for only 40 cents or less.

How about checking on those friendly fish in person next weekend?

INEZ KAISER

Hints for Homemakers

Children are extremely aware of what goes on around them. Probably more than we adults realize.

This was proven to me the other day by my friend's four-year-old daughter. She looked at me and, smiling, said, "Mrs. Kaiser, I like you 'cause your mouth always smells nice."

I told her I brushed my teeth regularly with STRIPE. Very puzzled, she replied, "But you can't use STRIPE—it's made only for little kids like me."

I explained to her that adults like the taste of STRIPE, too. I told her that it has a magic formula which gives you the benefits of a tooth paste plus mouth wash.

Although she isn't convinced that Lever Brothers had adults as well as children in mind when they invented STRIPE, she told me it was all right for me to use it as long as I didn't tell anyone.

"Why?" I asked.

"Well, if all those big people find out how good STRIPE tastes, they'll buy it all, and there won't be any left for us little kids!"

Awareness!

Stripe

So, please be kind, big people . . . buy STRIPE, but save some for those "little people."

"All that glitters is not gold" . . . Of course not. It's laundry just washed with new triple-strength liquid WISK.

Do you know why? Because WISK puts three times the strength of laundry powders right where the dirt is.

Here is an amazing little experiment for you to try next washday. Take your regular laundry powder . . . but instead of the usual cup or so, double it or even triple it . . . in fact, if you can, use a truckload . . . then get yourself a half cup of liquid WISK, coupled with the biggest laundry problem you have ever had.

The results: Even with a truckload of laundry powder, you still can not get clothes as clean as with new liquid WISK. Why? Because WISK does not have to dissolve like powders.

For extra-dirty places that need stronger cleaning, just pour WISK directly on the spot and pour the rest into your machine.

Lever Brothers guarantees amazing "glittering" results. Save yourself — put new liquid WISK's triple strength where the dirt is.

Self-confidence and poise are a must in my business. During this season, particularly, I am constantly on the go . . . meetings, lectures, workshops, etc. Sometimes, I leave my hotel early in the morning and find it impossible to return until quite late in the evening.

Now, this could pose serious problems, if you know what I mean . . . except that I start every day with a LIFEBUOY shower.

LIFEBUOY is the deodorant soap that plays a very important role in my active life. It gives me 38 hours of deodorant protection that I can count on.

LIFEBUOY contains a lot of deodorant . . . 50% more than ever before to protect your body from germs that cause odor.

I can "knock on wood" . . . through all those busy hours, LIFEBUOY has not failed me yet. Besides, it is gentle, very good to my skin.

If you find it hard to believe that any soap can be so great, why don't you give LIFEBUOY a trial run, as I did?

Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees that you will be the "picture of poise" . . . or your money will be refunded. Just use LIFEBUOY "36" regularly.

Lifebuoy

Father's Day was one of the most memorable days of this season, not only for my husband and my 14-year-old son, but also for me. You may think it a bit strange that a mother would put so much emphasis on "Dad's Day."

My son presented his father with an electric shoe shiner, and after "testing the product" and "thank-yous" were said, my son handed me a package. Overwhelmed, I opened my gift—a bottle of DOVE-FOR-DISHES.

Beaming, Ricky volunteered, "Mom, I wanted to buy Dad something to keep him well groomed. Well, I didn't want to leave you out. As I see it, soft hands are part of a woman's grooming. So use DOVE, Mom, with my compliments."

Of course, I hadn't the courage to tell my son that I was very well stocked with DOVE. But he's right, you know. Soft hands are a "must" for proper grooming.

Every drop of new DOVE-FOR-DISHES has a skin-lotion ingredient built right in.

Yes, I'm proud . . . proud of my hands, my sparkling dishes and my son. And I'm delighted with DOVE. You will be, too.
